U. S. ARMY ORDERS A WIDE SEARCH FOR A MISSING CAPTAIN

J. B. Bowen of 54th Infantry, Spartanburg, Got Leave and Disappeared.

(Special to The Evening World.) SPARTANBURG, S. C., May 22.—A country-wide search is being made for Capt. J. B. Bowen of the 54th United States Infantry, who disappeared more than a week ago. The military and civil police and Government special agents are searching every city throughout the country in the effort to find him, but so far nothing has been heard of him since he disappeared.

Capt. Bowen obtained a few days' leave of absence and left his regiment at Camp Wadsworth on May 11 to visit his wife and family at Lumberton, N. C. He went to his home and spent Saturday and Sunday with his wife and father. On Sunday night he went to the Selwyn Hotel at Charlotte and took a room, his father accompanying him.

Capt. Bowen left a call for 4 o'clock in the morning with the hotel clerk, saying he wanted to catch an early train for Camp Wadsworth. He told his father not to get up with him in the morning, but to sleep until daylight.

At 4 o'clock the clerk called Capt. Bowen, who answered the telephone and asked the clerk to obtain an automobile to take him to the railroad station. The clerk did this, and the last seen of Capt. Bowen was when he entered the automobile.

For several days it was thought that Capt. Bowen had returned to Camp Wadsworth, but a telegram was then received by Mrs. Bowen, addressed to the Captain, ordering him to report to Camp Wadsworth at once. This was the first intimation that had been received that the Captain had not reached camp. A search for the missing officer was started at once.

Two Reasons Why Red Cross Fund Grows Fast in Pulitzer Building

GERALDINE BECKWITH. You've got to be as inert as a piece of petrified stump if you resist the pleas of Miss Geraldine Beckwith and Miss Madeleine Coghlan, in charge of the Red Cross booth in the lobby of the Pulitzer building, who on the third day of the drive have made a record thrust on the pockets of all that pass in and out. And when fair Miss Beckwith approaches the resident in the large structure, with her beaming smile, oh, boy! No matter what he has given, he's got to strip another from the roll. It's irresistible. In a systematic canvass she has made a drive on every office up to the fifth floor, and by the end of the week will have covered the entire building. Which only goes to prove how thoroughly a Red Cross worker works.

13 ENTOMBED MINERS DEAD.
Nine More Bodies Taken From West Virginia Shaft.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 22.—Nine miners, who were caught behind a wall of fire when the main entry of the Mill Creek Canal Coal Mining Company's mine at Villa, W. Va., burst into flame from some undetermined cause last Monday, were found dead in the workings to-day. The bodies of four of their companions were recovered yesterday.

DUTCH PROTEST TO U. S. AGAIN ON SHIP SEIZURE

New Note Declares Government's Explanation Did Not Answer Original Objections.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A supplementary note of protest against the British and American seizure of Dutch shipping has been handed to Secretary Lansing by the Dutch Legation here.

It contends that the United States, in its explanation of the seizure, did not answer the original objections made by the Dutch Government.

LONDON, May 22.—The prohibition of the sailings of all Dutch ships from Dutch ports, the Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he learns, is connected with a new move by the German Government to compel Holland to sign on Berlin's terms the long pending economic agreement, which Holland has declined to do owing to the onerous conditions imposed by Germany.

The German Government, accordingly, has refused a safe conduct to Dutch shipping through the safe zone and seized the steamship Megrez, which Holland chartered to fetch a cargo of wood from Sweden. The seizure was a direct challenge to Holland and, it is added, the prohibition of further sailings is the sequel.

Boy's Body Found at Governor's Island.

The body of an unidentified boy was found off the south end of Governor's Island this morning. It was in a badly decomposed condition. The boy was about four feet high, weighed ninety pounds, dark hair and dark complexion. The body was clad in a gray mixed suit, white cotton outing shirt, white stockings and black shoes.

Don't Let Soap Spoil Your Hair

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle. The best thing to use is just plain multifloral coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advt.
