tion on a vast scale really are going on. These "extra-official negotiations," as they are called by diplomats, depart radically from the ancient and accepted practices of diplomacy. Instead of being conducted in the secrecy of round-table conferences, which was the aim of the Central Powers in the early stages of the war, the great issues are now being expounded and critically analyzed in the light of publicity and the world's forum.

LONDON APPROVES WILSON'S ATTITUDE TOWARD HERTLING

Daily News Says Commons Will Feel Significance of President's Address.

LONDON, Feb. 12.—President Wilson's address is given the same prominence that all his utterances receive in the newspapers. The President's attitude toward the speech of Count von Hertling receives the main attention, and in this the President is regarded as having gone to the heart of the matter.

In the address the Times sees an important refutation of "the Bolshevik illusion that Prussian militarism can be expressed by rhetoric," and commends the serene confidence with which President Wilson adheres to the belief that the war will not end without establishing the reign of right and justice.

The Daily News believes that if it was not an accident that the President's reply to Von Hertling and Count Casimir was delivered on the eve of a new session of the British Parliament and that its significance will not be lost on the House of Commons, in view of conditions which "arise generally from the gravity of national affairs and specifically from the vague and disquieting situation created by the last Versailles conference, with its menacing suggestion of another reaction in the direction of a knock-out blow."

The Chronicle thinks "the address goes to the heart of the matter in analyzing Hertling's attitude." "Wilson's phrase that we can never turn back provides a handy catchword," said the Evening Standard. "Both branches of Anglo-Saxons are in the struggle against the system that is every negation of ideas common to the race."

"Let Parliament to-day compare Wilson's speech with the official report of the Versailles conference," declared the Star. "Let us reconcile them if we can. We can't, Wilson speaks the language of democracy. The Versailles report is written in the jargon of old secret diplomacy." The Westminster Gazette said: "It remains to be seen whether Count Casimir will be able to maintain his attitude or whether we have to deal with enemies whose standpoint is still accurately represented by the Kaiser, who is resolved to make the world submit to a victorious German army."
