SPRIT OF MITCHEL LIVES IN AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE

Sergeant at Front Pays Tribute to Major—Memorial Fund Growing.

Another $100 contribution and $18 in small sums bring The World's collection for the Mitchell Memorial Fund this morning to $26,547.66.

With the day's donations came a letter from a soldier in France. It was forwarded to The World by William H. Matthews, Director of the Department of Family Welfare, and was written by Sergt. Laurence P. Moomau, Battery D, 321st Field Artillery, a New Yorker. In a tribute to Major Mitchell he says in part: "I cannot help feeling that it was wrong to allow him to take such chances with so valuable a life. It is too bad, and yet his going as he did stands for great things. He has proven the democracy of our army; he died just as he lived, standing for the things that are best, and something I feel that he will live with us over here in France."

Raymond Orteig of No. 15 Fifth Avenue was the contributor of $104 yesterday. Ernest H. Kaufmann, manufacturer of ribbons and silks, No. 13 East 26th Street, sent in $55, and did Samuel D. Goldstein, No. 114 Fifth Avenue, and Edgar Boody, No. 111 Broadway.

"P. A. I., giving no address, added $1 to the fund and wrote: 'I regret that I can not subscribe $1,000.'"

SUIT AGAINST LATE CZAR TO BE DISMISSED BY U. S.

Court Asked to Set Aside $117,450 Judgment Obtained by Transport Co.

The shots that sped Nicholas Romanoff, ex-Czar of Russia, to his death in Ekaterinburg a few weeks ago were faintly re-echoed today in the Special Term of the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, when H. Harvey Harwood, Assistant United States District Attorney, moved to get aside the judgment of $117,450 recently obtained by the Marine Transport Service Corporation in a suit against the deceased Russian ruler.

The late czar, as legal representative of the Russian Government, was sued for alleged breach of contract. A referee appointed by the court here decided Nicholas himself would have to stand the bill. Judge Crosskey reserved decision.

THE NEW PLAYS "The Blue Pearl" Keeps Audience Guessing

BY CHARLES DARTON

IT'S the mystery in "The Blue Pearl" that gives Anne Crawford Flexner's play its interest. At the Longacre Theatre last night this so-called comedy-drama kept the audience guessing—a pastime quite as simple, if not as strenuous, as childhood's button game.

It wouldn't be fair to tell who stole the pearl after Sybil got it in the neck from "Tolly" at Atlantic City, but it is quite proper to say that this unlucky stone was not a wedding gift. Though married, Sybil and Holland didn't happen to be married to each other. They rolled along the boardwalk in a chair on an apparently dull night in Atlantic City, for only one other chair passed by while they were having a jolly week-end quarrel.

But the moment Holland Webb began to talk about jewels, Sybil Kent became strangely interested. She grew almost rapturous as he told him of getting up in the middle of the night and putting on her own precious gems just to have a good look at herself. Then he gave her the pearl—and left us waiting for the plot to thicken.

It was a hopelessly mixed company that found its way through the door of Webb's New York home three days later. He had planned to play cards with his crowd, while his wife had asked a Russian pianist and the police commissioner to drop in for a little music. Sybil was on the husband's list of guests, and she arrived in all the glory of the blue pearl and a gown that would have made a movie vampyre writhe with envy.

Oddly enough, the pearl attracted more attention than the open-plumbing "creation." It was closely inspected by one after another of the polite company the moment introductions were over. The Russian pianist became highly emotional as soon as he got his eye on it. Then, innocently enough, he started hypnotizing Sybil, but just as she was getting nice and limp the lights went out. Instantly there was a great deal of noise, even for so noisy a party, and when the lights were flashed on again, Sybil's chest was as bare as her back. Someone had stolen her pearl. Who? The police commissioner, who had been called away, got back at this interesting moment and started right in to solve the mystery.

He discovered among other things that the lights could be switched off by a person's leaning against a wire on the wall. No one was allowed to leave the room in a scene that recalled "The Thirteenth Chair." All were questioned and some were searched, the pleasant little party didn't break up until the pearl was found. Sybil was pained to hear that it had been stolen from the Khedive of Egypt. And she had been foolish enough to have her feet in the scrubbed: "Holly to Sybil." This made the way clear to divorce proceedings, with the prospect that the police commissioner would eventually marry Mrs. Webb. Sybil didn't care anything about her husband, for he was a card-sharp, and when he saw the pearl, he said: "Give me some money and I'll ask no questions." Julia Hains held the centre of the stage as well as the eye with and without the pearl. She made Sybil interestingly wicked, though rarely preferred. George H. Hughes, Charles Angelo, Yolande Duquette, C. Oliver Smith and J. Palmer Collins also did good work. "The Blue Pearl" is a well-acted play that is likely to interest women who have a weakness for jewels.

GERMAN SPY FURNITURE TO HELP LIBERTY LOAN

Office Equipment of Bomb Plotter and Agent to Go to Campaign Headquarters.

A German bomb-plotter and a German propaganda agent will contribute toward making the fourth Liberty Loan campaign a success.

Office furniture used by these men has been turned over to the Liberty Loan Committee of the New York Federal Reserve Bank district and will be used in the headquarters for the campaign which begins Sept. 23. The men who used the furniture are now held by the Federal authorities.

The furniture was part of a large quantity of office equipment sold or given to the Liberty Loan Committee by A. Mitchell Palmer, Allen Property Custodian.

German money also will contribute heavily to the Liberty Loan, for Mr. Palmer, who has already invested $42,000,000 in Liberty bonds, has several millions on deposit for the next bond campaign.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS POUR IN.

