

HOTEL MEN SUED BY BROTHER'S WIFE FOR HIS LOST LOVE

Mrs. Lewis D. Boggs Charges They Took Husband From Her—Asks $100,000.

Mrs. Constance H. Boggs, who sometimes styles herself the Countess Constance Boggs-de-Tourneaux, began a suit in the Supreme Court yesterday against her brothers-in-law, John G. and Robert M. Boggs, proprietors of the Longacre Hotel in West Forty-seventh street and the Hotel Laurent at No. 147 West Fifty-fifth street, for alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Lewis D. Boggs.

The young woman, who once came into considerable prominence through her promotion of "the world-famous Garden City Conservatory of Music and Art," which faded into oblivion—wants $100,000 for the injury she says has been done to her.

She charges that the brothers-in-law maliciously enticed from the plaintiff her husband, "and detained or harbored him in opposition to her utmost peaceful efforts to obtain him from the defendant's custody, control and influence."

Mrs. Boggs wept as she told her dramatic story in the office of her counsel, Charwig & Falk, No. 220 Broadway.

"I first met Lewis Boggs," she began, "when I was a guest of honor of the Society of the Cincinnati. We became friends. His mother seemed to be very fond of me and two months later she and I went to live together."

"The friendship of Lewis and myself soon ripened into a very deep love, and we were married on Feb. 2, 1912.

"For some reason unknown to me my brothers-in-law never had any use for me. In November last they shipped my husband to Tennessee, much against his wishes, and later had me sent to the psychopathic ward at Bellevue Hospital. After remaining there three days I was discharged.

"I love my husband and I know he loves me. There has never been the slightest trouble between us, except that brought about by his brothers."

Mrs. Boggs is a musician and has made concert tours. Her father was Victor A. Henry, an evangelist.

A letter Mrs. Boggs says was written by her husband when he was in Tennessee to a friend in this city, reads:

"I am sensible of the brotherly love which has prompted my brothers to do all in their power for me. No two brothers could be closer than J. G. and myself, and I am trying to take a great big brace and eliminate my love entirely. The manhood that is in me revolts against turning C. Edrift in this world."

"I have had no opportunity to talk to her, simply deserted her like a dog—turned her adrift in the awful mental and physical condition she is in, and with it I am helpless."

A letter which Mrs. Boggs says she received recently from her mother-in-law runs:

"My darling—Lewis just left. Dear, precious boy, how he misses you! You are his comfort, and I just hope and pray that you may soon be reunited. He loves you so and is so mad away from you. God grant that soon, very soon, you may be together again. He suffers for you, dear. I will try to see you again soon. Much love from mother."

When she established the Garden City Conservatory, Mrs. Boggs casually mentioned J. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. O. W. Belmont and Col. E. B. Green as friends and backers. The institution, it appears, drew half a hundred celebrated teachers at the promise of large salaries, but few pupils.

HUN IS STRUCK BY AUTO OF "LOAN SHARK" KING

Miss Mary Eleanor of the Boy Orphans' Home of Kearny, N. J., was struck yesterday afternoon by an auto owned by Daniel H. Tolman, the "loan shark king" in Bloomfield avenue, Montclair, N. J.

The sister, who was accompanied by Josephine Shepherd, twelve years, was passing in front of a garage as the auto, in charge of Frederick Schwartz, turned to enter the place. She tried to get out of the way, but was knocked down by the fender. The car, turned from its course, struck the window in the front of the garage, and the broken glass fell in a shower about her.

Chief of Police Gallagher had her carried in the Tolman auto to the Mountsinclair Hospital. None of her bones were broken, but it is feared she has internal injuries. Schwartz was released on his own recognizance for a hearing this morning.

EASTER LILIES GRACE ORVIS-HARDIN BRIDAL IN ST. AGNES' CHAPEL

Church Beautifully Decorated in Palms, Smilax and Lilacs at Wedding.

