

conclusion," they told Sydney Buxton, President of the Board of Trade...

PREMIER ASQUITH WORKED HARD FOR PEACE.

At this point Premier Asquith intervened and offered to appoint immediately a royal commission...

Mr. Asquith made the same proposition to the railroad managers...

When representatives of the unions refused the proffer of the Premier...

Mr. Asquith emphasized the fact that the men would incur a heavy responsibility if they failed to accept...

TROOPS RUSHED TO MANY POINTS FOR ACTION.

Troops are being entrained at Aldershot as rapidly as possible...

In the House of Commons to-day Home Secretary Churchill said...

The time limit of twenty-four hours, within which the railway men demanded...

Traffic proceeded as usual. No formal orders were given the union men...

LOCKOUT MUST BE LIFTED, WAS DEMAND MADE.

Officials of the railway men's societies arrived in London from Liverpool early to-day...

Later the union leaders numbering forty met with the Board of Trade officials.

Passenger and freight trains from all London stations were running on their regular schedules this afternoon.

At Liverpool traffic was also maintained, but the stations in that city were guarded by soldiers with fixed bayonets.

The armored cruiser Astrim has been sent to the Mersey to protect the shipping there.

The Transatlantic shipping companies plan to coal and victual their liners at American ports for the round trip...

LEWIS HIGHLY FAVORED.

Flourwalker—I overstept myself this morning.

Ribbon Counter Girl—Well, it's mighty mean of you to brag about it; you know I can't afford to overstept.

There are BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOU EVERY DAY, AND THE WORLD IS THE PLACE IN WHICH TO FIND THEM.

Yesterday the Morning World printed 106 "Business Opportunities" Ads.

ILLNESS MAY DELAY TRIAL.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 17.—The sickness of Beulah Binford and Paul Beattie, and of the father-in-law of Judge Walter A. Wilson may cause a continuance of the trial of Henry Clay Beattie Jr., alleged wife murderer...

HANS WAGNER OFF FOR PITTSBURGH TO AWAIT RECOVERY

Great Ball Player's Friends Weep When Hero Boards the Train.

"WE'LL WIN," HE SAYS. Fans Fear Injury to His Leg Will Cost Pirates the Pennant.

Hans Wagner slipped out of a taxicab at the Pennsylvania station this afternoon and slowly picked his way to the train shed...

Wagner was going home to permit his sprained ankle to recover.

The great Roman of the ball field, however, in most weeks upon his misfortune, sustained in the game with Brooklyn yesterday, when he went down in a heap as he turned second...

Wagner is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault...

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

"My being hurt ain't going to hurt Fred Clark's team one bit," he said as he fixed his crutches so they would not fall on the injured member.

"But I'm tough on me to have this thing happen at this time. Of course Pittsburgh is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault."

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

"My being hurt ain't going to hurt Fred Clark's team one bit," he said as he fixed his crutches so they would not fall on the injured member.

"But I'm tough on me to have this thing happen at this time. Of course Pittsburgh is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault."

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

"My being hurt ain't going to hurt Fred Clark's team one bit," he said as he fixed his crutches so they would not fall on the injured member.

"But I'm tough on me to have this thing happen at this time. Of course Pittsburgh is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault."

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

"My being hurt ain't going to hurt Fred Clark's team one bit," he said as he fixed his crutches so they would not fall on the injured member.

"But I'm tough on me to have this thing happen at this time. Of course Pittsburgh is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault."

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

"My being hurt ain't going to hurt Fred Clark's team one bit," he said as he fixed his crutches so they would not fall on the injured member.

"But I'm tough on me to have this thing happen at this time. Of course Pittsburgh is going to win the flag, and if I'm out of the game that's my own fault."

"But Manager Clark and everybody else connected with the team seems to think your injury will greatly lessen Pittsburgh's chances," he was reminded.

"Nothing of the kind," he answered, examining the gnarled fingers that had been split and torn and lacerated in many games.

DAY TO DAY RECORD OF ATWOOD'S FLIGHT TO NEW YORK

TAFT HAS VETO MESSAGE OF THE WOOL BILL READY

President Will Not Only Kill That, but Also the Cotton and Farmers Free List.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Following a special meeting of the Cabinet to-day—the fourth held this week—the last remaining doubt of President Taft's attitude on the wool bill was swept away.

It was stated that Mr. Taft's veto message might go to the House to-day. One or two Cabinet members, who heretofore had held to the opinion that it might be wiser for the President to sign the wool bill, were said to have been entirely won over to Mr. Taft's views at to-day's session.

