Stamped on a Shoe Means Standard of Merit
34th St. New York

Children's Shoe Department

To sell children's shoes implies a responsibility to parents fully recognized by Cammeyer.

The importance of buying the proper shoes for children cannot be over-estimated.

If the growing child wears proper shoes there is no possibility of having foot troubles later on.

By "proper" shoes we mean shoes built over orthopedic, natural shape lasts that permit the growing foot to develop as nature intended.

Over fifty-four years of specialized thought and experiment are behind all children's shoes bearing our imprint. Every shoe is scientifically constructed and may be relied upon to aid the growing foot by giving support where support is needed.

All this has been accomplished without sacrificing anything in style. In a word, then, Cammeyer children's shoes embody recognized principles of orthopedic construction, coupled with style, comfort, and, of course, fullest value—characteristics of every shoe bearing the "Cammeyer" imprint.

POLITICAL DRIVES OF FOE ADD TO OUR TASK, SAYS BAKER

War Secretary's Weekly Report Analyzes Events in Italy and Russia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The effect of Germany's "political offensive" against Russia and Italy upon the task ahead of the Allies is recognized in Secretary Baker's weekly report of military operations, issued today by the War Department.

"The close interrelation of events on all fronts cannot be frequently emphasized," says the report.

"The political situation in Russia made it possible for the enemy to detach important contingents in the east, which were speedily transported to the Italian front."

"It is not unlikely that before initiating their powerful drive against the Italian forces the enemy made painstaking and systematic attempts to undermine the morale of the Italian troops, with a view to breaking down their resisting power."

"This carefully planned political offensive, conducted preparatory to their military offensive, reveals clearly the present methods of the Germans."

"Surveying the broader aspects of the European situation to-day we find that the enemy in the east is confining his efforts to political propaganda. Along the Italian sector he has recently made desperate attempts to secure a decision by means of a politico-military drive. In the west, while attempting to sap the fighting strength of the belligerent peoples, the enemy has now been compelled to act on the defensive and is being slowly but surely driven back."

"It should be borne in mind, however, that the further disintegration of the Russian forces will mean that the Germans will be able to thin out their line along this front, which will thus automatically contribute to the stiffening of their resistance in the west, as well as render available added contingents to take part in the engagements now proceeding in Italy."

"During the week just closed, both the British and French were able to record significant tactical gains, the culmination of a long series of powerfully driven offensives."

"With Passchendaele securely in British hands, the first stage of the operations begun during the last week of September have been brought to a successful conclusion.

"The French counter-offensive of the British armies took place north of the Aisne. Here the progress of the enemy, anticipated last week, was checked and the presence of the French offensive, which has grown slowly and methodically in volume and intensity, resulted in a climax which by the second French advance in this sector, they were enabled to outflank the German line along the crest of the Chemin des Dames."

"For the past three years the presence of the enemy on this ridge had been a source of anxiety to the French. To dislodge them was a principal objective of the repeated offensives developed by Gen. Pétain since last April. The sudden forced evacuation of some forty square miles of the most important terrain in this sector of the western front has been the tangible result achieved."

"The importance of this successful French advance must not be overlooked. It means more than a mere gain of so many square miles of territory; it means the penetration of the powerfully fortified Sigried line, hitherto considered by the enemy impregnable, and pushes back his main defensive positions to within five miles of the fortress of Laon, the major objective."

"In the sector where a small detachment of our troops had taken up their places in the trenches as a part of their training, the enemy (as is customary in trench warfare when fresh troops are believed to have taken places in front line trenches) for reconnaissance purposes executed a well planned raid and succeeded in temporarily penetrating the short segment of the line held by our forces, inflicting a few casualties and taking prisoners."

"A unit of our artillery, also in the course of its training, came in contact with the enemy and acquitted itself very creditably in this first encounter."

"In Italy the situation is developing as normally as can be expected under the circumstances."

"For the time being it would be of little avail to endeavor to seek for the contributing causes of the successes gained by the Austro-German forces which have resulted in their incursion into Italy.

"The Italian retreat, somewhat confused in its earlier stages, has now become more orderly, and the retirement of the main forces of the Italian armies during the week continued uninterrupted."

"The line of the Tagliamento River was held by the Italians long enough to insure the safe retirement of large bodies of troops. This line has now been abandoned and the enemy, penetrating the Venetian Plain, has reached the Livorno."

"The Italians are continuing their efforts to restrain the advancing Austro-German forces."

"The morale of the armies, shaken by the recent events, is being rapidly restored. Allied reinforcements have now formed a junction with the Italians. The pressure of the enemy is no greater."

"Along the eastern front no operations of military importance took place."

"The enemy, instead of attacking, has renewed his efforts to fraternize with the Russians. Owing to the involved political situation and the fresh outbreaks of the extremist elements, it is probable that these may have a marked influence on the general strategy of the war, which we must be prepared to meet."

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

HELD ON EXTORTION CHARGE.

Union Business Agent Accused of Taking Contractor's $95.

Patrick Tully, thirty-two years old, Business Agent for the Steam Fitters' Union, was arrested this morning charged with extorting $95 from Contractor John Stewart, who is renovating a building at No. 1 Gramercy Park.

Mr. Stewart told the police that on Nov. 2 Tully came to him with a demand for $200 for smoothing difficulties with his union.

Detective Sergeant Jessup, it is claimed, overheard a conversation between Tully and Stewart at the building this morning, in which Tully agreed to fix things and to accept $95 on account. He was arrested and the police charge he threw away $95 in marked bills.
