

Brought about only through a court order or by Dr. John R. Russell, Medical Superintendent of Matteawan.

When Dr. May told Gov. Sulzer of the incident the Governor said he had authorized no one to use his name in Thaw's behalf.

The committee subpoenaed Dr. Russell to appear this afternoon, and on taking the stand he testified that Clark had told him that Gov. Sulzer "would be pleased" to have Thaw released.

"On Feb. 2," said Dr. Russell, "Dr. O'Sullivan and Kennedy of New York called on me with a letter from Mr. Lewis, requesting that they be permitted to examine Thaw, which request I granted."

"On Feb. 9 I was notified by Mr. Hoffman of Poughkeepsie, a private detective in the employ of Mr. Thaw, informing me that I would be soon called to New York; that the Governor desired Mr. Thaw's discharge, and that Dr. May would give me the orders from the Governor."

SULZER SAID HE WOULD NOT ISSUE RELEASE ORDER. On Feb. 15 Dr. Russell said Dr. May called him on the telephone from Albany, saying he had seen the Governor and that the Executive would issue no order and "it would have to take its regular course."

"I told Dr. May," continued the witness, "that if the Governor wanted this thing done he would have to give me a written order."

"If he had, would you have released Thaw?" asked the committee's counsel. "No," replied Dr. Russell, with emphasis. "I would have taken the order to my superior officer, Col. Scott."

Dr. Russell then explained that authority for the release of inmates of Matteawan is vested only in the courts and in himself as superintendent. "If the Governor hasn't the power to order Thaw's release, why did you insist on such an order?" asked the committee's counsel.

"My idea was to protect myself," replied the witness. "What protection did you need?" Dr. Russell was asked. "I needed protection from the persecution I was under at that time," he replied.

"Were you trying to get something on the Governor?" asked counsel. "No, sir," said Dr. Russell. "I didn't think the Governor was in it, but did believe that Clark was."

"If Mr. Clark, or any other man, made the statement that Thaw's release would be pleasing to me, it is absolutely untrue," said Gov. Sulzer today. "I have asked no one to release Thaw. I told Dr. May if any one used my name in the Thaw matter it was untrue."

CLARK SAYS HE WANTED TO BRING OUT BRIBER STORY. When Secretary Clark took the stand he declared that he hadn't had "framed up" the plan for Thaw's release as a newspaperman. "I was anxious to expose the story of the bribe and have it printed in order to give it the widest publicity."

Clark also swore he wanted to "test Russell" out for the committee's inquiry. He declared that if Russell refused to name the lawyer who offered the bribe he would eventually learn the man's name and eventually the committee.

Dr. James V. May, chairman of the State Hospital Commission having charge of insane asylums, swore in effect that Dr. Russell was "on the level" in the latest Thaw scandal, that Clark wasn't after a newspaper man, but really was interested in attaining Thaw's release. May said Russell kept him informed of every move made by Clark and Alfred Henry Lewis and also testified that Russell told him of the bribe he saved.

Save Your Coat. Cure Your Throat. Bad Coughs & Croup. Drown, 2c per box—Advt.

MOVING PICTURES Being Incident in the Struggle for Peace, Progress and Prosperity

Move 3. Oh, look! See what's going on now! The man with the girl is an Agent or Salesman—

THE WORLD PRINTS MORE "HELP WANTED" ADS. THAN ALL THE OTHER NEW YORK NEWSPAPERS ADDED TOGETHER.

Three American Women Heroines in Horrors of Mexican Bombardment

Wife of U. S. Ambassador Comforted the Terror Stricken, and the Others Faced Perils to Aid Husbands.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 21.—The part played by Americans in general, and by American women in particular, during the ten-days horror of the bombardment was of such a character as to cause a thrill of pride to their fellow countrymen everywhere.

Mrs. Henry Saxon Wilson, wife of the American ambassador, who won the affection of the entire foreign colony by her fearless attention to the needs of the women who sought a refuge near the Embassy.

Mrs. Paul Hudson of Kansas, wife of the editor of the Kansas Herald, who remained with her husband in his newspaper office in the heart of the battle zone throughout the fighting.

Mrs. Barge McFall, wife of another newspaper man, who with other newspaper women, who with her husband lived for a week in the basement of her home with a machine gun firing from her front porch and sharpshooters on the roof.

Victoria Hastings, an English girl, who acted as a voluntary newspaper correspondent and braved dangers throughout the battle that no man dared face.

MRS. WILSON CHEERED UP FEAR-STRIKEN REFUGEES. Mrs. Wilson knew better perhaps than any other woman in Mexico how crucial was the situation, and on what a slender thread hung the chance of American soldiers being rushed here in time to prevent a wholesale slaughter.

