

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for four years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sensitive Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me. "If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Incorporated), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.—Advt.

millionaires, Messrs. Schiff, Belmont, Guggenheim, Perkins, Gary and not a million, certainly deserves to be. She seems to have a firm grasp upon the problem and proves herself one who studies the question and rightly appreciates the great progress made during her time.

"I agree with her statement 'Bare publicity is the cure for most evils in American industrial life.' Last, but not least, the testimony on Friday of that unaccountable being, Henry Ford, who declares that he could make every convict in Sing Sing a competent, trustworthy laborer in the vineyard. I am not disposed to question anything that this prodigy asserts. Success to him! By all means let us give him a trial.

"I never bought or sold shares on the Exchange; all my earnings were from manufacturing. If it were necessary for me to return to the vineyard I should not consider the problem of labor as at all difficult. On the contrary, I enjoyed conferences with our men.

"We had one rule, come what may, we would never think of running our works with new men. Able, sober, well-behaved workmen such as ours were, are not to be picked up on the streets, and we wished no others. We were very particular in regard to drinking: first offence, men were excluded thirty days; second offence, sixty days; third offence, we parted company.

"One or two partners out of our forty may, as Mr. Phipps has stated, sometimes consider me foolish 'in always yielding to labor,' while I am satisfied that for every dollar so spent we had indirectly ample and more than ample reward. Frankly I consider that folly was one of my best virtues.

"We offered our men 6 per cent. upon all the savings left with us, payable on demand. And here let me congratulate Judge Gary and his board upon the greatest step yet taken. When workmen were made shareholders they were sold shares in the company upon a very liberal basis and guarded against loss.

"I consider this the greatest of all steps forward yet taken for making workmen and capitalists fellow workmen indeed, pulling and owning the same boat.

"All this reveals steady progress upward and onward, to the benefit of both labor and capital, which will some day rank as one of the greatest BEGAN WITH $2,500 BORROWED CAPITAL.

"We began manufacturing with a capital of $7,500; my share I borrowed from a bank in Pittsburgh. When Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, I had seen a wooden bridge burn, blocking traffic for eight days, and I believed in iron bridges; the day of steel had not yet arrived. From this small beginning grew the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, Homestead Works, Duquesne Works, the blast furnaces and locomotive works at Allegheny, our gas works in West Virginia, and the great ore fields we bought from Mr. Rockefeller.

"It is fourteen years since I retired from business, in pursuance of my decision to cease accumulation and begin distribution of surplus wealth, in which I am still engaged. In 1888 I published an article in the North American Review which was afterward christened 'Gospel of Wealth' by Mr. Gladstone. I quote you the following extract from the 'Gospel of Wealth':

"The day is not far distant when the man who dies leaving behind him millions of available wealth, which were the fruit of his industry during life, will pass away 'unwept, unhonored and unsung,' no matter to what use he leaves the goods which he cannot take with him. Of such as these the public verdict will be: 'The man who dies thus rich dies disgraced.'"

"In accordance with this doctrine, my first act upon retiring from business was to give $5,000,000 to the workmen of the Carnegie Steel Company as a parting gift, $4,000,000 for pensions to the men and $1,000,000 to maintain the libraries and halls I had built for them. I was greatly pleased when later the United States Steel Corporation saw fit to duplicate my gift, adding $4,000,000 more to the fund for pensions. I have just read the following report of this joint fund with great satisfaction:

"The fourth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund, made public today, shows that since Jan. 1, 1911, when the fund was established, retired employees of the Steel Corporation have received in pensions $1,575,921.25.

"There are now 2,321 beneficiaries. The average pensions of the cases added were $20.40 a month, the average age of the pensioners being 63.23 years. Not less than $12 nor more than $100 per month is paid.

"The Hero Fund which I was privileged to found has always interested me most deeply, perhaps because the idea came to me through personal experience.

"Mr. Taylor, who was formerly superintendent of a coal mine near Pittsburgh, heard that an accident had occurred, and called for volunteers to descend with him to the rescue of those below.

"A number promptly responded, and many were saved, but Mr. Taylor lost his life. Here was the true hero of civilization who saves his fellows. The hero of barbarism wounds and slays his.

"I could not rest until I had founded Hero Funds, with a total capital of $11,790,000. The report of the annual meetings held at Pittsburgh Jan. 20 shows awards given to forty heroes or their wives and families, with a total of one hundred and twenty-seven awards since the fund began operations. Every case is most carefully investigated.

"The Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh, one of the greatest gifts I have made, has not been mentioned. It has cost so far $24,000,000 and has over three thousand students from forty-two States, 1,285 of whom are men from the industries, trying to improve their conditions.

"The fees are only nominal, averaging $25 a year, one-fifth to one-tenth what is usually charged. The cheapest we know of elsewhere charges $150.

"Some were at first apprehensive that our workmen would not favor the technology schools which teach young men advanced modes of workmanship. These fears however have proved groundless. The men are sending their sons to the institutes, DISCLOSES NEW FUND FOR FRIENDS' WIDOWS.

"After retiring from business I soon found that the widows of friends who passed away were sorely troubled how best to secure the safety of funds left to them. I volunteered to accept the money of one widow, giving her my note for the amount and agreeing to pay 6 per cent. a year.

"The relief she felt was so surprising that I continued doing this as other dear friends passed away, until the number of depositors has now reached 148 with a total of $6,187,494.20 in deposits. I do not know of any service to widows which brings such relief.

"I confess to being greatly surprised to find that in the past few days that I have no less than 421 pensioners upon my list, receiving a total of $214,954.56 a year.

"These pensioners are continued to the widows. This fund has also been kept most liberal, but you will be surprised of all foundations seems to embrace this.

"Shakespeare has tersely put the solution of wealth and poverty before us in these words: 'No distribution should undo excess and each man have enough.' The trend is in this direction in our day, but its fruition may mean centuries of progress, slow but sure, for all grows better.

"The complete statement up to the close of last year shows that the total of our six foundations and gifts amount to $24,657,399. The work still goes bravely on.

"I am indeed a most fortunate man, and think myself in nothing else so happy as in remembering my dear friends to whom I owe so much."

Morris Lilliquit, leader of the Socialist party, continued to-day before the Commission his indictment of the Rockefeller, Carnegie and Mage foundations. He held that the profits of American industry and labor were being diverted for international business extension purposes.

Representative Charles A. Lindbergh said the commission ought to work out a rule by which farmers and laborers could get a proper return for their efforts by a fixed minimum price for products.

"I advocated a Government control of loans to farmers, transportation companies, manufacturers and home builders. This can be done by making real banks of the postal savings bank system.

"The men and women of this country should not, as they do now, ignorantly submit to a banking tyranny which makes them slaves of usurers."
