

HOWARD BERRY A STAR ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

HOWARD BERRY A STAR ALL-AROUND ATHLETE TO HIS ATHLETES

Three Time All-Round Champion, a Star at Baseball, Pennsylvania Athlete Wins Place Among Greatest of Gridiron Players by Wonderful Exhibition of Goal Kicking Which Beat the Michigan Eleven.

HOWARD BERRY, Pennsylvania's greatest all-around athlete, has long been classed with Jim Thorpe and Martin Sheridan, and now he has found a place beside such gridiron stars as Eckersall, Brickley, Mahan, Coy, Sam White, De Witt and the Poes.

A week ago, when Pennsylvania met Michigan and defeated the West- erners by a score of 16-0, of these sixteen points rolled up by the great Penn. machine Howard Berry's individual score was no less than ten. He kicked three field goals and one goal after a touchdown. Incidentally his fine punting was responsible for keeping the early Michigan rushes back beyond the danger line. Berry's two field goals from 30 and 35 yards in the third period demoralized Michigan's defense, which had been iron- bound up to that time, and made Penn's victory certain.

Berry entered Pennsylvania in the fall of 1914. At once he became one of the star men of the track team. The following spring he became famous all over America by winning the Pentathlon—the all-around contest—at the Penn relay meet. There were many well known athletes in the competition, including Harry Worthington of Dartmouth, who had been a member of the American team at the Olympic games in Stockholm, and was the world's champion broad jumper.

Berry was smaller than any of his rivals. He was nineteen years old, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches tall, and weighed 155 pounds.

But he had quite a reputation as an athlete at Muhlenberg Academy, where he was the star baseball player, football player and track athlete. He had plenty of experience in competition, and mingling with giants didn't worry him. The running broad jump was the first event, and Worthington won it easily. Berry being placed third. But he won the javelin throw with the excellent record of 158 feet, finished second in the 200 metre race and the discus throw, and ran away from his rivals in the 1,500 metre race. With two wins, two seconds and a third he easily won the contest.

Three Times American Champion. Berry won the Pentathlon again the ensuing year, and captured it a third time in 1917. This last time he captured four first places, with third in the fifth. In everything but the discus throw he outclassed his field. He won the 1,500 metre race by 200 yards. His time in the 200 metre race was 2:24 seconds, remarkably fast for an event in an all-around contest. He broad-jumped 107 feet 7 1/2 inches, threw the javelin 157 feet 2 inches, lost the discus throw only by 5 1/2 inches with 108 feet 7 1/2 inches, and won the 1,500 metre run in 4 minutes 45 seconds. In 1916 he made a new record for the 1,500 metre race—4 minutes 24 1/2 seconds.

On the second day of the relay meet this year Berry distinguished himself by running the second leg of the two mile relay race—a race that attracts all the greatest college relay teams in the country. The Penn team, which started 30 yards behind Ohio of Cin- cinnati, got caught and passed him, putting the Penn team in the lead. This wonderful run of Berry's made it possible for Pennsylvania to win the race by a narrow margin. His time in the relay was 2 minutes 2 1/2 seconds—a pretty fast clip for an all-around athlete who had won the all-around championship only the day before. He wound up his athletic spree by winning fourth place in the special javelin throwing contest with a throw of 151 feet 4 inches.

Robertson Thinks Berry Another Meredith. Berry was a great football player—good enough to be elected captain of the Penn team. Athletic Coach Lawson Robertson tried to urge him to give up baseball and to make a specialty of the mile and half mile runs. In Robertson's opinion Berry would have been another Meredith at those distances. But he was too fond of variety to give up any one sport. He stuck to baseball until this year, when he was elected captain of the track team.

In 1916 Berry had some trouble with the football coaches and left the squad. He was accused of being "yellow." How little sense there was in that attack was shown by his great performance in the track and on the diamond, and later when he came back to football and fought his way to the top in spite of the antagonism that had been aroused when he left the game the year before. Last year he was the sensation of the gridiron, for he played with a fury that made him practically a team by himself. A member of the First Artillery Regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard he went to the border in 1916. Last May he went to Washington and had his papers to become a member of the U. S. Aviation Corps. Ted Meredith went with him. Now he is back at Pennsylvania awaiting orders.

