

EXPECT WHITMAN TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION TO STOP $19,000,000 DIRECT TAX

To Re-enact Financial Legislation Only—Evening World Shows Where Governor Can Save $242,000 More.

ARTICLE VII. By Martin Green.

ALBANY, May 4.—A special session of the Legislature to re-enact financial legislation and cut the State appropriations to a reasonable sum appears to be assured. As The Evening World pointed out, at the time the Legislature adopted the $64,999,999 budget and imposed a 17 mill direct tax, the Governor's hands were partly tied because he had to veto or accept the direct tax just as it stood—sign a 17 mill tax levy or refuse to sign it.

He can prune and trim to his heart's desire but the direct tax will be imposed on the taxpayers of the State if he signs the direct tax bill. Therefore it is beginning to appear to the Governor and his advisers that the only way out is to call a special session specifying that the session shall be devoted entirely to consideration of appropriations.

In two weeks at the most the Legislature should be able to turn out a sensible set of appropriation bills with each item therein carefully and conscientiously considered. It might be done in a week with diligence, but diligence is not a legislative attribute except in the closing hours of a session.

GOVERNOR'S INQUIRY WOULD LEAD HIM INTO TROUBLE.

The Governor's announcement yesterday that he would make all the department heads in the State government explain in detail just what money they need, and why, and why they have asked for more than they need, should it appear that they have so asked, will lead him, it is believed, into such a jungle that he will have to call on the Legislature to help him out. Also, the Governor will have an opportunity to put up to the Legislature all the onus of the excessive appropriations and he will not be shy about doing so, considering that the Legislature tried to put the whole scandalous situation up to him.

Taxpayers of the City of New York are not generally aware that the State pays county taxes on its own lands in the Adirondack regions. These taxes are paid for the benefit of local county officials and landowners, and the practice accounts for the presence in the Supply Bill passed by the Legislature of $208,102 "for advances to County Treasurers."

The attention of Gov. Whitman is called to the fact that under the law $10,000 is due to the treasurers of the counties in which the State wild lands are located. The Legislature has appropriated $63,102 in excess of this

ARE YOUR NOSTRILS CLOGGED? SOME FACTS ABOUT LOW FEES

When the first cut-rate drug store was opened the other druggists tried to convince their customers that the cut-rate drug store sold inferior drugs and warned them against dealing with such. The people soon found that the drugs were just as good in the cut-rate drug stores as in the drug stores that charged the high prices. It was not long before the cut-rate stores were doing the bulk of the business. The cut-rate drug stores sold on small profits and advertised. The other drug stores charged high prices and did not advertise.

When I placed my fees low and advertised the fact, it became the custom of other doctors to say all the mean things they could about my practice and warn people against being treated by me. The people quickly found that my results were as good as the other specialists and that my fees were about one-third what the high-priced specialists charged.

The great number of people I treat makes it possible for me to make a small profit on my practice. I am perfectly satisfied with this small profit at this time, when every dollar must be made to serve the purpose that two dollars served before the great war began.

My specialty is treating clogged nostrils, treating diseases of the throat, tonsils and head. I have been successful in curing many cases of clogged nostrils, throat and head. I can guarantee you a cure in 10 days. My fee is $1.00. I will not be satisfied until you are cured. I will not be satisfied until you are cured. I will not be satisfied until you are cured.

Clogged Nostrils, Dropping in Throat, Deafness and Head Noises. Mr. Robert Allen resides at No. 524 Third Ave., New York. When he first consulted me he said: "My nostrils have been clogged for twenty years. I get a headache every day. I can hardly breathe. I would only sleep a little while at a time. I have tried every medicine I could get. I don't get any relief. I don't get any relief. I don't get any relief."

Flood of Designs for Polymuriel Prizes: Women Eager to Break Clothes Bondage

Nation-Wide Interest Aroused by Contest, Aimed to Find Universal Gown and Hat for the Sex—Whole Month Left for Contestants to Send in Designs—Artistic Ability Not Needed.

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall. Today The Evening World publishes reproductions of the first designs in the Polymuriel Prize Contest. The idea of the contest originated with Mrs. Mildred Johnston Landone of No. 528 Riverside Drive, who is offering a prize of $150 for the best design of a Polymuriel gown, a universal gown for women which may be worn on all occasions and which is to be characterized by beauty, simplicity, durability and comfort.