More Than 7,000,000 Received in America Since July 25.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—More than seven million letters from American soldiers in France have been received at Atlantic ports since July 25, and the Post Office Department announced today that every one of them was started for its destination within twenty-four hours after its arrival. One ship brought 2,823,000 letters and another 300,000 on Aug. 2, and a ship arriving Aug. 5 brought 2,041,000.

Of all this mail 89 per cent. was sorted as to railroad routes in this country before it left France.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 9.—It was announced here today that the Emergency Fleet Corporation had taken over the operation of the Newcombs shipbuilding and Dock Company at Hampton, Va. The company has on hand about twelve contracts for the Government.

"HUMAN FLY" IN CLIMB GIVES CROWD FREE CHILLS

Crawls Up Hall of Records, Scales Flag Staff and Kisses Old Glory.

Chills played up and down many thousand human spines in City Hall Park today when Harry Gardner, "The Human Fly," hung by his left elbow and right heel on the sloping edge of a cornice and made a speech for the benefit of the Knights of Columbus Coney Island week celebration. Gardner went up the side of the Hall of Records, Chambers and Centre Streets. While he climbed, the Battleship Recruit Band played, girls collected funds and showers of silver were hurled toward a mammoth American flag which served as a collection basket.

Gardner moved up a fluted column for three stories without any visible means of support. Then he rested and made a speech that could be heard at the Post Office. Above the sixth story the climber encountered a cornice that extended fully six feet from the face of the building. After a number of attempts to negotiate this obstacle he was compelled to call for a rope with which he swung himself up. The rest of the way to the flagstaff was easy. When Gardner reached the top he kissed Old Glory, the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the crowd cheered.

Found Baby in a Vagrant Lot.

John J. Douglas of No. 295 East 139th Street, the Bronx, discovered a live girl baby two days old in a vagrant lot near 132d Street today. An ambulance from Bellevue Hospital took charge of the infant and it will be placed in an incubator. Physicians believe it will live. Detectives are working on the case.

Isaac Purdy, "Gentleman" Bankrupt.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in the United States District Court against Isaac Purdy, "by occupation a gentleman." Mr. Purdy's address was given as Purdy Station, Westchester County, N. Y. The liabilities and assets were not given.

ACCUSE TWO POLICEMEN OF "FRAME-UP" IN FONG CASE

Girl Denies Chinaman Attacked Her and Magistrate Reynolds Dismisses Charge Against Him.

Magistrate Reynolds in the Flatbush Avenue Court, today, was so impressed by evidence tending to show a police "frame-up" against a Chinese chop suey vendor that he directed the attorney for the accused Chinaman to lay a complaint before Police Commissioner Enright against Sgt. Hanrahy and Policeman Smallman of the Flatbush Avenue Station.

Harry Fong, proprietor of the restaurant, was before the Magistrate on a serious charge preferred by Edna Hobbs, fourteen years old, of No. 1128 Flatbush Avenue. When the girl, who had been kept over night in the custody of the Children's Society, took stand she repudiated the story the policeman had testified to and said when they found her in Fong's place they talked her into making the charge so that they "could hit the Chinink." When she finally asserted the policeman fell upon Fong and gave him a beating, the girl declared.

ANOTHER LEWIS BROADSIDE.

Attacks P. S. Commission Again, and Kracke Especially.

Attorney General Merton E. Lewis today made another attack on the Public Service Commission and Gov. Whitman who appointed its members, blaming them for the subway muddle. Particular attention is devoted in the latest criticism to Commissioner F. J. H. Kracke of Brooklyn, a political leader in one of the silk stocking districts of that borough.

"To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury and ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator Richard Rolland Kenner of Delaware, at present Major of the U. S. Army; General John E. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of shiloh, who was sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington, and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

A sepia portrait of PRESIDENT WILSON ready for framing.

President Wilson's portrait is reproduced in the rotogravure section of Pictorial Review for September, together with its stirring tribute to the women of America and with its signature—ready for framing. This same issue also contains two reproductions of wonderful war pictures by the famous French artist Lucien Jonas, vigorously symbolic of America's part in the war. All of these are artistically finished in sepia rotogravure, full page size and ready for framing.

A tribute from President Wilson to the Women of America

"I THINK the whole country has appreciated the way in which women have risen to this great occasion. They have not only done what they have been asked to do, and done it with ardor and efficiency, but they have shown a power to organize for doing things on their own initiative, which is quite a different thing and a very much more difficult thing. I think the whole country has admired the spirit and the capacity and devotion of the women of the United States. It goes without saying that the country depends upon women for a large part of the inspiration of its life. That is obvious. But it is now depending upon the women also for suggestions of service, which have been rendered in abundance and with the distinction of originality."

A young French Wife—at the mercy of the Huns

The pretty little wife of the pharmacist—always sheltered and protected from every harsh influence, suddenly left at the mercy of the invaders. How a mighty strength comes to her in the hour of her trial—what happens to her, fighting against tremendous odds—here is a story that will thrill every woman's heart. Dorothy Canfield's "La Pharmacienne" is one of the finest stories the war has yet produced.

Through the barrier of Death Did she get his message?

"Going West" is the soldier's expression for passing on into the far country. Basil King's story, "Going West," will give you a new conception of the After Life. It is an answer to the great query that haunts every one of us who has faced the separation of Death. Are the barriers so strong—is the veil so impenetrable as we are wont to think? Read this powerful story of the triumph of a great Love—even over Death!
