

THAW'S MOTHER GOES TO AID HER SON AT HEARING

Jerome Also on Way to Plead to Gov. Felker for Extradition.

COSMOPOL. N. Y., Sept. 22.—The scene of the litigation over Harry Kendall Thaw shifts this week to the century-old New Hampshire Capitol, just across the street from the hotel where the notorious fugitive has been sheltered since last Wednesday. Gov. Felker arrived today to make final arrangements for the extradition hearing before him tomorrow.

Pending the arrival of William T. Jerome, Special Deputy Attorney-General of New York, the petitioner, nothing will be made known concerning the arguments in support of the extradition petition. None of the New York authorities was here this forenoon.

The place for holding the hearing was one of the matters to be decided by Gov. Felker today. Two rooms have been suggested, one the Senate Chamber and the other the Hall of Representatives. The Senate Chamber seats fifty comfortably, but this number could be doubled to meet an emergency. This is the room favored by those in authority here, who believe that the attendance should be limited to counsel and newspaper men. Should the hearing be public it probably would be held in the Hall of Representatives, where there is room for 1,000 persons.

Thaw and his counsel say they have no preference in the matter and will be entirely satisfied with whatever arrangements Gov. Felker deems best. They continue to express confidence in the strength of the case they have prepared.

THAW'S MOTHER THANKS ALL WHO SYMPATHIZE.

ALTONA, Pa., Sept. 22.—Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw left her summer home at Ocean near here today and is en route to Concord, N. H., to be present at the Harry K. Thaw extradition hearing tomorrow. Mrs. Thaw made the following statement thanking the thousands who have written letters of sympathy and cheer:

"Before leaving for the hearing at Concord, N. H., Tuesday I wish to thank the sympathetic writers of the nearly 2,000 letters that have poured in upon me in a steady stream.

"These began immediately after Harry K. Thaw made his daring dash for freedom and other man would have received immediately upon the rendition of the verdict. Not guilty upon the ground of the defendant's insanity at the time of the commission of the act charged in the indictment."

HIS DANCER BRIDE DESERTED HIM, HE SAYS, SO SUES FOR DIVORCE

Chicago Broker Fell in Love With Saharet's Photo, Then Wood and Wed Her.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Frederick W. von Frantzius, wealthy stock broker and art connoisseur, today filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Clarissa S. Ross von Frantzius, a dancer known on the stage as "Saharet" alleging statutory charges.

The broker, who was divorced from his first wife, was married to the dancer in New York June 22, after a brief and romantic courtship which began when he fell in love with an oil portrait of the woman.

According to the bill, Mrs. von Frantzius deserted her husband six days after their marriage. Upon her arrival here a week ago to fill a professional engagement at the Waldorf, it is said, refused to go to her husband's home, but insisted on living at a hotel. Jane Florida, the woman's dancing partner, is named as co-respondent.

CHILDREN HATE OIL, CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" best for tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dole" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what millions of children's revolts is well founded. Their tender little "innies" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy. They know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach; and that a teaspoonful gives us today a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with caution.

COUNSEL FOR SULZER BAR HIM FROM COURT ROOM

upon except such as the Governor may recommend for consideration."

The contention of the Governor's counsel, based on the strict letter of the law, is that all these proceedings are null and void. The answer of the prosecution is that the Assembly, representing the sovereign right of the people, has the higher power in times of crisis to take such action as may be necessary to safeguard the welfare of the State, even though a technical reading of the law might indicate a limitation of authority.

MARSHALL RESUMES HIS ARGUMENT FOR SULZER.

When the court reconvened Louis Marshall of New York resumed his argument for the impeached Governor. "It will doubtless be argued," he said, "that under our interpretation the Governor could not be impeached except at a regular session of the Legislature, since it would be unnatural for him to recommend to the Legislature at an extraordinary session a consideration of the subject of his impeachment.

"That is completely begging the question. The mere fact that the framers of the Constitution have not provided for the contingency of impeachment of the Governor at extraordinary session does not deprive the clearly conceived limitations upon the powers of an extraordinary session of their undoubted significance or render them ineffectual in whole or in part.

"While it is true that in case of the Governor there is no likelihood that he would recommend his own impeachment, yet the regular sessions of the Legislature as to duration are entirely within the control of the Legislature. Ordinarily they continue to June each year. There would, therefore, be a period of not more than seven months during which the power to impeach the Governor would be suspended.

JUDGE PARKER'S REPLY TO MARSHALL'S ARGUMENT.

Atton B. Parker, for the Board of Managers, answered Mr. Marshall's argument. The gist of his contention, that the Assembly can impeach at any time, was summarized by Mr. Parker as follows:

"Impeachment is not a legislative but a judicial proceeding. It is not an act of a legislative body. It is not the expression of legislative will, but a complaint, an accusation calling to an account by a quasi judicial tribunal of a person for past misconduct. It is of the precise nature of a proceeding by a grand jury in finding an indictment. Nor is there any more connection or relation between the impeachment by the Assembly and a session of the Legislature than there is between such session and the ordinary proceeding of a grand jury.

"The Governor has nothing whatever to do with the subject of impeachment. The sole power of impeachment is vested in and belongs to that body or tribunal called the Assembly.

"The general power of impeachment by the Assembly carries with it the necessity as well as the duty to obtain that vote at any proper time by any proper means. There is no limitation in the Constitution, and there can be none elsewhere as to the manner, time, place or circumstance at, by or under which this may be done."

