

PRINCE ARTHUR WEDS HIS COUSIN, DUCHESS OF FIFE

Americans Mingle With Royalty at Brilliant Ceremony at St. James's Palace Chapel. BRIDE LIKE PICTURE. King George and Queen Mary Lead Guests—Honeymoon at Waldorf Astor Estate.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Prince Arthur of Connaught, son of the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, and Princess Alexandra Victoria, Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of the widowed Princess Royal, Louise, were today made man and wife in the ancient chapel of St. James's Palace, where both of them had been baptised.

There was room for less than 300 in the simply though distinctly decorated chapel, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalties and notable personages as on this occasion.

Besides King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the King and Queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple to the number of a score or more the congregation consisted of members of the diplomatic corps, of the British Cabinet and of the royal households and of a few distinguished persons who had been especially honored.

Among the diplomats were Ambassador Walter H. Page and Mrs. Page, the Ambassador dressed in plain evening clothes and the only person there who wore neither a decoration nor uniform.

Among the ladies who had received special invitations were Lady Decia, formerly Miss Helen Vivian Gould, and Lady Alastair "Annie-Ker, formerly Miss Anne Breeze, both of whom were accompanied by their husbands and wore their famous jewels. The chapel, in fact, glittered with diamonds and pearls, almost every woman present wearing a tiara and necklace each of fabulous value.

Lord and Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal and Lord and Lady Mount Stephen were also among the very few to whom invitations had been tendered. The bride, who entered the chapel between King George and her mother, looked charming in a dainty dress of white tulle and lace, and adorned with exquisite Brussels applique lace, of which the bridal veil also was made.

Much admiration was expressed at the appearance of the five bridesmaids, who were Princesses Marie, daughter of the King and Queen; Princess Maud, only sister of the bride; Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck, and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck.

Their frocks were made of delicate shell-pink tulle and cream lace, and they carried beautiful bouquets of carnations and lilies, the same flowers as decorated the chapel royal.

The pages were little Prince John, the King's youngest son, and Prince Olaf of Norway, whom everybody in the British Isles adores. Prince Arthur wore his uniform as a Captain of the Royal Scots Greys, with its bright scarlet tunic and high bearskin busby, and all the men among his royal relatives also wore military uniforms covered with decorations. The King was dressed as a Field Marshal.

The Queens and other ladies were in beautiful costumes dazzling with jewels. The ceremony was extremely simple and was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London as dean of the chapel royal, and Canon Edgar Sheppard, sub-dean of the chapel royal, before an altar embellished with gold candlesticks.

WILL SPEND HONEYMOON AT WALDORF ASTOR'S ESTATE. Prince Arthur and his bride uttered the responses in firm, clear voices. After the ceremony the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address, in which he pointed out that while only a few had been able to assist at the ceremony, millions of Britons follow the world joined in rejoicing at the marriage of an English Prince and Princess.

The first part of the honeymoon is to be spent at the residence of Waldorf Astor at Sandwith Bay, on the southeast coast of England. The wedding presents were numerous and costly. Care had been taken, however, to prevent duplication, and the newly-married couple will not have to worry themselves over what to do with, say, nineteen pianos, as King George and Queen Mary had to twenty years ago. The King's gift to the bride was a magnificent set of diamonds and the young prince clad together for a diamond crown.

Increased Danger in London. (From the London Chronicle.) The increased danger of the London streets is realized very vividly when we compare the speed of vehicles before and since the motor era. Twenty years ago, according to a police statement made at the time, omnibuses and vans travelled at the rate of seven to eight miles an hour, the "growler" travelled at about six miles an hour, theansom or private carriage reached the speed of rather less than ten miles while the fire engine rarely exceeded eleven miles. Now the motor bus has a nominal twelve miles rate and an actual twenty sometimes, the taxi is going slowly at fifteen, while the private motorist, who has not the fear of the police before his eyes, scours the road at anything up to the speed of an express train making a record in the race to the north.

Prince Arthur, Duchess of Fife, His Bride, And Some of the Guests at Royal Wedding

MRS. EATON HEARS CHARGE OF MURDER AGAINST HER READ

Sits Unmoved, but Later Quails Under Prosecutor's Talk—Jurors Visit Her Home.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton heard the indictment charging her with the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, read to the jury in court here today. But listening to the charge that she had poisoned her husband, the prisoner maintained her air of absolute composure and followed the reading of the document with evident interest. Immediately after the formal opening of the trial the prosecution requested permission to take the jurors to the Eaton home at Assinippi. Mrs. Eaton waived her rights to accompany the jury on the trip. The twelve men immediately started for their inspection of the Eaton home. They will visit all points which will be mentioned during the trial. The trip was expected to include a visit to the grave of the naval officer who was buried without honors of any kind.