New York Amateur Knocked Out. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Frank Garcia of Los Angeles knocked out Jack Tommaso of New York, national amateur featherweight champion, fighting under colors of the navy, in the third round of their bout here to-night. Garcia gained a lead over the champion in the first two rounds and in the third and last two rounds to the jaw set Tommaso to in open field. This round the two-day international champion tournament held as a benefit for the Red Cross.

Some Exciting Football Is Expected at Local Baseball Parks To-Day. All-Star Elevens From Bay State and New York Camps Clash at Polo Grounds, While at Ebbets Field Cupid Black's Newport Boys Will Meet Rutgers.

Two important football games will be played here to-day. At Ebbets Field, in Brooklyn, Rutgers and Cupid Black's Reserve team from Newport will clash. Up at the Polo Grounds service elevens from Camp Devens, at Ayer, Mass., and Camp Upton, at Yaphank, L. I., will clash.

For long years much emphasis has been laid on what an all-star team could accomplish under a season's coaching and training. These teams have been built and enlarged on in fancy, and now the war has made such a team an actual reality for the first time.

Dr. Hall, who has coached the punters at Yale for a number of years, has peered together a real all-star team at the Newport Naval Reserve. It is hardly necessary to re- peat the names of those who will be in action are Capt. Black of Yale and Schlichter of Syracuse, all- America guards; Callahan of Yale, center; Green and Gerrish of Dartmouth, two really great players, the former at end and the latter at one halfback, and Charley Barrett of Cornell, in my opinion one of the three greatest backs in the history of foot- ball.

George Foster Sanford, with a lot of green material, has built up a team at Rutgers which he himself calls the best in the country, not excepting Pittsburgh, and one which has proved its power, resourcefulness and general football acme. Sanford is one of the best judges of a team in the country and he speaks confidently of beating the Newport eleven this after- noon.

Men ranging in age from twenty-one to twenty-six, fresh from four years of college football and most of them stars of their respective teams, should make the call over boys ranking in age from eighteen to twenty-two, men who had only one short season of foot- ball coaching and experience.

This is a measure represents the relation between the Newport eleven and Rutgers this afternoon. On top of this the former has now had a season's training together for the development of that all important team play. It is not a collection of stars, but a team.

HOWARD BERRY, GREATEST ALL-AROUND ATHLETE. CAPTION: JAVELIN THROWER AND ALL-AROUND CHAMPION. STAR BASEBALL PLAYER.

Columbia's Stars Back in Lineup For N. Y. U. Game

Columbia and New York University will clash in their annual football battle this afternoon. The game will be played at South Field and the ball will be kicked off at 2 o'clock. Both teams are fit and ready for a grueling tussle.

Columbia had a light drill on the South Field gridiron yesterday, but New York University routed the players of the varsity eleven watching the game at Ohio Field between the Columbia and N. Y. U. freshmen.

The Morningstar eleven will take the field against N. Y. U. with every regular player at fullback, broke through the scrum. Houlahan's punting was of high order. Houlahan, the big punter, who was injured several weeks ago, will be at left halfback. Rosen, who had an infected foot, will play fullback, and Capt. Ed Cochran will be at right end. The eleven will be the most powerful Columbia has put on the field since its opening battle with Union six weeks ago.

Alvin Rosen, Houlahan and Cochran have been out of the lineup for a week or more. Nelson Mitchell and Tom Thorpe decided that the varsity would be the better if it had a little practice, and the full squad ran through signals on South Field for more than an hour, winding up with a short game.

Although Archie Rosen, the star scrum defense for several good games, will be in the lineup, the varsity will be the most powerful Columbia has put on the field since its opening battle with Union six weeks ago.

New York will place its full confidence in the varsity eleven. It is being shown himself to be one of the most valuable players of the year. He will do most of the offensive work for his team. Although Archie Rosen, the star scrum defense for several good games, will be in the lineup, the varsity will be the most powerful Columbia has put on the field since its opening battle with Union six weeks ago.

Dr. Brides to-day announced that there was no change from the lineup given out by him on Thursday, but that if possible during the game many substitutes would be sent in to get their insignias, because of the conscientious work done during the fall, when there was so little interest in football here.

Scores of graduates are back in town to-day, though, of course, nothing to compare with the number that has been here in former years for a real, big game. Practically all the hotels were filled, many making the occasion one for a reunion with the large number of Yale and Princeton graduates and undergraduates who are now in the service in various capacities and naval bases in the East, all of whom have been invited to come here as guests of the management to-day.

