PAPKE AND MOHA CLASH TO-NIGHT AT BOSTON CLUB

Champion's Stock Will Take Big Stump if He Loses the Decision.

BY JOHN POLLOCK. BILLY PAPKE, the middleweight champion, who has not fought since he met Sailor Burke at a local club several months ago, will engage in another battle to-night. He will take on Bob Moha of Milwaukee in a twelve-round bout before the Armory A. A. of Boston. Moha is one of the best men in the middleweight division, and besides puts up a better battle than he did against Burke, he is apt to lose the decision. Papke will have to beat Moha in order to retain his popularity with the fight fans, for if he should be defeated his stock will certainly take a big drop.

Sam Lewis is no longer connected with the Fordon A. C. After the bout between Young O'Leary and Johnny Daly last night he went in his resignation as matchmaker to the office of the club. Lewis in the future will make the matchings for the Hudson A. C. and already has looked up three good contests for that club.

Battling Nelson, who has done considerable fighting during the last few months for a fighter who was supposed to be "all in," has decided to take a rest for a few months after he has fought with Frank Loughey of Philadelphia, whom he defeated in the last round of the match. Nelson's next fight is expected to be with Tommy Moore of Chicago. Nelson is expected to meet Moore at Buffalo on Nov. 10.

The Atoll picks up some more ear money next Friday night. He will meet the New Orleans pugilist, who is expected to be "all in," at the West Side A. C. of Buffalo. Smith is another one of those new comers who is expected to be "all in" and is expected to be "all in" and is expected to be "all in."

John White, the heavyweight of Chicago, who has been beaten by many a fighter, will now be expected to meet the New Orleans pugilist, who is expected to be "all in," at the West Side A. C. of Buffalo. Smith is another one of those new comers who is expected to be "all in" and is expected to be "all in."

Young Taylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, who was knocked out by Harry Williams, the New Orleans pugilist, will now be expected to meet the New Orleans pugilist, who is expected to be "all in," at the West Side A. C. of Buffalo. Smith is another one of those new comers who is expected to be "all in" and is expected to be "all in."

TIGERS' CHANCES OF BEATING HARVARD ELEVEN IMPAIRED

(Special to The Evening World.) Princeton, N. J., Oct. 31. THE announcement that Farr, who is considered the headiest quarter back in college and who was injured last week, was found to have a cracked bone in his ankle, has cast considerable gloom among the Princeton supporters. He will in all probability not be able to play before the Yale game. The hopes of the Tigers

M'FARLAND STOPS DEWEY IN FIFTH; FIGHT RESULTS IN OTHER RINGS

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 31.—Packey McFarland so badly beat Al Dewey, local lightweight champion, here, that his seconds threw up the sponge in the fifth round of a scheduled six-round battle. Dewey was left out from a volley of right and left punches to the jaw and secured his second came to his rescue.

Until the fourth round, McFarland only toyed with his opponent. For the three rounds he danced about the ring and did little damage. He opened up in the fourth, and a left hook to the jaw set Dewey going. The stock yards boy followed with sudden outburst of speed which fought Dewey off his feet and made him take the count.

Jack O'Brien's Brother Wins. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Eddie Hanson of Grand Rapids, who claims to be a cousin of the more famous Jack O'Brien, defeated Tommy Coleman of Erie, Pa. in three rounds at the American Athletic Club. With height and reach as an advantage young Jack O'Brien, a brother of the famous Jack and a student at St. Joseph's College, had a little on Bobby Reynolds, the crier southwest heavyweight, Tommy Coleman of Erie, Pa. over weight, who was defeated in six rounds.

Harley Defeats English. GLEN FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 31.—In a whirlwind finish Bill Harley of Glen Falls defeated Larry English of Troy at the Casino A. C. in ten rounds. Harley trooped English in the last round by the body and throughout did most of the laying.

Grover Wins Again. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 31.—Grover Hayes of Philadelphia was awarded the decision over Jake Roberts of New York in a ten-round bout. Hayes was victorious in the first round and kept the Southern A. C.

Allen Wins From Kilbane. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 31.—(Continued from page 1.) The referee ruled boxing was inaugurated here with a ten-round bout in which Billy Allen of Cleveland, Pa. defeated Tom Kilbane of New York in three rounds at the American Athletic Club.

Hogan Too Strong for Howard. "One Round" Hogan of San Francisco defeated Howard of New York in a ten-round bout at the Casino A. C., Brooklyn. Howard carried the fight to the limit in the first round and race horse left in America the Jockey Club will live.

Boxing Shows to-Night. At Olympic A. C. of Harlem—Route will be put on between the sailors of the different warships in port. At Brown Gymnasium A. A.—Battling Mantel vs. Young Fitzsimmons, for ten rounds.