It became known after the meeting that the President would not only veto the wool bill but that the cotton bill with the proposed amendment revising the iron and steel schedules and the farmers' free list would suffer the same fate.

It was indicated that any tariff revision bill at this session would be vetoed.

The President, it was said, would go before the country in his message and in speeches on his Western trip this fall and argue against what he would characterize as an unnecessary spending of business through revision of the tariff not based on information from the Tariff Board.

The wool bill was received at the White House shortly before noon and it was expected that the President would respond with his veto before nightfall.

Without any trouble," declared Atwood this morning. "I would like to make about 500 or 600 miles a day on this trip, but engagements made by my managers compel me to observe stop signals like a local railroad train."

"Up to this time I haven't let my machine out. Most of the time I have had the motor throttled. I expect to burn up some air this afternoon between Toledo and Cleveland and to go even faster between Cleveland and Buffalo."

PLANS TO LAND ON SOUTH BEACH OF LONG ISLAND.

"Down through the Mohawk Valley of New York State it ought to be easy to just whiz along. From Albany to New York it will be all down hill through the Hudson Valley, and unless something happens I won't aught from the time I leave Albany until I strike the wide, sandy stretch of Atlantic beach on the southern shore of Long Island."

"Whether I fly from New York to Boston or not will depend on whether I want to go to the trouble of packing up my machine and sending it by rail to Boston, where I am due on the 27th."

Atwood's schedule calls for his arrival in Buffalo Friday evening and his departure from there Saturday morning. He expects to spend Saturday night either in Syracuse or Utica and Sunday night in Albany. If he gets to New York next Monday evening he will have taken only eight days in the flight from St. Louis to New York.

The start from Elkhart, Ind., was made at 8:06 A. M. yesterday. The airman's speed was not uniform. For instance, he went from Butler, Ind., to Mima, O., in six miles, from Mima to Stryker, O., to Archbold, O., six miles, in six minutes, and from Archbold to Pettisville, O., four miles, in six minutes.

TRAP TAXI MURDER SUSPECT BY JEALOUS WOMAN'S AID

Companion Charges Brine With Part in Sterne Killing, but Retracts Accusation in Philadelphia Court—Prisoner Held for Our Police.

Morris Brine, who is under arrest in Philadelphia, is believed by the Detective Bureau here to know enough to solve the mystery of the "taxicab murder"—the killing of Adolph Sterne at Jacoby's jewelry store, Sixth avenue and Thirteenth street, at 10 o'clock at night, six weeks ago.

When the first reports came to the police here of Brine's arrest by Philadelphia detectives they were treated with scant attention. None of the information gathered regarding the murder of Sterne seemed to have anything to do with Brine or any man of his description.

But today it was discovered that on Nov. 4, 1908, Brine was arrested with four other men for a murderous hold-up in an east side saloon in which a taxicab figured.

All five suspects were afterward released because the victim of the robbery—who admitted that he had been "ristled" by friends of the prisoners—refused to identify them when they were arraigned in court.

Following the discovery of this record, the Philadelphia police were asked to tell why they had reason to suspect that Brine knew anything about the Sterne murder. In answer to a request came the story of an underworld romance.

JEALOUS WOMAN MAKES DISCLOSURES.

A woman companion of Brine, who was with him when he went to Philadelphia a week ago and took an apartment at Arch and Eleventh streets, became locally known as Brine's "girl" and regarded herself as Brine's wife and thought first that he was going about too much in tough resorts in Philadelphia, and afterward that he was neglecting her for new acquaintances.

She raved about the house at him so much that the neighbors heard the particulars of the quarrel.

Through underground channels the Philadelphia police heard that she had screamed at him that his conduct was not only an insult to her, but that he was putting himself in danger of the electric chair by going about so freely in circles which were frequented by scores of police stool pigeons.

He never left her at night, she said, but that she expected to hear that detectives from New York had arrested him to take him back for "that murder."

The Philadelphia detectives made a quiet investigation. While it was still going on, the woman herself in almost insane jealousy, appeared at Police headquarters and charged Brine with knowing all about the Sterne murder. "This is all nonsense," she said. "What sort of a country is it where a man is arrested because of the talk of a sick and nervous woman? Morris never hurt anybody."

Nevertheless, Brine was held to await the action of the New York police. Detectives were sent to Philadelphia to look into the man's recent movements and to find out who his associates have been.

