

LITTLE GIRL AND BABY VANISH IN THE STREET AND POLICE SEEK THEM

Last Seen at Picture Show and Mother Feels Sure Kidnappers Got Them.

Ether Calvese, eleven years old, and her two-year-old cousin, Helen Goody, have been missing since 10 o'clock last night, when they started from a moving picture show in Grand street, near Mulberry street, for their home at No. 23 West Thirty-seventh street. At the request of the father of the Goody child a general alarm for the two was sent out by the police today and detectives were detailed to go to the moving picture show and try to pick up a trail there.

Anna Calvese, a widow, the mother of Esther, is confident that her daughter has been kidnapped and that the kidnapers took the two-year-old along, not knowing what else to do with her. The belief of Mrs. Calvese is shared by the father of the Goody child.

Ether and her little cousin left their home in West Thirty-seventh street yesterday afternoon to visit their aunt, who lives at No. 233 Broome street. The two children were dressed in their best. Ether wore a long fur coat and a dark blue worsted Tom O'Shanter cap. The two-year-old child was clad entirely in white, including a little white fur coat.

At about 7:30 o'clock last evening Ether and little Helen left the home of their aunt, ostensibly to go over Broadway and take a street car for home. But Ether went instead to the Grand street moving picture show, taking her little cousin along.

She was seen at the moving picture show at 26 o'clock by her uncle, Harry Gubens, of No. 23 Broome street. He had supposed that Ether and Helen had gone upstairs being below. Ether told him she was going straight home and the last he saw of her she was leading little Helen through Grand street toward Broadway.

The non-appearance of the two at home last night did not occasion any particular alarm. It was supposed they had remained at their aunt's in Broome street. But the mother of Ether became alarmed early this morning and went downtown to make inquiries. Then it was learned that Ether and Helen had not been there in the night.

Ether is a very well developed girl and very pretty. She weighs about 30 pounds, is quite tall for her age and eyes are blue. Her hair and eyes are brown.

CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.

Reports that President Wilson would make the signing of the Currency bill the occasion for a reassuring statement to business interests exerted a stimulating effect upon the market on the Consolidated Stock Exchange in the early dealings today. On the advance, however, there was very heavy profit taking. This checked the upward movement, with prices subsequently reacting. Commission houses again handled a large business on the floor, with the market one of the broadest since the advance started.

Market Closing.—In late afternoon market was dull, but stocks in general were firm, although traders were inclined to work for a further reaction.

Pressure on Canadian Pacific drove price down to 29 1/4, from which it rallied to 29 3/4 at the close.

The copper stocks held up well on the better trade news. Steel, Union Pacific and Reading closed slightly below last night's figures. Total sales 26,829 shares.

Opening.—A continuance of heavy realizing was observable at the start, but stocks were well taken and fractional gains were shown in all active issues.

There was some increase in volume of commission business, but dealings were still largely of professional character.

During the first half hour there was no evidence of an effort to put prices up, but stocks were wanted, and the legitimate demand gave general list an advancing tendency.

Amalgamated Copper, Reading, Consolidated Gas and others were in demand at advances before prices eased off.

In early part of second hour Missouri Pacific broke sharply to new low record at 21 1/4, but met support and rallied to 22 1/4. Bears argue that Missouri laws reducing rates and partial failure of corn crop in road's territory, added to fact that new financing on pretty large scale will have to be arranged for, were factors to be taken into account. Market was dull on the slight recession.

In early afternoon market was quiet and prices for most issues were around the low for the day, about one point below the high for the morning.
