

GEE, BUT SHE'S MAD AT MR. GAYNOR, AND SHE'S AN ATHLETE!

Miss Schnall, Who Would Go to Sweden, on Mayor's Trail, With Fire in Her Eyes.

SAYS SHE'S CHAMPION.

But He Only Told Her to Tell Her Troubles to the King, Not Him, She Says.

Miss Ida Schnall, an athletic young Bronx woman, who boasts of being the "champion female athlete of America," is immediately agitated because Mayor Gaynor answered her complaint that she was not picked to accompany the American athletes to Stockholm by advising her to tell her troubles to the King of Sweden.

Miss Schnall did not exactly threaten to take the matter up with the Mayor on sight, but she insisted to-day that what he said was undignified enough to hurt her acutely developed athletic feelings immensely. The Mayor, she asserts, missed the point of her letter—that she wished to compete against the women of Sweden, not against Sweden's athletic men. Miss Schnall's letter follows:

Dear Sir: The writer wishes to draw your attention to what she considers an injustice to the women who are athletically inclined. There are a great many women—not only in New York City, but all over the country—who are anxious to meet their sisters of other nations on the athletic field. If all the nations of Europe have fallen in line and allowed their women to compete in these games, why does not our land follow in their footsteps and allow us to do likewise? I am sure, if given an opportunity to do so, the girls of this State—and elsewhere—would give a good account of themselves.

"Two years ago, at Celtic Park, I was fortunate enough to gain the title of "Champion Female Athlete of America," and on this account am keenly interested in the movement to allow the female element to compete during the future games to be held at Stockholm, Sweden. "May I count on your help in bringing this subject to the attention of J. E. Sullivan, secretary of the committee in charge of the American athletes who are to compete in these games? I am sure a word from you to that gentleman will at least get for us a hearing on the subject and may be the means of resulting in a victory for the cause."

"Without delay and in full, the Mayor replied: "Dear Miss Schnall: Yes, indeed, it is a great injustice. Here you are, the champion female athlete of America, and yet they won't allow you to compete in the Olympic games in Sweden on the 29th of June. If I were you, I would write to the King of Sweden, protesting loudly, and I do not care how strident your voice may sound in his ears. He deserves it all. If he were under my jurisdiction I would make him come to his senses very quickly and allow you to compete with the men. Lots of women, nowadays, think they can do everything that a man can do, although there may be some doubt about it. I am sending you a letter to Mr. Sullivan. If he does not put you in the American team, and let the King of Sweden put you out, if he wants to, I am very sorry, but I am sure Mr. Sullivan would like to go to Sweden myself and see you do them all up—smite their hip and thigh. "Very truly yours,

"W. J. Gaynor, Mayor." Mr. Sullivan has some fun from Mr. Schnall's ambition. She is chafing under the delay, and wants the Olympic Committee in New York that she has been to provide a place for her in the delegation she will dive off an East River pier and swim to Coney Island again. Just to show "em the women athletes are a better all the better diva and swimmer" and should be picked for Olympic contests.

CHAMPION WOMAN ATHLETE WHO WANTS TO GO TO SWEDEN

THAW'S MOTHER 70 TO-DAY; SPENDS BIRTHDAY WITH HIM.

Aged Woman in Consultation With Her Son in White Plains Jail.

(Special to The Evening World.) MOUNT VERNON, June 12.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw celebrated her seventieth birthday to-day in Westchester County jail, at White Plains, where her son, Harry K. Thaw, is confined pending the latest judicial hearing into his mental condition. Mrs. Thaw has never lost faith in her son, who, although he killed Stanford White, she believes will eventually be released. Mrs. Thaw has been in almost constant consultation with attorneys since the time her son was first arrested, and she has worked tirelessly in the preparation for his various trials. During the trial before Justice Mills, in 1909, Mrs. Thaw wrote and published a book called "The Secret Unveiled," supposed to contain some of the inside facts in what has been alleged to be the persecution of Thaw. The book was a disappointment.

A Cold Reception. (From The Sun Post-Dispatch.) Rev. Dudgeon—Jerry Murphy, I am glad to see you in this place. Why do you not—like the prodigal son of old—return to your father's house? Jerry—Well, so I did. Rev. Dudgeon—And did he not call the fattest calf? Jerry—I dunno 'bout the calf. He pretty blamed near killed the prodigal.

STATEN ISLAND NOTES.

A dance to be given by the Midland Athletic Club at the Casino Park on Saturday evening promises to be an exceptional affair. "Children's Day" will be observed at the Kingsley M. E. Church of Stapleton on Sunday. Miss Margaret Bliss of New Brighton is visiting friends in Riverhead, L. I. The second series of dances under the auspices of the Staten Island Boat Club will be given at the clubhouse in West Brighton on June 22. More than one thousand children attended the annual lawn festival in aid of St. Vincent's Hospital, which was held on the hospita grounds at Livingston yesterday afternoon. Dr. Edward F. Hurd of the Bronx has been appointed assistant registrar of records of the Department of Health of the Borough of Richmond. An enjoyable affair was a dance given by the young people of St. John's Episcopal Church of Clifton last evening at the new parish hall of the church. Arrangements are being made for the annual outing of the William M. Ferris Association of Stapleton, which will be held at Connelly's Grove in Concord on June 22. Miss Mabel Hillman of Rosebank has returned from Elderon, where she was equipped with friends. Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Violet Leman of West Brighton to Carl Herstein. The wedding will take place in the near future.