The Philadelphia pawnshops will also be searched for the rings which the taxicab burglars took from the Jacoby store. The detectives also want to have a look at the woman in the case. They have a fair description of a mysterious woman who was in the shop just before the murderers descended upon it, and whose mission seemed to be to occupy the attention of the proprietor and the clerks.

man into a drug store and sent for the ambulance. Gillin was not unconscious and persisted in denying that he knew the name of the man who shot him. At the hospital it is said Gillin has a good chance to recover. The police are searching for a countryman of Gillin's with whom he is said to have quarrelled over a woman.

GIRL DIES OF BURNS.

Invalid Starts Fire with Oil and is Terribly Injured.

GIANTS BAT OUT LEAD FOR AMES

BATTING ORDER.

New York. Cincinnati. Devore, lf. Beecher, lf. Snodgrass, cf. Hohlziel, lf. Becker, rf. Mitchell, rf. Merkle, lf. Downey, ss. Herzog, 2b. Egan, 2b. Meyers, c. Grant, 3b. Ames, p. Clarke, p. Umpire—Rieger and Fineran.

As the Giants started to bat a shower came up that lasted ten minutes and the game had to be postponed for that length of time. When play was resumed the Giants were retired in quick order.

In the second inning beautiful fielding by Devore and Snodgrass prevented the Reds from reaching first base. Devore's catch of Egan's drive to left was one of the sensations of the game.

In the second inning the Giants began to hit and tied the score. Merkle opened with an infield single that rolled toward third, but Herzog lined out to Downey. Merkle took second as Egan tossed out Fletcher, and scored on Meyers's clean wallop to centre. Ames struck out.

In the third Ames retired the Reds in quick order. He struck out both Keefe and Beecher and the next man was Ames.

The Giants jumped into the lead in their half of the third when a baiting rally put three runs over the plate after two were out. After Devore had gone out Doyle got a base on balls and went to third on the hit and run play when Snodgrass smashed a single into right. Downey got Beecher's grounder and three Doyle out at the plate, but Merkle came through with his second single and Snodgrass scored. Herzog then drove a long two-bagger over Beecher's head, scoring both Beecher and Merkle, but was thrown out trying to make third.

The Reds failed to score in the fourth, but until they had given up a score. After two were out Egan walked and Grant singled, but Doyle made a great stop and threw out Clarke.

The Giants scored another in their half of the fourth. Fletcher opened with a two-base drive to the fence, but Meyers lined out to Beecher. Ames was thrown out at first and Fletcher took third. Devore then beat out a hit to second and Fletcher scored. Devore was out stealing.

The Reds scored in the first half of the fifth. After Keefe was out Beecher cracked a beauty over Devore's head for three bases and scored on Bates's long fly to left. Hohlziel was out on a grounder to Merkle.

GIANTS SEWED UP GAME IN FIFTH INNING.

The Giants practically sewed up the game in the last half of the fifth, when they scored 4 and gave the fans a round of as much excitement as the

WILEY EXPLODES NEW BOMB; HITS CABINET MEMBERS

Declares Adverse Pure Food Ruling Was Changed to a Favorable Opinion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—That three members of the Cabinet took the side of the Corn Products Company against a decision of the Board of Food and Drug Inspection and allowed that company to sell glucose, labelled as corn syrup, was the startling charge made on the witness stand to-day by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry.

The Corn Products Company employed thirty chemists to refute Wiley's opinion, one of them afterward serving on the Remsen Board. The company, according to Dr. Wiley, then succeeded in having the board's order suppressed and replaced it with one authorizing the sale of glucose in the form desired by them.

Dr. Wiley charged that the manufacturers of this product had offered money to prominent chemists of the United States to secure opinions supporting their contention that "corn syrup" was a proper name for glucose. The Board of Food and Drug Inspection, hearing the Bureau of Chemistry, found that "corn syrup" was an illegal label on glucose.

CONTRARY DECISION PUBLISHED BY CABINET MEMBERS.

"All the board joined in the decision," Dr. Wiley said, "and the decision was approved by the Secretary. This decision was sent to the printing office, was set up and proof taken, but it was never sent out."

"After an exactly contrary decision was published by the three members of the Cabinet voted with the jurisdiction in such matters as a pure food decision under the Food and Drug act."

"In the interval between the preparation of our decision and the publication of the ruling by the three secretaries I know that the Corn Products Company was very busy."

