

CARROLL, DYING, DOUBLED LEGACY TO RECONCILED WIFE

Millionaire Horseman's Will Gives Residence to "Bet-terment of Mankind."

PRIESTS AS TRUSTEES.

Two Clerical Nephews Un-hampered in Disposal of Funds on Daughter's Death.

The will of Joseph D. Carroll, the millionaire head of the horse dealing firm of Fies, Doerr & Carroll, died in the Surrogate's Court to-day, shows that after his deathbed reconciliation with his wife he added a codicil to his will which doubled a trust fund created for her benefit. On Nov. 4, 1912, Carroll created a special trust fund of $50,000 for Mrs. Martha L. Carroll's benefit, but imposed the restriction that she should enjoy the income from this and the other fund of $50,000 created several years ago only as long as she should remain his widow.

The will gives $25,000 each to the Rev. Father Michael Doran of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and to Rev. Edward Deenan of No. 29 City Hall Place, Manhattan, the money to be used for saying masses for the repose of the testator's soul. The priests are nephews of the testator.

ORDERS WITHDRAWAL OR DIS-SOLUTION OF FIRM.

In taking up the disposition of his property, Mr. Carroll provided that his executors and trustees change the methods under which the business of the Fies, Doerr and Carroll Company was now operated. He directs his executors to invest the money of his estate in first mortgages upon Manhattan real estate, such mortgages covering more than 60 per cent. of the value of the mortgaged property. He says:

"They may, however, retain all or any part of my property as they find it, except that it is my express wish and desire that my stock in Fies, Doerr and Carroll Company shall be sold, or the business liquidated within three months after my demise."

"In carrying on the said business of Fies, Doerr & Carroll, it has been the custom to extend to customers large credits, taking back chattel mortgages on horses, wagons, etc. Upon my death it is my desire, and I accordingly direct my executors and trustees to see to it that the character of the business be changed in this respect and that no sales of horses, wagons, etc., shall be made, except for cash."

In addition to creating a trust fund of $50,000 the income to be used for the maintenance and education of his daughter Lorena Carroll, now under fourteen years old, until she becomes twenty-one years old, the testator provided for eight other trust funds aggregating $300,000 which shall revert to his daughter in case of the death of the beneficiaries. The residuary estate is also directed to be held in trust for the young girl.

The daughter is to receive the income of her life estate after she becomes twenty-one years old until her death, after which the various funds are to be divided equally among the two priests.

RESIDUE TO BE DISPOSED AS PRIESTS MAY CHOOSE.

"I attach no conditions as to the disposition to be made of these funds by them," declared the testator, referring to the two Fathers Doran. "Knowing their high Christian character and their benevolent inclinations, I know they will devote such moneys to the betterment of mankind. It is my request, however, that they especially observe the needs of any of my kinsmen, and if any are deserving and needy, that they give them such help as in their judgment is necessary, but I declare no trust for their benefit."

The will created the following trust funds, with income payable during the life of the beneficiaries:

- $20,000 for the testator's niece, Emma Carroll, of No. 116 West One Hundred and Third street.
- $50,000 for the testator's brother, K. F. Carroll, of No. 26 Brulins avenue, Flushing.
- $30,000 for his niece, Verna Doran, of No. 2657 Bainbridge avenue.
- $50,000 for my faithful friend and

JOHN T. BRUSH BURIED; BASEBALL NOTABLES ATTEND THE FUNERAL

Many View Body of Magnate, Then Fill Church at Services in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 29.—Many baseball and business associates to-day attended the funeral of John T. Brush, President of the New York National League Baseball Club, who died early Tuesday in his private car near Louisiana, Mo., while en route West for his health. The services were held at 2 P. M. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and the burial was at Crown Hill Cemetery here. Friends called at the home of Mrs. Harry N. Hempstead, the daughter of Mr. Brush, to view the body before it was taken to the church. John J. McGraw, manager of the New York National League Club, was one of the honorary pallbearers. Among the baseball men attending the funeral were President T. J. Lynch, National League; President B. B. Johnson, American League; President Ed. Barrow, International League; Charles Comiskey, Chicago Nationals; August Herrmann, Cincinnati; Charles Ebbetts, Brooklyn, and Secretary John Heydler, National League.

Man Killed by Train Kills Another Man.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 29.—An express train on the Pennsylvania at Plainsboro to-day struck Michael Corrons with terrific force. His body crashed into Tom Vonzavensco, crumpling in the side of the latter and killing him instantly. The men were section hands.

associate, Isidore Mehrbach, of No. 37 Hamilton place.

$50,000 for the testator's friend and associate, Peter Peterson, of No. 292 East One Hundred and Second street.

$50,000 for his associate and friend, James E. Connelly, of the Drexel Arms Hotel, Chicago.

$50,000 for his friend and associate, William McKinley, of the Hotel Baltimore, Kansas City, Mo.