The contest is open for another month, designs for the Polymuriel gown and hat being received by the Polymuriel Prize Fund Committee at No. 528 Riverside Drive up to midnight of May 31. The judges include Mrs. A. M. Palmer, Chairman of the committee and President and founder of the Rainy Day Club; William M. Chase, the artist; Miss Florence Guernsey, former President of the City Federation of Women's Clubs; Rose O'Neill, originator of the Kewpies; Mrs. William Rogers Chapman, President of the Rubinstein Club, and Mrs. Landone.

The designs published to-day are merely presented as examples of the work of contestants. The designs are not to be accepted as in any sense representing the Polymuriel Committee's idea of what the Polymuriel Prize-dress and hat MUST be. The winning Designs MUST be. The committee has not formally considered any of the designs submitted, and will not do so until after the close of the competition on May 31. Checks will be sent to the winners of the Polymuriel dress and hat prizes on June 15.

A study of the "Boy Blue" Polymuriel costume submitted by "Helen" shows that with simple modifications of belt, collar, sleeves and skirt flounces the same costume may be made to do duty as a tailor-made afternoon gown, an outing dress, an evening gown and a lingerie frock.

INTEREST AROUSED EVEN ON PACIFIC COAST. The three hat designs submitted represent three conceptions of head-dress that is beautiful, simple, durable, comfortable, economical and that may be worn on any occasion.

The Polymuriel Prize Contest is arousing a great interest among women in all parts of the country. Ellen Colt Elliott writes the Polymuriel Committee from Stanford University, Cal.: "I am much interested in such an attempt to modify the utter frivolity of our attitude toward our clothes."

"Day before yesterday I attended in San Francisco a joint business meeting of two important women's organizations, one of them of national scope, and the gowns and, more particularly, the hats, were flagrantly, wilyly, conspicuously IDIOTIC—such as to misrepresent totally the personages and parts of the wearer. The daily wear of red velvet ribbons, tipped with shining red cherries, dangling irregularly over her black hat and down her back hair and over her ears. Another official was so cooped up in the cosquities of a girl's joke with streamers that her face could scarcely be seen at all, and another wore a hat with a large plume upon her head a flare of crown wings about two feet across.

"I should surely like to help along the Polymuriel Committee if I were over the allowance of last year, and experts assert that it is excessive to the amount of the increase. In the interests of economy the Legislature has wiped out the old State Athletic Commission, the members of which served without pay, and have substituted another commission of three members, who are to be paid $1,000 a year apiece. Had the design of the administration and to remove the present commission and substitute another, it would have been possible to pick men willing to serve without pay. But here was a chance and it is reported that one of the patriots is an ex-leader of Tammany Hall who aided John A. Hennessy in the last election.

CHANCE TO LOP OFF $241,945 SHOWN TO-DAY. Some years ago the projectors of a private institution called the Institute for the Study of Malignant Diseases, located at Buffalo, asked the State for aid in putting up buildings and establishing a plant. They said that

LENGTHEN BALLOT, IS PROPOSITION TO CONSTITUTION MAKERS

Brackett of Saratoga Makes It in Preparing for Fight—Has Backing at Convention.

ALBANY, May 4.—Edward T. Brackett of Saratoga, who will lead a fight on the constitutional convention against the adoption of the short ballot system, today presented several propositions to the convention designed to lengthen the ballot. In addition to these, of which Brackett would add, Wigwag proposed suggesting the election of a Highway Commissioner. Wigwag also would require that a man must live in New York for instead of five years before becoming eligible to the governorship.

A short ballot proposal was introduced by E. N. Smith, Republican of Watertown. It would provide for the election of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Comptroller and Attorney General. The Governor would be empowered to appoint secretaries of Charities, Commerce and Labor, Domestic Finance, Interior, Public Works and a Secretary of State, their appointments to be confirmed by the Senate. The appointive officers and the State Commissioner of Education, who under the present laws is appointed by the State Regents, would compose the Governor's cabinet. The terms of the proposed new officers would be four years.

Other proposals included Kirby's to abolish all fees for State and county officers and to compel the State Board of Charities to make public reports of their investigations of institutions under their supervision; Nixon's to abolish tax exemptions and to provide a method whereby voters necessarily absent from their districts on registration day should not lose their suffrage; Westwood's to limit the State to no more than one as an individual and Wagner's to provide home rule for cities.

CROWD APPLAUD AS MANDEL IS SENTENCED

East Side Banker Goes to Sing Sing to Serve Not Less Than Two and One-Half Years.

Adolf Mandel, whose bank at No. 155 Livingston Street was closed by the State Banking Department July last and who was convicted before Supreme Court Justice Davis last Friday of receiving deposits with knowledge the bank was insolvent, was today sentenced to Sing Sing prison for not less than two years and six months and not more than five years and to pay a fine of $3,000. In default of the payment of the fine Mandel will have to remain in prison one day for each dollar.

