

AMERICAN WOMEN ARE PROMINENT AT FETE QUEEN MARY GRACES

LONDON, June 4.—The Versailles fete in Albert Hall last night was brilliant, but the attendance was nothing like so great as at the coronation fete ball or last year's Shakespeare ball.

Queen Mary attended the ball. She was induced to do this to help the ball along because the tickets did not sell well.

Exceedingly fine was the scene when all the courts of Europe at the time of Louis XIV. were on the floor in their gorgeous and varied costumes.

Another notable figure was Mrs. Cecil Bingham (Mrs. S. S. Channon, of New York) as the Duchess of Orleans, sister of Charles II. She wore a superb gown of the richest deep emerald and silver brocade, the bodice trimmed with very old silver lace taken from a contemporary gown lent for ball by the Duchess of Chaudes (Theodora, Shonts of New York).

Among Mrs. Bingham's ladies in waiting were Mrs. Babcock, an American, in a magnificent dress of rose and silver, a dazzling stomacher of diamonds and a diamond rose in her hair.
