

UP-TO-DATE AND NEWSY

BEST SPORTING PAGE NEW YORK

EDITED BY ROBERT EDGREN

OWEN MORAN IN TRAINING AT TAHOE.

Copyright, 1911, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World.)

R. Edgren's COLUMN

According to Letter Received From Charlie Harvey, Owen Moran is Faithfully Training for His July Fourth Fight Against Champion Wolgast.

Copyright, 1911, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World.) CHARLIE HARVEY takes his brush in hand—I mean his pen—and writes me as follows:

My Dear Bob: Owen Moran, his wife and myself are just finishing up a highly enjoyable two weeks' stay here in the Sierra Nevada Mountains, to which we came to have Owen do preliminary outdoor work for the big battle on July 4, when he meets Ad Wolgast for the lightweight championship.

The climate here is the most enjoyable and the weather conditions have been nearly ideal since our arrival. This place is about 7,000 feet above sea level, and the light air and sweet breeze that the light air and exhilaration and buoyancy which is really something to be remembered.

Moran has developed into an ardent disciple of Isaac Walton, and with his poles and whips and traps and brooks for miles in every direction. In pursuit of the finny tribe we have covered many miles of ground, thus furnishing a combination of exercise and fun which naturally assists Moran in his physical preparation. We have taken long tramps and climbs through the woods and up the mountain sides, covering daily from seven to sixteen miles. Moran has gained in weight, but this is a point aimed at, as he will then have enough weight to take care when he gets into the hard grind and routine of actual training.

We have had some interesting adventures while ploughing through the brush and woods here. One day we discovered fresh tracks of a bear, and, following them, we saw the animal finally caught sight of a bear. We immediately reversed positions and had the bear follow us for a change. Profiting by our early reading of wild animal and game hunting stories, we promptly climbed a tree and his bearing looked majestically by, never giving us a nod of recognition.

Keeping in the open air as much as possible has made Moran feel as well, if not better, than at any time in his pugilistic career. He knows that the only thing necessary to his content with Wolgast is stamina, and he is roughing it here with the end in view. We will leave on Sunday next for San Rafael, where Moran will begin his actual training at Shannon's on Tuesday. With best regards to all our brothers in the West, I am, yours very truly, CHAS. J. HARVEY.

UP in Los Angeles they are holding a series of featherweight bouts at Tom McCreary's club to develop a challenger for Abe Attell, who has promised to defend his title against the best man that can be found. In the first fight Joe Rivers beat Tommy Dixon. On July 16 Patsy Kilne is to meet Johnny Kilbane. After that the winners of the July 6 and July 15 fights are to be matched, and Attell will meet the winner of that contest at a date that is yet to be selected. Kilne goes West to-day with Moe Smith, his manager. There will be little question that the winner of this series of bouts will be entitled to a match with Attell. The list is made up of the best feathers in the country, and unless Abe is in shape there may be a new featherweight champion on the vaudeville circuit.

NEW YORK is running to heavyweights this week. Savage and Andy Morris at Brown's to-night; Jim Smith and Morris Harris at the National Thursday night, and Joe Jeannette and Porky Flynn at the Twentieth Century Friday night. There should be several loud thuds heard before the week is over. I see that there is talk of matching Savage against Jim Stewart. Personally, much as I like a good boxing match, this is one I'd stay away from. Jim Stewart has not been in the ring for a few months, and he has every reason to be glad for giving up the game for all time. In the match with Barry in Boston Stewart was given a terrific beating, and the referee and his seconds, at his request, refrained from stopping it. He was set on showing the "geness" that he was once supposed to lack. The result was a slight case of concussion of the brain. Shortly afterward he boxed Jack "Twin" Sullivan and collapsed after receiving a tap that wouldn't have even annoyed him under ordinary circumstances. For several days Stewart's recovery was doubtful. He is all right now, of course, but there will always be danger of a recurrence of the trouble if he boxes again.

Baseball League Standing. Club, W, L, P, C, etc.

Irish-American A. C. May Not Send Team to National Meet

Poor Track and the Large Financial Outlay Necessary Are the Reasons.

THERE'S more than a possible chance that the Irish-American A. C. will not send a team of athletes to compete in the national championships at Pittsburg on July 1. Two reasons why they shouldn't make a bid for the club honors in the big meet are advanced—the poor track on which the events will be run and the large financial outlay necessary for sending a team to no distant point.

WELLS AND MOORE CLASH AT BOSTON

Philadelphia in Fine Condition for To-Night's Encounter With English Champion.

BY JOHN POLLOCK. ATT WELLS, the English lightweight champion, who came to this country for the sole purpose of beating all of the American lightweights, will tackle another one of them to-night.