Mrs. Wilson was assisted by other equally fearless American women, many of whom seemed to enjoy the novel and exciting experience, even while fully realizing their peril.

Mrs. Hudson was the guardian angel of a number of newspaper men and refugees, and for the first week of the battle. With indomitable courage she refused to leave her husband's side while the building shook and rocked from the detonations of the shells bursting overhead or quivered under the impact of a storm of bullets from the machine guns.

Mrs. McFall, serving in the center of the city as a correspondent, was unable to reach his home during the first seven days of almost incessant fighting that preceded Sunday's brief armistice.

Mrs. Hastings, who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

Mrs. McFall took refuge in the basement. There she remained with her children during the bombardment, coming upstairs during lulls in the fighting to prepare scanty meals and answer cheerfully her husband's eager inquiries over the telephone.

Mrs. Hastings was the unequalled admiration of every man who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

Mrs. McFall took refuge in the basement. There she remained with her children during the bombardment, coming upstairs during lulls in the fighting to prepare scanty meals and answer cheerfully her husband's eager inquiries over the telephone.

Mrs. Hastings was the unequalled admiration of every man who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

Mrs. McFall took refuge in the basement. There she remained with her children during the bombardment, coming upstairs during lulls in the fighting to prepare scanty meals and answer cheerfully her husband's eager inquiries over the telephone.

Mrs. Hastings was the unequalled admiration of every man who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

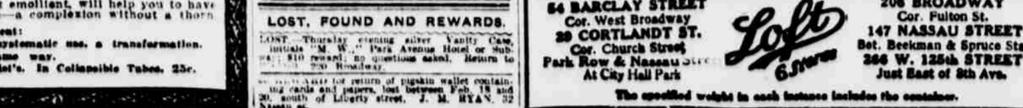

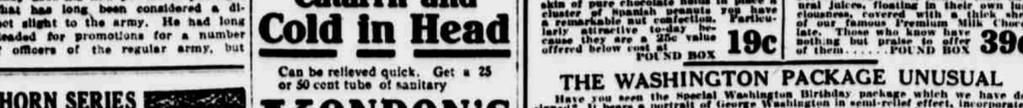

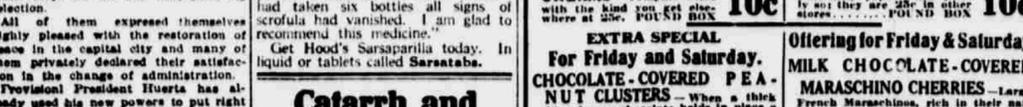

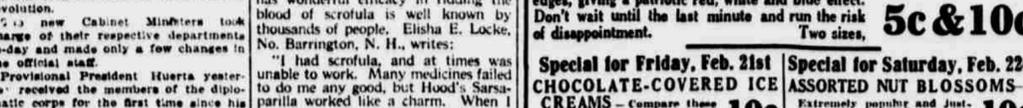

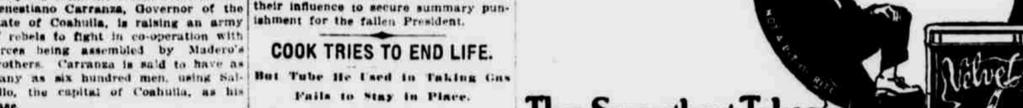

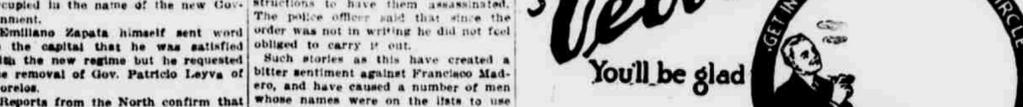

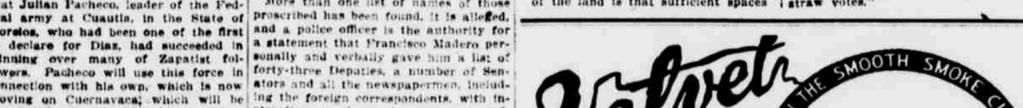

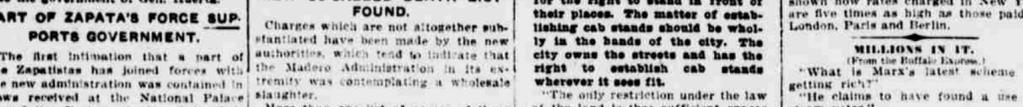

Mrs. McFall took refuge in the basement. There she remained with her children during the bombardment, coming upstairs during lulls in the fighting to prepare scanty meals and answer cheerfully her husband's eager inquiries over the telephone.

Mrs. Hastings was the unequalled admiration of every man who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

Mrs. McFall took refuge in the basement. There she remained with her children during the bombardment, coming upstairs during lulls in the fighting to prepare scanty meals and answer cheerfully her husband's eager inquiries over the telephone.

