

MURDERED MAN DIES SCREENING NAME OF SLAYER

Soldier Shine, Mysteriously Shot, Supposed Victim of Woman's Jealousy.

Barfield Shine, a private of the One Hundred and Twenty-third Artillery, who was shot early on New Year's Day, died today in the Eastern District Hospital, Williamsburg.

Private Shine was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pettie, No. 21 Rush street, New Year's eve. About 2 o'clock on New Year's morning, when the revelry was at its height, came a ring at the bell, and a young man announced that he wished to see Shine.

He told the soldier that a friend wanted to see him immediately. Shine left, assuring his hosts that he would soon return to the party.

An hour later two men brought the soldier back to the house. He had a bullet in his body, just below the heart. The men said that they had found Shine, who was shot in the sidewalk, and asked them to take him back to the house. He was removed to the Eastern District Hospital.

Rev. Father Flannery of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church was called to the bedside Wednesday night and administered the last rites of the church. Detective Ruff and Combs were assigned to investigate the shooting. They could get nothing from the witness which would throw light on the case. He was comatose all the time, and a negative test of the head.

The detectives called the aid of Father Flannery. When death was only a matter of moments away today, the detective and the doctor were at the bedside. Father Flannery asked the dying man if he wouldn't aid the police by giving them the name of his murderer, but Shine only shook his head. A doctor who later was dead.

GIMBELS WIN IN FIGHT AGAINST LOAN SHARKS.

Court Establishes Right of Employers to Resist Claims Against Employees.

By a decision of the Court of Appeals handed down Dec. 31 Gimbel Brothers have established the right of employers to resist the claims of loan sharks against their employees. Under the personal direction of Jacob Gimbel the firm has been fighting loan sharks in the courts ever since the New York store of the firm was started. Under the Pennsylvania laws the firm had been successful in affording complete protection to the workers in its Philadelphia store.

But as soon as an office was opened in New York and long before the store began to do business here, a Philadelphia shark jumped seven claims against employees of the Philadelphia store and began suing Gimbel Brothers for the amount under the New York laws. There was a precedent in the case of a series of suits against the Interborough Street Railway Company, which the sharks had won.

Through the attorneys for the department store owners, Gallert and Hebborn, the matter was taken up to the Court of Appeals on cases amounting to $270,000. The final decision is that the laws of this State will not force the payment of loans either directly or assigned on which interest of from 100 to 200 per cent. has been charged.

SUICIDE OF C. A. BRADY A MYSTERY TO FRIENDS.

Young Lawyer Had Just Returned From House Party With Yale Classmates.

Young, well-to-do, with an excellent standing at the Bar, there was no reason that his friends and relatives know for the suicide of Charles Arnold Brady. His body was found in a ward-fifty-seventh street last evening. He had hanged himself with a trunk strap. Mr. Brady, who was thirty years old, came from Norwich, Conn. He had been spending the holidays there with his mother and with several friends who graduated from Yale with him in 1902. They noticed that he seemed moody and preoccupied. He complained of not feeling well.

James T. Brady, a cousin with whom he was associated in his law practice at No. 230 Broadway, went through the young lawyer's effects to-day without finding any clue to the cause of his suicide. There was a list of small debts amounting altogether to about $100, with the direction that they be paid out of his bank account. Mr.

June: 100—January: 130

We are Repeating our Demonstration of six months ago, which has increased our business in our more expensive clothes 30 per cent. since June without further advertising them. Now we PYRAMID our Success

Many More Thousands of Men Who Wear Expensive Clothes Will Learn HOW to Be Wiser in the Investment of their Clothes Money at This, the Second

DEMONSTRATION of Our Higher Priced Clothes

TODAY we have 100 customers in higher priced clothes for every 100 we had last June. This, our second Demonstration, is identical in every way—the Cutting of Prices on all our finest clothes down to almost the "free sample" charge. The attempt by this means of introduction to reach HALF WAY the man who clothes himself expensively—in ready-made garments or those custom-tailored. And to ease the cost of 6 months' newspaper advertising (necessary otherwise) to offset our continued advertising to reach the moderate-priced-clothes buyers who make up the greater field. This second Demonstration, like the first, will lose for us thousands of dollars on present sales. And, on the other hand, will save us many times the amount of losses by removing the need for newspaper publicity on our highest class clothes. Also it should increase our business in these our finest garments another 30 per cent. before summer. Here, in brief, is the idea.

AN ADVERTISING PLAN To demonstrate their beauty, their quality, their perfection, we are marking ALL the highest class Smith Gray & Co. Sack Suits, in our four stores, which are priced at $30, $32.50, $35, $37.50, $40 & $45 DOWN TO $22.50. The resulting loss on every sale to be charged to advertising. Absolutely no sack suits have been reserved—and none have been removed from our stores. Naturally our heavy losses on sales will permit us to continue this demonstration beyond a limited period, and immediately after the closing day every garment left unsold will be marked up to its original price.

Only ONE Suit Will Be Sold to a Customer For this is Strictly a DEMONSTRATION for Advertising Purposes Alone—Not a Sale

We are reaching out for men of discrimination who are accustomed to $40.00 and $45.00 suits. We give them an opportunity to learn of ours at a cost of $22.50. The custom-tailored man who pays prices beyond all reason to his tailor will find he is some $20.00 ahead of the game; that he has saved valuable time and gained some valuable knowledge, etc.
