So Says Surrogate Fowler in Plea for Retrenchment in State's Expenses.

TO STOP EXTRAVAGANCE
As Taxes Increase Spendthrifts Grow Bolder—Opposes Income Tax.

Another warning for radical retrenchment in State and city expenditures instead of increased taxation has been given the Mills Investigating Committee by Surrogate Robert L. Fowler, following upon the similar utterance last week from the Association of Savings Banks. A very large part of the State's indirect revenues comes through the Surrogate's Court from inheritance taxes. It likewise furnishes local authorities information for personal property taxation upon estates.