As the inspection trip of the jurors was expected to take up most of today, the State did not plan to start the taking of testimony before tomorrow. Mrs. Eaton displayed some nervousness when District-Attorney Barker made a brief opening address after the indictment was read. Court then adjourned for the day and the jury boarded a special car for the Eaton home at Assinippi.

CASHIER PLEADS GUILTY TO ROBBERY PUBLISHER

Chudoba, Salary $25, Kept Chauffeur, $30 a Week, on Fox's Money.

Adolph Chudoba, for eighteen years an employee of Richard K. Fox, publisher of the Police Gazette, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging grand larceny in the second degree before Judge Swann in Part IV, General Sessions, today. The indictment, one of three, alleged the theft of $115, but Assistant District-Attorney Edwards told the Judge that Chudoba's misappropriation ran close to $100,000. Chudoba is thirty-nine years old and has a handsome home at No. 412 East Fourth street, Brooklyn. This house, lavishly furnished and called "the mystery house" by neighbors because it had a sub-cellar stocked with expensive wines and oriental rugs, and another residence at 497 East Fourth street, Flatbush, are in the name of Chudoba's wife. She formerly worked for Mr. Fox in the bindery of his publishing house. The clerk denied that George A. Oxx, who was manager of the Fox office and who is now under indictment, worked in collusion with him in the wholesale thefts of cash. Chudoba admitted he owned an automobile and paid a chauffeur $30 a week, although his salary was $25. He was committed to the Tombs for arraignment on Oct. 24.

GIANTS' MAGNATES READY TO TESTIFY IN TICKET SCANDAL

Waiting for Mr. Whitman to Accompany Him Before the Grand Jury.

President Harry Hempstead, Secretary John Foster and Vice-President Cornelius J. Sullivan of the New York Baseball Club appeared in the District-Attorney's office today in answer to subpoenas issued for the purpose of securing their testimony before the Grand Jury in the World's Series ticket scandal. With them was Miss Skinner, the stenographer in Hempstead's office, who had charge of the ticket schedule and through whose hands all of the tickets to the games in New York passed. District-Attorney Whitman was not at his office and Assistant District-Attorney Lockhart told the three baseball magnates they would have to wait his coming before being taken before the Grand Jury. Sullivan, who is counsel for the New York Club, made this statement concerning the Grand Jury investigation of the ticket scandal: "We have been all week submitting orders, letters, &c., to the District-Attorney upon his demands, and stand ready to throw open all of our accounts to the Grand Jury. We are just as anxious to have a full investigation as he is, for we are conscious of no wrongdoing; on the contrary, we did everything in our power to prevent the grabbing of tickets by speculators. It is our hope that the investigation will develop a remedy which we may apply in future seasons." Sullivan said he himself had turned in an application for tickets which was unfilled and that he was not even able to get a seat at the games for himself.

BUSHMILLS Irish Whiskey

Some men say that a taste for Irish Whiskey is cultivated. Maybe so. Most worth while tastes are cultivated— And a taste for Bushmills Irish is a decidedly worth while taste.

ALEX D. SHAW & CO NY

FLAMES COMPLETE HAVOC WROUGHT BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Fear-Stricken Tenants Rush From Topping Homes in Night Clothes.

One house was wrecked and burned, two scorched and four others shaken and battered by the explosion of a bomb in the rear of John Cambida's barber shop at No. 353 First Street, Jersey City, early today. The barber shop was blown to splinters and the rest of the building so shaken that it burned quickly when flames started after the blast. The tenants got out safely, dressed in their night clothes.

The house in which Cambida lived next door, No. 351, was severely shaken, as was the house on the other side occupied by Angelo Teorino, a jeweler. The tenants of both houses fled screaming into the street. Both houses were scorched, though the frames prevented serious damage.

The plate glass windows of Jefferson Connolly's saloon at No. 340 and Frederick Reider's dry goods store at No. 357 were cracked. Across the street the windows of a butcher shop and a dairy were blown in.

Frank Pope of No. 21 East Fourth street, Wynn Terrace, Brooklyn, was arrested by Policeman Pladda, who had seen him hanging about the neighborhood for several hours before the explosion. He protested that his brother, who lived at No. 352 First street, had promised to pay him $200 last night and that he had waited all night for his brother to come home.