Miss Clay Hardin, daughter of Thomas Bentley Hardin, was married to Warner Dayton Orvis yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in St. Agnes' Chapel, West Ninety-second street, the Rev. William Hollinger, vicar of the church, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin covered with tulle and point lace, made with a long court train. Her only attendant, the maid of honor, Miss Nora Hayes, daughter of Nicholas Hayes, wore pink tulle covered with erin net, embroidered in blue chrysanthemums.

Homers Orvis was his brother's best man and the ushers were younger brothers, Arthur and Schuyler Orvis; also Leonard Sinder, Samuel Hollis, George P. Cutler and Edward L. Davies. The church was decorated with Easter lilies, palms, smilax and white lilacs.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the San Remo, the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvis will spend their honeymoon in the South. He is a son of Edward W. Orvis of No. 51 West Eighty-ninth street.

NEW TRANSFER TAX LAW.

It Requires Corporations to Register in State Comptroller's Office.

Deputy State Comptroller Edward W. Buckley received notice yesterday from Albany that Gov. Glynn has signed the Frawley amendment to the Transfer Tax law, requiring all corporations doing business in the State to register with the State Comptroller their principal office address and the time and place of their incorporation.

Corporations must register within ten days, under penalty of a fine of from $100 to $500, imprisonment of responsible officers for not more than six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

Attorney-General Carmody has given an opinion that the new law applies only to corporations which maintain separate offices in this State for the sale, transfer or delivery of their stock and bond certificates.

UNDER KNIFE 24 TIMES.

Corona Woman Dies After Operation to Cancer Hospital.

What Is Left of the Chases' Jewelry Has Been Locked in a Vault.

Burglars, take note! Miss Edna Chase of No. 252 West Ninety-first street has no more jewels, furs or other valuable portable articles at that address.

A bracelet which she valued at $500 was stolen from her when she was dancing at Healy's a short time ago. That was misfortune No. 1. Last Thursday evening, when Miss Chase and her mother were out, a robber or robbers came, saw and confiscated all the loose jewelry that was lying around and four costly fur coats. Now both women are afraid to go out, yet afraid to stay in, for if any one got in the window, a convenient first floor one, when Miss Chase was at home, she would just die.

"Please emphasize in the paper the fact that mother and I have had our few remaining pieces of jewelry locked up in a safety vault," she said yesterday to a reporter for The World. "Besides, we're going to have an uncle or a cousin stay here, with a pistol pointed at us."

Mr. Healy traced the theft of the bracelet to a bus boy in his restaurant, who has been arrested.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, sweaty feet spread out in a bath of "TIZ."

"Just couldn't wait to take my hot off!"

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "TIZ." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 35-cent box of "TIZ" at any drug department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

If you have not used "Eddy's" Sauce you don't know how satisfying a meal can be.

MURPHY SENDS CHECK FOR DUES, AND IS BACK IN DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Foley and Plunkitt Also Reinstated, but Are Expected to Resign.

Charles F. Murphy, Thomas Foley and George W. Plunkitt, who were dropped from membership in the National Democratic Club March 10 for non-payment of dues, were restored to membership last night, after a lively session of the Board of Governors.

Fifteen of the twenty-seven governors were present. Only two of them voted against the reinstatement of Murphy, Foley and Plunkitt. They are Chief Justice Edward F. O'Dwyer of the City Court, President of the club, and Col. John R. Dunlap. Two other governors refused to vote. Their names were not disclosed.

Dr. Thomas Darlington and James E. Gaffney were dropped for non-payment of dues at the same time with Murphy, Foley and Plunkitt. Dr. Darlington has been reinstated. Gaffney has been quoted as saying he had no further desire to be associated with the club.

On Monday morning Murphy, Foley and Plunkitt sent checks for $25 each for the first six months' dues of 1914. No request for reinstatement came with the checks.

At the club last night it was generally believed that Murphy, Foley and Plunkitt will quickly resign from the club.

TRAILED BY POLICE, TURNED CROOK AGAIN

Abram Brambler, Back From Elmira, Shared in $25,000 Loot of Flatbush Houses.

