

WE ATE THE EVIDENCE IN COCAINE ROUND-UP AND WAS GAY IN COURT

That Was Why "Nick" Strade Went Free; Also Why He Offered Judge a Million.

The detectives from the West Third ninth street station, testified solemnly to-day in the West Side Court that Nicholas Strade ate the evidence in the case against him, and his own actions were his hands and proclaimed himself a swindler that only needed an ocean steamer to be happy, reminded Magistrate Corrigan that any time he wanted a million Nicholas Strade was ready to come to. In other ways he also gave the impression that an abnormally large army of little cocaine joy germs were romping within him.

"Whatever my old friend Masteron says is right," said Nicholas, nodding approval at the detective on the stand.
"He pinched me four years ago and I must say, he did a good job."
"It was this way, Judge," Masteron went on, frowning at the interruption.
"Doc Bessel—that is, Dr. Walter Bessel of the Department of Health—came to the station-house last night and took all six of us out with him to round up the Eighth avenue coke sellers."
"We picked up 'Winky May' Clark—the white stuff gets in her eyes, you know—at Thirty-ninth street, she wasn't settling, but she had a coke outfit in her handbag. We didn't have as much on her as she thought we did, but we got her to act as a stool—that is, you understand, we gave her $2 in marked bills and sent her out ahead of us to buy the coke from sidewalk peddlars. Then we were going to pick them up. It was all the doctor's scheme."
"Up at Fortieth street Nick Strade was standing. By the looks of him he thought he was floating. 'Winky' the May woman—went up to him and negotiated for a few sniffs. She was just passing over the marked bill when Nick caught sight of me and the other bills. It was the first time I ever saw him refuse money."
"I jumped for Nick just about the time he jumped for me. Dick Shirley, the batjo player—these other defendants—was with him, and we had a mix-up. Nick carried the dope in his coat pocket, and when I saw him fainting for it I grabbed it. But he was too too quick for me, and swallowed the evidence."
"I'll have to discharge him then," said Corrigan. The Court wanted to know what had become of May.
"She got away with the marked money in the excitement," said the detective, sadly.

Wrote the Orange Made One.
On his annual message to the East Orange City Council last night Mayor Gregory became the first Mayor of any of the Oranges to advocate openly the consolidation of the separate municipalities. He pointed out that they are one municipality in interests. The Oranges were set apart fifty years ago this spring.

NEW WARRANT FOR ARREST OF ARCHBOLD.

Federal Judge Attacks Wickensham
—Orders Action in Oil Trust Case.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 28.—Attorney-General Wickensham was criticized today by United States Judge Edward H. Meek, who said it was a new thing for an executive department of the Federal Government to intervene between a court and men who had been indicted, as it did in the case of John D. Archbold, H. C. Folger Jr. and W. C. Teague. They were indicted in Judge Meek's court on charges of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust law in alleged operations affecting the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Take Off the Fat Where It Shows

Most women suffer much humiliation because of great quantities of fat, so indicated that, no matter how they dress, everybody sees that they are abnormal.
This is the day of the slender figure, and fat women are simply not tolerated either in business or social affairs. Women may not know it, but men when they see a fat woman pass them on the street or in public places make all manner of sympathetic remarks about her. They do not mean to be unkind or to seem unmanly, but it is natural for a man to notice a woman. Where fat shows the most there is where it must be removed, and as quickly as possible. This season's dresses seem to be made for the fat woman's misery and the slender woman's delight. They expose all the charms of woman and her outlines as well. Near-sleeves and busts do not remove fat. This has been proved. The famous Marmole prescription, which has met with such phenomenal success and has so many of our society women as its sponsors, is now being sold in tablet form to meet the demand of the public for this style of treatment. These little tablets go into your system just like food. They act on the stomach and digestive apparatus from producing fat and reduce the fat upon the body at the rate of one pound in 12 days. They are harmless and can be carried in your purse and taken even after you have indulged in a hearty meal or from home. They are sold at all drug stores at 75 cents a case, or if you prefer you may write the Marmole Company, Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

KAISER AND CROWN PRINCE AT LAST ARE RECONCILED.

Emperor Promotes Son in Army on His Own Birthday—Germany Pleased.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Emperor William celebrated yesterday his fifty-fourth birthday.

The most important feature," the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Express telegraph, "was the report that the Emperor and the Crown Prince are at last reconciled after their many differences, which resulted in the Crown Prince being practically exiled to Danzig. His Majesty went to the theatre Sunday night with the Crown Prince and Princesses, which had not happened for a long time. Monday the announcement was made that the Crown Prince had been promoted to the rank of Colonel. "People generally are pleased and relieved at the end of the quarrel."
