VOTERS THEMSELVES TO PICK CHOICES FOR PUBLIC OFFICE AT FIRST OPEN PRIMARIES

United States Senator Among Those to Be Selected—Only Those Who Were Duly Enrolled Last November Are Entitled to Cast a Vote.

CANDIDATES FOR PRINCIPAL STATE OFFICES.

Candidates for Governor. Democratic—John A. Hennessy, Martin H. Glynn. Republican—Job E. Hedges, Harvey D. Hinman, Charles S. Whitman.

Candidates for Lieut.-Governor. Democratic—William G. Rice, Thomas B. Lockwood.

Candidates for United States Senator. Democratic—Franklin D. Roosevelt, James W. Gerard, James S. McDonough.

Republican—David Jayne Hill, James W. Wadsworth, William M. Calder.

Progressive—Bainbridge Colby. Prohibition—Francis E. Caldwell. Socialist—Charles E. Russell.

Independence League—James W. Gerard.

Party candidates for State offices will be chosen by the voters Monday afternoon and evening at the first direct primary election to be held in New York State.

Polls will be open from 3 to 9 P. M. under the supervision of the Board of Elections.

Only enrolled voters can vote at the primaries—that is those citizens who formally enrolled themselves at the last November election as a member of some political party.

Any man who has moved out of the election district in which he lived last November loses his primary vote.

Separate ballots will be provided for each party. A man may vote only for candidates in the primary vote.

Dates of the party rolled. Democrats will have polling places for themselves because they won the last election. All other parties combine in one polling place.

The offices to be filled include a complete State ticket, delegates to the constitutional convention, Congressmen, Senators, Assemblymen and, for the first time by popular choice, a United States Senator.

Another innovation is that at the primary voters will elect members of State and County Committees for their respective parties. The number of officers to be voted for in New York City averages thirty-five. In districts where there are contests, the number of names on the ballot ranges from 75 to 100.

Martin H. Glynn is owner and editor of the Albany Times-Union. He was elected Lieutenant-Governor two years ago and became Governor when William Sulzer was impeached and deposed.

John A. Hennessy formerly was an editor of the Albany Times-Union. He is an anti-Tammany Democrat and is the Tiger's most aggressive foe.

His speech in the New York Mayor's campaign last year was a masterpiece of every other feature.

The three Republican candidates for Governor have been prominent in public affairs for years.

Charles S. Whitman is District Attorney of New York County, the foe of police corruption and pro-secutor of Becker and the gunmen.

Harvey D. Hinman is a very keen and able lawyer of Binghamton. He has been a State Senator and is inclined to reform Republicanism.

Col. Roosevelt resulted in a declaration to make him his candidate to reunite the Republicans and Progressives, but the Saratoga conference delegates refused.

So Mr. Hinman became a straight Republican candidate backed by ex-Gov. Odell.

Job E. Hedges is a New York lawyer, liked and admired by an enormous circle of personal acquaintances. He was Republican candidate for Governor two years ago, when the Progressive split resulted in the election of Sulzer.

Mr. Hedges is making an independent canvass for the nomination and claims to be the only unbossed and straight out Republican entry into the primary.

Frederick M. Davenport, former State Senator, is the regular organization candidate, selected at the Utica conference.

but ex-Gov. Sulzer has entered the party contest and asserts that he will capture his nomination. At the same time, Mr. Sulzer is the lone candidate in the Prohibition primaries and has in reserve petitions to enter him as the candidate of his newly formed American party.

The Independence League, better known as the Bull Moose herd in former Gov. Glynn and the Socialists have entered as their candidate for Governor Gustave A. Strobel of Syracuse.

For Lieutenant-Governor there are two Democratic and three Republican aspirants. Gov. Glynn's running mate is Thomas B. Lockwood of Buffalo, son of Daniel Lockwood who was Grover Cleveland's law partner.

William Gorham Rice of Albany who was Gov. Hill's secretary, is junior on the anti-Tammany ticket with Mr. Hennessy.

One of the most interesting entrants in this race is the Progressive candidate, Chauncey J. Hamlin of Buffalo. He is thirty-three years of age, son of a wealthy family, a hard working lawyer and maintainer of the Bull Moose herd in Western New York.

