

$9,800 Bust of Baroness Is Sold at Auction for $25.
MARINETTE, Wis., June 26.—An auction sale of some of the personal belongings of the Baroness Mary de Pallandt, seized on a judgment of $12,000, was held here to-day. A bust of the Baroness, said to be worth $3,800, was sold for $25. The Baroness is in New York.

The Printing Craft needs men and women with good eyesight, for whether type is set by hand, or a linotype machine is used, constant scrutiny is required.

Printers should have their eyes examined when they feel the first indications of eye-weariness.

One of our Oculists will carefully examine your eyes and tell you whether or not glasses are needed.

If glasses are not required there is no obligation.

Harris Glasses—if their need is indicated—cost $2.00 or more—the price varies according to lenses and mountings.

RUSSIA IS RALLYING, HER ENVOY SAYS, TO FREEDOM'S BANNER

Ambassador Bakhmatoff Tells Senate His Country Will Fight On.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The Russian Mission was received to-day in the Senate where the Ambassador, Boris A. Bakhmatoff, made an address which was greeted with a demonstration equalling that in the House recently when the Mission appeared there. In part, the Ambassador said:

"At this moment all eyes are turned on Russia. Many hopes and many doubts are raised by the tide of events in the greatest of revolutions at an epoch in the world's greatest war. The fate of nations, the fate of the world is at stake.

"I am not going to conceal the gravity of the situation that confronts the Russian Provisional Government. The revolution called for the reconstruction of the very foundation of our nation life. The creation of a country of boundless expanses on distinctly new principles will of course take time and impatience should not be shown in the consummation of so grand an event as Russia's entry into the ranks of free nations.

"Two considerations, make me feel that Russia has passed the stage when the future appears vague and uncertain. In the first place is the firm conviction of the necessity of legality which is widely developing and firmly establishing itself through the country. This principle is based on the fertile democratic doctrine that governments derive their just power from the consent of the governed and hence a strong government must be created by the will of the people.

"My latest advices give joyful confirmation of the establishment of a firm power, strong in its democratic precepts and activity, strong in the trust reposed in it by the people in its ability to enforce law and order. In the second place and no less important is the growing conviction that the issues of the revolution and the future of Russia's freedom are closely connected with the fighting might of the country. It is such power, it is the force of arms which alone can defend and make certain the achievements of the revolution against autocratic aggression. Conscious of the enormous task, the Provisional Government is taking measures to promptly restore throughout the country conditions of life so deeply disorganized by the inefficiency of the previous rulers, and to provide for whatever is necessary for military success.

"In this respect exceptional and grave conditions provide for exceptional means. In close touch with the Pan-Peasant Congress, the Government has taken control of stores of food supplies and is providing for effective transportation and just distribution.

"Following examples of other countries at war, the Government has undertaken the regulation of the production of main products vital for the country and the army.

"The Russian people and its army are rallying their forces around the banners of freedom, strengthening their ranks in cheerful, self-consciousness, to die but not to be slaves. Russia wants the world to be safe for democracy. To make it safe means to have democracy rule the world."

TWO AMERICAN GIRLS
 SEE A U BOAT ATTACK

Submarine Launches Two Torpedoes and One Misses Ship by Only Fifteen Feet.

LONDON, June 26.—Two American girls were among those who got the thrill of their lives last Saturday night when the American liner on which they were journeying to England was twice fired upon by a German submarine. The two arrived to-day. They were Miss Helen Cabell, a student of Miss Baldwin's School at Philadelphia, and Miss Elmer Schiff of New York.

It was a bright moonlight night, they said, and at 11:30 the submarine alarm was suddenly sounded. Some passengers close to the rail saw the wake of a torpedo as it passed a scant fifteen feet from the vessel. The submarine which had come to the surface for the shot was likewise plainly visible, but disappeared before the guns could be manned and fired at her.

"Our ship veered away and the guns were prepared for action," said Miss Cabell. "Half an hour later—on the stroke of midnight—the submarine reappeared and once again launched a torpedo. This one missed too. Our aft gun replied with three shots, but all apparently missed because of the difficult angle. One shell tore away the log which we trailed astern. The U boat submerged immediately. All passengers remained on deck throughout that night."

SHE GOT THE WRONG ASHES.

Wife Says Husband Died After Date of Incineration.

Declaring that the ashes in can No. 420, delivered to her by William Necker, Inc., a corporation which cremates bodies, are not the ashes of her husband, Mrs. Rosalie Stahl, widow of Carl Stahl, was the plaintiff to-day in the trial of an action against the Necker Company for $10,000 damages. The widow declares that the certificate she received from the undertaking firm states that the body of her husband was incinerated "April 21, 1916," there being no such date, and alleges that her husband did not die until May 5, 1916. The case is before Justice Gavegan and a jury.

Baby Strangled to Death by Bite of Bread.

Antonio Grass, one year old, of No. 255 East One Hundred and Fifty-first Street was sitting at the kitchen table while his mother was preparing breakfast to-day. The baby took the bread from a plate and had one bite. The bread lodged in his throat and strangled him.
