

huddle in the middle. It was remarkable that practically every injury was done to ankles.

CHEERS GREET ANNOUNCEMENT OF "NOBODY KILLED."

As the stand collapsed a sudden hush fell over the field, and here and there onlookers gasped out that friends or relatives were in the accident.

When word was telegraphed "Nobody killed," there were cheers and a round of handclapping. Those who had crowded either seats or stood close to the fence in the course, and the race was resumed at 11:59 o'clock after a delay of six minutes.

The accident apparently was all but forgotten for the old cry of "Down in front" were shouted at the ever-eager ones, for they were too excited, to sit, and the drivers were cheered as they flashed past the stands.

WRECK LIST NOW 33 DEAD, 69 HURT

extremely sticking up almost on a level with the trestlework. The front of this car was crushed by the frightful impact, and inside, its occupants, buried in a mass of twisted metal, were crushed and bruised and killed.

The fact that no fire started in the wreck enabled many of the injured to escape. Had fire followed, it is certain that the death toll would have been much longer than that is.

The rescue work was pursued under great difficulties. The extraordinary position of the parlor car that had fallen over the side made it almost impossible to reach the man and woman who were lying in a confused heap—head heaped upon head—on the twisted steel and woodwork of the bottom of the car.

When the rescuers had chopped their way inside the overturned car, it was found that most of those killed had met death swiftly, their skulls being crushed by the impact of the falling car.

THE KNOWN DEAD. BARKER, EDWARD, truckman. BELT, COL. D. M., Los Angeles, Cal. BRADLEY, Mrs. M., No. 6130 Delaware street, Philadelphia.

BRIDGES, Mrs. J. J., 117 Falcon street, Newark, N. J. BROWN, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BROWN, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J. BRUCE, Mrs. J. J., Newark, N. J.

BINFORD GIRL'S DEATH TRIAL JURORS SEE MURDER AUTO

Youth Identifies Machine as the One He Saw Near Scene of the Murder.

NIGHT RIDE IS TOLD. Autoists Tell of Offering Help to Man Stalled in Car in Road—Woman With Him.

CHESTERFIELD COURT HOUSE, Va., Aug. 25.—This was an eventful day for the prosecution in the trial of Henry Clay Beattie on the charge of murdering his wife. A sensation promised before court opened came in the calling of Mrs. Binford, the mother of Beattie Binford, the "woman in the case."

The evidence tending to show that auto riders had seen Beattie and his wife with the auto stalled near the murder scene on the night of the tragedy was further strengthened. Next the blood stained auto in which Mrs. Beattie was killed was shown with due impressiveness to the jurors, who closely examined the car.

The testimony of Mrs. Binford was suspended pending the examination of the auto by the jury. W. B. Snyder identified the Beattie auto as one he had seen stalled on the road the night of the crime.

The possibility of Henry Beattie taking the stand at the trial to make the final appeal of his fight for life loomed up large to-day. Harry Smith, chief counsel for the accused man, nervous and troubled over the strength of the prosecution in making, was for putting his client forward to make his own appeal. But the Beattie family and Beattie himself were opposed to this course.

FEAR JURY MAY BE UNFAVORABLY IMPRESSED. "I have been considering the matter carefully," said Smith, "and haven't yet reached a decision. The question of putting the defendant on the stand is one of the most important that faces a lawyer in a criminal trial in Virginia. We will have to consider carefully."

"Do you think that his failure to take the stand would create an unfavorable impression?" Smith was asked. "Yes, I think it would," he admitted. "The jury might be unfavorably impressed."

Muddy roads and balky automobiles delayed the arrival of the court officials and witnesses, and the day's session did not begin until 10:45 o'clock. Judge Watson rose from behind a big vase of flowers which adorned his desk, smiled them a moment and rapped sharply with his gavel. He appealed to the "Virginia gentlemen" present to be so kind as to keep their coats on in his honor.

Henry C. Beattie Jr. seated beside his father, eagerly read a morning paper's verbatim account of yesterday's testimony. E. K. Moseley, eighteen years old, the second of the eight high school boys who claim on the night of the tragedy to have passed a machine similar to that in which Beattie and wife were supposed to have been, was the first witness of the day.

