PHILADELPHIA BALL GROUND. Oct. 13.—The Phillies went into the fifth game against the Red Sox full of confidence. At the last minute Mayer got the pitching assignment against Foster.

Official attendance was announced as 20,806. FIRST INNING—On the first ball pitched, Hooper swung heavily and whipped a clean line drive past Bancroft for a single. Scott also refused to wait, but in attempting a bunt lifted an easy pop fly to Luderus. The Sox evidently had prearranged this quick rush on Mayer, and Speaker smashed at the first one as hard as the others. He was a sharp grounder, stopped by Luderus and thrown to Bancroft, forcing out Hooper. Hoblitzel, without hesitating, slammed at the first one and fouled it into left. Hoblitzel then took two balls, but was out on a beautiful throw from Burns to Bancroft. NO RUNS, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS, NONE LEFT.

Foster pitched the first one inside for Stock. He then hit Stock in the ribs with a close pitched ball. Instead of the old army game, Bancroft took a hard slam at the ball and drove it into left for a clean single. Stock pulling up at second, Paskert sent a crazy bunt bounding past Foster and beat it out for a clean

SERUM VICTORIOUS AS DEATH BECKONS ANTHRAX VICTIM

Judge Stackpole Shows Amazing Recovery After Family Is Summoned.

SURE HE'LL GET WELL. Doctor Says Danger From Swelling Is Gone and There Is Strong Hope.

The anthrax serum supplied by the United States Government to the doctors who are treating George F. Stackpole, the seventy-year-old Riverhead lawyer in the isolation ward of Bellevue hospital, appears to have at last taken effect. The patient's ultimate recovery is expected. An injection of forty cubic centimetres of the serum at 9 o'clock this morning will, it is hoped by the physicians, be sufficient to eradicate the poison in the blood of the anthrax victim.

At 3 o'clock this morning Mr. Stackpole was given up by the doctors. His wife, his son Philip and his daughter, Cyrena, were summoned to his bedside. His temperature was 104 and his pulse was indistinguishable. He was slowly strangling and the watchers abandoned hope.

After two or three hours, during which period the life of the patient hung by a thread, there was a sudden change. Mr. Stackpole showed signs of renewed vigor. His temperature diminished perceptibly and his pulse began to throb. Within an hour after the change he was able to sit up and talk.

"Well," he whispered, "I'm still here. I think from the way you all looked you thought I was gone. I could see that the doctors had given me up but I didn't give myself up. Possibly it is because of my lack of medical knowledge but I didn't feel that my time had come. And now I think I will pull through."

DIRECTORS OF N. H. BROUGHT TO TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY

Dozen Millionaires, Including William Rockefeller, Answer Charges.

200 TALESMEN CALLED. Penalty May Be Imprisonment for One Year and Fine of $5,000.

The trial of the millionaires, bankers, railroad magnates and lawyers charged criminally with violating the Sherman Law in connection with their management of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad began to-day in the United States District Court before Judge Hunt.

The defendants at the bar were William Rockefeller, Charles M. Pratt, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Charles F. Brooker, Edward D. Robbins, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, H. Newton Robertson, James S. Hemmingsway, Henry K. McHarg, Frederick S. Brewster and George Macculloch Miller.

If convicted one and all of these eminent men faces a sentence of one year in prison and a fine of $5,000. The array of counsel was as impressive as the collective wealth and financial power of the defendants. Those who crowded at the six tables before the judge, with their defendants, were: R. V. Lindabury for Rockefeller; Royall Victor Goldthwaite, H. Dorr and Eustace Seligman, for Brooker; W. W. Miller, Henry M. Earle and John W. Dixon, for Taft; De Lancey Nicoll and John D. Lindsay, for Ledyard; John G. Milburn and John D. Lindsay, for Charles M. Pratt; Thomas D. Thacher, Thomas Thacher, G. H. Dorr and Homer S. Cummings, for Barney, Brewster and McHarg; John W. H. Crim, for Hemmingsway and Robertson; Michael Kenealy, for Edward D. Robbins, and Alton B. Parker, for Miller.

The only defendant not present was the venerable Mr. Miller, eighty-four years old, who is ill at his home in Morristown.

P. S. ENGINEER TELLS HOW SUBWAY CAVED IN

Blast in Seventh Avenue Caused Rock to Knock Down Supports, He Says. Robert Ridgway, engineer of subway construction for the Public Service Commission was recalled to the stand at this afternoon's session of Coroner Feinberg's inquest into the Seventh Avenue subway disaster of Sept. 22, in which eight persons were killed and nearly 100 injured when the street decking collapsed.

ONE OF NEW HAVEN'S MILLIONAIRE DIRECTORS ON TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY

MAN AND WOMAN SHOT WALKING IN STREET

Seven Men Held as Witnesses, but Assassin Escapes Through a Crowd. Thomas Lamonte, a clerk and a girl known as Rose Lamonte, neither of whom would give an address were shot at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at First Avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth Street by a man who is believed to have made good his escape. Seven men are held by the police as material witnesses, but all deny any knowledge of the shooting.

Lamonte and the girl were walking in arm in arm through One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, and passed through a crowd of men at the First Avenue corner. The street was crowded at the time. Somebody fired three shots at them. Both were shot through the body and Lamonte sustained, in addition, a wound in the left arm. They were taken to Stuyvesant Hospital.

AVIATOR IN AIR STUNTS OVER LOWER MANHATTAN

Workers in downtown office buildings and residents of South Brooklyn enjoyed a free show this afternoon when John Donnelly, a Swiss aviator, performed a variety of stunts over the Bay and the lower East River in a Bleriot monoplane. Donnelly kept to high air levels and frequently swooped to a level when the air was stirred by clouds.

