

TWAS A FISH DUEL AND THE SWORDFISH PINKED THE SHARK

But the Shark Was Sassy—He Just Stole the Sword and Bit Back.

A tale of battle between a swordfish and a shark was brought into port today by Capt. P. H. Wadsworth...

As the liner slowly steamed past the troubled patch of water, however, the swordfish was seen to be attacking the shark...

Not was this all he saw of the tragedy. The swordfish's blade was not equal to supporting the weight of the shark...

Change and Childishness of Value to Every One Who Goes on a Vacation

Play Like a Kid, Swim, Fish, Row and Tramp, Advises Dr. Louis R. Welzmler, Physical Director, and Get Away From Home and Business Life.

Marguerite Mooers Marshall. What sort of vacation are you going to take?

"Thousands of hard-working men and women in New York are asking themselves that question just now. The sea or the mountains or the country or just a quiet little lay-off at home?"

"One year I had planned for my vacation a little sea trip," he says. "But when I was free to go I was too blessed tired to go home and pack my bag and go down and get aboard the vessel."

"That's what we want in vacation time," he adds, "a change, a total change. We want to get away from the routine of our home life just as of our working life."

"When I say 'vacant around,' I don't mean around the country like a madman. What he wants to do is to give his mind a chance to cavort, which it will naturally, instinctively, joyously, if he will only give it a rest and complete change."

"Let your vacation enjoyments consist of the things your ten-year-old son likes to do. If you are what you liked when you were his age, so much the better. There aren't any real improvements on the old sports of fishing, swimming, rowing and tramping."

"No vacation is what it should be if it does not include the two Cs," said Dr. Welzmler. "One of these is Change. The other, which is at least as important, is Childishness."

BE A BOY AGAIN AND CUT UP CAPERS.

"Why is it that a mother keeps young so much longer than an old maid? It's because she plays with her children and doesn't devote herself to being dignified all the time. A man should live on exactly the same principle, and if he hasn't any sons of his own to play with he'd better find some other small boys."

CHILDREN HATE CASTOR OIL, UGH!

DECLARES HER HUSBAND MADE HER EAT LOSE.

Mrs. Bertha Morrill Sues Henry Morrill for Separation, Alleging Cruel Treatment.

Mrs. Bertha R. Morrill filed a suit in the Supreme Court this afternoon for a separation from her husband, Henry Morrill, head of the export department of the Haywood Brothers & Wakefield Co., at No. 516 West Thirty-fourth street.

Mrs. Morrill declared that Morrill had treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner since a short time after their marriage in this city Jan. 6, 1910. She said, further, that Morrill compelled her to live with his mother, who, insolent, she declared, he has refused to contribute one penny toward her support, although he receives a salary of $10,000 a year and has an interest of $20,000 in the stock of his father, Anos Morrill Isaac W. Goodwin of No. 11 Wall street is Mrs. Morrill's lawyer.
