evidence which may be of value to him in the fight he is making on Senators and Assemblymen who have refused to vote for his direct primaries bill. If Stilwell has information of value about corruption or illegal influence in the Legislature he went to the right market when he offered it to Gov. Sulzer.

DENIAL MADE BY COUNCIL OF THE EX-SENATOR.

Robert M. Moore, ex-Senator James D. McClelland says that Stilwell has written a statement. They declare that the convicted man protests to them that the many rumors printed that he plans "to confess all" to save himself are unfounded and are circulated for the purpose of prejudicing him in the eyes of his friends.

District Attorney Whitman, before he left town Thursday, announced that he was awaiting developments in the Stilwell matter. It was at Mr. Whitman's request that Justice Sweeney, when Justice Gleason refused the convicted Senator a certificate of reasonable doubt, granted a stay of execution of the sentence for one week and later extended the stay until next Tuesday.

The Sheriff was prepared to take Stilwell to Sing Sing Prison last Wednesday, but when he applied for the commitment papers he was told by District Attorney Whitman that owing to certain developments in the case it would be best that Stilwell remain in the Tombs for at least another week. On Thursday a man, a close relative of Stilwell, who has, it is said, been conducting the negotiations for Stilwell's disclosure, called the District Attorney's office and had a long conference with Mr. Whitman. At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Whitman left Albany, N. Y., July 12.—Gov. Sulzer today declined to discuss the case of Senator Stilwell. It was said today that no formal application for a pardon for the convicted ex-Senator has been received by the Governor.

Fourth Shot Halts Men in Flight from Store

"Fixed Post" Policeman's First Three Bullets Ignored, He Fires Straight at Fugitives.

Two men skulked in the entrance of the Daniel Reeves store at Eighth street and one of them threw a brick at the policeman. The other man fled early today. Policeman fixed post at the corner, saw one of the figures disappear into the store. He started for the door.

The man who remained outside gave a call, and both he and his companion, who emerged hastily, ran east in One Hundred and Forty-first street. Seery pursued, firing two shots in the air. They were unheeded by the fugitives. A third shot was sent skipping along the sidewalk close to the fleeing pair. That, too, was ignored. Then Seery fired point blank at the pair and the bullet whizzed close to them that they stopped and surrendered at Seventh avenue.

At the Lenox avenue station they said they were Robert Hand, seventeen years old, of No. 518 East One Hundred and Thirty-third street, and Richard Walter, also one of them, and Forti first street. They were locked up at the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street station. Both denied trying to commit burglary.

EXPECT ORDER FOR STRIKE TO-DAY OF 100,000 TRAINMEN

Night Session for Committee Taken to Mean That Definite Action Will Be Taken.

IT MAY BE REVOKED.

If Amendment to Erdman Act Is Passed, Friendly Adjustment Is Expected.

A strike vote, calling out nearly 100,000 trainmen and conductors employed on roads east of the Mississippi River and north of the Potomac, probably will be voted to-night. The majority of the 1,000 members of the general committee of the forty-two roads involved met this morning in Webster Hall, No. 10 East Eleventh street, ostensibly to determine whether a strike should be called. Actually there is reason to believe that this course already has been decided on, and the sole question to be determined is the date of commencement.

The meeting adjourned at 1 o'clock for lunch and it was announced that not only would there be an afternoon session, but a night session would be held as well. Special significance attaches to the night session, for by that time the missing general committee men who are on their way from the Western limits of the territory involved probably will have reached the city and it is almost certain that while no action will be taken until their arrival, some decision will be reached immediately after they join the other delegates.

Congress alone, it may be said, has power to avert the threatened strike. The strike order will be a tentative one, dependent solely on the action of Congress for its effectiveness.

If the present Erdman Arbitration act shall be amended to meet the present objections of the railroads which decline to submit the questions involved to a board of only three men, then the strike order will be revoked and the trainmen and conductors will treat with the railroads for an amicable settlement of their differences. If there shall be no amendment, however, the strike will be enforced.

ACTUAL STRIKE DEPENDS ON HOUSE ACTION.