"They tried to get certificates from chemists, one of whom later became a member of the Pure Food Referee Board, to show that 'corn syrup' was a proper term for glucose. In one case

Special for Thursday, the 17th

Special for Friday, the 18th

Special for Saturday, the 19th

Special for Sunday, the 20th

Special for Monday, the 21st

Special for Tuesday, the 22nd

Special for Wednesday, the 23rd

Special for Thursday, the 24th

Special for Friday, the 25th

Special for Saturday, the 26th

Official Voting Coupon. This Coupon Entitles the Holder to Cast One Vote for King in the contest for King of the Mardi Gras Festival at Coney Island. King of the "Carnival of Flowers and Song" Week of Sept. 11.

Polo Grounds has seen in many a year. Doyle started it with a three-base smash to the right field wall, and then came the funniest play of the day. Snodgrass hit an easy grounder to Keefe, who threw it to Clarke and Doyle was caught in a chase. In the mean time Snodgrass ran all the way to third, and as the fielder's attention was turned Doyle also slid safely into second, with the whole field in pursuit, and Doyle was off to the right for home, only to be caught in another chase.

This comedy kept up for five minutes until Doyle and Snodgrass both got back to the bags in safety. While the crowd was still whooping with excitement, Beecher shot a single into centre that scored them both. Beecher taking second as Fletcher then beat out a bunt and Merkle went to third. Wilson batted for Meyers and popped out to Downey. Merkle and Fletcher worked a double steal. Merkle scoring and Fletcher going all the way to third on Clarke's bad throw. Ames struck out.

As the Reds had the bases full with none out in the sixth they failed to put one over the pan. Mitchell got a base on balls as a starter, and Downey an illegal both going hitting the plate. Grant hit to Herzog who threw Mitchell out at the plate. Fletcher then made a marvellous stop of Clarke's high bouncer, and by a lightning-like throw turned it into a double play which retired the side.

After two were out in the last half of the sixth Snodgrass slanted a two-bagger over Beecher's head, but Beecher flied out to Mitchell.

GIANTS BAT OUT LEAD FOR AMES. BATTING ORDER. New York. Cincinnati. Devore, lf. Beecher, lf. Snodgrass, cf. Hohlziel, lf. Becker, rf. Mitchell, rf. Merkle, lf. Downey, ss. Herzog, 2b. Egan, 2b. Meyers, c. Grant, 3b. Ames, p. Clarke, p. Umpire—Rieger and Fineran.

As the Giants started to bat a shower came up that lasted ten minutes and the game had to be postponed for that length of time. When play was resumed the Giants were retired in quick order.

In the second inning beautiful fielding by Devore and Snodgrass prevented the Reds from reaching first base. Devore's catch of Egan's drive to left was one of the sensations of the game.

In the second inning the Giants began to hit and tied the score. Merkle opened with an infield single that rolled toward third, but Herzog lined out to Downey. Merkle took second as Egan tossed out Fletcher, and scored on Meyers's clean wallop to centre. Ames struck out.

In the third Ames retired the Reds in quick order. He struck out both Keefe and Beecher and the next man was Ames.

The Giants jumped into the lead in their half of the third when a baiting rally put three runs over the plate after two were out. After Devore had gone out Doyle got a base on balls and went to third on the hit and run play when Snodgrass smashed a single into right. Downey got Beecher's grounder and three Doyle out at the plate, but Merkle came through with his second single and Snodgrass scored. Herzog then drove a long two-bagger over Beecher's head, scoring both Beecher and Merkle, but was thrown out trying to make third.

The Reds failed to score in the fourth, but until they had given up a score. After two were out Egan walked and Grant singled, but Doyle made a great stop and threw out Clarke.

The Giants scored another in their half of the fourth. Fletcher opened with a two-base drive to the fence, but Meyers lined out to Beecher. Ames was thrown out at first and Fletcher took third. Devore then beat out a hit to second and Fletcher scored. Devore was out stealing.

The Reds scored in the first half of the fifth. After Keefe was out Beecher cracked a beauty over Devore's head for three bases and scored on Bates's long fly to left. Hohlziel was out on a grounder to Merkle.

GIANTS SEWED UP GAME IN FIFTH INNING. The Giants practically sewed up the game in the last half of the fifth, when they scored 4 and gave the fans a round of as much excitement as the WILEY EXPLODES NEW BOMB; HITS CABINET MEMBERS. Declares Adverse Pure Food Ruling Was Changed to a Favorable Opinion.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—That three members of the Cabinet took the side of the Corn Products Company against a decision of the Board of Food and Drug Inspection and allowed that company to sell glucose, labelled as corn syrup, was the startling charge made on the witness stand to-day by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry.