The game will be preceded by a drill by members of the R. O. T. C. and the student body preferred naval to artillery training. There will also be an inspection of the new Yale artillery armory at the field in the morning and a smoker there in the afternoon after the game. In fact the entire spirit will be the chief of the day, except for the period of the game.

There were many informal reunions last night, but uniforms were everywhere and occupied the chief place at the annual of football. In the scientific school there were informal dances, and to-day there will be the usual teas which follow a big game.

The university professors and undergraduates alike have done every- thing to make to-day like the day of a big game in peace times. In contrast to previous years when the members of the Yale teams have been wrapped in the cotton and sent up the hill in the night, the mem- bers of the squad on the eve of the game received some straight from the shoulder advice from Brides and Johnny Mack, and were told to go to the field early and get into the game. They went away from the meeting in their military uniforms, their hands all in a row, and their feet in the mud. The Princeton team will be early in the morning for some up- preheating work before the game.

Schoolboys in Big Run. The Brooklyn High School cross country championship will be held this afternoon. The Prospect course, the distance being three miles. Five schools will defend the title for the first time in a long time. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill.

Wagner Outpoints Leonard. STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 23.—Harry Wagner of Brooklyn outpointed and outboxed Joe Leonard of New York in a fast and interesting bout before a huge crowd at a show held in Chicago at the Atlas A. C. last night. The boys were immediately rematched for another bout.

Cornell Again Favorite in Cross-Country Run. For the first time in a number of years Harvard will not be represented in the tenth annual Cornell cross-country run of the Intercollegiate A. A. which will be held over the national course at Van Cortlandt Park this afternoon.

Seven colleges have entered teams, including Yale, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the College of the City of New York. Cornell is the favorite, having won fifteen of the last eighteen cross-country races.

The Crimson college will, however, start a strong team in the freshman ranks, as will Yale, Cornell, Penn- sylvania, Columbia City College and the Massachusetts Institute. Each college is allowed to enter twenty men in this race.

Dutch Brawl. The study Brooklyn basketball and Harold Williams who claim the 125 pound championship title of the Am and Nave will clash in a ten-round battle at the Boston A. C. of Saturday night. The boys will battle at 125 pounds, high or at the outside.

Mike O'Dowd, the new middleweight champion, will defend his title for the first time in a bout in Philadelphia. Mike will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill.

Wagner Outpoints Leonard. STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 23.—Harry Wagner of Brooklyn outpointed and outboxed Joe Leonard of New York in a fast and interesting bout before a huge crowd at a show held in Chicago at the Atlas A. C. last night. The boys were immediately rematched for another bout.

20,000 People to See Yale Play Tiger Cubs

Military Spirit Will Be Chief Thing at To-Day's Game in New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 24.—The big football game of the season for Connecticut will be played to-day at Yale Field, when the Yale 1921 R. O. T. C. team closes its season with the game against the Princeton 1921 R. O. T. C. team before a crowd sure to pass 20,000 people.

Dr. Brides to-day announced that there was no change from the lineup given out by him on Thursday, but that if possible during the game many substitutes would be sent in to get their insignias, because of the conscientious work done during the fall, when there was so little interest in football here.

Scores of graduates are back in town to-day, though, of course, nothing to compare with the number that has been here in former years for a real, big game. Practically all the hotels were filled, many making the occasion one for a reunion with the large number of Yale and Princeton graduates and undergraduates who are now in the service in various capacities and naval bases in the East, all of whom have been invited to come here as guests of the management to-day.

The game will be preceded by a drill by members of the R. O. T. C. and the student body preferred naval to artillery training. There will also be an inspection of the new Yale artillery armory at the field in the morning and a smoker there in the afternoon after the game. In fact the entire spirit will be the chief of the day, except for the period of the game.

There were many informal reunions last night, but uniforms were everywhere and occupied the chief place at the annual of football. In the scientific school there were informal dances, and to-day there will be the usual teas which follow a big game.

The university professors and undergraduates alike have done every- thing to make to-day like the day of a big game in peace times. In contrast to previous years when the members of the Yale teams have been wrapped in the cotton and sent up the hill in the night, the mem- bers of the squad on the eve of the game received some straight from the shoulder advice from Brides and Johnny Mack, and were told to go to the field early and get into the game. They went away from the meeting in their military uniforms, their hands all in a row, and their feet in the mud. The Princeton team will be early in the morning for some up- preheating work before the game.