Already the Senate has passed the Newlands bill, which increases the number of arbitrators from three to six, and therein meets with the approval of the railroads. The House, however, has held up the bill up to date. Some 80 of the 1,000 committee men were in town and they assembled at the Broadway Central Hotel at 9 o'clock on the call of President William G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and President A. B. Garrison of the Order of Railway Conductors. There they were admitted, en masse, to the presence of the leaders, and each received a blue ticket and with it instructions to meet downstairs and march in a body to Webster Hall. Until that moment no delegate had known where the meeting was to be held.

SECURITY NECESSARY TO ORGANIZING SPIES.

Such precautions were made necessary, the railroad men said, because their meetings spies had been discovered and full reports had been made of their deliberations. The meeting will be in session all day today and probably to-morrow, as it is unlikely that the absent delegates will be able to proceed thence by the vote is certain to be taken to-day or to-morrow, and it is almost equally certain to be in favor of a strike.

POLICE ARE PURIFIED, SAYS WALDO, ABROAD.

"Everything Undesirable Removed," He Declares, and Politics Do Not Count Any More.

PLYMOUTH, July 12.—Police Commissioner Waldo of New York landed at Plymouth yesterday from the Olympic and proceeded to London, where he will stay for several days. He is on his way to Paris and Berlin to study in those cities police methods which, Waldo says, are the best in the world.

"Everything undesirable," he said, "has been removed from the New York police force. Politics do not count any more. Political influence is at an end. Attacks against my administration are now only to pollute the air."

"The gun in my hand is stamped out, but sporadic outbreaks occur even in London. Under the present administration the New York police compare favorably with any in the world."

POLICEMAN SHOT FOR AN INSULT IN PINOCHLE GAME

Former Engineer of Essex County Uses Revolver After Demanding Apology.

NEWARK, N. J., July 12.—John T. McDonald, a plainclothes policeman living in Forty-second street, was shot and probably mortally wounded at noon today by George F. Drum, formerly county engineer, of No. 41 Roosevelt avenue.

Drum, McDonald and some other men were in Thomas Craig's saloon at Central avenue and Second street last night. Drum kept score of a pinochle game in which McDonald was one of the players. Drum alleges that during the game McDonald grossly insulted him and that he told the policeman he must apologize. McDonald refused to make an apology. "You will apologize to-morrow," Drum said.

Drum went to-day to Central avenue and Second street, where he found McDonald taking in front of Craig's saloon with two other men.

Drum walked up to McDonald and asked if he would apologize. He received no answer and repeated the question. Again there was no answer, whereupon Drum sent two bullets into McDonald's abdomen.

Policemen Fletcher and Conlon, plainclothes men, had just passed and they turned when they heard the shots fired. Drum advanced toward them and saying "Here!" brandished his revolver at Conlon. Drum was arrested and locked up in the Fifth Precinct station.

COHALAN RETURNS; NO COMMENT ON COMMITTEE ACTION

Little Time Wasted After Case Closed in Dismissing Connolly's Charges.

Justice Daniel F. Cohalan returned to his home in this city to-day from Albany, where the Joint Judiciary Committee of the Legislature declared last night that the charges made against him by the Bar Association and John A. Connolly were not sustained in the four-day investigation. Justice Cohalan was accompanied by William Travers Jerome of his counsel and members of his personal party. The lawyers who presented the case for the Bar Association have also returned to New York, or are on their way here. They have nothing to say about the outcome of the case.

It was agreed by nearly every member of the committee that Connolly's charges were not legally upheld by other witnesses. After Justice Cohalan had gone on the witness stand, called by the prosecution, and reiterated his charge that Connolly was a blackmailer, the question became one of choice between the statements of Justice Cohalan and John A. Connolly.

It is understood that some members of the joint committee are in favor of saying something in the report to the Legislature of an admonitory nature calculated to warn Justice of the Supreme Court that they should be careful of their company and circumpect in their actions.

MURTAGH AND FOLEY PREPARING THE REPORT.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 12.—Senators Murtagh and Foley of the Sub-Committee, appointed to draft the report acquitting Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan of the charges preferred against him by the Bar Association of New York, based on the accusations of John A. Connolly, were in conference today with Assistant Attorney-General Joseph A. Kellough, who acted as special attorney for the Legislative Committee before whom the inquiry was held. The purpose was to make a tentative draft of the report, which will receive its final touches at a meeting of the sub-committee on Wednesday afternoon and be presented to the Legislature when it reconvenes on Wednesday evening.