Abraham Brambler of No. 780 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, was arraigned in Flatbush court today, following his arrest yesterday while he was threatening Mrs. Arthur Voet of No. 109 Winthrop street with a revolver when she interrupted him trying to rob her home.

Detective John McCurdy told Magistrate Steers that Brambler had admitted robbing the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Fraters of No. 962 Lincoln Place, John Greenhall of No. 1929 Park Place and Frank X. Quinn of No. 715 Eastern Parkway and that he told of other robberies in which the value of the stolen property must have amounted to $25,000 or $30,000.

Brambler was released from the Elmira Reformatory last July. He worked for a time in Brooklyn, but found he was known to detectives, he said, and followed around by them, and made up his mind to earn his bad reputation by returning to burglary. A fence in Brooklyn furnished him with a jimmy and skeleton keys and a revolver, he said. The fence, he said, melted down all gold and silver and paid him about 10 per cent of its weight value.

Magistrate Steers held Brambler without bail on the charges of burglary and carrying a revolver.

$125,000 TO HOSPITAL.

No Kin of Mrs. Noe Found in Executor's Search.

By the will of Mrs. Nellie M. Noe, filed for probate yesterday, the Presbyterian Hospital will receive approximately $125,000. The hospital gets one-half of the residuary estate. The remainder goes to Robert Cateron of Woodhaven, N. Y.

Mrs. Noe was the widow of Samuel B. Noe, a commission merchant. She died March 9 at No. 38 Riverside Drive, leaving $250,000. Her executors sought her blood relatives, but found none. She gave $100,000 to relatives by marriage, friends and servants.

COL. CROSBY AND WIFE LIVED APART 30 YEARS, SON SWEARS IN SUIT

Inheritance Tax Case Reveals Chapter in Life of Noted Soldier and Politician.

Unpublished facts in the life of Col. John Schuyler Crosby, a noted veteran of the civil war, were told in the Surrogate's Court yesterday when his son, Stephen Van Hensseler Crosby, as executor of his mother's estate, sought to prove the estate not taxable in New York.

Mrs. Crosby died in 1911 and the chief asset of her estate is a legacy of $400,000 under the will of Maria L. Campbell. Mr. Crosby said his mother's own fortune of $200,000 had been lost before her death.

Col. Crosby lives at No. 206 West fifty-second street and assuming that his residence had been also that of his wife the State Comptroller demanded the inheritance tax. To escape it, John S. Crosby testified before Surrogate Colahan that his mother had not lived with her husband for thirty years prior to her death.

Col. Crosby was United States Consul to Florence, Italy, from 1876 to 1882 inclusive and during that time did not visit America, according to his son, nor did Mrs. Crosby visit him abroad.

From the testimony the inference was drawn that few but close friends knew of the separation. Col. Crosby was prominent in the civil war. He was personally thanked by President Lincoln for carrying despatches. While in Italy he captured a band of criminals in Tuscany and received a decoration from the King. He was Governor of Montana from 1882 to 1884. Last June he received a medal from the American Cross of Honor Society for saving the life, in 1876, of Miss Edith May, who later married the late William C. Whitney.

Surrogate Colahan reserved decision.

DOCTOR ACCUSES CORONERS.

Schultz Seeks to Prevent Them from Ousting Him.

Charging that Coroners Israel L. Feinberg, Herman Hellenstein, Timothy Healy and Patrick D. Riordan, comprising the Board of Coroners, have been "playing politics" in their efforts to oust him as Coroner's Physician, Dr. Otto H. Schultz applied yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Davis for a writ of prohibition against them.

Dr. Schultz's attorney said that the four Coroners had charged the physician with being "subordinate to the Chief Clerk," whereas Dr. Schultz contends that there is no such official person as the "Chief Clerk."

The attorney also said Dr. Schultz was the only one really doing any work in the Coroners' office, and there is no reason why the taxpayers should pay salaries to a lot of figureheads.
