

prison superintendent said. She will be compelled, with her sister suffragettes, to scrub the floors of the prison, clean the windows, wash and iron the clothing, etc., used in the prison, and when not employed in this way will have to sew on coarse bagging, making sacks. This latter is the chief industry of this prison, and the work is laborious and unprofitable.

There was a lengthy conference of the members of the Militant Suffrage League today. It was realized that the authorities now meant business and the question at issue was whether the members of the League would continue to conduct the demonstrations when it is almost certain that to do so will mean lengthy prison sentences at hard labor and the loss of caste that comes to all convicts.

The majority of the leaders declared that the end justified the means. But many of the rank and file took the opposite view. While the entire strength of the London police is being used to control the suffragettes, a cordon is maintained about all of the public buildings, and in the big West End fashionable quarter enough men are stationed so that not a single block of the noted thoroughfares is left unguarded.

ALBANY, March 4.—Social people here who were concerned over the arrest of Miss Alice Morgan Wright in London for smashing windows in the suffragette demonstration. Her father, H. R. Miss Wright is a highly educated young woman of advanced ideas and was prominent in bringing Mrs. Pankhurst here to address a big suffragette meeting a year ago. She has spent recent years abroad and is a supporter of acknowledged ability.

The shock was felt and the noise was plainly heard in the West Side Court, in Fifty-fourth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues. The building shook as though from an earthquake tremor. A ceiling in the clubhouse of the Automobile Club of America, in Fifty-fourth street west of Broadway, was shaken a yard or so.

Street cars in Broadway, between Fifty-third street and Fifty-ninth street, were shaken by the force of the blow, and passengers on "L" with passing through Fifty-third street rushed to the windows as they felt the jar. Dwellers in the tenements along Fifty-third street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, flocked to the street and would not return to their homes until they had secured themselves of the nature of the disturbance.

ROOSEVELT HITS BACK AT STIMSON IN NEW CHALLENGE

Declares He is no More Being Forced Into Fight Now Than in 1910.

ROASTS THE MACHINE.

Dares the Supporters of Taft to Submit Nomination to Unbossed Primaries.

MINEOLA, L. I., March 4.—Col. Roosevelt appeared again today for jury duty, but a trial begun yesterday was still in progress and he was excused for the day.

"Oyster Bay for mine now," he said. "I hope I don't get caught in a blizzard getting here to-morrow."

While waiting for the court to determine whether he would be called to the jury box today, Col. Roosevelt read a report of the speech delivered last night in Chicago by Secretary Stimson. He was thoroughly angered by Secretary Stimson's statement that President Taft should be supported for the Republican nomination in preference to Col. Roosevelt. The Colonel prepared the following statement in reply to Mr. Stimson:

"In regard to Mr. Stimson's statement that against my original intention I am being forced by certain persons into the arena this year I need only say that the statement is incorrect only in the sense that it would be correct to make the same statement as to my advocacy of Mr. Stimson for Governor in 1910.

"In that contest, as in this, I was exceedingly reluctant to be drawn into the contest. In that contest, as in this, I acted only from a sense of duty to the people as a whole, and in that contest I was assailed with precisely the same arguments by the great majority of those who are now assailing me.

WHY HE FOUGHT NEW YORK MACHINE IN 1910.
"If I had considered only my personal interests and personal preference I should, of course, have kept out of the 1910 campaign, have let the machine remain in control at Saratoga and seen the State go Democratic by 300,000, as under those circumstances it certainly would have gone.

"I went in because I conscientiously felt that it was my duty to take my part in the fight for honest government for the people, without regard to the consequence to myself, and I am in this fight on precisely the same basis and for precisely the same reasons.

"As for the question concerning 'who are forcing me into the arena,' the answer is easy. Which side is making the demand for open primaries, and which side is stifling this demand wherever possible, refusing to accede to it save under compulsion and treating the uncompromising and uncompromising as those tried in the recent Kansas City Congressional Convention, and to those very machine leaders who have made a complete campaign as regards the President during the last four years?

"These leaders are managing the campaign against me, and if they were deliberately trying to wreck the Republican party they would follow precisely the same tactics they have been following, tactics which make it clear that they would rather see the Republican party defeated than see it restored to what it was under Lincoln, and see it become again the genuine party of the people, the party that stands for real popular rule, and the highest ideals of social and industrial justice, to be achieved through popular rule.