Chauffeur, Avoiding Another Automobile, Overturns Car He Is Driving.

CAMDEN, N. J., July 12.—An automobile occupied by five persons crashed into a telegraph pole on the road between here and Atlantic City to-day and resulted in the death of one woman and the fatal injury of one more and the serious injury of the other occupants of the car. The woman who met death was Mrs. C. T. Wingate, wife of a wealthy coal dealer of Philadelphia.

Mrs. A. L. Scanlon died later as the result of her hurt. Mr. Wingate was seriously injured and the chauffeur and a daughter of the Wingates were slightly hurt.

The driver tried to avoid another automobile and the car turned over when it struck the pole.

MEXICAN THREAT TO BLOW UP THE U. S. EMBASSY

Letter Sent to Ambassador on Eve of Demonstration Feared by Americans.

MEXICO CITY, July 12.—An anonymous letter containing threats to blow up the United States Embassy was received by Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson today and immediately referred to the Mexican Foreign Office for investigation.

The American Ambassador protested emphatically to the Mexican Government to-day against permitting another anti-American demonstration.

The students of the Federal capital are organizing a demonstration for tomorrow in which they have invited the workmen and all other classes to participate. Although the organizers have cautioned those who will participate to keep order there is grave fear on the part of conservative Mexicans and also among the American colony that the demonstration will prove a serious trouble.

In spite of the protests of Ambassador Wilson in regard to the attitude of the newspapers, especially of El Pais, the latter journal devotes its entire first page to the anti-American movement. Its articles being highly sensational. In its editorial column it cautions President Wilson to issue a strong intimation that the time is near when Mexico must fight the United States. It urges the public not to place itself in the position of having provoked a war and to leave the responsibility to the United States. It declares that "a great wave of patriotic enthusiasm has been aroused throughout the country."

It continues charges against American agents and publishes the facsimile of a telegram from its agent at Puebla asking for $2,000 extra copies of yesterday's paper.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, July 12.—Rebels to-day looted the camps of the Boca Ancha Mining Company, a Chicago concern, and of the Gold Standard Mining Company, Philadelphia concern, in the Parnaso district of the State of Jalisco. After looting they set fire to the buildings in both camps destroying those of the Gold Standard Company and severely damaging those of the Boca Ancha. The American officials escaped from the place before the arrival of the rebels.

MULHALL TELLS HOW BOSS BARNES HELPED KILL BILL

Must be afraid of what may come out about themselves.

When the Senate Committee resumed its session Chairman Overman said it had been decided to permit James Emery, counsel of the A. M., to make a "brief statement."

"This is a semi-judicial inquiry," said Emery, "and not a prosecution, and on behalf of the association I would state that we are anxious to co-operate. As a great body of business men we want our names cleared. We have retained Mr. Robert McKim of New Jersey as our counsel, and we ask that he be accorded the privilege of cross-examination of all witnesses who testify against us. We also ask the right to call witnesses to refute all charges."

"Do you mean that you want to conduct this inquiry?" asked Chairman. "Oh, no," broke in Mr. Carter. "We want to assist this committee."

"We will decide that point when the time comes and after Col. Mulhall has completed his direct testimony," retorted Chairman Overman.

GOT MONEY TO USE IN A CLOSE DISTRICT.

Senator Reed then took up the examination of Mulhall. He read a letter from Marshall Cushing, written in 1904, which accompanied a check for $500 which Mulhall was wanted to be "successful in cashing." This $500 was "used as witness aid, in a close Congressional district."

Mulhall testified that he worked to defeat the late Senate McComas of Maryland, although he posed as the Senator's friend. He said he had received $50 letters from Cushing directed against McComas.

"I turned them over to Carl M. Downs, secretary to McComas," he added.

"Do you mean you delivered these letters against McComas to his secretary?" asked Chairman. "A Carl Downs was in the pay of Cushing."

