Victims Taken From Ruins of Regina in Canada—Hundreds Left Homeless.

REGINA, Sask., July 1.—Thirty-six bodies had been recovered up to noon today in the ruins caused by the tornado which wrecked the town last evening.

The militia has been recalled from summer encampment, and is in charge of the city. Relief work has been started by the government.

The following is the list of dead so far recovered and identified: J. J. Brian, manager of the Thorpe & Anderson Co., J. Scott George Craven, Mrs. Guthrie, Mrs. Logie and child, Mrs. J. L. McKay and two children, Mrs. Fred Hinison, James Hindson, Rev. Lewis House, Mrs. W. T. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Blenham, Mrs. Wm. Penzance, Mr. McKenry, Lois Bates, E. Blonkhorst, Frank Garston, Carl Keister, J. R. Hudson, James Dunn, Mrs. James Dunn, Vera Saunders.

The storm, which came suddenly, lasted only a short time. In fact, it was over so quickly that the people hardly had time to realize what had taken place.

Early last evening Mayor McAra, the civic authorities and a number of prominent citizens formed a relief organization. Temporary hospitals were opened, one in Immigration Hall and one in a city block, each being supplied with doctors and nurses who volunteered their services.

Premier Scott early conferred with Mayor McAra and stated that the provincial government would pace $20,000 at the disposal of the city authorities this morning and that more would be forthcoming if necessary.

The storm was central about Regina but was general over a large part of the great wheat province. Qu'Appelle, forty miles east of Regina and Melville, further north, also suffered severely. The number of casualties and the property damage undoubtedly will grow when reports from farms and small settlements are received.

A man of unachieved merit. (From the Boston Transcript.) Site—Mr. Dubb is always telling what he is going to do. He—Well, if he didn't he'd have nothing to tell.

AUTO TRUCK—ON A RAMPAGE. Big Vehicle Crashes Into Store Window After Collision.

A seventeen-foot auto truck, said by its owner, Karpen Brothers, furniture manufacturers of No. 156 West Thirty-fourth street, to be the biggest motor-driven vehicle in the world, wrecked the front of a drug store at No. 33 and 34th avenue this afternoon after colliding with another auto truck near the corner of Twenty-second street.

The two trucks caromed against each other and the driver of the furniture truck was thrown to the street. With no one at the steering wheel the big truck jumped over the curb and then slammed headlong into the drug store, smashing three big plate glass windows, until the driver scrambled up to the seat and turned off the power.

Stille of the German army soon after the start.

An Editorial from the Detroit Times June 12, 1912

If The Price of Coffee Would Double Again All The Better!

The price of coffee has doubled in three or four years. And this, despite production has doubled in that time. The reason for the present high price of coffee was sought and it has been found that the market supply has been artificially restricted.

The Brazilian government is in the operation and participates in the profits to the extent of an export duty of three cents a pound. And American bankers are financing the scheme.

Diabolical plot? Outrageous conspiracy? Perhaps!

But we did not take our pen in hand to condemn anybody concerned except COFFEE DRINKERS—to condemn them and, also, to congratulate them, both upon the present increased price and the probability that it will go higher.

It isn't exactly inspiring to see American capital finding its way to a foreign country to be used there to the end of exploiting American family pocketbooks. However, this is not the saddest fact involved, to our way of thinking.

It is most regrettable that the consumption of coffee in this country has increased to a point to warrant manipulation of the supply.

We don't like to look upon coffee as becoming a NECESSITY to the American people, and view with alarm the activities of capital suggesting that it is becoming a necessity.

Coffee isn't good for you. Too much of it is positively harmful. If the present price, doubled in four years, would double again, it would be the best thing that ever happened to the excessive coffee drinker.

He wouldn't drink as much of it. Better yet, maybe he wouldn't drink it at all.

Just possibly you have us put down as being a bit nervous in this coming in and sitting down beside you before the coffee pot and telling you to keep hands off. Nevertheless, we mean well.

We are talking for your good. You like coffee, probably, and perhaps you think it is none of our business if you drink it or if you drink all you want of it. Babies want those pink pills that look like candy and cry if we don't let them have them.

The same pink pills, left around by careless mothers, have killed many babies. Any many grown people know as little as babies about the care of their bodies.

There are intemperate coffee drinkers the same as there are intemperate drinkers of alcoholic beverages. One cup of coffee isn't going to prove fatal, nor two cups of coffee.

Two cups may upset your entire system, make you uneasy, restless and peevish and unfit you for best results for a day, but it will wear off after awhile the same as a whiskey drunk wears off.

But bring us to a person who drinks two and three cups of coffee regularly for breakfast, or a person who drinks coffee three times a day, and we will show you a person with a bad-acting heart, a sluggish liver, a disordered stomach and a shattered nervous system.

If you don't believe us, ask your doctor. He will tell you that coffee contains caffeine, which he gives in the smallest kind of doses for a heart stimulant.

He will tell you further that too much caffeine or too much coffee will give you a palpitating heart. Then if you are satisfied to run the risk of having that kind of a heart, keep right on drinking all the coffee you want, and excuse us for interfering. (Detroit Times, June 12, 1912)

Nowadays many former coffee drinkers are using

Instant Postum

This new food drink Contains No Caffeine—Costs Less Than Coffee—Requires No Boiling—and Tastes Better Than Most Coffee

Stir a spoonful of Instant Postum in a cup of hot water, add cream and sugar to taste, and you at once have a delicious drink that's wholesome, pure, and good for old and young.

A 100-cup tin of Instant Postum (no boiling) costs 50¢ at grocers, 1-2 ct. per cup. Smaller tins at 30 cts.

Standard Postum, large pkg. (the kind which must be boiled 15 min.) 25 cts.

Both produce the same result; one by boiling and the other instantly.

Coffee averages about double that cost. Housewives appreciate Instant Postum because it saves time, work and fuss in the preparation of a meal, and for its intrinsic merit.

Ask your grocer about it. If he doesn't carry a supply, send us your address with a 2-cent stamp and your grocer's name and we will send you a free sample of this newest food drink.
