1,000 POLICE ON GUARD IN UNION SQUARE AS "REDS" LAUD DEAD BOMBMAKERS

Berkman Cheered by Great Crowd When He Declares "If Machines Were Made to Destroy They Would Have Been Used."

While 1,000 policemen stood on guard a crowd of 12,000 men and women who packed Union Square from Fourth avenue to Broadway this afternoon cheered, yelled, tossed hats in the air and otherwise registered their approval of Alexander Berkman's declaration that Arthur Caron, Charles Berg and Carl Hanson, victims of the anarchist bomb explosion last Saturday, would have used the infernal machine had they lived. Berkman had to cease speaking till the storm of applause subsided. He had opened the meeting, declaring:

"We are here to honor our dead comrades, murdered by the capitalists, Rockefeller and his agents. There are two presumptions as to how these men met death. One is that they were the victims of the capitalists and their agents; another is that they manufactured the bomb themselves to be used.

"It is the fault of the capitalists if they did manufacture that bomb, and I want to go on record that if they did do so then they were going to use it.

"We are ready to do anything and everything in demand of our rights. I believe in resistance and all the results therefrom. These men were murdered in the cause of humanity. As I said before, Rockefeller and his class would stop at nothing. To them it would mean only a few more cold blooded murders to their credit."

WORDS THAT BERKMAN MAY LATER REGRET.

Then Berkman, who had the crowd hanging on his words, turned his attention to the police bearing them for their compulsion of the cremation of Caron, Berg and Hanson and their refusal to permit a funeral parade or to allow a display of the funeral urn loaded with the ashes of the dead "Reds."

Chief Inspector Schmittberger, who had listened from the balcony of the cottage in the north end of the park, commented as Berkman finished:

"That speech was pretty hot stuff. Of course I won't take any action now unless it should be absolutely necessary, but there are stenographers in the crowd and this will be a case for warrants later."

Deputy Police Commissioner Rubin, Inspector Faurot and more than one hundred detectives heard Berkman's boasts and threats, but made no move to check him.

"I am anxious above all else to avoid trouble," Commissioner Woods had said. "You will hear yourselves