The sentence imposed by Justice Davis was received with loud applause by hundreds of the fourteen thousand depositors of the bank who crowded the courtroom and the corridors of the Criminal Courts Building. Scores of these people, men and women, ran after District Attorney Perkins and his assistants, Wasservogel and Medalle, cheering them for the conviction of Mandel.

JERSEY BANKS WIN PLEA.

GIRL WHO LOST SCALP GETS $20,000 DAMAGES

Cries With Mother and Jurymen When Verdict Is Handed in To-Day in Court.

Mary Haynes, the worker in the dye factory of Cook & Cobb, in Brooklyn, whose scalp was torn off by a belt, received today a verdict for $20,000 before Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. The accident happened in August, 1913, when Miss Haynes was sixteen years old. She sued for $50,000.

During the trial a photograph of the girl in long hair was shown to the jurymen and by way of contrast, she was asked to remove the wig she now wears. Her head was seen to be practically bald.

The girl, her mother and several of the jurymen cried to-day when the verdict was announced.

KEITEL GETS A YEAR.

Sentenced to Blackwell's Island and Fined $500.

Adolph Keitel, the mail broker, of No. 18 Broadway, who for five years has been writing scurrilous and libelous circulars tending to impair the credit of the American Mail Telegraph company and branding its officers as "self-confessed thieves and convicts," was sentenced today to the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island for one year by Judge Tompkins in General Sessions. Keitel was convicted by a jury a week ago.

In imposing sentence Judge Rosalinsky told Keitel there were absolutely no extenuating circumstances, he having been convicted once before of a similar offense, for which he served six months in the penitentiary.

"It is the opinion of the Court," Judge Rosalinsky said, "that you should receive the maximum sentence for the crime. In addition to sending you to the penitentiary for one year, I shall impose a fine of $500, and in default of the payment of that fine it is the order of the Court that you be imprisoned one day for each dollar of the fine."

CANADIAN WAR WIDOW BRINGS HOME HER DEAD

Another Not so Fortunate—Two Captains Had Been Substituted.

The Canadian "war widow" who first returned from Europe, arrived here today on the Anchor Line Transatlantic. They were Mrs. Mary Warren, widow of Capt. Truman Warren, and Mrs. Clara Harding, both of Toronto. Their husbands were in the Forty-eighth Canadian Highlanders. Only the body of Capt. Warren was brought home. Capt. Warren was so seriously injured in the fighting at Hill 60 that it was impossible to recover his body for burial in Canada.

The two officers had been schoolmates in Canada, finally entering the Royal Military Academy at Kingston, Canada's West Point. When they entered the service and were sent to England, their wives went with them and remained in London when the regiment was ordered to the Continent.

Just before the battle of Neuve Chapelle, at the first meeting of the Canadians and the Germans, Capt. Harding was shot in the trenches, two bullets piercing his body. He was evacuated back to London and there his wife nursed him until he died two weeks ago.

Memorial services for the two officers were held in All Saints' Church in London. Capt. Harding's funeral will be held in Toronto next Thursday.

Study Gettysburg Battlefield.

Many points of the field were visited to-day and lectures were given at several places, the speakers pointing out why certain movements were made.

Well-Groomed Women Remove Hair with El Rado

For women who wish to be correctly and tastefully groomed El Rado, the Sanitary Liquid Hair Remover, has become an important toilet necessity. It is essential that the hair be removed from under the arms if the stylish sleeveless evening gowns or the sheer, transparent dresses are to be worn without embarrassment. Observe the women in the ballroom, on the stage and in the fashionable restaurants.

Any form of cutting or shaving undesirable hair should be carefully avoided, as this not only increases the growth but causes it more and more. El Rado removes hair from the face, lip, neck or arms for a much longer period, and instead of coarsening the hair it becomes finer with each application. All you have to do is to saturate the hair thoroughly with a little El Rado and in a few moments the hair becomes harmlessly dissolved. You then wash off with some plain water and the hair is all gone, while the skin is left in a perfectly smooth, clear condition.

El Rado is sold in 50c and $1.00 sizes at leading drug and department stores with the distinct understanding that the money is to be refunded if not satisfactory. Try El Rado on your arm to-day. Take nothing else.

If you prefer we will gladly fill your order by mail. In this case we will send you a free trial sample. For full information and a postal program, fill in and mail to: Lane Bryant, 274 East 26th St., New York, N.Y.
