LOCK EXPERT RESCUES TWO MEN FROM SAFE
Joker Locks Two Stock Brokers' Clerks In and Gives Police and Firemen a Job.
"Skyarking" is the explanation on the police blotter of the Greenwich Street Station to-day of the hurry calls for police, firemen and lock experts that resulted from the twenty minutes' imprisonment of James Crowe and Thomas McLaughlin in a safe in the office of Raymond Shaw & Co., stock brokers, No. 111 Broadway, yesterday.
Alfred Rosenberg was the practical joker who locked them in the safe. How he managed to coax them inside and then batter down the handles isn't clear, for he went away as soon as he had turned the trick. A lock expert of the Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Company rescued Crowe and McLaughlin.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain
Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.
It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.
"This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue. This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.—Advt.

Tell How You Save to Buy One And Win a $50 Liberty Bond Offered by Evening World

The Evening World believes that every wage earner in New York not only can but should buy a Liberty Bond.
The great savings banks of New York stand ready to help the public buy bonds on the instalment plan. Two dollars a week saved means a $100 Liberty Bond paid for in a year. There are many ways in which $2 a week or more can be saved for the Liberty Loan.
The Evening World wants to hear of these methods and tell all the people about them. For the best letter telling
How I Am Buying My Liberty Bond
The Evening World offers a prize of a fully paid $50 bond of the Second Liberty Loan bearing 4 per cent interest.
This contest is limited to the pending Second Liberty Loan and not the previous First Loan issue, and will close "Liberty Day," Wednesday, Oct. 24. Try to tell your plan in 200 words. Address: Liberty Loan Editor, Evening World, New York.

"How I Am Buying My Liberty Bond"

Liberty Loan Editor, New York Evening World:
A Russian means what he says even though he lives on Orchard Street. For when I said America, here's my $2 down and $2 a week for a Liberty bond, I meant it, even if I have never saved a cent in my life except for rent and instalments on furniture of $6 a week.
From 7 A. M. to 4 P. M. I sew on men's pants pockets, which have nothing but $12 per week in them. Never thinking of anything and hav-

Payments on the furniture has been concealed first, while I may not have soft chairs to sit on at best, I have my Liberty bonds to rest my head on.
We are eight in the family and both happy and lucky to be east side stockholders of Uncle Sam.
Two years ago when my eyes first met the Status of Liberty I resolved to honor, love and die for her sake. Now I bought two Liberty bonds because I'm for America and Liberty goes with it.

SAVED "LIBERTY DIMES" FOR THE "LIBERTY LOAN."
Liberty Loan Editor, N. Y. Evening World.
Sir—I bought a Liberty bond of the last series, and intend to buy one of this issue. My husband is working for the City of New York in a salaried position, and would like to serve his country in the navy, but on account of his position and family of three children could not do so. So we planned to buy a fifty dollar bond, as the next best thing to do, for the oldest, a boy of seven years, and also a fifty dollar bond at a little sacrifice for the next, a girl of four years.
When we were to buy one for the youngest, a girl of one year, with the cost of living so increased and making it hard to keep up the payments on the other two bonds, I discovered a plan after much discussion.
"The Liberty dime towards the Liberty Loan." We agreed that every new dime we got in change we would drop in a box for that purpose, which we opened once a month, and if there was enough or more we used the right amount and left the balance for the next month. We have had success in this; got our three Liberty bonds, never missed the Liberty dime, helped our boys in blue and khaki and upheld our Government.
We are also going to buy bonds of the new issue.

SAVE ALL NEW COINS AND SIMPLIFY MEALS.
Liberty Loan Editor, Evening World:
As a housewife desirous of buying a Liberty bond, and not being in a position to purchase one outright, I am using the following plan and suggest it to other housewives.
"Both my husband and myself save all the dimes of the new coinage and put them in a box in a week's time we are surprised to find amount to about $1. We also have one meatless dinner a week, which usually consists of potatoes or macaroni (10c), squash in season (15c), ormeau mash (10c), or rice, lettuce or tomatoes (10c). Ordinarily with meat the meal would cost 75 cents, which makes a saving of 30 cents. By marketing at the different stores and carrying my things home I save a few pennies on each article purchased. In all we save about $1.00 every week without feeling an excess drain on our expenses, and also are "doing our bit" by buying a Liberty bond and co-operating with Mr. Hoover."
MRS. S. H. FATTEN,
275 Westminister Road, Brooklyn.
BOTH WILL DO WORK FORMERLY PAID FOR.
Liberty Loan Editor, New York Evening World:
My husband works in the factory at $1.50 a day, five days a week and a half a week. We have four children, so I expect I will just have to use greater economy to pay for my bond, of which I am so pleased.
I have a baby boy three months old, and I have had to send the family wash out, now I shall try to do it myself and that will save quite an item. My husband will keep all the shoes in repair and that will mean another saving, and I will just be as careful as possible that no food is wasted, and will consider that I am only doing my little bit for a worthy cause.

DEFENSE SOCIETY USED AS CLOAK FOR SWINDLING
Wynne Confesses Plan, According to the Police, and Another He Named Is Arrested.
Charged with attempting to defraud Mrs. Catherine L. Lauder of Greenwich, Conn., widow of George Lauder Jr., yachtman, out of $100, John W. Wynne, alias Chester M. Klipp, is held by the police here in $5,000 bail. Wynne is said to have confessed he did not intend to give the money to the American Defense Society, as he told Mrs. Lauder, but to "split fifty-fifty" with a "Mr. Hart of Broad Street," also known to him as "Mr. Jackson."
Following the alleged confession, Frederick H. Jackson, who said he lived at No. 214 West 14th Street, was arrested. He is charged with stealing Liberty bonds from the restaurant of John J. Healy, 142nd Street and Broadway, several Liberty bonds, and checks for about $15,000, signed by Arthur L. Gorman, A. C. Alexander, Randall L. Marshall, and others were found in Wynne's pockets.
Wynne is said to have worked for a concert selling space in the booklet of the American Defense Society. This is the Miller Service Company, the head of which, Walter A. Miller, was arrested Oct. 8, charged with collecting money for a benefit falsely represented as under Red Cross auspices.
