

NEW DRIVE STARTS TO-DAY TO PUSH LIBERTY LOAN TO SUCCESS

GERMANS ATTACK RUSSIAN WARSHIPS WITH THREE FLEETS

Capital of Island of Oesel Captured by Troops After All-Day Battle.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 15.—German forces which landed on the Russian island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Riga, on Friday, occupied Arensburg, the capital of the island, on Saturday. It was officially announced to-day by the Russian War Office. Arensburg is on the southern shore of Oesel island.

The northern group of German warships, the statement adds, despatched a torpedo-boat squadron between the islands of Oesel and Dagoo which pressed back the Russian patrol. Russian naval forces reinforced the patrol and accepted battle, whereupon the German ships retreated.

German torpedo-boats penetrated the inner waters between the islands of Oesel and Dagoo and in repeated engagements pressed back the Russian naval forces into the Moonson.

A third group of German warships, consisting of cruisers and torpedo-boats, approached the southwest coast of Oesel island and bombarded unimportant parts of the coast. German submarines were observed at various times and places in the Baltic.

Fighting for Oesel island, the War Office announced, continued all day yesterday.

BERLIN, Oct. 15 (via London).—Rapid progress has been made by the German troops which landed on the Russian island of Oesel, according to the official statement issued to-day by the German War Office. German warships shelled the Russian land batteries and silenced them. Swarth Peninsula has been cut off from the northern part of the island. The German landing forces have pushed forward on the island of Oesel as far as Arensburg, which is ablaze. The Teutons are advancing in East Oesel toward the east coast, on which the Russians are rapidly retreating to escape over the mole connecting the island with Moon Island.

SUBMARINE FIRES ON LIFE BOATS OF A TORPEDOED SHIP

American and Two Englishmen Killed, Nine Wounded—Ten Americans Escape.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—One American was killed and a second seriously wounded by shell fire from a German submarine against their boats as they were leaving a torpedoed steamer, it was announced to-day. The American killed was James Francis Donoghue, who, with Francis and Donoghue were members of the crew of the steamer, captured. Two Englishmen, members of the vessel's crew, were also killed by the submarine's gunfire, directed with apparent deliberate intent on the lifeboats. Eight persons in the boats were seriously wounded. The name of the ship which was torpedoed was not announced.

U. S. LINER FIRES ON SUPPOSED U BOAT; HITS SPAR AT SEA

When about 400 miles off the American coast, west bound, an American passenger vessel yesterday fired one blank shot at a cargo vessel that refused to reply to an international code signal to run up her colors, and then let go a shell from a six-inch gun that shattered what was thought at the time to be the periscope of a submarine that the freighter was screening.

Promptly up came the flag of Sweden, followed by a string of brightly colored pennants that told that the freighter was carrying food to the Belgians from an American port. Later word came from the Swede that the other ship was so successfully camouflaged that she was not observed until she fired the first shot. Passengers aboard the ship, which reached an Atlantic port to-day, said the stranger was first observed on the horizon, which was nearby owing to a haze, and that when the liner came closer an object was seen beyond the freighter that looked suspiciously like a periscope.

Immediately the warning blank shot was fired and signals run up demanding identification by the other. These signals were unanswered and at once the after-gun crew sent a shot at the object beyond the freighter, hitting it squarely and shattering it. Explanations showed that the shattered object was a derelict spar. Had it been a periscope or a conning tower it would have been the end of the submarine. One hundred and twenty are said to have been landed on the Gallipoli Peninsula (Turkish territory).

AMERICAN AVIATOR PROBABLY KILLED

A. C. Campbell of Kenilworth Ill., Reported Missing, Now Believed to Be Dead.

SOMEWHERE ON THE FRENCH FRONT, Oct. 15 (by the Associated Press).—Sergeant Andrew Courtney Campbell of Kenilworth, Ill., a member of the Lafayette Squadron, who on Oct. 1 was reported missing, is now believed by his comrades to have been killed. The sergeant was accompanied on his last sortie by Sgt. Henry S. Jones of New York City. In a combat with three German biplanes the Americans became separated. Sgt. Jones, whose machine was damaged badly by machine gun fire, was compelled to return to his airbase after the German machines had retired well beyond their own lines. Later a French pilot in a neighboring squadron reported he had seen a biplane of the type the sergeant was flying as it fell in a spinning nose dive inside the German lines. This report was corroborated by infantry holding trenches in that vicinity.

Two British Raids on German Lines Reported by Haig

Germans Bombard Positions on the Flanders Front, but Infantry is Inactive.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Violent cannonading from German guns, but no enemy infantry attacks, was to-day reported by Field Marshal Haig. The statement says: "Our positions on the main ridge south of Broodisande were heavily bombarded during the night by the enemy. No infantry action has taken place. "In a successful raid carried out by us yesterday afternoon southeast of Monchy-lez-Preaux, east country troops captured thirty-six prisoners and two machine guns. Two hundred Germans were killed by the infantry and seven of the enemy's dugouts were destroyed with explosives. "Another successful raid was carried out by South Midland Territorials early last night northeast of Roubaix. A number of the enemy were killed, his dugouts destroyed and twelve prisoners were taken."

All the Different Units Go Through the Pace—French Women Present Flag.

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS, FRANCE, Oct. 15.—Marshal Joffre inspected the American troops to-day. Gen. Pershing was his guide. Every one of the different units of the Americans went through their best pace for the day of the French potus. The women of the town in which the American field headquarters are located yesterday presented to Gen. Pershing a silk American flag, in the corner of which was the seal of their city. In his brief address accepting the flag, Gen. Pershing declared that at the end of the war women will "win deserved honor for the part they have played in establishing democracy."