Mrs. Hastings was the unequalled admiration of every man who was in a position to observe her bravery. Speaking six languages fluently, she was of inestimable value in getting news in the foreign quarters, through which she circulated, chatting with Mexicans, French, Germans, Italians and half-bred Indians, penetrating the most dangerous sections of the battle zone.

Kaleidoscopic Comic--The Situation in Mexico

NEW REVOLT STARTED AGAINST HUERTA RULE

(Continued from First Page.)

day on a trip throughout the country to assure his partisans that everything had been adjusted, and to ask them to recognize the government of Gen. Huerta.

GERMANS THANK UNITED STATES FOR WORK IN MEXICO.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—The Mexican situation came up for discussion in the Imperial Parliament today when Gottlieb von Jagow, the Foreign Minister, referred to an interpellation by the National Liberal League which measures the Imperial Chancellor has taken for the protection of Germans in Mexico.

The Foreign Office, he said, had learned through the German Ambassador at Washington that the United States warships in Mexican waters, which were ordered to be withdrawn, had been instructed to give refuge to all foreigners, including Germans, and as far as possible to protect their property.

The German Foreign Office had heartily thanked the United States Government for this offer.

The German Minister in Mexico cabled that no Germans had been killed during the fighting and only one had been slightly wounded. He had in spite of repeated warnings ventured into the fighting zone to take photographs.

The Foreign Minister said Germany was committed to a policy of non-interference, but that he would prevent her from standing up vigorously for the protection of German subjects.

TROUBLE BREWING NOW AT VERA CRUZ, CONSUL REPORTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—According to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, orders from Mexico City for the release from prison of Diaz adherents have not been obeyed, and such important officers as the customs house administrator, inspector of police and commanding officer of the Mexican gunboats in Vera Cruz harbor have openly refused allegiance.

Beyond this reports have been received from the North, which appear more serious. These are that the Governors of Aguascalientes, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila and Sonora have openly refused allegiance. It is expected that Gen. Huerta will send today additional troops to those districts in order to check any movement in the direction of a counter-revolution.

The new Cabinet Ministers took charge of their respective departments today and made only a few changes in the official staff.

Provisional President Huerta yesterday received the members of the diplomatic corps for the first time since his selection.

All of them expressed themselves highly pleased with the restoration of peace in the capital city and many of them privately declared their satisfaction in the change of administration.

Provisional President Huerta has already used his new powers to put right what has long been considered a direct slight to the army. He had long pleaded for promotions for a number of officers of the regular army, but obliged to pay the proprietors of hotels and other public places, or even the owners of private property, for the right to stand in front of their places. The matter of establishing cab stands should be wholly in the hands of the city. The city owns the streets and has the right to establish cab stands wherever it sees fit.

GAYNOR APPOINTS COMMISSION TO DRAW A TAX LAW

(Continued from First Page.)

The only restriction under the law of the land is that sufficient spaces

COOK TRIES TO END LIFE

But Tube He Used in Taking Gas Fails to Stay in Place.

Tony Guantins, forty years old, a cook, who lives in Montecito avenue, the Bronx, chose the Bronx Hotel, a lodging house, at No. 239 Third avenue, in which to make an attempt at suicide.

He was found in a room there this morning unconscious and with gas pouring from a rubber tube connected with a fixture over the bed. The end of the tube had fallen away from his face when he collapsed from the poisonous fumes.

Bernard Clarke, a bartender, employed in the lodging house, discovered the man's condition and worked over him until the arrival of Dr. Lobenz of Harlem Hospital. After the cook had been revived he was taken to the hospital a prisoner.

Victim of Scrofula

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful efficacy in ridding the blood of scrofula is well known by thousands of people. Elisha E. Locke, No. Barrington, N. H., writes:

"I had scrofula, and at times was unable to work. Many medicines failed to do me any good, but Hood's Sarsaparilla worked like a charm. When I had taken six bottles all signs of scrofula had vanished. I am glad to recommend this medicine."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In liquid or tablets called Sarasatab.

Catarrh and Cold in Head

Can be relieved quick. Get a 25 or 50 cent tube of sanitary KONDORH Jelly.

The first drop used will do good. Money back if it doesn't. Sample free if you write quick. KONDORH MFG. CO., Minneapolis, Minn.

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

Lyette's Virginia Tobacco Co. 10¢ TINS

Velvet You'll be glad

COOK TRIES TO END LIFE. But Tube He Used in Taking Gas Fails to Stay in Place.

Tony Guantins, forty years old, a cook, who lives in Montecito avenue, the Bronx, chose the Bronx Hotel, a lodging house, at No. 239 Third avenue, in which to make an attempt at suicide.