"We stand for direct Presidential primaries everywhere—in Massachusetts, in Illinois, in New York (for in New York the present primary law, passed by the machines of the two parties, is expressly designed to prevent either party from escaping the control of the professional politicians, and from falling under the control of the people).

"If our opponents wish the people to have their say, let them support real primary bills. If in open primaries without cunning fraud, without pressure brought by the use of patronage or by the promise or by the withholding of patronage, the plain people of the Republican party decide in this they do not wish me to be nominated, then most certainly I do not wish the nomination; if they declare that they do wish me, not in my interest, but in the interest of the people as a whole, then, as I have already said, I will accept, and will strive to serve the people with all of whatever powers I possess."

SAY ROOSEVELT WOULD WIN 4 TO 1 IN THE PRIMARIES.
Senator Dixon's challenge for a national Presidential primary was received here with enthusiasm by the local Roosevelt managers and humorously referred to by the Barnes-Koenig machine. It was explained at Roosevelt headquarters today by Benjamin F. Harris, President of the First National Bank of Champlain, Ill., the home of Chairman William B. McKinley, who is plotting the national campaign for President Taft.

Senator Dixon's object, said Mr. Harris, is to have the nomination of the Republican party decided by the people of the United States, and not by the machines of the two parties.

is, is to have the test made in Massachusetts, Ohio and Illinois. He believes the vote in those States would be four to one in favor of the Colonel. "We are not politicians," said Mr. Harris. "We are business men, and good Republicans, but we are tired of the machine that has stood by these men and the result has been disaster to the party. We have a hard fight in hand and we need a leader, not so much progressive as an active man who knows the pulse of the people.

"Billy McKinley, whom we all know, was only yesterday informed that a test vote taken on the same street on which he lives showed 87 for Roosevelt and 13 for Taft. Billy fears the submission of this question to the people. He is not likely to accept Senator Dixon's challenge, which of course has reference only to Ohio, Massachusetts and Illinois.

Chairman Duell of the Roosevelt committee deplored the fact that New York State is not in a position to press the Dixon challenge. He regards the present primary law as necessary. Mr. Bates, Assistant Manager Linden Bates Jr., who is in charge of the filing of the petitions for the primaries, announced that the law is being completed in all but two of the twenty Congressional districts. In most instances Mr. Bates said he had obtained two or three times as many signatures of Roosevelt supporters as he needed.

Mr. Bates has prepared himself for any attack made by the organization on these petitions by securing more than he needed.

NEW ORDER BY TAFT FOR MORE TROOPS TO GUARD MEXICAN BORDER.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Administration, it was learned today, is planning to send more troops to the Mexican border. Secretary of War Stimson, on his return from Chicago to-morrow, is expected to take up with President Taft the number of troops to be sent and their disposition along the international line.

STREET CAR TRANSFERS TO BE RESTORED SOON.

Wide the Tammany members are trying to get a bill providing for universal street car transfers in Manhattan and the Bronx through the Legislature the New York Railway Company, controlling the old Metropolitan lines, comes out today with an announcement that it is preparing a plan for the restoration of transfers. The announcement was made to the Public Service Commission this afternoon through J. L. Quackenbush, counsel for the company.

When the Metropolitan lines went into the hands of receivers transfers were abolished at 134 points. Mr. Quackenbush says the company will restore transfers at "several" of these points where there will be no possibility of manipulation on the part of passengers.

He added that the plans under way include a system of transfers to lines now owned by the New York Railway Company. The scheme will be made public in a week or ten days.

MRS. TAFT SITS WITH SOCIALIST AT MILL HEARING

Talks to Berger While Lawrence Police Make Defense Before Congress Board.

HEARS MANY DENIALS.

Declaration Made That No Children or Their Mothers Were Put in Cells.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Mrs. Taft, wife of the President of the United States, seated behind Representative Henry of Texas, Chairman of the Rules Committee of the House, and beside Victor Berger, the Socialist member of Congress, listened patiently for three hours today to testimony regarding the strike of mill workers at Lawrence, Mass. This was the second day on which Mrs. Taft had appeared at the hearing.

Attired in a dark blue street dress and brown plumed hat, Mrs. Taft entered the crowded room, accompanied by her niece, Miss Anderson. They walked around the crowd of spectators surrounding the witness chair and past the people lined against the wall. Reaching the long platform occupied by the committee, Mrs. Taft accepted a chair directly beside Representative Berger, who is pleading the cause of the strikers. Seated on the other side of Mrs. Taft was the postmaster of Lawrence, who is at the head of the citizens' committee. Mrs. Taft several times conversed with Mr. Berger.

