FUND FOR FOOD GARDEN WORK ASKED AS CITY LAND OFFERS POUR IN Hundreds of Additional Plots Put at Disposal of Mayor's Committee.

In Aldermanic President Dowling's office, in Richmond, where there is more open space, 231 plots have been registered to-day.
 The meeting was held by the committee on co-ordination of the Mayor's Committee on Food Gardens. Park Commissioner Raymond V. Ingersoll of Brooklyn reported that 200 parcels, ranging up to fifteen acres in size, have been registered at his office. In addition, there are 175 back-yard gardens entered in the prize contest inaugurated by the Park Department.
 Park Commissioner Thomas W. Whittle of the Bronx reports that there are 200 vegetable garden parcels in that section of the city and Park Commissioner John E. Weiser says 1,000 acres of farm land have been offered besides 200 garden plots, forty of which have already been ploughed by the Park Department.

HELD FOR HOSPITAL DEATH.
 William V. Miller, an orderly in Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, was held without bail to-day by Coroner Wagner, charged with causing the death of James Corbett, a commercial artist, of No. 505 West One Hundred and Forty-second Street, Manhattan. Corbett was taken to the hospital March 26 and died April 2. The coroner's physician found his body covered with bruises.
 Joseph Lurie testified he saw Miller attack Corbett with a stick after a quarrel. Charles Hurke, an attendant, said there were only two slight bruises on Corbett's body.

Lemon Juice Softens and Whitens Rough, Red Hands
 Women can make a quarter pint of wonderful lemon beauty cream for few cents. Nothing so good!

To soften, smoothen, and whiten the face, neck, arms, and particularly the hands when chafed, red or rough, there is nothing better than lemon juice, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid and often irritating. A splendid lotion is prepared in a moment by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Be sure to strain the lemon juice through a cloth so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this creamy lotion will stay sweetly fragrant and fresh for months. Any grocer will supply the lemons and any druggist or toilet counter will sell you three ounces of orchard white for a few cents.
 This is the best lotion you could use. Massage it daily into the face, neck, arms, and hands and see for yourself. It helps remove tan, sallowness, and freckles, and every girl knows that lemons are used to bleach and whiten the skin.—Advt.

"What Can I Do?"
 By G. LYNN SUMNER

War is upon us. The call to duty has sounded. And with that call ringing in our ears, every red-blooded, true American is asking himself: "What can I do? How can I serve? Where do I fit in?"

For those of military age and physically fit, the ships and the camps are waiting. Go to them. Fight in the foremost ranks. That is the patriot's highest privilege.

But there are millions upon millions of others among us—eager but too young, stout-hearted but just too old, unable for one or many reasons to take our places in the field or on the seas. What can we do?

Our President has answered: "We must supply abundant food. We must supply ships by the hundreds. We must have abundant materials out of our fields and our mines and our factories."

Warfare has been revolutionized. Today it demands not only fighting men, but back of them supporting armies of technically trained workers in shops, factories, mines, laboratories, offices, and on farms and railroads, supplying the sinews of war.

"Our country needs ten million to twenty million skilled workers at home," says United States Commissioner Frederick C. Howe, "to make effective any army it puts into the field."

Fight, if you may, in the foremost ranks of our khaki-clad hosts. But if that privilege be denied you, you can still serve just as effectively, just as patriotically, just as honorably, in that great army of skilled workers behind the fighting lines, without which the front ranks would be helpless.

But this duty you owe to yourself and to your country—to prepare yourself to serve in that army where you can serve with greatest usefulness. Our country is calling for the co-operation of industrial establishments of every kind. Employers in turn are combing their ranks for men who know, men who can take charge of important work. And this means that all over America men who have trained themselves with the help of the International Correspondence Schools are stepping into positions that bring honor to themselves and a real opportunity to serve their country.

BEATEN INTO ADMITTING PERJURY, HE DECLARES
 Witness at Swann Inquiry Tells of Alleged Abuses He Suffered in Prison.

Benjamin Polar, one of the principal witnesses for the City Club in the prosecution of its charges against District Attorney Swann, arose from the witness stand before Commissioner Ingraham to-day and pointed out Keeper Shanahan of the Jefferson Market prison as the man who "smashed him in the face" as he was being led to a cell. This occurred, Polar said, before he agreed to appear before Judge McIntyre in General Sessions and plead guilty to perjury. Polar told of other alleged abuses in the prison.

Under cross examination by John B. Stanchfield, chief counsel for the District Attorney, Polar said he had only been kept in Jefferson Market for a few hours. Previously he testified that he was there thirty hours without anything to eat. Polar requested a keeper to take him to the District Attorney's office. At that meeting the witness declared he agreed to plead guilty to perjury.

"When I pleaded guilty before Judge McIntyre," Polar said, "I was forced to make a false confession by the hardships I had undergone. The next day I went to the District Attorney's office and saw Mr. Swann and told him I was innocent of the perjury."

LOST, MAY BE IN CAVE-IN.
 Fears Clair Dockery, Actor, Was Buried in Brooklyn Subway.

Detectives who have been searching for Clair Dockery, an actor at the Hippodrome, since he disappeared April 17, when on his way to Manhattan from his home at No. 124 South Oxford Street, Brooklyn, have reached the conclusion that he was a victim of the cave-in of the subway excavation at Hanson Place and St. Felix Street, Brooklyn, on Monday. They have traced him as far as South Oxford and St. Felix Street just before the cave-in.

The contractors who are clearing out the excavation say it will be ten days before all the debris is out of the excavation. One other life is known to have been lost in the accident.

N. Y. SUFFRAGISTS HEARD.
 Arguments for Ballot Continued Before Senate Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Suffrage leaders continued their arguments to-day before the Senate Woman Suffrage Committee, which is asked to report a constitutional amendment at the present session of Congress.

Mrs. Mary Beard and Mrs. Rheta Childe Durr of New York and Representative Jeannette Rankin argued that women are invaluable in war, but that in fighting for democracy abroad this nation forgets it is not truly democratic at home with women disfranchised.
