DAD SAYS BOYS ARE ALL EARS. SISTER SAYS THEY ARE ALL MOUTH. MA SAYS THEY ARE ALL STOMACH. BUT MY UNCLE BOB SAYS THEY ARE ALL RIGHT!

Saved!

A very fashionable and equally expensive tailor shop about town a certain middle-aged out-of-town customer discovered that he lacked sufficient change to pay for his humble purchase—a pair of gray gloves. "May I charge them?" he asked. "I find I haven't my checkbook with me." "What was the name?" demanded the rather displeased tailor in peremptory manner. He was told the name and address. "Oh, that's all right, sir," exclaimed the tailor, now beaming with exaggerated affability. "Your son trades here."—Yale Record.

Taking No Chances.

M. CAPRON and his wife struggled valiantly to teach their little daughter Edith to repeat the letter "a." Try as they repeat the letter "a." Try as they repeat the first letter in the alphabet, and after several vain efforts Mr. Capron retired from the struggle discouraged. Mrs. Capron called the child to her, and in an affectionate manner asked: "Edith, dear, tell mother why you won't learn to say 'a.'" "Well, mother," explained Edith, "it's because just as soon as I say 'a' you and father will want me to say 'b.'"—Harper's Magazine.

On Second Thoughts.

"CHARLIE," said the young mother, "I've decided on a name for baby. We will call her Imogen." Papa was lost in thought a few moments. He did not like the name, but if he opposed it his wife would have her own way. "That's nice," said he presently. "My first sweetheart was named Imogen, and she will take it as a compliment." "We will call her Mary, after my mother," was the stern reply.—National Monthly.

The Alternative.

In an Eastern city there was a young man who was not very ambitious. The kind of work that he was willing to do was not forthcoming and the result was a regular attendance at the cigar store. "Hello, Jim," solicitously remarked a friend, meeting the young man on the street one afternoon: "have you got that position yet?" "No," responded the youth with an appropriate sigh. "positions seem to be very scarce just now." "Still, I wouldn't give up, old boy," kindly encouraged the friend. "If you can't get a position why not take a job?"—Philadelphia Chronicle-Telegraph.

"NOW, Willy," said the mother, "you told me a falsehood. Do you know what falsehoods are?" "No, ma'am," replied Willy sheepishly. "Why," continued the mother, "a big black man with only one eye in the center of his forehead comes along and flies with him up to the moon, and makes him pick sticks for the balance of his life. Now, you will never tell a falsehood again, will you? It is awfully wicked!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

8 Visits for $5

The reason why many people suffering from catarrhal troubles are not cured is because they cannot afford to receive proper treatment often enough. The offer of the nominal fee rate of 8 visits for $5 is a great boon to all who are afflicted with all ailments from catarrh of the nose, throat, and lungs, and who are unable to receive treatment as often as it is needed. I take this opportunity of notifying all those who require treatment for catarrhal troubles that with $5.00 for treatment will be a charge of $5.00 for eight necessary treatments. This fee will include all necessary treatment and medicine. In order to take advantage of this low offer it will be necessary to visit my office and enroll your name on or before Dec. 31. Before Jan. 1 will receive treatment as long as they require it without any increase in the fee.

Stood on His Rights.

A MAN arrested for stealing chickens was brought to trial, says the Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph. The case was given to the jury, who brought him in guilty, and the Judge sentenced him to three months' imprisonment. The jailer was a jovial man, fond of a smile, and, feeling particularly good on that particular day, considered himself insulted when the prisoner, looking around the cell, told him it was dirty and not fit for a hog to be put in. One word brought on another till