ANNE MORGAN ALSO INTERESTED IN HEARING.
As the testimony progressed she appeared very much interested and defied the clear and cigarette smoke that filled the room.

It was learned today that another visitor at the hearing yesterday was Miss Anne Morgan of New York, daughter of J. P. Morgan. She stood in the crowd surrounding the witness room for some time and left unannounced.

C. F. Lynch, Commissioner of Public Safety of Lawrence, resumed the stand. He first told of leading personal financial assistance to some parents who were persuaded not to send their children from Lawrence.

"Did you order the police to jail the children?" I left that to the man who had police experience." Capt. John J. Sullivan, acting Chief Marshal of Lawrence, was called as the next witness and told details of the police operations during the strike.

"Did the city authorities and citizens make any effort to settle the strike?" asked Representative Hardwick. "Yes," said the city government commissioners met with the strike committee and tried to arrange a meeting with the mill-owners. The mill-owners refused to deal with the organization but would with their own men."

QUIZZED ON LAW BY WHICH HE HALTED CHILDREN.

The Commissioner said that he personally saw one riot about the mills. "I saw a crowd hurling rocks at the mills." "What section of the statute authorized you to order the police to prevent children leaving Lawrence?" asked Representative Stanley. "It was looked up at the time—the statute, I think, was—" that preventing children's departure without parents' consent." "Did you instruct the police to get written consent of their parents? What if the parent was present at the depot?" "Well, that would be different if we knew they were the parents."

"Did you read that law you say you have on the statute books of Massachusetts after which you acted in this matter?" "I did not."

"I notified the strike committee," said Sullivan, "and had it published that no children were going to get despite the police order." Just before the time of the trouble at the depot, he said, a system of picketing by women had been inaugurated by the strikers, the women being chiefly Poles, Russians, and these pickets would not obey the police.

"They felt that they were martyrs, heroes and wanted to go to jail," said the captain. "When the women were fined for assaults they appealed their cases. These women were in jail on the day of the trouble at the station and their children were brought to them in the jail. Those were the children described here as being locked up. Their fathers had brought them there and left them. The women and children brought to the station after the trouble at the depot never saw a cell. They never were put in cells."

KNOWS MAN WHO SHOT TWO IN RIOTS.
Capt. Sullivan told of the various riots and told that the police were patient with the strikers, and used as little force as possible. Describing the killing of Officer Benoit and a woman Sullivan said:

"I want to say that the man who killed the woman was the man who wounded Officer Benoit. We know that man and we will get him. It has been established here that Officer Benoit killed the woman and she carried a .25-caliber revolver and was wounded with a .38-caliber revolver."

"Who was the man you have in mind?" "I shouldn't tell you that; it would defeat the ends of justice."

"Was he a striker?" "We think he was, and the woman killed was also a striker. I think that shooting started as pure devilment to raise trouble, and that there was no intention to kill anybody. The police did not shoot."

Capt. Sullivan also told of another officer who was stabbed during the same outbreak. Another method of the strikers to arouse trouble, he said, was the concerted plan of the strikers in knocking through the stores, pausing in and out without buying anything.

EXPECT RATIFICATION OF ARBITRATION TREATIES.
Vote in the Senate on British and French Peace Pacts Looked For To-Night.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—By night-fall the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France may be ratified by the Senate, which continued consideration to-day in the "legislative day" of March 5. Those Senators who have been carefully examining the situation almost ever since the treaties were submitted to the Senate early last August asserted they expected to muster the necessary two-thirds vote for ratifying the treaties unamended. They conceded, however, the danger point in Clause 3 of Article 2, relating to the delegation of power to the Joint High Commission to determine what questions are arbitrable after the treaty signatories disagree.

With that clause maintained the main fight would be on the Lodge resolution of ratification, which would interpret the treaties so as to safeguard the Senate's full treaty-making prerogative. Senator Root, who has a substitute for the Lodge resolution, designed to bar from arbitration the Monroe Doctrine and like questions, has been watching the developments closely and making notes as the debate progresses.

Senators Bacon, Shively and Hoke Smith were among the set speakers today and both advocates and opponents were prepared for the final voting late this afternoon, though conceding the possibility of a night session or more delay in the event of unforeseen latitude in debate.