The executors of the will and the trustees of the funds are the Rev. Fathers Doran, Frank Kramer, Louis C. DuVall, Arthur J. Baldwin. The will excludes the clergymen from receiving pay for their administration of the estate, but gives the remaining executors 2 per cent. of all moneys received and paid out by them, "for the reason that they are among my closest friends" and because "I hold them in high regard and I desire them to give to my estate their best attention."

A BOOM FOR SILBERSTEIN.

Sixth District Men Want Railroad Commission for Him.

Although Gov.-elect Sulzer has given no intimation of his coming appointments and will not do so until Jan. 1, Sixth District politicians are confidently booming Emanuel I. Silberstein, a lawyer, for a railroad commissioner. The district is the home of Samuel S. Koenig, Republican leader, whose defeat in the recent election by Mr. Silberstein and David Lazarus, Post Warden, marks the first Democratic victory in Koenig's district in six years. Mr. Silberstein was appointed Deputy Attorney-General in October and prosecuted election frauds in the district, causing a score of arrests. Years ago, when William Sulzer spoke from the back of wagons on the east side, Silberstein, scarcely out of short trousers, made speeches in his street and was called the "Boy Orator of the East Side." He has the support of Sulzer's old backers and the recommendation of high officials, including Judge Warren W. Foster, senior member of the Court of General Sessions, of whom he is a prosecutor and with whom he was associated for seven years. The Democratic organization of the Sixth District, of which Silberstein is chairman, has arranged a formal request for Silberstein's appointment to the position of Railroad Commissioner.

BURGLARS USED AUTO.

Carried $10,000 in Silver From West Orange Home.

The palatial villa of Leonard P. Lowe, President of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, on Orange Mountain, West Orange, was entered by burglars early to-day and robbed of $10,000 worth of silverware. There was a big Thanksgiving party at the Lowe home last night and it was after midnight when the guests departed. When the butler went into the dining room this morning he found it stripped of every article of value. The burglars had come in through a window and carried out their loot on great silver trays. There were the footmarks of three men on the snow outside the dining room windows. There were also evidences that the thieves had come up through the private roadway leading to the villa from Pleasant avenue, West Orange, in an automobile. Not a sound of the instrument was heard by any of the occupants of the house. Many of the pieces of silverware stolen were old family heirlooms.

Select your Christmas piano or player NOW. Upon the payment of 5 dollars, the instrument you select will be held for delivery, if you wish, until Christmas week. In the meantime, you may make your weekly payments or wait until the piano is delivered—as you prefer.

Time's up—Monday the sale ends

Take Notice
To-night, to-morrow (Saturday) evening, and Monday evening, Dec. 24, our Piano and Victrola departments are remaining open until 9.30 o'clock. This is done for the convenience and at the request of many who find it difficult to come in during the day. Come to the 6th Avenue and 22nd Street entrance ONLY; take elevators to the 5th floor.

Time's up—Monday the sale ends

Any order for a piano or player-piano, accompanied by the initial payment of Five dollars, and placed before the close of business Monday night, will be filled and delivered immediately upon its arrival. Your money back if you are not satisfied.

THE SALE is not closing without everyone having a fair opportunity to take advantage of it. If we had restricted the sale strictly to the number originally arranged for—the sale would now be a matter of history. We decided upon a definite closing day, which is Monday—9.30 o'clock in the evening.

Thus any order received for one of the pianos or one of the player-pianos up to Monday at the close of business will be filled. These orders will be numbered as they are received and filled and delivered in the order received. Those who can call may select the style they wish from the instruments on our floors, which are sold but not delivered. Those who cannot visit our warerooms can order easily and intelligently from our Book of Photographs, which we will gladly mail, if request is made immediately.

The initial payment of Five dollars must accompany all orders whether left at the store or sent in by mail. All orders will be accepted and filled subject to all conditions of sale—even to the delivery of the instrument into your home upon the first payment of Five dollars and giving you your money back at the end of a 30 days' trial if you wish it. Also all orders will be held subject to delivery at a time convenient to you—even up to Christmas or New Year.

SALES MAY come and sales may go—but we know POSITIVELY that no piano sale has ever been the success of this. Pianos are things you do not buy every day. You buy one in your lifetime; maybe two. Pianos represent a considerable investment. We can furnish a whole house for you very comfortably for the price of a single piano. So, when we tell you that there were days during this sale when we could not wait on our customers, you can then appreciate the stupendous "go" to this sale. It was the plan that did it. It was co-operation; we co-operating with the manufacturers direct; the customer co-operating in turn with us. The prices were low; extremely low. The terms were easy. Any one could meet them. And the guarantee (which we called our Bond of Confidence), and the half dozen or more unusual conditions of sale made altogether the most liberal proposition upon which any goods were ever sold. And the public saw this—and simply "flocked" in to take advantage of it. The sale is closing two weeks earlier than we expected—and even then we have been obliged to provide for more instruments than it was our original intention to sell.

The value of the piano is $350. The Co-operation price is $218.75. The value of the player-piano is $550. The Co-operation price is $395.

Either the piano or player-piano will be delivered upon receipt of the initial payment of $5. If you order a piano, your payments will be $1.25 a week no more. If you order a player-piano your payments will be $2 a week—no more.