He was found in a room there this morning unconscious and with gas pouring from a rubber tube connected with a fixture over the bed. The end of the tube had fallen away from his face when he collapsed from the poisonous fumes.

Bernard Clarke, a bartender, employed in the lodging house, discovered the man's condition and worked over him until the arrival of Dr. Lobenz of Harlem Hospital. After the cook had been revived he was taken to the hospital a prisoner.

Victim of Scrofula

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful efficacy in ridding the blood of scrofula is well known by thousands of people. Elisha E. Locke, No. Barrington, N. H., writes:

"I had scrofula, and at times was unable to work. Many medicines failed to do me any good, but Hood's Sarsaparilla worked like a charm. When I had taken six bottles all signs of scrofula had vanished. I am glad to recommend this medicine."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In liquid or tablets called Sarasatab.

Catarrh and Cold in Head

Can be relieved quick. Get a 25 or 50 cent tube of sanitary KONDORH Jelly.

GAYNOR APPOINTS COMMISSION TO DRAW A TAX LAW

(Continued from First Page.)

obliged to pay the proprietors of hotels and other public places, or even the owners of private property, for the right to stand in front of their places. The matter of establishing cab stands should be wholly in the hands of the city. The city owns the streets and has the right to establish cab stands wherever it sees fit.

The only restriction under the law of the land is that sufficient spaces

COOK TRIES TO END LIFE

But Tube He Used in Taking Gas Fails to Stay in Place.

Tony Guantins, forty years old, a cook, who lives in Montecito avenue, the Bronx, chose the Bronx Hotel, a lodging house, at No. 239 Third avenue, in which to make an attempt at suicide.

He was found in a room there this morning unconscious and with gas pouring from a rubber tube connected with a fixture over the bed. The end of the tube had fallen away from his face when he collapsed from the poisonous fumes.

Bernard Clarke, a bartender, employed in the lodging house, discovered the man's condition and worked over him until the arrival of Dr. Lobenz of Harlem Hospital. After the cook had been revived he was taken to the hospital a prisoner.

Victim of Scrofula

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful efficacy in ridding the blood of scrofula is well known by thousands of people. Elisha E. Locke, No. Barrington, N. H., writes:

"I had scrofula, and at times was unable to work. Many medicines failed to do me any good, but Hood's Sarsaparilla worked like a charm. When I had taken six bottles all signs of scrofula had vanished. I am glad to recommend this medicine."

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. In liquid or tablets called Sarasatab.

Catarrh and Cold in Head

Can be relieved quick. Get a 25 or 50 cent tube of sanitary KONDORH Jelly.

The first drop used will do good. Money back if it doesn't. Sample free if you write quick. KONDORH MFG. CO., Minneapolis, Minn.

FIRST CONVICTION IN WAR ON ILLEGAL INSURANCE.

Clair W. Anthony Remanded to the Tombs for One Week to Await Sentence.

Clair W. Anthony, an insurance broker, of No. 303 Broadway, was convicted this afternoon in Special Sessions of violating the insurance laws and remanded to the Tombs for one week for sentence.

This is the first conviction growing out of the crusade started recently by the State Insurance Department to stop the illegal selling of insurance.

Anthony, who is twenty-nine years old, was convicted of insuring Trieger and Licker, jewelers, of No. 24 Broadway, for $200 fire insurance in the Laska Insurance Company of Philadelphia. This company has no license to do business in New York State.

Stores closed on Washington's Birthday—therefore make your selection to-day from Young's Hats

109 Broadway 1061 Broadway

EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK

Has no Equal for Infant Feeding

The new English Model. The best presentation of the immensely popular cutaway shape. Has the elegance and beauty of symmetry always found in Ide Silver Collars

Ide Silver Collars

With Lincord unbreakable buttons. GEO. P. IDE & CO. Also Makers of Ide Shirts TROY, N. Y.

Don't Use Poisonous Tablets Use a Harmless Powder

Tyree's Antiseptic Powder

One 25c box makes 2 gallons standard solution. All drug-gists or send for booklet and free sample.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 $4 & $4.50 SHOES

For style, fit and wear W. L. Douglas shoes are unequalled at the price. They are the standard of quality everywhere.

Premier ASK YOUR GROCER

PERRI-WALLA TEA ROASTED COFFEE STRAWBERRY JAM CANNED CORN

FRANCIS H. LEGGETT & COMPANY

All lost or found articles advertised in The World will be held at The World's Information Bureau, Pulitzer Building, Arcade, Park Row, World's Information Office, northwest corner 34th St. and Broadway, World's Information Office, 210 West 125th St., and World's Information Office, 210 West 125th St., Brooklyn, for 30 days following the posting of the advertisement.