manufactured in the Essen plant. The message says bombs were dropped on the buildings devoted to the manufacture of cannon. It is said that the airman escaped uninjured and that the extent of the damage has not been ascertained.

Russians Have Failed in Poland, It Is Now Admitted in London

LONDON, Dec. 3 (Associated Press).—For the first time since the Germans were checked in their advance on Warsaw it was possible today to gain a fairly clear idea of the military situation in Russian Poland in its broader aspect.

Advices from both Berlin and Petrograd indicated that the Germans had definitely succeeded in throwing back the enveloping Russian forces, and were maintaining their positions west of Lodz. It is said the Germans are again undertaking an energetic offensive.

The complete change in the situation—described variously as the failure of Russian Gen. Rennenkampf to close up the ring about the Germans and to the brilliant strategy of the German leaders—is indicated by a report telegraphed from Petrograd by an English correspondent, who previously had announced that the Russians had won an overwhelming victory.

He now states that the Germans are holding their positions, and that the situation "remains extremely interesting and hazardous." The latest official announcement from Petrograd states that the fighting has become less severe.

A German military critic estimates that the Russian losses in killed, wounded, prisoners and death from sickness amount to fully 1,100,000, or one-third of the nation's best troops.

In Galicia the situation is still confused. Recent reports from Petrograd that the Russians had invested Cracow on three sides are now contradicted by an unofficial despatch, which says that the invaders are eight miles from the city.

The Archbishop of Przemysl, the Galician stronghold, which has been under siege for several weeks, is quoted as saying that the situation there is desperate and that the surrender of the city is impending.

LEMBERG (via Petrograd and London, Dec. 3, Associated Press).—About 3,000 Austrian and Hungarian prisoners have been brought into the city by train. A great many of them had their feet or hands frozen. All were captured during the recent fighting in the Carpathians.

The large waiting rooms of the Lemberg railroad station were crowded with officers, including two generals and twelve staff officers.

The railroad yards are filled with artillery, rifles and ammunition captured from the Austrians and brought in by the same trains that carried the prisoners.

Belgrade Was Taken by Storm At Point of Austrian Bayonets

BUDAPEST, via Amsterdam and London, Dec. 3 (Associated Press).—The city of Belgrade, captured yesterday by the Austrians, was taken by storm at the point of bayonets.

The Austro-Hungarian troops approached the city from the westward and routed the defenses. After their victorious assault they marched into the city, cheering loudly.

ROME, Dec. 3.—(United Press).—Serbia has appealed to Russia for aid and there is little doubt since Belgrade has fallen that unless troops are furnished King Peter from some source the complete victory of the Austrians is only a matter of time.

Opposed to the Serbian army—estimated at about 200,000 men—are probably a half million Austrians. The Serbians are also in need of equipment.

Drained of men and money by the Balkan wars, Serbia entered the present conflict in a crippled condition, and her complete subjugation by the Austrians appears inevitable unless assistance is given the Serbs.

The Serbian losses up to the present time will exceed 100,000 in killed, wounded and missing.

How German Kaiser and Czar Hold Conferences at the Front

BERLIN (via London), Dec. 3 (Associated Press).—Emperor William yesterday had a conference at Breslau, in Silesia, with Archduke Frederick, Commander in Chief of the Austro-Hungarian army, according to a telegram received here today at General Headquarters.

Archduke Charles Francis, heir to the throne, and Gen. von Hostensdorf, Chief of the General Staff, also were present. Later Emperor William visited a military hospital at Breslau.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 3.—Emperor Nicholas has arrived at the theatre of war in Poland, according to an official announcement.

Great Train Loads of Wounded Taken to Hospitals in Germany

GENEVA, Switzerland (via Paris), Dec. 3 [Associated Press].—The number of wounded soldiers arriving by train at Dusseldorf, Luxembourg, Cologne and even Kolmar is so great that many ammunition trains on the way to the front have been sidetracked.

This has been going on for the last ten days. In Luxembourg especially there is a large quantity of rifle and cannon ammunition waiting to be forwarded.

The men are being moved at once to hospitals. The German doctors are having a hard time to care for these wounded, made up of French, English and German soldiers, but all are being treated alike.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH Declares Tuberculosis Can Be Cured

It may be generally known that one of all the deaths between the ages of twenty and thirty are from lung and chest disease.

However, in spite of these alarming figures, the Board of Health and a few progressive physicians have agreed upon the most important points necessary to the proper treatment and cure of these diseases.

"Tuberculosis is a curable disease. If a case is curable at all, it can be cured in any climate.