Another Western New Yorker in this same class is Charles E. Welch on the Prohibition ticket, who lives in Westfield, the home of the undermented grape juice. The three Republican aspirants for Lieutenant-Governor are all from up-State counties and they are waging an energetic campaign.

The veteran is Senator Seth Heacock of Ithaca, who long has been a member of the Legislature. Edward Schoenock was unsuccessful candidate for the same office two years ago. He lives in Syracuse and was the popular Mayor of that city.

In choosing a United States Senator, not merely the new Primary law but an amendment to the National Constitution becomes effective this year to permit the direct election of Senators.

At the Washington Heights Hospital it was said to-day the girl had a good chance of recovery. Mrs. Rogers is locked up on a charge of felonious assault.

Mrs. Rogers was held without bail for further examination by Magistrate Murphy in Harlem Court.

Dr. Risch Freed of Abduction Charge. Dr. Henry F. Risch, arrested on a charge of aiding in an abduction of fourteen-year-old Margaret Murtha, was discharged yesterday by Magistrate Geimar in the Flatbush Court.

"I am going to send the papers to the District Attorney for further examination," the Magistrate said, "if he sees fit he can reopen the case at any time."

James W. Gerard, choice of the regular Democratic Party, has had rapid rise in public life. A few years ago he was a wealthy young New York lawyer, with an agreeable manner, high social status and plenty of ability.

He was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court, made a good record on the bench, and last year was appointed Ambassador to Germany, where he has won much commendation for his work during his troubles. Now, without bringing an applicant or under even returning to Democratic leaders as their choice for Senator.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, his opponent, running as an anti-Tammany candidate, is another young man with a spectacular record. Two years ago he was leader of the independent Democrats in the State Senate, opposing Tammany and blocking the long attempt to elect William F. Sheehan to the United States Senate. President Wilson appointed Mr. Roosevelt Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and he occupies the office wherein his relative, Theodore Roosevelt, attained fame in 1898.

An inconspicuous entry is James W. Wadsworth of the Bronx. There is a three-cornered contest in Republican ranks for the Senatorship. James W. Wadsworth of the Bronx is a fine, boyish face and actions, head of a famous old family, for two terms Speaker of the Assembly, and candidate for Lieutenant-Governor two years ago on the ticket with Job Hedges. William M. Calder of Brooklyn is the lone Republican Congressman from Greater New York. He has had much experience in Washington and is noted for his energy and hard work in all Government affairs.

David Jayne Hill, the third Republican aspirant, formerly of the Berlin Embassy should furnish two Senatorial candidates without opposition in his party, is a New York lawyer of high attainments and a sense of humor. His favorite advice to young politicians is not to take themselves too seriously. Francis E. Baldwin, on the Prohibition ticket, is a lawyer of Elmira, and Charles E. Russell, poet and essayist,

JEALOUS WOMAN SHOTS HER 18-YEAR-OLD NIECE

Eight-Year-Old Boy Graphically Describes Cause of Assault.

Eight-year-old Edgar Rogers, who lives with his father, Waldmore Rogers, at No. 438 West One Hundred and sixty-third street, witnessed a tragedy in his home last night and so wise in the ways of the world is Edgar that to-day he could tell much of its cause. This is the way he described the shooting of Selma Strauss, his nineteen-year-old cousin, by his mother, Mrs. Augusta Rogers:

"My father and mother came from Poland when I was very small, and they lived happy, I guess, until three years ago, when mamma's niece, Selma, came from Poland to live with us. By and by mamma got tired of having Selma around the house, because she thought papa liked her more than he liked mamma. So Selma went away and then papa went away. Last week he came and took me to live with him."

"Last night papa went to see mamma where she lives at No. 454 West One Hundred and Fifty-second street and when he came away I guess mamma rushed past me and into the room where papa and Selma were. Selma's sister, Mrs. Anna Plotkin, was in the room too. I heard mamma yell and then Selma yelled and I poked my head in the door and saw mamma shoot Selma in the head."

"I heard mamma yell and then Selma yelled and I poked my head in the door and saw mamma shoot Selma in the head."

"I heard mamma yell and then Selma yelled and I poked my head in the door and saw mamma shoot Selma in the head."

"La Traviata" At the Century

By Sylvester Rauling.

