GAYNOR WILL FILED "BIG TIM" FOUND IN MORGUE

MRS. GAYNOR DECIDES ON SIMPLE SERVICE AT MAYOR'S FUNERAL

The will of Mayor Gaynor, about which there has been much public interest, was filed in secrecy to-day, after office hours, in the office of Surrogate Ketcham of Brooklyn. It is now locked in the Surrogate's safe, where it will remain until Monday.

Michael Furst, a lawyer of No. 215 Montague street, delivered the will to Surrogate Ketcham at 2.30 o'clock, after the office of the Surrogate officially was closed. Mr. Furst declined to tell the nature of the paper he had left, but the Surrogate readily admitted that the document was the Gaynor will.

An Evening World reporter found Surrogate Ketcham at the Brooklyn Club on the Heights.

"I can't say anything about Mr. Gaynor's will," said the Surrogate. "It came to me in a plain envelope inscribed 'Will of William J. Gaynor, to be opened at my death.' I opened it to make sure that the will actually was inside, and then I sealed it in another envelope and locked it up. No one can look at it until it is regularly filed on Monday morning."

The amount of the Gaynor estate cannot be estimated although it is known that much of it consists of real estate of which the Mayor had large holdings in Brooklyn. He owned several parcels in Fulton and Navy streets, Brooklyn, and had considerable sums invested in small mortgages. He owned his home at No. 20 Eighth avenue, valued at about $40,000, and also owned the farm of 75 acres at St. James, L. I., where he made his summer home.

FUNERAL PLANS ARRANGED AT GAYNOR'S HOME.

Mrs. William J. Gaynor and her son Norman Gaynor, came from their country home at St. James, L. I., to their Brooklyn residence, No. 20 Eighth avenue, to-day to confer with city officials upon the funeral arrangements for Mayor Gaynor. They were met at noon by Mayor Kline, Dock Commissioner Smith and Secretary Adamson. The plan conferred for more than an hour.

After returning to the City Hall this afternoon, Secretary Adamson announced that Mrs. Gaynor is satisfied with the tentative arrangements made for the funeral.

Mrs. Gaynor decided that there should be no military display at the funeral, because she knew, she said, that the Mayor would rather have it so. He was a lover of simplicity and ostentation was not to his liking. The only escort of the casket, from the time it arrives until it is lowered into the grave, will be mounted police.

Many orchestras have offered to render the music at Old Trinity, but Mrs. Gaynor said that it would have been the wish of her husband that only the Trinity choir and organ render the music. She also declined. The only name Mrs. Gaynor has chosen is Gaudiosi's "Ave Maria." The Mayor was very fond of this song, and never happier than when his wife sang it.

Mr. Adamson said that on Monday Mayor Kline would make public a Citizens' Committee of One Hundred, headed by former Mayor Seth Low, to escort the casket.

The services will be held at Trinity Church at 11 o'clock next Monday week and will be public.

The Lulliana is expected about noon on Friday.

The Lulliana will be met at Quarantine by the Department of Correction steamer Correction. Whether the body shall be taken to the Brooklyn pier or removed at the Battery has not been definitely decided.

At the Gaynor home on Friday evening private services will be held at which the Rev. Frank Page of St. Ann's Church will officiate.

NO $50,000 FUND; NO RESIGNATION, SAY SULZER MEN

Statements by Aaron J. Levy Meet With Prompt and Emphatic Denial.

Aaron J. Levy, chief spokesman against Gov. Sulzer at the Assembly Impeachment proceedings, and Chairman of the Assembly Impeachment Managers, was responsible for these statements concerning the Governor to-day:

No. 1.—Said a prominent lawyer and an ex-office holder had come to him with the proposition to drop the impeachment proceedings if the Governor resigned. This was denied by ex-Judge Herrick at Albany.