The reason so many patients are not cured is because the disease is not correctly recognized as tuberculosis until it has reached the fatal stage. Do not neglect. Delay causes more deaths than the disease.

If you fear that there has been failure to correctly diagnose or understand your case, call on Dr. Anderson, Specialist in Tuberculosis, Lung, Heart and Stomach Disease, and an expert in diagnosis by special "X" light examination.

1,000 WAR PRISONERS TRY TO ESCAPE FROM CAMP IN ENGLAND.

LANCASTER, via London, Dec. 3 (Associated Press).—An attempt to escape, made last night by a thousand prisoners in the concentration camp here, was thwarted by the guards, who charged the mob with fixed bayonets, wounding several.

The trouble arose from the indiscretion of a prisoner, who boasted to the other captives that he was about to be released. This angered his comrades, who attacked him. The guards intervened but were overpowered.

DEPOSITORS UGLY OVER BANKS' DELAY IN PAYING MONEY

Police Fear Trouble as East Side Crowds' Mood Grows Angrier.

WOMEN IN THE LINES.

Runs Continue on Public and State Banks—Depositors Panic-Stricken.

The thousands of worried depositors who crowded the streets in front of the Public Bank at Ludlow and Delancey Streets and the State Bank at No. 52 Suffolk Street and other private savings institutions in the neighborhood grew ugly today as the slow doling out of money to those who had waited all night in line dragged on to noon.

Most of those who came to withdraw money wanted to pay their rent. Their landlords are insistent, because rents have been slow lately, and those tenants who have until now felt secure of their homes because of their bank deposits found themselves hardly better off than the penniless.

Meantime, from sixty to a hundred men and women were admitted and somewhat ostentatiously made deposits and on coming out talked with the timid ones of their confidence in the bank.

Other thousands of spectators, massed away from the lines of depositors and chattering in many tongues, watched to see the outcome of the wholesale demand for the withdrawal of deposits. The banks opened at 9.

There was no disorder, only ever-increasing numbers, but the police had all they could do to keep a path open through the dense throng for the other thousands on their way to work and for traffic in the streets.

By 8 o'clock the hundreds who had been gathering through most of the latter half of the night at the Public Bank had been increased many times over, and the line extended from the bank doors west to Orchard Street and then south to Broome Street. Those at the front of the line—those who had been up most of the night—were nearly all men, but the newcomers were mostly women.

The Harlem branch of the Public Bank, at Madison Avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, one of its three subsidiaries, was besieged all day by a line of from two to three hundred depositors. The police had no difficulty in managing them, though there was grumbling at the slow payments.

At the State Bank the line was almost as long. It ran from the bank doors north to Broome Street and then serpentine around the corner east for another block in Broome Street.

All patrolmen from posts in the vicinity of the bank have been called in to help in handling the crowds and Capt. O'Connor asked for fifteen men from other stations to report to him at the Clinton Street Station for duty at the bank. His request was granted.

"Everywhere on the east side you hear that you'd better get your money out of the banks," those who were questioned said. "And we want our money."

It was a continuation of the rush to withdraw deposits which began at the east side banks yesterday, following the closing of the Kasas banks in that section of the city and in Harlem and Williamsburg.

At the Public Bank the iron gates before the doors were closed and locked in the hours before daylight. Inside were two men calmly sweeping and dusting in the lighted counting room. No official or other employee of the bank was present.

Next to the iron grating of the locked gates stood a handsome young girl, who said she was Miss Clara Goldsmith and that she was employed in a store.

"My brother came here at 3 o'clock this morning," she said, "and got the first place in the line. He would have got to the bank at 5 o'clock, but I have only been here since that time. My brother is out of work and my mother in Russia needs money, too. So we want to get our money out now; some for us to use, some to send to my mother."

"CLUB GUNMEN; FIRE FIRST" MAYOR TELLS THE POLICE

must be no clubbing of citizens arrested for misdemeanor and minor offenses, but the use of clubs on notorious gunmen who are a menace to the community and to the police called upon to arrest them is an entirely different matter.

WOODS BLAMES COURTS FOR GUNMEN.

Police Commissioner Woods, in a formal statement issued at Headquarters today, put the present scourge of gunmen and gangsters squarely up to the courts.

Clubs statistics of arrests under the Sullivan law prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons, the Commissioner pointed the contrast in the convictions and punishment of violators of this law by the courts.

"The police are not attempting to shirk any responsibility in the matter of the presence of gunmen in New York," the Commissioner's statement read. "It is our duty to protect the city against these outlaws, and we accept the job."