Schoolboys in Big Run. The Brooklyn High School cross country championship will be held this afternoon. The Prospect course, the distance being three miles. Five schools will defend the title for the first time in a long time. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill.

Wagner Outpoints Leonard. STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 23.—Harry Wagner of Brooklyn outpointed and outboxed Joe Leonard of New York in a fast and interesting bout before a huge crowd at a show held in Chicago at the Atlas A. C. last night. The boys were immediately rematched for another bout.

Cornell Again Favorite in Cross-Country Run. For the first time in a number of years Harvard will not be represented in the tenth annual Cornell cross-country run of the Intercollegiate A. A. which will be held over the national course at Van Cortlandt Park this afternoon.

Seven colleges have entered teams, including Yale, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the College of the City of New York. Cornell is the favorite, having won fifteen of the last eighteen cross-country races.

The Crimson college will, however, start a strong team in the freshman ranks, as will Yale, Cornell, Penn- sylvania, Columbia City College and the Massachusetts Institute. Each college is allowed to enter twenty men in this race.

Dutch Brawl. The study Brooklyn basketball and Harold Williams who claim the 125 pound championship title of the Am and Nave will clash in a ten-round battle at the Boston A. C. of Saturday night. The boys will battle at 125 pounds, high or at the outside.

Mike O'Dowd, the new middleweight champion, will defend his title for the first time in a bout in Philadelphia. Mike will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill.

Wagner Outpoints Leonard. STAMFORD, Conn., Nov. 23.—Harry Wagner of Brooklyn outpointed and outboxed Joe Leonard of New York in a fast and interesting bout before a huge crowd at a show held in Chicago at the Atlas A. C. last night. The boys were immediately rematched for another bout.

Cornell Again Favorite in Cross-Country Run. For the first time in a number of years Harvard will not be represented in the tenth annual Cornell cross-country run of the Intercollegiate A. A. which will be held over the national course at Van Cortlandt Park this afternoon.

Seven colleges have entered teams, including Yale, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the College of the City of New York. Cornell is the favorite, having won fifteen of the last eighteen cross-country races.

The Crimson college will, however, start a strong team in the freshman ranks, as will Yale, Cornell, Penn- sylvania, Columbia City College and the Massachusetts Institute. Each college is allowed to enter twenty men in this race.

Dutch Brawl. The study Brooklyn basketball and Harold Williams who claim the 125 pound championship title of the Am and Nave will clash in a ten-round battle at the Boston A. C. of Saturday night. The boys will battle at 125 pounds, high or at the outside.

Mike O'Dowd, the new middleweight champion, will defend his title for the first time in a bout in Philadelphia. Mike will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill. The Prospect course is a hard one to run, and the boys will have a tough contest to get into the top of the hill.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL.

Rutgers vs. Newport Naval Reserve, Camp Upton vs. Camp Devens, Columbia vs. N. Y. U., Fordham vs. Pelham Bay Naval Reserve, Army vs. Boston College, Allegheny vs. of Akron, Brown vs. Dartmouth, Dickinson vs. Bucknell, Georgetown vs. Washington, Johns Hopkins vs. St. John's, Lebanon Valley vs. Temple, Lehigh vs. Lafayette, Middlebury vs. Vermont, Swarthmore vs. Haverford, Penn. vs. California, Wash. & J. vs. Notre Dame, W. Va. vs. Wesleyan vs. W. Va. Un- versity, Yale Freshmen vs. Princeton Freshmen.

Ebbets Tells Brooklyn Clergy Why Sunday Ball Should Be Allowed

Points Out That There Is a Demand for the Sport on Sabbath, Declaring 50,000 Signed Petition to Secure Its Legislation.

IN an open letter addressed to the clergy of Brooklyn, Charles H. Ebbets, President of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, and E. J. McKeever, Vice President of the club, submit a brief for Sunday baseball.

They state their belief in the sanctity of the Sabbath, and disclaim the idea of doing anything which might prove offensive to the church. At the same time they point out the fact that there is a very real demand for Sunday baseball, as evidenced by the fact that between 40,000 and 50,000 signatures were secured to a petition for its legislation.

