HARANGUES GIVEN OVER BODIES OF SLAIN STRIKERS

Roosevelt Comrades Abandon Parade Behind Casket Because of Heavy Downpour.

MEYER LONDON ABSENT.

Dead Victims Lie in State in Hall After Funeral Services in Church.

A steady downpour, which converted all the roads of the Little town of Chrome, N. J. into quagmires...

The public parade of the striking chemical workers through the streets behind the bodies of the two victims was given up and the mourners contented themselves with hour-long speeches over the caskets in Van Ness Hall.

The body of Desidero was first taken to St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Chrome and then placed before the altar while Father Harangue, the priest, conducted a short mass.

The Hungarian Reformed Church the Rev. S. A. Coetz read the funeral service over the body of Patsy with few in the church. When both religious services were completed the caskets were conveyed in hearse to the big hall and there laid side by side on a tier in the middle of the hall.

The meeting in Van Ness Hall lost some of the spirit its organizers had planned. Also Meyer London, the Socialist Congressman from New York, who had promised to deliver an address at the Van Ness Hall meeting, sent a telegram saying he would not be there.

Louis Tarsis, editor of a Hungarian newspaper in New York; Leonard Frisne, the leader of the strikers, and others filled many hours of the afternoon with much oratory in Italian and Hungarian.

The hall was jammed, but no unusual demonstration was indulged in. Among those who looked in at the very democratic funeral services was Ida Turbell, the magazine writer, who was invited early this week before the Federal Commission on Industrial Relations in New York.

The shooting was wanton and foolish, she commented. The bodies of the departed victims were interred late in the afternoon, Desidero's in St. James's Cemetery, near Chrome, and Patsy's in the Hungarian Cemetery at Fort Amoy.

An unusual legal action in the case of one of the thirty-one deputies gathered in yesterday on murder charges was taken to-day.

Otto Geunther, who missed the train Thursday, when the original twenty-two deputies were arrested, relieved com-plaint and taken to New Brunswick, and who was rearrested yesterday on a murder charge, was released to-day on $5,000 bail after Chief of Police Harrington of Roosevelt had withdrawn the murder charge and only the misdemeanor accusation remained.

It is said that the counsel for the imprisoned deputies succeeded in convincing Prosecutor Florence that the despatch adds by Dr. L. von Bismarck, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of Finance.

S. S. Wilhelmina Which Sailed Last Night Laden With Cargo of Foodstuffs for Germany

THAW IS CHEERFUL AS SHERIFF PUTS HIM ON A TRAIN

Samuel L. Randall Confessed Taking Checks Meant for Policy Holders, Says Manager of Company.

Samuel L. Randall of No. 2519 Fifteenth Avenue, Brooklyn, was arraigned in Centre Street Police Court to-day on a charge of forgery and held by Magistrate Marsh in $1,000 bail for examination.

A large crowd gathered at the railway station at Manhattan and witnessed the departure of Harry K. Thaw, who left the city at 10.25 o'clock this forenoon for Concord. There was a friendly demonstration, a great many talking the opportunity to shake hands with Thaw and wish him well in the proceedings to be instituted in New York State.

Thaw, accompanied by Sheriff Holman Drew, appeared at the station fifteen minutes before his train arrived. The manager of his custody had not been changed and except that the officer was always at his side there was nothing to indicate that Thaw was a prisoner. A chorus of "Goodby" followed the train as it drew out.

THAW MAY HAVE ROOMMATE IN TOMBS CELL. Harry Thaw will find when he comes back to the Tombs to-night that he is a different institution from the one he knew. During his confinement in the Tombs prior to the second trial he did pretty much as he pleased. His meals were sent in from Delmonico's or Pond's, and there were virtually no restrictions put on his visiting list.

These men were convicted recently and are now awaiting sentence. Max Franklin, their lawyer, showed District Attorney Perkins that the detective who arrested them was lately accused of extortion and urged investigation.

Charles Clow, alias "Bandy" of No. 202 West One Hundred and Twenty-first Street, told Mr. Perkins that William Fleming of No. 221 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street had given him a check for $100,000 and that detectives found the watch and bracelet Fleming. He confessed to Mr. Perkins last night.

Fleming and Clow have been put in the Tombs and the other men will be kept until the whole truth is made known.

