 Miss Mary Ann Taylor, ninety-six years old, of Whitehouse, N. J., was credited to her first automobile ride yesterday when she went in the car of Abram V. Honeyman to visit the graves of relatives. Miss Taylor on the way back from the cemetery, insisted that Mr. Honeyman put on full speed. "A big improvement on the old time," she remarked as she looked at the speedometer. "Kind of think I wouldn't mind riding a little faster in one."

WILSON BACKING WARBURG, DEFENDS "BIG BUSINESS"

Unfair, Says the President, to Regard Democratic Party as Enemy of Enterprises.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Declaring it would be unfair to regard the Democratic party as the enemy of big or little business, President Wilson today gave out a statement in support of Paul Warburg of New York and Thomas D. Jones of Chicago, his nominees for the Federal Reserve Board.
 "It would be particularly unfair to the Democratic party and the Senate itself to regard it as the enemy of business, big or little," said the President. "I am sure that it does not regard a man as an object of suspicion merely because he has been connected with great business enterprises. It knows that the business of the country has been chiefly promoted in recent years by enterprises organized on a great scale, and that the vast majority of the men connected with what we have come to call big business are honest, incorruptible and patriotic.

 "The country may be certain that it is clear to members of the Senate, as it is clear to all thoughtful men, that those who have tried to make big business what it ought to be, are the men to be encouraged and honored, whenever they respond without reserve to the call of public service."
 "I predict with the greatest confidence that nothing done by the Democratic majority of the Senate of the United States will be of a sort to throw suspicion upon such men. Mr. Jones and Mr. Warburg, in manifesting their willingness to make personal sacrifices and put their great experience and ability at the service of the Government, without thought or personal advantage, in the organization of a great reform which promises to be so serviceable to the nation, are setting an example of patriotism and of public spirit which the whole country admires."
 "It is the obvious business of statesmen at this turning point in our development to recognize ability and character, wherever it has been displayed and unite every force for the upbuilding of legitimate business along the new lines which are now clearly indicated for the future."
 The President said today he earnestly hoped Mr. Warburg would reconsider his decision not to accept the nomination and that he was urging him to do so. He expressed confidence that Mr. Jones would be confirmed.

The Senate Banking Committee held no meeting today, but an opportunity will be afforded tomorrow for a formal motion to withdraw the invitation that Mr. Warburg appear to be questioned. It was said today by members that a majority probably would oppose it. Acting Chairman Hitchcock said no suggestion had reached him from Administration officials for withdrawal of the invitation.
 It became known today that several members of the committee are not so much interested in the American connections of Mr. Warburg as with any interest he may have in foreign banking houses and in his foreign investments.

Paul Warburg resumed banking business today. He sat at his desk in the banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., declining to make any statement regarding the withdrawal of his acceptance of a place on the Federal Reserve Board.
 "I am at my desk, busy working," was all he would say.
 Asked whether he would reconsider his decision, in view of President Wilson's reported urging, he had nothing to say.
 A circular appeared in the Wall Street region today viciously attacking Mr. Warburg and his associates on account of religion and foreign birth. The circular was headed as follows:
 "Don't insult Aryan manhood by putting a (Jew) Semite in charge of our national finances and giving him the opportunity of beamrching the finances of the United States and Europe with Semitism." The circular was a thousand words long, bitterly anti-Semitic, and was signed "Aryan Pure Race Society of America."