Jack McQuinn, the new owner of the National A. C. of Philadelphia, who shut down his club for a few weeks because he could not get enough attractions to keep it going, has at last secured a new manager, and the club is now open. He has matched Matt Wells, the English champion, to meet Mickey Sanchez, the Philadelphia welterweight, at a show of his club on Saturday evening, June 24.

At Lynn, who has just returned home from Paris, where he had Harry Lewis, the Philadelphia fighter, in many battles, says that Matt Wells is a great fighter and will give Billy Paine a hard time. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Paris on Saturday evening, June 24, and will be a terrific contest and a terrific puncher, says Lynn.

Johnny Duhan, the Brooklyn welterweight, who is a good willing fighter, has been matched to meet Young Sawyer, the crack lightweight of Indianapolis, for ten rounds at a show to be brought off at Akron, O., on Thursday night, June 22.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Those Pirates did not hear themselves from their two weeks' absence until the Giants did them up good and plenty and then sought newer fields to conquer. But the old privateer on the high seas is suffering again and the Dodger outfit is suffering as a result. Twice walloped through the fingers of that powerful hitting force to do anything in the clouting line has been the lot of Dahlgren here. They hit Camnitz yesterday hard enough to win an ordinary game, but their nine safeties were slain.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Tommy Leach was back in the game yesterday after a four-day absence, and the nine had a victory over the Pirates. The extra base hit secured off him made it look otherwise.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The Pirates have almost done the thing best they can to-day in beginning to make their record of the season.

Chicago-Boston Trade Will Be Investigated

McGraw and Griffith Consult Chairman Herrmann of National Commission.

MANAGER MCGRAW of the Giants and Manager Griffith of the Red Sox said to-day that there is to be a careful investigation made of the recent Chicago-Boston trade in which the Chicago team greatly strengthened itself and the Boston team was weakened.

BOXING STAG TO-NIGHT.

At the Brown Gymnasium A. A.—Jim Savage of Orange, N. J., and Andy Morris of Boston will meet in the main bout of ten rounds.

Matches Arranged. Bert Keyes and Fighting Dick Hyland of California have been matched to battle for ten rounds at the Olympic C. C. of Harlem next Monday night.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Donlin May Be Traded To Philadelphia Team

Footlight Favorite May Be Swapped by Giants for a Box Artist.

IT would not be surprising if Mike Donlin, the old outfielder of the Giants, who has just quit the footlights and returned to his first love—the diamond—was traded to the Phillies for a pitcher. The Quaker team is in need of another good outfielder and are now negotiating with Manager McGraw of the Southern League, and Pitchers Brennan and Schults of Buffalo, of the Eastern League.

Gissing Going To Compete in English Games

Yes, really and truly, Mr. Harry Gissing, national champion half-miler, is going "across"—and on June 17, too, for he's booked to sail in the company of one Jake Weber via the American Line on Saturday.

Gissing has been given the A. A. U.'s permission to compete in the half-mile at the English championships on July 1, and also its sanction to run in any other European athletic meets he may care to compete in.

For at least three months Jake Weber has insisted that Gissing was going to the English championships in his company, but the general impression was that the ex-New York A. C. star wouldn't make the trip. However, he has continuously kept at hard training, as his splendid race at Toronto last Saturday plainly showed.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Special to The Evening World. PITTSBURGH, June 12.—The right-hand bat between Frank Ryan, the Boston pitcher, and Matt Moran, the Philadelphia pitcher, will take place to-night at the National A. C. of Philadelphia. The match is being held at the Grand Hotel at Philadelphia on Saturday evening, June 24.

Highlanders Take Farewell Slap at Cleveland Team

Tigers Will Be the Distinguished Guests at the Hill-top Park To-Morrow.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER. HAVING won six out of seven games on the home ground, among the last company, the Highlanders take a farewell slap at the Cleveland boys this afternoon and then clear the decks for the first big battle of the season. The Tigers are in our midst to-morrow, and if the Hilltop crew can tear them off with the same regularity that has been the fate of other Western clubs, we will square ourselves, take a fresh smoke, and begin to look forward to the pennant.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

KID HENRY STOPS MIKE SULLIVAN IN JUST TWO ROUNDS

Boston Fighter Claims Foul After Session in Which His Nose Is Broken.

Special to The Evening World. ALBANY, June 12.—Mike Sullivan of Boston was no match for Kid Henry, the Troy colored welterweight, in the scheduled ten-round main bout of the Ketcherbocker A. C., and after the second round Sullivan refused to go on, claiming a foul.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Harvard Crews to Have First Row on Thames

The Harvard and Yale crews are hard at work conditioning themselves for their big regatta, which will take place on the Thames River, near New London, on June 30.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.

Excuse Me

Hal Chase continued his experiments as a left-handed batter yesterday, but he didn't do so well as on the first trial. At that he tore one off in the second inning that burnt Topsy Turner like a red hot shot. It was so close that the scorers were divided on the question as to whether he should be given a hit or Turner should be given an error.