No. 2.—He stated that at a private hearing Charles Dersch of the American Maltng Company had collected a large campaign fund—$50,000—and that the money had not been accounted for by Gov. Sulzer in his campaign contributions statement. MR. DERSCH DENIED THAT ANY LARGE SUM WAS RAISED, OR THAT HE WAS A COLLECTOR OF ANY FUND.

No. 3.—That Gov. Sulzer had come to New York yesterday to try and induce Louis Marshall to continue to act as his attorney; that he (Levy) had understood that Marshall had refused to act further. MR. MARSHALL IS IN THE ADIRONDACKS AND WAS NOT IN TOWN YESTERDAY. Judge Herrick includes Mr. Marshall in the list of counsel in his denial of report No. 1.

SULZER COUNSEL SQUELCHES STORY ABOUT RESIGNATION

ALBANY, Sept. 12.—Gov. Sulzer has no intention of resigning, according to his counsel, D-Cady Herrick. When Mr. Herrick learned of a statement made to-day by Assemblyman Aaron J. Levy, Chairman of the Board of Managers in charge of the impeachment proceedings, he sent this telegram at once to Mr. Levy in New York:

"I see from the Associated Press despatch that the name of that prominent New York lawyer who had been a close friend of Gov. Sulzer for twenty years has come to you direct from Albany with this question: 'If Gov. Sulzer should resign would the impeachment proceedings be dropped?' I ask you what the name of that prominent lawyer is. No one is authorized to speak for Gov. Sulzer excepting his counsel—myself, ex-Judge Vann, Louis Marshall, Austin G. Fox or Harvey D. Hinman. Either you are stating a falsehood or you have been imposed upon. Gov. Sulzer has no intention of resigning."

D-CADY HERRICK.

DERSCH SAYS STORY ABOUT HIS TESTIMONY IS WHOLLY FALSE.

Aaron J. Levy, Chairman of the Board of Managers of the Assembly for the impeachment of Gov. Sulzer, announced this afternoon that Charles Dersch, salesman for the American Maltng Company, closely allied with the brewery interests, had testified before the board privately yesterday that he had collected large sums for the campaign of Mr. Sulzer, and this sum was not accounted for by the Governor in his campaign contribution statement. Mr. Levy was asked if this sum was as large as $50,000.

"You are not far wrong," was the answer. When Mr. Levy's statement was called to Mr. Dersch's attention this afternoon, he said:

"It's a lie—a damnable lying state-

NEW WRIT TO THAW IN FEDERAL COURT FORBIDS REMOVAL

Injunction on New Hampshire Sheriff Prevents Even Requisition to New York.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 12.—In the United States District Court here this afternoon, Judge Aldrich granted the petition of counsel for Harry K. Thaw for a writ of habeas corpus, returnable at Littleton, Tuesday next. Nathaniel E. Martin, of this city, and Merrill Shurtless of Lancaster appeared as counsel for Thaw. New York State was not represented at the hearing.

Proceedings were in chambers, only the Judge, counsel and clerk of the court being admitted.

Judge Aldrich issued also an injunction restraining all parties from interfering with the service of the writ or with Thaw, pending the hearing at Littleton. Copies of the writ and injunction will be served on Sheriff Drew of Coos County, William T. Jerome and Attorney-General James P. Tuttle.

KIDNAPPERS CAMPED IN BORDER WOODS IS REPORT TO JEROME

By Lindsay Denison. Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.

COLEBROOK, N. H., Sept. 12.—The foothills of the White Mountains were waked at half past three o'clock this morning by an alarm that the "Canadians were kidnapping Harry Thaw." It was the third report of the sort in about thirty-six hours. Quiser reports last night of the actions of Canadian officials and of free-lance Canadian soldiers of fortune made Capt. Lanyon, Jerome's private detective and a special deputy of Mattewan Asylum nervous.

Lannon's men were confirmed by the report of a salesman who came to town that four automobile parties were camped in the woods in the vicinity between Colebrook and the Canadian border.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The Dodgers and Cubs faced each other for the last time this year when they played the final game of their series on the West Side this afternoon. Although the Cubs have long since won the season's series, the Dodgers have fought them as hard in this season as they have at any time. Bill Dahlen will lead his men out of here to-night for St. Louis, where he expects to play to-morrow.