SULZER'S FRIEND GARRISON GETS WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.—James C. Garrison, Gov. Sulzer's so-called graft investigator, today received a writ of habeas corpus issued on a writ of habeas corpus sued out by Garrison's attorney.

Call for $1,000 was furnished to insure the Sheriff that Garrison would be returned to his custody pending determination of the proceedings. Justice Cochran continued the hearing until tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Garrison was remanded to the Sheriff's custody.

Over Wilson a Winter Home. WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Wilson today received an offer of a winter home in Columbia, S. C. A delegation from that city told him the house in which he had spent a part of his boyhood and which his mother had originally designed, had been renovated and would be bought by the city if he would come to Columbia. The President told his visitors that if he made his winter home anywhere it would be in Columbia, but that it looked very much as if he would spend the coming winter and others at hard work at the White House.

DEATH IN FLAMES MENACE TO 120 BY BLACKHAND PLOT

Oil Soaked Clothes Found in Grocery and on Stairs to Crowded Floors Above.

Twenty families comprising 120 persons, living in the tenement at No. 51 West Forty-sixth street, had a narrow escape from being burned to death this morning. The grocery of Pietro Garusi on the ground floor was found by the police to have been skillfully "planted" for arson. Clothes had been taken from a bureau, soaked with kerosene and distributed about the place and on the stairway so as to cut off escape from the upper floors. If a match had been touched a holocaust would inevitably have ensued. Fire Marshal McDonough said a more shocking case of attempted arson had never come within his notice.

Garusi, the grocer, has received a number of Black Hand letters demanding money on pain of death or destruction of his shop. These he has turned over to the police of the West Forty-sixth street station and for some weeks a watch has been kept on his place. Soon after midnight this morning Mrs. Mary Green, who lives on the second floor, surprised two men in the doorway of the house and warned them that she had gone to bed in his flat on the other side of the hall. Further roused by a noise in his store Garusi got up and entered the place by the rear door. He found the doors had been forced and saw that a bureau containing his clothes had been rifled and the contents, after being soaked with oil, scattered about the floor. Some were on the stairway.

Attracted by the grocer's cries three citizens across the street saw a man burst through the front door of the grocery and run down Tenth avenue. They overtook him and were beating the man, even though a policeman and fireman were nearby. The man was rushed him to the West Forty-seventh street station.

The prisoner said he was Umberto Valenti, a tailor, twenty-one, living at First avenue and Tenth street. He denied having been in Garusi's store, but his hands smelt strongly of kerosene. He will be arraigned today in the West Side Court on charges of attempted burglary and arson. The police say that a second man got away by the back door of the grocery and over a fence.

AUTOS CRASH; BIG ONE TURNS LITTLE ONE OVER, CRUSHING OWNER

Broadside Collision Charged to Slippery Streets by Chauffeur Who Escaped.

William S. Campbell, an automobile dealer of No. 88 President street, Brooklyn, was driving his touring car west in Twelfth avenue, Borough Park, this morning, when he started across Forty-third street. As he reached the center of the street a big car in charge of William Shurman, chauffeur for Louis Borchardt of No. 147 Fifty-second street, came dashing out of the side street into the avenue.

The cars were on one another before either man could make a move to stop. The big car crashed into Campbell's car amidships. The shock was so great that the smaller car was lifted up and tossed onto the sidewalk, where it turned over, flattening Campbell beneath it.

The wrecked car fell almost in front of the quarters of Engine Company No. 22, and Capt. Michael Quinn and half a dozen firemen ran to Campbell's aid. They raised the car far enough for one of their number to creep under it and haul Campbell out. It was senseless. They carried him into the engine house and there Dr. Andrew Gillen of No. 420 Twelfth avenue, who had heard the crash and run from his home on the corner, treated him. He found Mr. Campbell had his right arm broken and had internal injuries. He was so badly hurt that the physician advised his immediate removal to the hospital and an ambulance was called from the Norwegian Hospital. Mr. Campbell was hurried there in a serious condition. Mr. Campbell's car was demolished.

The other car had its front wheels broken and the frame sprung, but was not injured beyond repair. The wet pavement accounted in part for the accident, as neither man could stop quickly, the wheels skidding on the road.

Evidential. (From the Late Herald.) The French scientist who makes the declaration that man is descended from the bullock probably bases it on the fact that eventually everybody croaks.

her legal representative, have done all I could to bring them together. Mutual friends of both have been appealed to help straighten things out, but these efforts have been unavailing.

"Is it true that Mrs. Blake intends filing legal action as a result of the differences that have arisen?" the lawyer was asked.

"Yes, Mrs. Blake and I discussed that phase of the case—several different actions—but everything is up in the air—nebulous, indefinite—and until I see Mrs. Blake I have no idea what she has in mind."

Mr. Hattie was asked what caused led to the separation of Dr. Blake and his wife.

"There were several causes," he replied, "and I am not in a position to reveal them. Mrs. Blake thinks them serious enough I guess."

Mr. Hattie said that a very prominent society woman, wife of a millionaire, was mentioned by Mrs. Blake in connection with legal proceedings. Mrs. Blake told him that this woman was one of the causes of the disagreement between herself and husband but not the sole cause.

Mr. Hattie said that Mrs. Blake was not in New York at the present time. He said he understood that she had gone to Tacoma and when asked if the report that she had gone there to establish legal residence with a view of getting a divorce in the West was true, he denied it. "I naturally expect to see Mrs. Blake soon," said Mr. Hattie. "In a few days perhaps. I really don't know what conclusion she has reached in regard to her affairs.