A letter to Senator Foraker on Sept. 19, 1904, referred to a suggestion that Mulhall go to Rhode Island to help Senator Aldrich in his campaign. He testified he went later at the request of Aldrich.

"He asked me," said the witness, "to get into touch with labor men there to get their support."

A letter of introduction for Henry C. Kurten given by the Council of Allied Building Trades of Philadelphia was offered in evidence. It was signed by Kurten, as secretary. Kurten was engaged, Mulhall testified, in the fight against William Hughes, then a Representative and now a Senator from New Jersey.

"Were you sent to help beat Hughes by the National Association of Manufacturers?" A. Yes, sir.

'JOE' FORBES AND WIFE, FULLY RECONCILED, SEND FOR CHILDREN

Cotton Broker's Almost Fatal Injuries Restore Peace to Family.

The three children of Joseph D. (Fandome Joe) Forbes, broker, society man and club man, who was injured in an automobile accident at Baginaw, Mich., recently and who is now recovering, will leave for the Michigan city in the next day or two to be with their father during his convalescence.

The injury to Forbes has resulted in a reconciliation with his wife, the former Miss Madeline Clifton McGuire, who, though separated from him some time, hurried to his bedside in the Saginaw General Hospital as soon as she learned what had befallen him.

At that time, about a week ago, Forbes was unconscious and it was feared that he could not recover. He had a clot on the brain. His only moment of consciousness for days was when Mrs. Forbes took his hand and spoke to him. He opened his eyes, looked up at her and smiled in recognition, immediately recognizing her as the woman who had been his wife.

Mr. Forbes had been at a sanitarium in Flint, Mich., and went to Saginaw with his family. Very little was known of him, and after he was hurt, he was, in the first few days, called "The Man of Mystery." There was a rumor in Saginaw that he was Capt. Peter Hain, slayer of Annie. Telegrams from friends in New York established his identity and word was sent to Mrs. Forbes.

Director Hague called the officials of the Police Department into his office a week ago and said he wanted pictures in plain clothes sent out to the various precincts of the city. About 50 men were detailed to this task. They were instructed that they were not to sample the whisky but to bring samples of it to headquarters.

HEALEY OPENS FIGHT AGAINST 1 A. M. ORDER

Restaurant Owner Charges Inspector Dwyer and Another With Oppression.

Inspector Dwyer, Chief of Police, and three other members of his staff were today charged with oppression in the West Side Court this afternoon at the request of Thomas Healey, proprietor of Healey's restaurant, at Columbus avenue and Sixty-sixth street, today. Mr. Healey, who is President of the Restauranters' Association, charges that the inspectors and his men have oppressed him by driving patrons from the main dining room of his restaurant at 1 o'clock in the morning, annoying his patrons and cutting down his profits.

The hearing of the case on Monday will reopen the right of the police to order the closing of restaurants at five of the o'clock of the bar. Inspector Dwyer said this afternoon that he thought the revival of the agitation was due to the fact that the restaurant men thought that the first action of the police regarding the 1 o'clock closing of dining-rooms was merely a temporary measure. They have now found that it is permanent.

A week ago to-night there was a fight in Healey's between one of the head waiters and Dwyer's men and the head waiter was arrested.

JEWELLERS PRAISE POLICE.

The Board of Directors of the National Jewellers' Board of Trade at a meeting held to-day at the office of the association passed a resolution praising the Police Department for its efficient work in the Ullal & Wallou and in the Louis Stern Company jewel robberies.

Federation of Labor and his activity on the floor of the House and with the labor leaders in Washington.

Kurten was given credentials, Mulhall said, so he could get into union labor meetings to oppose Hughes. The work of this kind was always secret. It was done under cover.

Somehow McCarter tried to have the committee keep out testimony by Mulhall, relating to conversations between Cushing and others which he had actually heard. The committee refused.

A reference to President Taft came in connection with notations on the back of one of the Mulhall envelopes. The following names appeared: C. D. Fiveston, Columbus Buggy Company; Col. W. H. Morgan, Alliance; Col. John N. Taylor, East Liverpool; D. J. Sinclair, Steubenville; H. M. Hanna, Cleveland.