TIM SULLIVAN FOUND WITH 'UNKNOWN DEAD' NEAR PAUPER BURIAL

Body That Had Lain in Morgue Two Weeks Without Effort to Identify by Clothing and Effects Recognized by Chance.

KILLED BY TRAIN AUG. 31, SHORTLY AFTER HIS ESCAPE.

The body of Congressman Timothy D. Sullivan, who had been missing two weeks, was accidentally found in the Morgue at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street to-day, and the discovery saved his burial in a trench in Potter's Field—a form of burial from which "Big Tim" had saved hundreds of Bowery delinquents.

The records of the Police Department show that Sullivan was run over and killed by a New York, New Haven and Hartford train near Pelham Parkway bridge, in Bronx Borough, early on the morning of Aug. 31, the date of his disappearance from the home of his brother, Patrick Sullivan, in Eastchester road. The body lay for two weeks in the Fordham Morgue listed as "unidentified," and was sent to the Bellevue Morgue yesterday.

Sullivan had been under restraint in the home of his brother. Three male attendants supposedly skilled in the handling of insane persons were in charge of him there since his return from Europe two months ago.

LAY "UNIDENTIFIED" TWO WEEKS IN MORGUE.

Eluding his guard, Sullivan left the house. He wore the hat of one of the nurses, a man named F. J. McCloskey. The name of McCloskey was written in ink on the sweatband of the hat.

"Big Tim" Sullivan was one of the best-known men in New York, and if his body was allowed to rest in a public morgue for two weeks without identification the inquiry arises: How many persons who disappear are allowed to drift to Potter's Field through the negligence or inefficiency of the Coroners and the police?

Although the face of "Big Tim" was somewhat crushed, the features were easily recognizable in the morgue to-day. His forehead and the top of his head alone—they being unmarred, should have furnished sufficient evidence for identification, had any investigation been made by the Bronx authorities.

But there were other clues to his identity. He wore a suit of clothes made by L. F. McGuire, a tailor, who makes the clothes for many Tammany leaders. The name of McGuire, with his business address, No. 129 Lexington avenue, was in a pocket of the coat, but the name of Sullivan did not appear, as he had requested that the tailor's custom in that respect be omitted in his case.

Then there was the hat, with McCloskey's name in it. Also there were a pair of gold sleeve links, set with four diamonds. The shirt bore "Big Tim's" laundry mark.

ALL EVIDENCE IGNORED BY CORONER, HIS FRIEND.

All of these evidences of the identity of the dead man were on the body when it was committed to the care of Coroner Jerome Healey of the Bronx, a lifelong friend of "Big Tim" Sullivan. The policeman who turned the body into the Westchester station made a report in which he stated that the hat bore the name "F. J. McCloskey," but he said nothing about the McGuire clothes.

In the police report made to Headquarters it was stated that "Detectives are working on the case."

At the time the body was picked up on the railroad tracks—it had been run over by a freight car and a locomotive while lying across the rails—"Big Tim's" disappearance had not been reported by his relatives. Nevertheless, no attention was paid, apparently, to the dead man, or his identity would have been established without delay.

The detectives who were "working on the case" did not question McGuire, the tailor. They made no effort to locate F. J. McCloskey. And the police slip, giving news of the death, was not given out to the newspapers, because the news does not appear in any of the morning papers of Monday, Sept. 1.

POLICE CRITICIZED FOR NEGLECTING SEARCH.

Patrick H. Sullivan, with ex-Coroner L. W. Schultz, this afternoon visited Coroner Jerome Healey. Mr. Sullivan's eyes were red and they constantly filled with tears. His voice shook so that at times he had to stop speaking.

"I think it was negligent in the extreme for the police to let my brother's body lie for days in the morgue without making an attempt to