Miss Helen Wedded Vesta Victoria. LONDON, June 12.—Vesta Victoria and Herbert Terry, her manager, returned here yesterday. Mr. Terry dispensed of the report that he had married the music hall star by saying: "It is a conundrum. I am already married to another lady."

NABBED AS A BURGLAR IN MUCH ROBBED STORE.

Police Find Loot From Former Visits to Daviga's in Room of Their Prisoner.

A telephone message to the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station early to-day said a man was sawing the iron bars to a rear window of Isaac Daviga's sporting goods establishment at No. 125 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. A squad of men under Detectives Hyams and Hughes found in the store a young man describing himself as Ralph Wallace, twenty-six years old, a clerk, living at No. 252 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street. He had come through a vacant house in West One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, and reached the window through which he cut his way with a saw and chisel. The police say they found on him about two dozen fountain pens and a sweater. In his room, at No. 252 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, searched later, they say they recovered about $800 worth of camera lenses stolen from Daviga on May 1. Daviga's place has been entered by thieves seven times in three years, no one has been caught. The police intend to save him from their deprecations. The police think he may get a rest for a while now. When arraigned in the Harlem Police Court the man said he was Ralph Wallace, twenty-six years old, a clerk. He was held for trial.

The Treatment of Tuberculosis

In its beginning Tuberculosis is a de-viling and hidden disease, and the failure to cure has been due to the inability to discover the real ailment until the disease becomes too far advanced. A successful treatment depends entirely upon the disease being discovered and properly treated while it is yet in its curable stage. Dr. Anderson's remarkable success in the cure of Tuberculosis is the direct result of his ability to ascertain, by means of his Anderson X-Ray examinations, the exact condition within the lungs or chest, before the tubercular germs are present and before the breaking-down stage occurs. His treatment is a complete course of treatment, with proper advice, directed and suited to the condition and symptoms of each patient. It is NOT a secret remedy, claimed to cure every case on any stage. The worst cases of Tuberculosis pass through a curable stage. A delayed or incorrect diagnosis allows the disease to progress beyond the curable stage. Consult Dr. Anderson, the leading expert Lung Specialist in New York. Examination and examination are given at the office without charge. Learn the true condition of your lungs and investigate his methods, while there is yet time to be cured. References of cured cases at the office. Dr. Anderson, 80 West 23d St. (between 8th and 9th ave.), New York. Hours, 10 to 4 (Sunday, 11 to 3); Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings till 8 o'clock. New illustrated book on Tuberculosis sent to any address upon request.

GIMBELS June Sale of Beautiful Handkerchiefs, from Belfast Over 38,000 of them started the Sale this morning, all pure linen in every thread, freshly laundered, and in a variety of the styles best liked by men and women. We went directly to one of the most considerable makers in Belfast to get these, and secured remarkably large price-concessions on the purchase. We unpacked the Handkerchiefs scarcely more than forty-eight hours ago. There are plain hemstitched and handsomely embroidered Initial Handkerchiefs for Men, and initial, exquisitely hand-embroidered and lace trimmed Handkerchiefs for Women. There is a charming group of Madeira-embroidered Handkerchiefs; also some effectively embroidered mourning designs. You probably need more Handkerchiefs yourself, or have some friend who will be delighted with the gift of a dozen. The Men's Handkerchiefs are 12 1/2c each, usually 20c to 50c; and $2 dozen, usually $3. The Women's Handkerchiefs are 12 1/2c, 15c and 25c each, usually 15c to 50c. Main Floor

These Men's Soft Shirts at $1 Are Too Good for Their Price Men who are in the habit of paying $1.50 or more for Shirts are apt to look askance at Shirts usually offered at $1. We hope that such men will take our word for it that this particularly fine lot of soft Shirts has all the attributes of the $1.50 kind, except the price. That is, take it to the extent of coming to see the Shirts—after that we will let the Shirts submit their own brief. The fabrics are very handsome mercerized cottons—either in plain colors, or in well-bred stripes on white grounds, or self-colored grounds of a lighter tint. Soft cuffs, of course—in fact stylish and well-made Shirts in every detail. We only achieved this saving of a third by taking 3,000 of the Shirts—newly made-up for us—from the maker. And it's Soft Shirt time! Main Floor

A Remarkable Sale of Men's Athletic Underwear 65c to $1.50 Shirts and Drawers at 50c Each 85c to $1.50 Union Suits at 75c Each These values are very conservative. Most stores would sell the cheapest garment in the lot at 75c; and there are quite a number that are better than $1.50 quality; though these will be quickly claimed by men who come early. The entire sample line, and some surplus lots from a maker of fine goods; whose trade-mark appears on every garment. All are in the favorite athletic style—sleeveless and knee length, which makes the most comfortable Summer Underwear, in the opinion of nine men out of ten. Materials are plain and satin-striped nainsook, striped and crossbar madras—some as sheer and fine as a bee's wing. 4,740 Garments in the lot; in a good assortment of sample sizes. Tomorrow at 50c and 75c each. Such an offering as this is not likely to appear again this season. Main Floor