Clark Griffith Is To Lead Nationals. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Although it was thought the Nationals would have charge of the Red, Clark Griffith, the veteran pitcher and manager, will lead the Nationals of the American League for the next three seasons, having been chosen at a meeting of the Board of Directors of that club. It was understood that George Stovall, recently secured in a trade with the Naps for McBride, would be the manager of the Washington team next season, and consequently the announcement that last season's boss at Cincinnati had given the job was the cause of much surprise in local baseball circles.

Belmont Gives Rocksand's Sons to Government. Two sons of the $125,000 English sire Rocksand have been presented to the Breeding Bureau of the United States Government by August Belmont. They are Footprint, the three-year-old colt by Rocksand-Fetish, and Tiptop, the two-year-old by Rocksand-Tiptoe. Footprint was among the stars of the two-year-olds last season, having won among other races the "Promont and Double events. Last year Mr. Belmont gave Henry of Navarre and Octagon to the Breeding Bureau.

Boxers Shy About Meeting Packey McFarland in the Ring, Matt Wells Being the Latest Man to Dodge Match With Him.

Wagon, the undisputed champion, who fights everybody else, manages to get along very nicely without mingling with Packey. Somehow or other Freddy Welsh hasn't boxed McFarland since their memorable bout in England, although I understand that three or four New York clubs have been after the match. Welsh is going to fight Wagon.

So Saturday night at the club Mr. Levy met Mr. Gibson and they set down to make a match. The details were arranged, including weight, 135 pounds, at 5 o'clock. Just as the affair was concluded Matt Wells's manager had a sudden thought.

"Make it 135 pounds at 3 instead of 135 pounds at 5 o'clock," said Wells. "That fell through. Then a match was made here in New York by Mr. McDonald, McFarland and Wells to meet for ten rounds, weighing 135 pounds at 5 o'clock, Oct. 13. That fell through.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK MAY NOT BE SOLD AFTER ALL

Secretary of Jockey Club, Algernon Daingerfield, Thinks Report Nothing but Talk.

BY BOZEMAN BULGER. IF the beautiful old race track at Sheephead Bay is sold and cut up into building lots the transfer will be made for the same reason that you would take off your collar if some one offered $5 for the button. The unexpected placing of this property on the market has no bearing whatever on the future of horse racing in the State of New York. At least that is the opinion of Algernon Daingerfield, secretary of the Jockey Club.

"In other words," explains Mr. Daingerfield, "any piece of property has its price, and the owners of the Sheephead Bay track could not be blamed for selling more than they were worth on the market. If some one, for instance, should come along and offer us $1,000,000 for the office equipment of the Jockey Club we would sell out in a minute and take up quarters elsewhere. Do you get the point?"

"When it was reported that Mr. Clark, superintendent of the great racing property, had put it on the market the lovers of thoroughbred horsemanship immediately jumped at the conclusion that racing in New York was dead forever and that the Jockey Club authorities had given up all hope of legislative relief. At which there was great lamentation. This led to the further assumption that Gravesend and other places would be sold and that King Horse would take to the milk wagon, the track and other lines of endeavor for the future livelihood. But the sportslover should be a little patient. There is still a chance, no fancy chance, but a chance nevertheless. If the legislation that millions of dollars in horse operations are going on every year and that all of that, in a way, depends upon his stud book which is kept by the Jockey Club."

"It seems, though, that a race horse would be in a terrible fix without any sires. Mr. Daingerfield and his associates are all about the great grandfathers of Proctor Knott that a lot of New York people know about their own. People have very little use for ancestors in this day and time, but a horse without a grandpa and grandma would even have difficulty in getting a job on a milk route. That's where the stud book comes in. It is the record of the world's racing, and it will live just as long as people will pay to see horse racing or will invest in thoroughbreds."

"What do you think of it, Mr. Daingerfield?" asked Mr. Daingerfield of the new comer, who had listened to the conversation as he passed by. "Nothing more than the tearing down of those old sales stables," replied Mr. Daingerfield. "Exactly what I was thinking," agreed the secretary. It seems that the Paoli-Tipton sales stables, which are located on property adjacent to the Sheephead Bay track, are being torn down. Citizens of the Bay, who still have the cause of King Horse in their hearts, are very anxious to see the whole sheephead was to be sold. Some one then guessed a good price, and there you are.

As a matter of fact, the Long Island Railroad Company removed the old sales stables, which are located on property adjacent to the Sheephead Bay track, are being torn down. Citizens of the Bay, who still have the cause of King Horse in their hearts, are very anxious to see the whole sheephead was to be sold. Some one then guessed a good price, and there you are.