The police were unable to find that Pope had a brother in the house he indicated, though they said the panicky state of mind in the neighborhood prevented them from getting much accurate information.

There was no report of Black Hand letters sent to any resident in the street. The police say that the bomb was more powerful than any ever set off in Jersey City since the attempt to wreck the Lehigh Valley viaduct.

FIRE IN CIGAR STORE.

Old Team of Mice and Matches Works Haul on Greene Street. Mice set off several cases of matches in a closet of the United Cigars store at No. 117 Greene street, just south of Prince street, today. They smoldered until Joseph Josephs, the manager, opened the place this morning. He found the air in the store suffocating with sulphur fumes and in an effort to find the fire opened the closet, which at once burst into flames. Battalion Chief Helms and firemen under his command ripped out a section of shelves containing hundreds of cigars, cigarettes and many cans of smoking tobacco, which were thrown to the sidewalk. As soon as the police guard was withdrawn there was a scramble and a rush of spectators and the neighborhood was redolent of assorted brands of burning tobacco for the rest of the day.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.

Sunday World "Wants" Work Monday Wonders.

"Many Happy Returns of the Day" are expressed in no better gifts than good looks and good health. From birthday to birthday—as the years go by—these two possessions give greatest cause for thankfulness. And the vital foundations for well-being are good teeth and

Advertisement for Dr. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder. Includes text: "Good Teethkeeping. There's no wiser course to take than to visit your dentist at least twice a year and to rely on the habitual night and morning use of Dr. Lyon's PERFECT Tooth Powder. The Standard Dentifrice, prepared for nearly half a century by a Doctor of Dental Surgery." Includes an image of the product tin.

Advertisement for Sunday World Readers. Includes text: "BIG TREAT FOR Sunday World Readers. A New Series of Remarkable Drawings Depicting the Life Story of Pretty Dorothy Perkins. By JAMES MONTGOMERY FLAGG. Author of the FAMOUS KITTY COBB SERIES OF DRAWINGS. To Be Featured Exclusively in 24-Page Illustrated Magazine of The SUNDAY WORLD. DON'T MISS FIRST PICTURE OF THIS GREAT SERIES NEXT SUNDAY."

Advertisement for "The Electric Show". Includes text: "The Electric Show. Oho, Everybody, get out and go To the wonderful Electric Show! Gee whiz, What a mystery electricity is! But, my scat, What of that? It is the stuff That's big enough To make a new era of living, To put little man on the way To reach the super-human punch That gives the everlasting hunch And puts him there to stay. Oh, say, Look this way: It cooks his victuals, Lights his house, It gins his cotton, Milks his cows, It runs his wagons, Boats and cars, It takes his message Through the stars, It gives him health, It cures his ills, It knocks his powders And his pills, It digs his coal, It pumps his oil, It mints his coin, It tills his soil, In office, field and mine it takes The places of old things and makes The ancient order look like small Potatoes in a hill, that's all. All these it tackles and, by gum, It's waiting for what else may come, Because it's built that way; because It does its work by different laws From those of any force that man Has thus far ever tried to can. But, my scat, What of that? If it gets there just the same, Ain't that the game? —W. J. Lupton. It's in the New Grand Central Palace—October 15 to 25. Opens at 7 o'clock this evening."

Advertisement for Ludwigs Baumann. Includes text: "Ludwigs Baumann & Co. 144-146 WEST 125 ST. Our Easy Terms: An Aid to Home-Builders. An excellent plan through which you may furnish your home complete, on small, easy payments, and at so great expense. Try it today; open an account with us, and see how easy it is. No high, ridiculous prices, no large, exorbitant deposits, but just what you want at the right price, in the right way. The word CREDIT! Looms large in the business world! Why not make use of it at home? 75c a week buys $50 worth. Value $35. Novelty Fumed Oak Buffet, $18.50 with leaded-glass or wood-panel doors. Very beautiful dining-room piece. Will compare well with your other furniture. Has three drawers, two spacious cabinets, and fine, large mirror, together with top shelf. Tapered legs and posts, and wood pulls. ACCOUNTS opened on any purchase from $5.00 to $5,000, and up. Store Open Saturdays Till 10; Other Evenings Till 6."

Advertisement for Sunday World's "To Let" Ads. Includes text: "SUNDAY WORLD'S 'To Let' Ads. Simplify Home-seeking by saving time, temper and tramping."