

Beethoven And Bach by Philharmonic

By Sylvester Rauling. JOSEF STRANSKY, conductor of the Philharmonic Society's Orchestra, has won his place with us...

Mr. Stransky and his orchestra had the assistance of the Oratorio Society's chorus, Louis Koemanen conductor, and of a quartet consisting of Caroline Hudson-Alexander, soprano; Nevada van der Veer, contralto; Reed Miller, tenor, and Arthur Middleton, bass, each and all worthy of commendation.

Julia Clausen, contralto, and Albert Spalding, violinist, gave a joint recital at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Spalding has so well established himself that praise of his fiddling, an interpretative as it is technically efficient, is unnecessary.

The new offering by the Ballet Russe at the Century Theatre last night was "Le Pavillon d'Armide," the least satisfactory of its productions because of palpable lack of rehearsal.

"Boris Godunoff," Moussorgsky's compelling opera, was the bill at the Metropolitan Opera House last night. It captivated the attention of a large audience that fell under the spell of Adolphe Millaud's great interpretation of Boris, not to mention the other artists in the great cast under the direction of Mr. Polacco.

Surrogate Baldwin Kills Himself. OREGON, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Melvin E. Baldwin, surrogate of Chicago County and well known in legal circles, shot and killed himself in his office at Schenectady yesterday.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.