ANARCHY IN MEXICO CITY, SAY CARRANZA AGENTS. Many Women Near Death Owing to Treatment of Villa Troops, Is Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Anarchy, panic and disorder are said to reign in Mexico City by despatches from Vera Cruz to-day to the Carranza agency here. Rafael Zubaran, Carranza's Minister of the Interior, charges many women in the capital are near death from their treatment at the hands of Villa troops.

WANTS AID FOR SERBIANS. Mrs. Slavko Grouitch, who was Miss Mabel Gordon Dunlop of West Virginia and is now wife of the Secretary General of Foreign Affairs for Serbia, was among the passengers on the Lusitania, in to-day. She said she was in San Diego, Cal., Jan. 22. It was reported here to-day that Gen. Carranza had been defeated in a fight seventy miles south of Mazatlan by Villa troops. The latter are said to be waiting for reinforcements before continuing north. Between 1,000 and 2,000 of Villa's forces are en route to Nogales, Sonora. South of Guaymas all reports are quiet.

ENGLISH CRUISER LETS WILHELMINA SAIL FOR GERMANY

Does Not Molest Steamer Carrying Food—Gulf Storm Delays the Dacia.

One steamer flying the American flag is at sea and another soon will be, each bound for Germany and each sailing with the avowed purpose of testing the right of the British Government to interfere, under certain conditions, with American shipping.

The Dacia, cotton laden from Galveston, waiting moderation in the weather to up anchor, will determine the question of giving American registry to a German vessel. The voyage of the Wilhelmina, which left New York last night for Hamburg with American foodstuffs, will decide, it is expected, whether Great Britain can stop American vessels from carrying to Germany American goods destined for consumption by civilians and not the military population of that country.

The Dacia, a German steamer, took American registry since the beginning of the war. The British Government says it will stop her and test the case before a prize court.

Great Britain has said nothing as to her course in the case of the Wilhelmina. The steamer passed a British cruiser just outside New York Harbor last night and was not molested.

STEAL IN SAN DOMINGO OF GOVERNMENT FUNDS. SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 23.—Defalcations in the Public Works Department which may amount to thousands of dollars were reported here to-day. The funds are expended under the supervision of the United States Government as trustee for the Dominican Republic. Details are lacking.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—As a result of charges of a deficiency in the accounts of the Public Works Department of the Dominican Republic, Secretary Bryan has ordered an investigation which is now in progress under the direction of Assistant Secretary Osborne. Details are being withheld at present, but it is understood that the alleged discrepancy is about $4,000 and that it relates to expenditures made by Dominican officials or Americans appointed by and responsible to the Dominican Government over whom the United States Government had no direct control.

FIRST NEW YORK LINER BURNING OIL STEAMS

Representatives of Transatlantic Lines Speed Metapan as She Sails South.

The first oil-burning passenger vessel which ever went out of the port of New York—the Metapan of the United Fruit line—started to-day for Havana, Colon and Panama in the West Indies. One hundred passengers were on board.

The opening of the Panama Canal makes it possible for American ships to procure oil from the California fields, as do vessels on the Pacific coast. This is the first time a passenger ship on the Atlantic coast has tried oil burning. The company hopes to get economy, efficiency and cleanliness.

If the experiment proves successful the United Fruit line will convert its 144 vessels, the largest fleet under the American flag, to oil burning.

Representatives of all the big transatlantic lines were at the pier to see the start and will watch the result with interest, with the possibility that the day may not be far distant when big ocean liners will discard coal for oil.

DRIVE BLACK MARIA 40 YEARS; COLLAPSES. Old Jim Cassidy, Pilot of Many Prisoners, Is Faithful to His Job Even When Stricken.

Old Jim Cassidy, who drove the Black Maria laden with prisoners from the Tombs to Police Headquarters for years, collapsed to-day. The driver of a patrol wagon did not move away quickly enough to suit Deputy Sheriff Levy, who shouted at him. This drew retorts, and old Jim was drawn into the argument. Soon afterward he collapsed.

Dr. Cox, from St. Vincent's Hospital, treated the old man for syncope, and when he revived he wanted to get back on the Black Maria and drive his prisoners, but his friends forced him into a cab and took him to his home, No. 208 East Fifty-first Street.

Except for two years of Sherrill Tammson's term, Cassidy has driven the prison van for nearly forty years. Long before that, he was famous throughout the country over as "Jim Cam," a wonderful handler of game chickens and game dogs.
