

PRIMARY DAY GUN MEN
GIVEN THREE MONTHS

Disorderly Conduct Verdict Given to Men Who Shot Up Broadway.

The four East side guerrillas who shot up Broadway, in that neighborhood of Sixty-second street last Thursday, were sentenced by Magistrate Marsh in the West Side Police Court today to the island for three months. The charge of violating the Sullivan dangerous weapon law was passed by, and the four defendants were found guilty of disorderly conduct.

The complaining witness was Mrs. Evelyn Horne who gave a scolding address as she explained to the Court because she was afraid of the friends of the defendants, who, she said had threatened her with violence if she appeared on the witness stand.

Jimmy Haagan, the leader of the Fifteenth Assembly District, who appeared to take an interest in the defendants when they were arrested, stood outside the court today and conferred with the two lawyers who had been retained by the defense. Haagan did not enter the court room. The four men sent away are: Frank Martin, thirty-two, of No. 1 Kenosia street; Frank Hart, thirty, of No. 136 Malberry street; Vito Manchette, twenty-one, of No. 12 West Tenth street; and Joe Bonel, the chauffeur, of No. 1 Wilet street. The four defendants had been out on $50 bail furnished by James E. March, the Republican leader on the lower East Side.

The divining rod has long been the subject of serious official consideration in Germany.

HANDCUFFED PRISONERS
TRY HARD TO ESCAPE

Liberty of Two Is Short-Lived—Charged With Attempted Burglary.

The prisoners, handcuffed together, jumped through an open window on the first floor of the Essex Market Court, Second street and First avenue, this afternoon and made an exciting attempt to escape. After a chase of several blocks through the crowd they were overtaken and returned to jail.

The two men, Joseph Martino, nineteen years old, of No. 241 Pennsylvania avenue, Redbank, Staten Island, and John Ross, twenty-four, of No. 124 East Tenth street, had been taken prisoner early this morning on the roof of a building at No. 231 East Twenty-fourth street and were being returned to prison after arraignment for attempted burglary.

Mrs. Mary O'Brien, a neighbor, saw the men trying to enter the apartments of Mrs. Mary Kennedy, of the above address, and slipped out to summon Policeman English, who mounted to the

ON TRIAL FOR CHAINING DOOR

Shirtwaist Factory Case Put Over for More Witnesses.

Max Blauk, one of the partners in the Triangle Shirtwaist Company, in whose establishment in the Asch Building 146 girls lost their lives by fire in March, 1911, was placed on trial before the Court of Special Sessions today on the charge of having locks on the three exits of his present shirtwaist manufactory at No. 75 Fifth avenue.

The complaint against Blauk was made by Walter J. Dugan, an inspector of the Bureau of Fire Control, who testified that when he visited Blauk's manufactory on Aug. 5 he found chain locks on each of the doors and that Blauk refused to remove them without a written order from the Bureau. The Justice continued the hearing to permit the defendant to produce additional witnesses.

At School He Gets a Webster
—Why Not at Home?

There's no getting 'round it—you have to have a Webster at home—simply have to have one for that boy of yours.

As long as he's at school, there's a Webster that he can go to at any time.

But that's not enough. For, you know, that boy of yours does most of his studying at home—and it's what he does there, for himself, that stays with him longest. So at home, he ought to have one of the new Webster's Revised Unabridged Dictionaries.

You simply can't over-estimate the importance of a Webster in his education. You may be able to help him a whole lot, but the things that he digs up from Webster for himself are the things that he remembers—and the things that make him a well educated man when he's grown up. And it's that mastery of language and that endless information that he gets from using a Webster day after day, that helps make him a success.

Get him a Webster—start him in the habit of using it now—while he's easy to teach—and while he's forming lasting habits. But remember, a "Webster" always means a Merriam Webster—one of the dictionaries that the Merriam Company have been publishing since Noah Webster died in 1843. They're the dictionaries that have always been the recognized authorities on the English language—the dictionaries used for over seventy years in our public schools, colleges and universities. And when you buy a Webster—always look for that name of G. & C. Merriam Co. Then you get the best there is.

You can't do a better thing for that boy of yours than to tear off the Introductory Sale Certificate below and get him a Merriam Webster to-day—one of the new Webster's Revised Unabridged. Important Webster's Revised Unabridged in law buckram is one of the most serviceable Dictionaries ever published. But for home use, especially where there are children who will want to move the book freely and consult it often, you very likely will prefer the Bible paper edition. This is a much handier book—lighter—thinner—easier to pick up and use—a book that doesn't look too big and imposing for the kiddies—and a book that you can keep in your lap while you're reading and save having to get up every time you want to know what a word means.

And it's a mighty fine book from the book-maker's view. Just 2 1/2 inches thick—printed on the finest, tough, opaque Bible paper—with semi-flexible covers. Comes in handsome cloth binding at $6, and in fine leather at $7. And, by the way, that leather binding is a beauty. Get the clerk to show it to you. And remember, the certificate saves you $1.50 on any binding.