A. K. Bridges, one of the group of boys, testified yesterday that he saw a man tinkering with a machine on the road and that a woman was standing on the running board. He gave no detailed description of the persons he saw. The eight boys had attended a dance at Bon Air and were returning in two machines over Middleman Turnpike to Richmond.

THEY CALLED TO BEATTIE, OFFERING ASSISTANCE. Harold Moseley was the first of today's witnesses called. "Did you pass a machine on your way to Richmond?" Moseley was asked by the prosecution.

"Yes, one with a lady and a man in it. It was standing still." "What was the man doing?" "Pooling with the hood."

"Did you offer any assistance?" "Yes, we asked if we could do anything for them, but the man said no." "Where was the lady?" "Standing on the left hand running board."

The defense then took the witness, Hill Carter asking him if he remembered the exact hour of the trip from Bon Air. "It was after 10 when we left Bon Air," said Moseley.

"Was your machine running rapidly?" "Well, I reckon it was moving a little, for we got home about 11." "When you later visited the scene of the blood spots was it near where you remembered seeing the machine stop that night?" "Yes, somewhere 'round there."

Moseley was dismissed. WOMAN ATTACHED AS WAS MRS. BEATTIE. W. B. Snyder, another boy of the party, who said he was no relative of Roland Snyder, the dairyman who testified yesterday, corroborated Moseley's story, adding that the woman wore a brown raincoat or duster. Previous testimony had established that Mrs. Beattie was attached similarly on the night of the murder.

Beattie listened intently to the declarations of the boys, leaning over the bench while he nervously fingered some papers. All the youths were well dressed and

CHAMPION STRONG MAN WHO WILL TRY FOR RECORD SWIM.

EMIL SPINNER

Emil Spinner, a champion swimmer, will try to-morrow to annex the long distance swimming record. Sometime between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning he will start from Pier A, the Battery, to swim to Steeplechase Park, Coney Island.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs. To add to the excitement Josh smashed a two-bagger into left field. Doyle bunted to the pitcher, but Camnitz made a willow tree out of the pitcher's box.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

REAL LADY KILLER THIS BROOKLYNITE PROUDLY BOASTS

"They All Fall for Me and No Mistake," Declares Henry Crone.

Neither the detectives who arrested him, nor Magistrate Connolly, before whom he was arraigned to-day in the Manhattan Avenue Court, Brooklyn, could break through Henry Crone's non-committal attitude when it came to the question of whether or not he had stolen all of his former landlady's dresses and trinkets.

He freely admitted, he twisted the ends of his mustache, smirked broadly and winked when that question was put to him. "Say, there's nothing to it, when I put my peepers on the skirts," he asserted. "They all fall for me, and no mistake."

But he stands a good chance of facing a charge of bigamy as well as grand larceny because of his lady killing prowess. He was arrested to-day by Detectives Reif, Brown and Comsky after his former landlady, Mrs. Pauline Lipping of No. 38 Rodney street, had tracked him to his new quarters at No. 21 Eldred street. They found in his rooms all the stuff that had disappeared when he left Mrs. Lipping's boarding house two weeks ago.

THE NEW YORKERS will leave here to-night for St. Louis, where they hope to have an easier time with the fall-end Browns than they have had here, Chase says that he will not be satisfied with a second division position, and that he will make the Sox and Naps hustle some to hold their places in front.

LORD AND STEINER WIN ON FOREST PARK LINKS. (Special to The Evening World.) RICHMOND HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Semi-final matches in the Long Island Golf Championship began to-day at the Forest Park Public Course, which was heavy from last night's downpour. They were between Howard Juster, unattached, an ex-caddy boy, and A. Steiner, inwood of the Yale team and E. C. Bayne, Forest Park vs. Devereux Lord, who recently won the Forest Park title.

There were two other competitions in the field, a second set also at the semi-finals and a handicap for which four-score entries were received. Steiner had a close match, beating Juster 1 up, and Lord had a comparatively easy match in beating Bayne 6 up and 2 to go.

THE STEINER-Juster match was exciting throughout. Out-4, 3, 4, 5, 4, 4, 3, 4-25. In-5, 5, 4, 3, 4, 5, 4, 4-29-7. Out-3, 4, 5, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4-20. In-7, 6, 4, 3, 5, 4, 4, 4-20.