VERDI'S "La Traviata" will be sung for the first time at the Century Opera House next Tuesday evening, the third week of the season, with Lois Ewell in the title part, Morgan Kingston as Alfredo and Thomas Chalmers as the elder Germont. Mr. Jacchia will conduct.

On Friday night the part of Alfredo will be sung by Giuseppe Gaudenzi, the Italian tenor, formerly of the Boston and Philadelphia-Chicago Opera Companies, who made a first appearance at the Century as Don Jose in "Carmen" last Thursday night.

Rosini's "William Tell," carried over from this week, will be sung on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights and at the Saturday matinee, with Bettina Freeman, who made her debut in the part last night, as Matilda. Miss Freeman disclosed a pleasing voice and an attractive presence. Her enunciation of English, however, was not all that could be desired. Orville Harold, in this respect, is a model for the whole company. He makes himself understood always and shows that English is as singable even as Italian.

The first Sunday night concert of the season takes place to-morrow, Vladimir Dubinsky, cellist, will play Bruch's "Kol Nidrei." The singers will be Elizabeth Campbell, Myrna Sharlow, Maude Santley, Hardy Williamson, Thomas Chalmers and Henry Weidon. Josef Pasternack will conduct.

The Board of Education announces the beginning of its free recitals for the benefit of the public next week. On Thursday evening, at Public School No. 57, Grace Ewing will lecture on "English Ballads"; at Institute Hall, Platon Brounoff will illustrate "Russian Music," and at Public School No. 41 Randall Hargreaves will talk of "Songs of the British Isles." On Friday, Clarence F. Vaux Boyer will talk on "Composers and Music of Italy" at Public School No.

159; at Public School No. 50, Dr. John S. Van Cleave will exploit Carl Maria von Weber, and at Public School No. 157, Walter L. Robert will lecture on the "Folk Songs of Germany."

Rudolph Ganz, the Swiss pianist, who arrived this week on the Antilles, which was chartered by wealthy American refugees in Italy, is a reservist in the Swiss army and was permitted by his Government to come to America with the understanding that part of the proceeds of his American tour shall be devoted to the Red Cross fund of his native country. His first concert at Carnegie Hall on Oct. 13, therefore, will be for the benefit of the Swiss Red Cross fund.

Prof. Samuel A. Baldwin will begin his eighth season of free organ recitals in the Great Hall of the City College next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Paul Tietjens, the composer of "The Wizard of Oz," who has been teaching the piano for the last two years in Berlin, has decided to settle in New York.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT OFF TO ORGANIZE A BANK

Goes to South America to Start Branch of National City Bank.

John H. Allen and Kermit Roosevelt and his wife, who was Miss Belle Willard, daughter of the American Ambassador to Spain, sailed on the Olympic to-day. Mr. Allen and Mr. Roosevelt, with their party, were on their way to Buenos Ayres.

"I am going with Mr. Allen," Mr. Roosevelt said, "to aid in the establishment of a branch of the National City Bank in Buenos Ayres. After that has been established there will be other branches arranged in Rio de Janeiro and Valparaiso. Mr. Allen, who is in charge, was the one who reorganized the Bank of Hayti not long ago. Mrs. Roosevelt goes with me for the benefit of the trip, as she is just recovering from typhoid fever."

Theodore Roosevelt Jr. was on the ship to see his brother off, as were several other friends of the Roosevelts and the Allens.

When Kings Are at Peace

The day will come when the spirit of Peace shall bend and break the science of Monarchical destruction. Kings and Emperors will gladly lay down their arms of warfare and drink to the health and happiness of all their peoples. The sun of that golden morn will soon rise and all nationalities will be found drinking our Pilsener and Wuerzburger—the beer of surpassing quality and lasting flavor.

THE LION BREWERY BREWS THE BEER THAT

Makes Imported Unimportant

The Lion Brewery, established 1850, and one of the largest breweries in New York, was the first American institution to brew PILSENER beer. The original German process was adopted—a process which, with modern methods, has become the acme of perfection. Our WUERZBURGER brand is a wholesome, German style brew, which we have decided to bottle in order to meet a public demand for table and home consumption. It is a medium dark brew and can be absolutely relied upon to satisfy the man who loves Bavarian quality with a pronounced malt flavor. It is the ideal barrel beer for hotels, high-class cafes and restaurants.
