Soldiers of New National Army at Governor's Island Taking Lessons in French to Prepare for War Service

PROF. JACQUES BARS TEACHING SOLDIERS FRENCH AT GOVERNOR'S ISLAND

There's Daily Instruction and Men Are Making Good Progress.

There's no "playing hooky" from the class of United States soldiers on Governor's Island learning French under the tuition of Prof. Jacques Bars. Not because of military discipline, but because the men are all keen to learn the tongue of the country to which they are going. The picture shows the professor in action, with his pupils gathered around him. At the moment the camera got him he was emphasizing one of the strong points in one of his nightly lectures. The men are making progress and many of them are already on speaking terms with the language of our "parley you" allies.

WOODS HEARD IN PROBE OF INSPECTOR'S TRANSFER

Brook Grand Jury Must Watch War Sent to Brooklyn by Bookmaker's Hostility.

Police Commissioner Arthur Woods was subpoenaed to the Grand Jury to answer for the transfer of Police Inspector Edward I. Walsh from the Bronx to the city. The Grand Jury and District Attorney Martin are investigating the transfer in connection with reports that it was caused by Walsh's discovery of the activities of a hand-book operator. District Attorney Martin says he will watch closely the removal of the inspector from the Bronx. Walsh, known as "Jack Hamilton," was a well-known gambler. The transfer was made after Walsh had been in the Bronx for some time. It is alleged that Walsh had been in the Bronx for some time. It is alleged that Walsh had been in the Bronx for some time. A WARTIME INVESTMENT

Garden Land in New York City

At half value to help settle the estate of the late Chas. E. Wood

COST OF LIVING is rising fast, here and elsewhere, for those who go to war must be fed by those who don't. If you stay at home, do your "bit"—raise part, if not all, of the food you need. Lift your part of the Nation's load—ease your own burdens—by growing crops next year.

To enable those of limited incomes to make ends meet, and to stir up a dull market, we have cut prices sharply for a great Fall Sale of the remaining plots at Annadale, Staten Island, as the heirs of our former partner, Mr. Chas. E. Wood, want his estate settled. We sell because we must. You should buy, for such an investment opportunity comes but once in a lifetime—an estate that must be settled, when real estate is dull.

This land is right at the Annadale Station, on the Staten Island Rapid Transit, less than an hour's time and an 11-cent commutation fare from Broadway. It is rich and fertile—good for successive planting and several crops in a season. One of the Little Farmers there raises thirty kinds of fruits and vegetables every year. So can you.

You can cut the cost of your living right in half, get health, pleasure and the finest outdoor life, close to the ocean, and, best of all, get acreage land right in New York City, all laid out so that later on you can cut it up into city lots and perhaps make a small fortune from a modest wartime investment that will from the start pay you handsome dividends in vegetables, fruits and flowers, with health and happiness in the bargain.

FULL WAR RISK—FREE

While some of the life insurance companies are restricting their war risks so closely as to be almost prohibitory, we propose to extend the operation of our Free Deed Clause in our contracts so as to supply an adequate protection to the families or relatives of all those who go to the front for the honor and safety of our Country.

Purchasers at this sale may put their contracts in the name of any member of their immediate family (husband, father, son or brother) who enlists in the Army, Navy or Marine Corps, in the event of whose death—while in active service—if payments have been made as agreed—the purchaser, as beneficiary, will receive a free deed to the property without any further payments.

U. S. MUST RAISE $14,000,000,000 MORE, SAYS M'ADOO

Secretary Tells Bankers of Great Financial Task Ahead of the Nation.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 28.—Vast oversubscription of the three-billion-dollar second Liberty Loan was predicted by Secretary McAdoo in an address here to-day before the American Bankers' Association, calling upon the bankers to give the same patriotic support to the new bond issue that they gave to the first.

"It has been urged upon me," said the Secretary, "that many men of wealth will refuse to buy the 4 per cent. bond with the liability to super-income taxation. I should be loath to believe this, but if it is true the position of the Government must always be to offer a bond upon terms fair and equitable to all alike and which will make the widest possible appeal to all the people without regard to the fact that a man may be rich or poor.

"The man of wealth, with patriotism or modified patriotism or without patriotism, has a greater stake in the security of the Government than any other class, because if the Government's credit is destroyed and disaster comes upon the country, as it inevitably will if the Government's credit fails, what is property worth to the rich man, what is life worth to the free man?"

Emphasizing the tremendous financial task ahead of the Nation, Mr. McAdoo pointed out that it would be necessary to raise about fourteen billion dollars by additional bond issues before June 30, 1918.

"Fortunately," he added, "the resources of America were never so ample for ourselves and so formidable for our enemies as now. We should now be able to raise $74,000,000,000 through Government loans. I am not suggesting that this may be done; I am only drawing a comparison.

The Secretary briefly reviewed the causes for America's entry into the war, declaring this could not be done too often because of the efforts of noisy agitators and disloyal writers to confuse the issue.

Secretary McAdoo impressed upon the bankers the necessity for maintaining an ample gold reserve for the Government's use. He laid particular stress on the need of Federal insurance for the soldiers.

The bankers were pleased with the news Mr. McAdoo brought from the Secretary of Agriculture that the 1917 crop will reach seventeen billions of dollars, a gain of two billions over 1916. These figures, Mr. McAdoo said, had been estimated a few days ago by that department.

HOUSE DELAYS DRAFTING OF ALIENS IN AMERICA

Lansing Wants to Put Treaty Rights Up to Foreign Governments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Military Affairs Committee has decided not to ask the House for legislation at this session making aliens subject to the selective draft. This decision was reached as a result of Secretary Lansing's announcement that the State Department had taken up the question of treaty rights with foreign Governments.