DEPUTY KILLED IN ROT; TROOPS CALLED OUT. Further Fighting Feared Between Whites and Blacks Near Macon, Ga. MACON, Ga., Aug. 25.—In a race riot at Indian Springs hotels one deputy was killed, another fatally injured and other persons injured. The hotels may have to close for the season, as there is a general epidemic of fear. The Jackson Valley Railroad across Newark high Bay was killed to-day. He is supposed to have tripped and fallen as he moved from the tracks to get out of the way of a freight train and was killed by the engine.

GOSHEN TROTS OFF AGAIN. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 25.—To-day's grand circuit race at Goshen was called off owing to the water soaked track.

22,000 SEE MATTY OPPOSE PIRATES

BATTING ORDER. New York. Pittsburgh. Devoe, 1f. Byrne, 3b. Spingarn, 2b. Clarke, 1f. Becker, rf. Wilson, cf. Beckler, lb. Miller, 2b. Macgregor, 3b. Lusch, cf. Shroeder, ss. Kavanagh, 1b. Messers, c. Gibson, c. Mathewson, p. Camnitz, p. Umpires—O Day and Emille. Attendance, 22,000.

(Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, Aug. 25.—Despite the danger of rain fans could not stay away from the Polo Grounds this afternoon, and when Mathewson walked into the box to pitch the first ball in the last inning with the Pirates there were 22,000 people in the stands, and they were still coming in droves. Camnitz, the man who lost Thursday's game to the Giants, went in for Pittsburgh, and it was a nip and tuck game from the start.

The Pirates gave up quite a scare in the first inning, but great fielding on the part of the Giants prevented them from scoring. Byrne was on an easy out on a grounder to Weaver, but Carey ripped a drive against the right field fence for three bases. Clarke led off with a high fly to Snodgrass, and there was a great roar from the crowd as his throw to Meyers held Carey at third. Matty then got first and Doyle was safe, while first by a hair.

Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs. To add to the excitement Josh smashed a two-bagger into left field. Doyle bunted to the pitcher, but Camnitz made a willow tree out of the pitcher's box.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

DODGERS GO AFTER TWO WITH "CUBS"

HOW DODGERS WON FIRST. CHICAGO. R. H. P. O. A. E.

Table showing batting order and statistics for the Dodgers vs. Cubs game.

(Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, Aug. 25.—Despite the danger of rain fans could not stay away from the Polo Grounds this afternoon, and when Mathewson walked into the box to pitch the first ball in the last inning with the Pirates there were 22,000 people in the stands, and they were still coming in droves.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Spinner was fourteen years old he lifted 365 pounds over his head with one arm. Just as Davore went to the bat for the Giants there was a great shout as the score board showed that Brooklyn had won the first game from the Cubs.

Spinner, who is twenty-eight years old, has never gone in for long distance swimming, although he has been a professional waterman. Every day lately he has been training at the Battery, Spinner's restaurant, at No. 12 Greenwich street, in the city.

Official Voting Coupon. MARDI GRAS FESTIVAL AT CONEY ISLAND. "Carnival of Flowers and Song" Week of Sept. 11.

ATWOOD NERVOUS IN TAXICAB AFTER RIDING IN AIRSHIP. Summary of Atwood's Great Aviation Feat.

HANDS SO SORE COULD NOT USE THEM. Ezernm on Feet, Too. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Was Cured.

PETER DOELGER BEER. $1.25 the case of 24 bottles— one cent a bottle more than the ordinary beer.

DIED. LENCH—PATRICK J. Aug. 25, 1911. Mrs. J. E. Pheasant, 415 East 52d St. at St. John's Church, St. John the Evangelist, 55th St.

Radway's Pills. Purely vegetable, mild and reliable. It regulates the Liver and Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA. Sick Headache, Foul Stomach, Milions are afflicted with this disease.

Draw Tender Killed by Train. "Jerry" Fagan, thirty-three years old of Chestnut street, Newark, who was employed on the Newark and New York Railroad across Newark high Bay was killed to-day.

GOSHEN TROTS OFF AGAIN. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 25.—To-day's grand circuit race at Goshen was called off owing to the water soaked track.

UNDENTIFIED DEAD. Woman, aged about forty; "M. E. H." on breast; black skirt, white waist. Woman, aged about thirty-five; gray and black blue checked dress; short black hair.