"These five names were submitted to me by Senator Foraker of Ohio to read to President Taft at an interview I was to have with him at his summer residence in Ohio," Mulhall testified. "The president did not develop the point further."

Testifying further about the campaign against Hughes, Mulhall swore he went to Peterson to aid Hughes's opponent. He hired six union men to work against Hughes and paid them altogether about $2,000, which came from the National Association of Manufacturers through Cushing.

The union men in the pay of the National Association of Manufacturers, Mulhall said, took possession of 5,000 circulars sent into the district by the "African" Federation of Labor to aid Hughes, and turned them over to the Republican campaign committee. He named the following as the men he hired to work against Hughes: Michael Collins of Philadelphia, Jacob Cassel of New York, William J. Ryan of the Michigan Workers' Union in New York and George Burke of Paterson.

BOOZE IS SO BAD, MANY GO CRAZY IN JERSEY CITY

"Wood Alcohol Harmless by Comparison," Says Hague, Director of Public Safety.

D. T.'S ON THE INCREASE

Samples Collected by the Police Will Undergo a Chemical Test.

A campaign for pure booze in Jersey City has been inaugurated by Joseph Hague, the Director of Public Safety. It has long been apparent that the whiskey sold in hope sections in Jersey City would blow a safe. Director Hague is going to try to find out what the rum sellers put in their flasks and then make them stop doing it.

"I have been led to look into the question of dangerous or poisonous whiskey," said Director Hague to-day by the fact that distiller tremors has been increasing here as an alarm was raised. The police station and police court records show that there is in the east more dangerous tremors here now than there was two years ago and it is on the increase.

Director Hague is taking samples in Jersey City that is driving people crazy. We have a large number of barrel houses here that sell whiskey which would make wood alcohol appear almost harmless by comparison. I am sure that I will be able to close up fifty or more of these holes and will also bring about a decided improvement in the quality of liquor sold in our bar-rooms.

POLICEMEN IN PLAIN CLOTHES GET THE SAMPLES.

Director Hague called the officials of the Police Department into his office a week ago and said he wanted pictures in plain clothes sent out to the various precincts of the city. About 50 men were detailed to this task. They were instructed that they were not to sample the whisky but to bring samples of it to headquarters.

Some of the policemen were not keen about their special details when they understood the rules, but they got over it. Each flask was then labeled with the name of the policeman in which the contents were bought.

Director Hague sent the samples to the State Board of Health at Trenton, the other half to the Pure Food Bureau of the Department of Agriculture in Washington. Each sample will be analyzed. Whiskey found to contain poisonous matter will be used as evidence against the saloonkeeper who sold it.

If Director Hague has his way people will be moving to Jersey City from all around these parts. At the present time Jersey City has 1,000 saloons each paying $100 a year license fee.

GOFF, REFUSING NEW BECKER TRIAL, SCORES WITNESSES

he saw Schepers riding on the running board of the grey automobile, Justice Goff says:

"If this statement is true it is of great importance, for it would make Schepers an accessory to the murder of John Goff despite the presentation of an important corroborating witness, but there is nothing in the affidavit of Ryan or of Becker or of the defendant's attorney, Shay, to show why Ryan was not produced on the trial (assuming that Thomas J. ### GULPABLY CARELESS SURGERY IS ALLEGED

Woman Sues for Doctor's Negligence After Operation in Sloane Hospital.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Miss Mary E. O'Connell, 34, of 11 East One Hundred and Thirty-third street, wife of an employee of the New York Central Railroad, to-day started suit in the Supreme Court to recover $5,000 against Columbia University. The complaint alleges that surgeons of the Sloan Hospital, Dr. Women, at Tenth avenue and Sixty-sixth street, negligently covered up in her body a rubber finger covering, such as is worn by surgeons in the operating rooms of hospitals, after a major operation. The bill states that Columbia University operated and controls the Sloan Hospital. Mrs. Bates states that the operation was under the direction of Dr. Edwin Craig, Dr. Davenport White and Dr. Daniel Ryan.

The complaint states further that although Mrs. Bates made several visits to the hospital for treatment during the next four months, the foreign substance was not discovered until she herself, while dressing her wound on July 8 last, found the finger covering.