They also point out that the law prohibiting the playing of baseball on the Sabbath has changed considerably since then. Also they cite the fact that no liquor is sold, and that baseball is a clean, healthy sport which tends to uplift the morals of the community.

"We desire," the letter reads, "herewith to most respectfully submit for your consideration the reasons why we advocate the amending of the old 'blue law' for the purpose of legally playing baseball games on Sunday afternoons; said law, which was enacted in 1787, reads as follows:

"All shooting, hunting, fishing, playing, horse racing, gaming or other public sports, exercises or shows, upon the first day of the week, and all noises disturbing the peace of the day are prohibited."

"It is a fact that the law is a 'dead letter' and that every activity against which it is directed is being carried on in this community at Ebbets Field."

"During the thirty-five years of life of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, we have repeatedly been requested in various ways to consider the amending of the law for the purpose of legally playing baseball games on Sunday afternoons; said law, which was enacted in 1787, reads as follows:

"All shooting, hunting, fishing, playing, horse racing, gaming or other public sports, exercises or shows, upon the first day of the week, and all noises disturbing the peace of the day are prohibited."

"It is a fact that the law is a 'dead letter' and that every activity against which it is directed is being carried on in this community at Ebbets Field."

"During the thirty-five years of life of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, we have repeatedly been requested in various ways to consider the amending of the law for the purpose of legally playing baseball games on Sunday afternoons; said law, which was enacted in 1787, reads as follows:

"All shooting, hunting, fishing, playing, horse racing, gaming or other public sports, exercises or shows, upon the first day of the week, and all noises disturbing the peace of the day are prohibited."

"It is a fact that the law is a 'dead letter' and that every activity against which it is directed is being carried on in this community at Ebbets Field."

"During the thirty-five years of life of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, we have repeatedly been requested in various ways to consider the amending of the law for the purpose of legally playing baseball games on Sunday afternoons; said law, which was enacted in 1787, reads as follows:

HOOKS AND LIES

By William Abbott.

NOW the Great Neck Club that will have a double eighteen-hole course. This popular Long Island club will practically have two brand new links as the old course is now being rebuilt. The low marsh land that was so troublesome after rainstorms to play over, is being filled in. When the work is completed fourteen holes of the course will have been re-laid.

Although the members, not being satisfied with these changes, voted to purchase additional land north of the old house for a second course. The club now holds title to 28 acres over the old course, and is ready to start work on the new links at Great Neck Bay.

All the construction at Great Neck is under the direction of Devereux Palmer, the well known golf architect. Work on the old course is now being rushed and it is the hope of Mr. Palmer that both links will be finished next spring.

If Herbert N. Warshaw, Assistant District Attorney over in Brooklyn, is unusually lenient during the trial for the case of the "hook" and "lie" there's a reason. At the start it may be said that Mr. Warshaw is quite satisfied with himself after his latest exploits on the links, which means that he is not the strictest of sportsmen. The "hook" and "lie" case is at St. Albans. Yes, sir, the new St. Albans champion battled his way to the final match and encountered Bert Parsons, the old-time champion, in a hole-in-one. After a stubborn fight Warshaw won 2 up. The winner was 4 up after the first round, but Parsons cut loose with several long putts in the second round and reduced the lead. The champion's scores were 81 and 93.

Francis Guimet arrived here early today on the night boat from Boston for his thirty-six hole match with Guilford, Anderson and Kirkby at Englewood. Immediately after the tournament the former national amateur will open a new season with a train back for the Hub to report in time at Camp Devens, where he is stationed with other selectives from Boston. Unless from these days last granting any special privileges for champions.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.

Tom Mulgrew, professional at the Hackensack Club, is on his way to Greenville, S. C., to manage the Southern course for the winter. Mulgrew will be on the job again over in Jersey early in the spring.

The United States Golf Association will hold its annual meeting on the evening of Jan. 12 at the Hotel Statler in Philadelphia. The spirit of Hooverism will be much in evidence, as the association will suspend its time honored custom of holding a banquet before transacting business.

Stewart Doyle, George Lova's assistant, will open the golf season on Dec. 1. Golfers are already playing at St. Augustine.

The Nominating Committee of the Women's Golf Association has not been appointed as yet, and according to Mrs. J. E. Donohue, the president, the association will take a step in that direction which will be taken until after the holidays. The annual meeting of the association will be held the last Thursday in January.