After stating that the gunman had replaced the old fashioned brass knuckle thug, and that the important thing in prevention of the gunman evil was to see that irresponsible persons did not carry weapons, Woods said that the Police Department had offered to the City Magistrates its services in investigating all cases of applicants for permits to carry weapons where the Magistrate had any

WOMEN VICTIMS OF COSSACK ORGY HELD IN CHURCH

Woman Who Escaped Tells Terrible Story of Atrocity in Austrian Town.

A new story of war atrocity was brought from Galicia today by Mrs. Joseph M. Lacks, whose husband is a merchant in San Francisco. She arrived on the Italian liner Regina d'Italia.

"I was visiting in Ropczyca, a town not far from Lemberg," she said. "On Oct. 10 word was circulated that the Russians were coming and that all women better leave before their arrival. Many women went, but many others, myself among them, did not believe the stories of the shameful treatment of women by the Cossacks and remained in our homes. The Russians entered the town Oct. 15.

"They seemed well enough behaved and seemed to justify our confidence that the stories about them were all untrue. So far had timidity disappeared among the people that everybody went to church on Sunday as though there were no Russians in the town.

"But soon after the services began Cossacks appeared at the doors of the churches, interrupted the services and ordered all the men, including the priests and all the children to leave. The doors were guarded and no women were allowed to get out. Then the doors were locked and there was a more awful orgy than I believed this world could know. Those outside could hear the women screaming and the howls and laughter of the Cossacks.

AUTOS VS. HORSES IN THRILLING RACE FOR GEN. DE WET

Captured Boer Leader Rode 50 Miles Before Machines Ran Him Down.

VRYBURG, South Africa, Dec. 3.—Gen. Christian De Wet, the backbone of the South African rebellion, who was captured last Tuesday on a farm at Waterburg, in British Bechuanaland, has been brought here under a strong guard.

This "will-o'-the-wisp of the veldt," as he has been referred to by his pursuers, surrendered finally without the firing of a single shot. A motor car brigade pursued him relentlessly through a sandy and undulating country thickly wooded with thorn bushes.

The cars followed his trail for many miles. De Wet zigzagged and doubled over his horse in an endeavor to throw off his pursuers, but the expiring, over-tired horses he was obliged to abandon in his flight blazed the way for the men of Gen. Botha who were hunting him down. Before he was finally trapped on the Waterburg farm Gen. De Wet, with a few of his followers, rode fifty miles without a stop.

TREASON THREAT STOPS DUBLIN NEWSPAPER

Sinn Fein Gets Warning of Prosecution and Decides to Suspend Publication.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Dec. 3.—The newspaper Sinn Fein did not appear today. The publishers of this journal refused to print it in consequence of having been warned by the authorities that they would be liable to prosecution for the publication of treasonable matter.

This is the second step in the suppression of Irish publications which have been opposing enlistments and expressing pro-German sentiments. The police last night raided the offices of the Irish Freedom, a monthly publication, and confiscated all copies of the paper offered for sale on the newsstands.

STEAMSHIP RAN SEIZED BY BRITISH ON ENDING VOYAGE FROM NEW YORK.

LONDON, Monday, Nov. 30 (delayed in transmission), (Associated Press).—Lloyd's Agency said today that the Norwegian steamer Ran, which reached Liverpool Sunday from New York, had been taken into custody by the British authorities and was being held as a prize.

The steamer Ran, Capt. Borge, left New York Nov. 13 for Liverpool. She is of 1,046 tons register.

The Ran was loaded by Barber & Co. At their office it was said today that word had been received from agents at Liverpool that the ship had merely been detained by British authorities for examination.

The cargo of the Ran, it was said, consisted of varied commodities, among them cottonseed products, copper and nickel. First in the cargo was for Liverpool, the balance for Gothenberg and Malmo.

INVESTIGATE JUDGES, CROPSEY IS TO URGE

Brooklyn Prosecutor to Ask Bar Committee to Extend Its Inquiry.

When the committee of the Bar Association investigating District Attorney Cropsy's charge that certain Brooklyn Judges are so friendly to Edward M. Groat, former President of the Union Bank, that they cannot be trusted to preside at his trial, resumes work to-morrow afternoon Mr. Cropsy will ask that the Judges in question be investigated.

He put up the proposition to the committee on Tuesday during the opening session and to-morrow he will ask for action.

He will also ask that Justice Benedict's criticism of the District Attorney, uttered from the bench a month ago, be investigated.

It is Mr. Cropsy's idea that the whole question of the influence of Mr. Groat and certain Brooklyn lawyers with certain members of the Brooklyn Judiciary should be gone into.