The Corn Products Company employed thirty chemists to refute Wiley's opinion, one of them afterward serving on the Remsen Board. The company, according to Dr. Wiley, then succeeded in having the board's order suppressed and replaced it with one authorizing the sale of glucose in the form desired by them.

Dr. Wiley charged that the manufacturers of this product had offered money to prominent chemists of the United States to secure opinions supporting their contention that "corn syrup" was a proper name for glucose. The Board of Food and Drug Inspection, hearing the Bureau of Chemistry, found that "corn syrup" was an illegal label on glucose.

CONTRARY DECISION PUBLISHED BY CABINET MEMBERS. "All the board joined in the decision," Dr. Wiley said, "and the decision was approved by the Secretary. This decision was sent to the printing office, was set up and proof taken, but it was never sent out."

"After an exactly contrary decision was published by the three members of the Cabinet voted with the jurisdiction in such matters as a pure food decision under the Food and Drug act."

"In the interval between the preparation of our decision and the publication of the ruling by the three secretaries I know that the Corn Products Company was very busy."

"They tried to get certificates from chemists, one of whom later became a member of the Pure Food Referee Board, to show that 'corn syrup' was a proper term for glucose. In one case

Special for Thursday, the 17th. Special for Friday, the 18th. Special for Saturday, the 19th. Special for Sunday, the 20th. Special for Monday, the 21st. Special for Tuesday, the 22nd. Special for Wednesday, the 23rd. Special for Thursday, the 24th. Special for Friday, the 25th. Special for Saturday, the 26th.

Special for Sunday, the 27th. Special for Monday, the 28th. Special for Tuesday, the 29th. Special for Wednesday, the 30th. Special for Thursday, the 31st. Special for Friday, the 1st. Special for Saturday, the 2nd. Special for Sunday, the 3rd.

Special for Monday, the 4th. Special for Tuesday, the 5th. Special for Wednesday, the 6th. Special for Thursday, the 7th. Special for Friday, the 8th. Special for Saturday, the 9th. Special for Sunday, the 10th.

Special for Monday, the 11th. Special for Tuesday, the 12th. Special for Wednesday, the 13th. Special for Thursday, the 14th. Special for Friday, the 15th. Special for Saturday, the 16th. Special for Sunday, the 17th.

ITCHING ECZEMA ON BOTH HANDS

Treated for Months but Grew Worse. Came on Face. Physician Advised Cuticura Remedies. Began Improving after First Treatment, and Owes Cure to Cuticura Remedies.

"Eczema began on the second joint of my thumb on my left hand. Several blisters came which soon broke and water oozed from them. Then the terrible itching began, and the eczema came in blotches on both hands. Sometimes the skin would seem to break, and gave the appearance of being out, and blisters came out of them. It was very bad when I consulted a physician. I was treated for several months, but grew worse all the time.

"Then it came in my face. I suffered more than I could describe from the itching and burning. I became nearly a week physically. Then I consulted another physician and was treated by him for some time when he finally advised the Cuticura Remedies. I began improving after the first treatment, and was cured after taking the Resolvent and using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. That was fifteen years ago, and I have never been troubled with it since.

"I owe my cure to the Cuticura Remedies and would be thankful to impart any help to others who have just advised a lady friend who is suffering with eczema on her face and neck, to try the Cuticura Remedies. She has been treated by a physician for some time without relief." (Signed) Mrs. L. C. Wardner, Lincoln, Del., Dec. 18, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a illustrated booklet, with 32-page booklet on the skin and hair, will be sent, post-free, on application to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 104, Boston.

HAIRDRESSING SHAMPOOING MASSAGING MANICURING HAIR WEAVING Special Teachers Separate Class Rooms Short Time

One Small Tuition Fee Unlimited Number of Lessons in Every Course

REMARKABLE LAWYER RATES TO THOSE WHO ADVISE

Caroline School of Instruction 140-161 West 86th St. Near Broadway, N. Y. City.

POPULAR ONE-DAY OUTINGS Lake Hopatcong $1 EVERY SUNDAY AND HOLIDAY

DIED. AGNEW—On Aug. 15, 1911, BERTHA A. AGNEW, beloved wife of Sam Agnew. Funeral on Friday, Aug. 18, at 8:30 A. M. from her late residence, 110 Third St., thence to Church of St. Vincent, Christopher St., near Greenwich, Interment Calvary.