WILSON HAS SECOND "BIG BUSINESS" TALK; MEETS CHICAGO MEN

WASHINGTON, July 8.—For an hour and a half today President Wilson and ten Chicago representatives of "big business" discussed the Administration anti-trust programme. At the conclusion of the talk the following brief statement was issued at the White House:
 "The President to-day expressed his pleasure at having been consulted by the group of gentlemen who represented the Chicago Chamber of Commerce, and said that he felt that the conference had been mutually instructive and hopeful."
 The White House was silent as to whether the President will change his trust programme as a result of the conference. Certain of the suggestions of the committee, Secretary Tumulty explained, seemed acceptable to the President. One of the points raised by the visitors was that the Newlands act, which demands annual reports from corporations to the Federal Trade Commission, would prove impracticable. They suggested that reports be made only when demanded by the trade commission.
 Another suggestion which was looked on with some favor was that the labor exemption clause be so amended as to protect only labor organizations and the like in the discharge of the obligations provided for their charters.
 Speaking on the labor exemption clause of the Clayton bill, the President told the business men it was intended to legalize the existence and operations of labor unions and similar organizations as such. The Chicago men replied that they would approve of such a provision if nothing else were provided.
 The delegation favored a railroad securities bill, but opposed a feature of the Newlands Trade Commission bill which would make all corporations render annual reports to the commission. They thought that such reports should be made only when particularly desired by the commission.
 President Wilson promised the delegation he would try to arrange a conference between them and Representative Covington of Maryland, who framed the Trade Commission bill as it passed the House.
 The following names were in the delegation: John V. Farwell, J. M. Barnes, Thomas Creigh, L. A. Goddard, J. T. Pirie, H. Cornelius Lynde Jr., A. W. Shaw, Ezra Warner, W. E. Clow and Joseph H. Deffrees.
 Following the conference Joseph H. Deffrees on behalf of the Chicago delegation issued the following statement:
 "The President, as we knew, would be the case, gave us a considerate and open-minded hearing. We in turn were desirous of giving him and the Administration, including Congress, such suggestions with regard to pending legislation as we thought might be helpful not only to the lawmakers but to business generally. In general we favored a trade commission, but suggested certain points which, if agreed to, would make it a constructive policy, helpful to all honest business."
Notes $200,000 for Salem Relief.
 WASHINGTON, July 8.—By unanimous vote the Senate this afternoon appropriated $200,000 for the relief of the Salem, Mass., fire sufferers. This appropriation was put in as an amendment to the Sundry Civil Bill and the House must agree to it before it becomes a law.

This is what some women stand: a kitchen with a hot fire, a steaming boilerful of clothes on the fire; a tubful of other clothes to be rubbed up and down the washboard and got ready to go into the boiler later; noontime, and the wash not done; afternoon, and a tired back, aching arms, burning feet, parboiled face—with supper to get. That happens to some women every week.

This is what some other women do: get an early start; soap the clothes with Fels-Naptha Soap, roll them and put to soak in lukewarm water; get the house straightened out, come back, rub the clothes lightly, rinse thoroughly and hang them out; noontime, and the wash finished.

Anty Drudge Tells the Best Way to Spend Money

Mrs. Despair—"I never get anywhere. Even when I have the time to go I am too worn out with hard work. It's not worth while to try to get done—I never can, and I'm about sick."

Anty Drudge—"A cure for women like you is to spend five cents for a cake of Fels-Naptha Soap, and when that's gone, get some more. You'll get your work done, you'll find that you have strength and time to go out and have pleasure like your neighbors."

Better buy Fels-Naptha by the carton or box.

Thursddy---Another Day of New Savings in the Wanamaker Subway Store

And one that emphasizes again the every-day opportunities which the Lower-Price Store affords to get seasonable merchandise at prices so low that they hardly indicate its high standard.

Women's Evening Dresses Repriced to $7.50
 Few-of-a-kind dresses in light evening shades. Chiffon over net foundation, charmeuse with net overskirt.
 A little price for these kind of dresses.
 Subway floor, Old Building.

Women's Wool Coats to Go for Little—$5
 A big gap between this and their early-season prices. One, two or a few more of a style. The majority are sports coats—in materials and colors that women want now for country or seashore. Wool velour, cheviot, mixtures and chinchilla.
 Note—All remaining tailored suits for women are now $5 and $7.50.
 Subway floor, Old Building.

Young Women's Cloth Suits—The Last of them, at $5
 Our own suits, which have been something more than twice this little price earlier in the season. Only a few suits of a style or material. Sizes 14, 16, 18 in the collection.
 Subway floor, Old Building.

Summer Shoe Sale
 A Friend-Maker for the Subway Shoe Store