BANKERS DECLARE IN FAVOR OF STATE INCOME TAXATION

Isaac N. Seligman and Clarence H. Kelsey Appear Before Mills Committee.

AGAINST PERSONAL TAX. Wealthy Men Resent Present Haphazard Methods of Making Up Lists.

Bankers and financiers of New York City have decided to favor a State income tax as the new source of revenue to help out government and to relieve the pressing burden on real estate. Clarence H. Kelsey, President of the Title Guaranty and Trust Company, and Isaac N. Seligman, head of the old private banking firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co., appeared to-day before the Mills Legislative Committee investigating taxation at the Merchants' Association, and unreservedly gave their support to the income tax proposition.

While disclaiming to speak officially for any excepting themselves, both gentlemen have been conferring with leading financiers and their views expressed to-day may be taken as reflecting the general sentiment of the banking district. Seligman told the committee that he had talked over the subject with a number of prominent men and that the general sentiment was in favor of the tax.

Kelsey has been active among members of the Chamber of Commerce and large property owners and has cooperated with Mr. Seligman in finding a solution for the tax problem that would be fair and satisfactory.

The income tax plan as outlined by the bankers lays stress upon two cardinal requirements, namely that it should be laid upon all classes, rich and poor, so that every man would be bearing his share of the burden. They suggested beginning with incomes of $1,000 or $1,500. Secondly, they held that the tax should be levied upon people doing business in the city and living outside, as well as upon those actually residing here. In this way there would be no exodus to Jersey for the purpose of avoiding taxation.

"The present burden of taxation," Kelsey said, "is bearing heavily on all classes connected with real estate, the owner, the borrower and the tenant. Real estate cannot stand any further burden."

"A State income tax is the most effective way of reaching the greatest number and represents the most exact justice. It would be a great mistake to exempt the moderate income. The $4,000 exemption in the federal tax was a great mistake. I think a State income tax should begin on incomes as low as $1,000. "First, you need the revenue and, second, you should interest the greatest number in operations of state government through payment of some tax. "It should reach those who make their money here as well as those who actually live here. If they do their business here, some way should be found to collect from them. Then there would not be such an exodus to Jersey as has been feared."

SERBIAN ARMY DRIVEN BACK, TEUTONS TAKE MORE TOWNS, BUT BULGARS ARE HALTED

Russia Is Preparing to Strike at Bulgarians and May Rush Army Through Roumania or Land Force at Black Sea Ports.

KAISER IN SERBIA TO COMMAND INVADERS

PETROGRAD, Oct. 13.—Another striking victory has been won by the Russians on the southern front, in Eastern Galicia. They have pierced the last line of Austrian defenses on the Stripa River and stormed one of the strongest points on the Austro-German right flank.

This achievement of the Russians, following their successes reported yesterday on the Dvinsk front, represented a continuation of the recent strong offensive movement north of the Roumanian frontier. The position which they stormed was on a hill to the east of the village of Giorvanka, on the right bank of the Stripa, thirteen miles north of Buchach. From this base the Austrians had prepared to strike at the Russian left flank extending toward Pinsk. The Russian successes around Kolka and Chartoriesk enabled them to obtain a footing on the left bank of the Styr, which seriously menaced their opponents.

Having thus completely secured the Rovno district and the road leading into Volhynia and the marsh region, the Russians occupied strong positions along the rivers Olychka, Styr and Ikva. Between 2,000 and 3,000 prisoners were captured by the Russians. The War Office estimates that upward of three divisions of the Austrians (36,000 men) were disorganized. It characterizes this success as a tactical, strategical and political victory, asserting it will compel Gen. Von Linsingen to regroup his forces on the whole front, which will affect operations in the entire southeastern district.

Germans and Austrians Sweep on From Belgrade

OFFICIAL GERMAN REPORT. BERLIN (via London) Oct. 13.—The War Office communication in regard to the Balkan campaign follows:

"The resistance of the Serbians was sufficient to hold up only slightly our forward movement. South of Belgrade the village of Zaleznik and the heights east of the village, on both sides of Topederska, were stormed. Attacks upon Pozarevac are continuing most savagely. The Pozarevac-Gradiste Road has been crossed in a southerly direction." A despatch from Vienna says Austrian and German troops are attacking the Serbians all along their front on the south banks of the Danube and Save Rivers and the east side of the Drina. The invaders control the hills overlooking all the river crossings.

Serbians Claim a Check of the Bulgarian Invaders

ATHENS (via London), Oct. 13.—The Serbians to-day repulsed a Bulgarian attempt to take their positions south of Zaitchar, on the railroad between Nish and Prochova. LONDON, Oct. 13.—Bulgaria has declared war on Serbia, says a Central News despatch from Paris. Russia is to strike at the Bulgars, but the exact point of attack is a military secret. Russian troops may be landed from transports on the Black Sea at Varna or Burgas, but this is regarded as a hazardous task, especially since Turkey has sent additional troops into Thrace for just such a move. There is ground for the belief that the attack will be through Roumania, the direction of Kaiser Wilhelm, who Premier Britano of Roumania is said to have given his pledge that Roumania will join hands with the Quadruple Entente at a later date. It is believed that the Bucharest Government will permit the passage of allied troops from Salonica, even though she does not enter the war at this time. Roumania has long viewed the Transylvania section of Austria-Hungary with covetous eyes, and it may have been promised her if the allies are victorious. "PARIS, Oct. 13.—Serbia's little army is in peril to-day. Fighting continues along the Drina, Save and Danube Rivers, where the German allies are advancing steadily under the attack will be through Roumania, the direction of Kaiser Wilhelm, who
