

TO WAR ON WILSON UNLESS ANTI-TRUST BILL FAVORS LABOR

Threaten to Defeat President When He Refuses to Exempt Unions.

BUT HE STANDS FIRM. What the Labor People Want Is Unconstitutional, He Declares.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Open warfare between the Administration, led by President Wilson, and the American Federation of Labor, led by Samuel Gompers and organized labor's representatives in Congress, is imminent.

The President has been threatened with this feud because he will not agree to an amendment to the anti-trust bill to exempt labor from the application of the injunction laws.

The threat of open warfare was made yesterday during conference between the President and a delegation of organized labor's spokesmen in Congress. These leaders were Representatives Lewis of Maryland, Kenton of Colorado, Casey of Pennsylvania and Sherwood of Ohio.

Representative Lewis and his delegation went to the White House and demanded of the President that the pending anti-trust bill be amended to exempt organized labor from the application of injunctions, as now provided by the Sherman law. They told the President that the provision in the pending measure, which recognizes the existence of labor organizations and farmers' alliances, does not go far enough.

They demanded, also, that labor be taken out entirely from the classes of interstate business which comes under the application of the Sherman law. Also, they suggested to the President that if this demand was not granted the friends of organized labor in Congress would take the matter to the floor of the Senate and House and wage a vigorous and open warfare on the Anti-Trust bill.

When the delegation made known its intentions the President called Attorney-General McKeen into the conference. After the arrival of Mr. McKeen, the meeting lasted one hour. At its conclusion none of the representatives would indicate what the President had to them.

It was ascertained subsequently that the President informed the representatives he would agree to nothing more than is already provided in the bill. He flatly rejected the demands of the labor representatives and informed them that provision in the pending legislation complies with the Democratic party's platform pledges.

Administration officials expressed themselves as surprised when they learned of the conference and the demands of the labor representatives. Several of them asserted that at the time the labor provisions in the pending legislation were suggested and placed in the bill Representative Lewis declared himself satisfied with them.

The President is ready to take the fight to the floor of the House and Senate and to the country. He is of the opinion that organized labor wants the Administration to sanction legislation which would not stand the test of constitutionality in the Federal courts.

STATE TRIES TO PROVE FRANK AFFIDAVITS ARE DEFENSE'S 'FRAMEUPS'

ATLANTA, Ga., May 1.—It is reported this morning that when the case of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, comes up to-day for a retrial hearing, the State will offer evidence of framed affidavits by friends of the defense.

The Rev. C. B. Ragdale, who has repudiated his affidavit as to an alleged confession by Jim Conley, negro, now says that when he signed the Conley affidavit there were present Detective W. J. Burns, Detective Tedder, R. L. Barber and his own lawyer, Arthur Thurman.

This statement is answered by all those involved with denials. Burns was on his way to Oklahoma City, but at Chattanooga he heard the news and at once wired that the story was "an absolute falsehood" and said he would take the next train back to Atlanta. Thurman denied that he had induced Ragdale to make the affidavit. Frank gave out a statement from his cell in which he said that for the first time in the history of the South a jury had believed a negro in preference to eight white women.

The defense asserts that the Ragdale matter looks like a police frame-up, into which they innocently fell. It is also reported that Annie Maud Carter, a negro woman, who told of Conley's "confession," also "was recanted."

Mrs. Eleanor Sumner Henshaw, Mrs. Grace Diamond Hevener, who was twice exonerated in the Supreme Court when her wealthy husband, Harvey H. Hevener, accused her of wrongdoing with other men, has served a summons on Hevener to appear in the Domestic Relations Court this afternoon. Mrs. Hevener declares she has not received a penny from her husband since the second divorce action he brought against her was decided in her favor by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Giegerich six weeks ago.

REINHARDT'S 'MIRACLE' BROUGHT OUT IN BERLIN

Crown Prince Checks Applause During Play—Leads Call for Producer After Act.

BERLIN, May 1.—Max Reinhardt presented last night for the first time in Berlin his famous production, "The Miracle"—which made so much talk in London two years ago—before the largest, most fashionable audience ever gathered for a theatrical performance. In the royal box were the Crown Prince and Princess, Prince and Princess August and Princess Oscar.

An attempt at applause in the intervals was checked by the Crown Prince in order to prevent disturbance of the remarkable religious atmosphere of the miracle play, but at the end of the first act the Royal Highness himself led in the call for Max Reinhardt.

At the close of the performance the critics declared that the effect created in the old-fashioned circus, which was so transformed as to give the semblance of the interior of a great cathedral, was a remarkable tribute to Reinhardt's mastery of scenic technique.