Kerensky Cowed Foes by Nerve in Face of Death

Taunted Armed and Drunken Cossacks as Cowards at Moscow Conference.

STOCKHOLM (Via London, Sept. 29), (By Mail).—Premier Kerensky played fearlessly with death at the Moscow Democratic Conference and won by his sheer, unflinching nerve. He stood on a platform, unarmed, facing three drunken Cossack officers, ranting with anger, and twice flung the taunt "cowards" in their faces while the vast audience breathless, fearfully awaited for their revolver shots to stretch Russia's Man of the Hour bleeding on the platform. The Cossacks sat silent. Maybe they were stricken helpless by the utter, stark courage of the man. At any rate the tense moment passed. Kerensky had won. A fortnight later came Gen. Kornilov's revolt—with the Cossacks in his rebel ranks.

Frank A. Vanderlip Approves Plan of Evening World to Help War Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Evening World's proposal for a Liberty Bond campaign among wage earners is admirable. These great loans can only be raised by the help of the millions of workmen and workingwomen. The Government's disbursements for war supplies are on an enormous scale. Its demands are causing wage increases on all sides. The proceeds of the loans are widely distributed, going at last mainly to wage earners, and they must be gathered up and used over and over in order to keep the Treasury supplied and win the war.

Jersey is Rocked, Two Men Killed by Dupont Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—An explosion in the nitro strach dry house at the Dupont Powder Works at Gibbstown, N. J., resulted in the instant death of two workmen. A third man is missing and is probably dead. The bodies were blown to pieces. Another man was seriously injured. The destroyed building was a small one-story structure isolated from the rest of the plant and the force consisted of the four men mentioned. There was no other damage. The Dupont Company says there is nothing suspicious about the explosion. Because of the terrific force of the explosion alarming reports as to its extent were in circulation. Almost everybody in Philadelphia, twenty miles away, felt it, and surrounding towns in New Jersey reported shattered windows and other ill effects of the impact. Consequently the news that there had not been a great disaster came as a relief. Ever since the war began the powder and munitions factories around Philadelphia have been a source of apprehension to the public and the people become excited whenever a report is heard or felt from the "Down the Delaware" section, where millions of pounds of explosives are being turned out for the armies.

Save a Shovelful? Is Cry of Fuel Administration

Seriousness of Situation Becomes Apparent as Garfield Returns to Washington. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Fuel Administrator Garfield returned to Washington to-day facing the fact that many cities had confiscated coal to supply freezing homes. "Save coal" was the cry at the Fuel Administration as the situation's seriousness became apparent. "A shovelful must be considered as equivalent to half a pound of sugar or half a loaf of bread or half a pint of milk," said Director of Mines Manning. "One man's careless and wasteful use may mean an idle factory or a cold house for his neighbor." A meeting of anthracite dealers and operators with Garfield to-morrow is expected to work out steps for increasing production and co-operating in distribution.

Smith of Tammany Hall, giving Jim Hyman 117,000 plurality. These figures are in no sense organization predictions, as Tammany has not yet made any polls or canvasses of its own. They indicate the following vote: Hyman, 285,000; Mitchell, 168,000; Hillcock, 15,000; Bennett, 91,000; total vote, 659,000. The soldier vote is not included in these figures, as no information concerning its tendency has been received. Tammany is having close attention given to the camps this week. It expects to secure a good majority of the vote cast there.

Frank A. Vanderlip Approves Plan of Evening World to Help War Loan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The Evening World's proposal for a Liberty Bond campaign among wage earners is admirable. These great loans can only be raised by the help of the millions of workmen and workingwomen. The Government's disbursements for war supplies are on an enormous scale. Its demands are causing wage increases on all sides. The proceeds of the loans are widely distributed, going at last mainly to wage earners, and they must be gathered up and used over and over in order to keep the Treasury supplied and win the war.

Jersey is Rocked, Two Men Killed by Dupont Explosion

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—An explosion in the nitro strach dry house at the Dupont Powder Works at Gibbstown, N. J., resulted in the instant death of two workmen. A third man is missing and is probably dead. The bodies were blown to pieces. Another man was seriously injured. The destroyed building was a small one-story structure isolated from the rest of the plant and the force consisted of the four men mentioned. There was no other damage. The Dupont Company says there is nothing suspicious about the explosion. Because of the terrific force of the explosion alarming reports as to its extent were in circulation. Almost everybody in Philadelphia, twenty miles away, felt it, and surrounding towns in New Jersey reported shattered windows and other ill effects of the impact. Consequently the news that there had not been a great disaster came as a relief. Ever since the war began the powder and munitions factories around Philadelphia have been a source of apprehension to the public and the people become excited whenever a report is heard or felt from the "Down the Delaware" section, where millions of pounds of explosives are being turned out for the armies.

Seriousness of Situation Becomes Apparent as Garfield Returns to Washington. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Fuel Administrator Garfield returned to Washington to-day facing the fact that many cities had confiscated coal to supply freezing homes. "Save coal" was the cry at the Fuel Administration as the situation's seriousness became apparent. "A shovelful must be considered as equivalent to half a pound of sugar or half a loaf of bread or half a pint of milk," said Director of Mines Manning. "One man's careless and wasteful use may mean an idle factory or a cold house for his neighbor." A meeting of anthracite
