DECLARES CREEL WORKED WITH REDS TO UNSEAT KAISER

Co-operated in Spreading Propaganda in German Army, Asserts Martens.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—"Officials of the United States" co-operated actively with the Russian Soviet Government in conducting propaganda designed to undermine the Imperial German Government, Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, representative of Soviet Russia in this country, declared today before the Senate Investigating Committee. Martens named Raymond Robins, formerly of the Red Cross organization in Russia, and "agents" of the Committee on Public Information.

"At a time when a branch of the United States Government, during 1917, was preparing the instance of alleged documents on the basis of which it was implied that officials of the Soviet Government were paid agents of the Imperial German Government, Martens said, 'My government was actively cooperating with agents of that branch of the United States Government in Soviet, Russia, in circulating among the German Army appeals to overthrow the German Government.'

"Mr. Creel's Bureau of Public Information," Martens said, was the Government branch and the "so-called Blason documents" was the propaganda under preparation.

Former Senator Hardwick of Georgia, counsel for Martens, gave notice that Robins would be called to testify.

"He Creel was working with you on one hand, and attacking you on the other," said Senator Moses.

"Yes," Martens said. "All propaganda urging revolution sent out by Soviet Government, Martens said, was a 'measure of defense and reprisal against powers openly and actively hostile to the Soviet Republic.' He added that many offers to drop all circulation of matter of the kind in exchange for resumption of commercial relations, had been made and that the good faith of the offers was unmistakable. Martens also stated that citizens of the United States had acted as his couriers. He declined to give their names.

NEW CASES OF FLU SHOW DROP OF 352, BUT DEATHS JUMP

Influenza Kills 186 in Day and Pneumonia 193, Dr. Copeland Reports.

While the new cases of influenza reported in the twenty-four hour period ending at 10 A. M. to-day were 252 below yesterday's total, new cases of pneumonia climbed 202, to the mark of 782.

There was an increase of twenty-three in the number of deaths ascribed to influenza and of nine in the number of deaths from pneumonia.

The increase in the number of pneumonia cases recorded to-day, together with the maintaining of about the same level of deaths, Dr. Copeland ascribed to the fact that the peak in the number of new cases of influenza was reached one week ago.

Declaring that the most important duty confronting the public officers of New York is to make the city clean and then keep it clean, Health Commissioner Copeland this morning wrote the following letter to Commissioner of Street Cleaning Arnold R. McStay:

"Repeated complaints are coming to this office regarding the unsanitary condition of the streets.

"Carbage is piled high, ashes are accumulating, crossings are wet and the health of the people is seriously injured by the present condition of affairs.

"I must appeal to you, in the name of the public health, to exercise not the usual methods of control but the extraordinary efforts that are demanded by reason of the epidemic."

The Commissioner also wrote as follows to Mayor Hylan:

"I enclose a copy of a letter just sent to Commissioner McStay. I have been informed that his difficulty lies in the hiring of trucks and that the fund at his disposal for this purpose is not sufficient. I beg of you to give the affair immediate attention, because it is a matter of great public concern."

Following are the figures for the twenty-four hours ending at 10 o'clock to-day:

Commissioner Copeland, as arbitrator, succeeded in having the walk-out of stationary heating plant operators, scheduled for 8 A. M. to-day, called off at a stormy meeting of 2,000 engineers, firemen and their helpers, in the Central Opera House last night.

Dr. Copeland reported to the meeting that the landlords, as represented by the real estate interests, had agreed to grant the wage demands of the men and the forty-eight hour week. The Hotel Men's Association, he asserted, would grant the same demands except that, where the firemen demanded 133 a week, the association's representatives had authorized him to say they would pay only $31.50.

HINTS NEWBERRY PLOT WAS HATCHED IN BILTMORE HOTEL

Witness Says Robert Oakman and Mayor Marx of Detroit Were There.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 4.—Introduction of testimony designed to prove its charges of conspiracy, fraud and corruption in the election of United States Senator Newberry was resumed by the Government in Federal District Court here to-day.

James F. Sweinhart, New York representative of the Detroit News, testified that in the middle of January, 1918, he called on Edward Fitzgerald, secretary of Mayor Oscar Marx of Detroit, at the Biltmore Hotel in New York.

Robert Oakman and Mayor Marx were with him. He said that about half an hour later they came "face to face with Commander Newberry leaving Oakman's room."

Sweinhart said he frequently called at Newberry's office, No. 230 Broadway. Newspaper duties were the usual objects of such calls, which he said extended into September. He testified that Frederick Cody was there "very often." Cody was referred to yesterday as having said there would be a "barrel of money" in the campaign.

Sweinhart said Cody usually walked past the office attendants without question, while others were not allowed beyond an outer railing until permission to enter came from the inner office.

Sweinhart said that in his talks with Newberry about the Senatorial campaign he was shown letters and telegrams from Paul H. King and that Newberry told him he "was kept posted almost daily" on happenings in Michigan.

Sweinhart said he remembered one specific conversation with Cody in Newberry's office.

"It related to money," he said. "We stood apart from others in the room and Cody told me that he had been out to Michigan and Cody said: 'The sky is off out there. The sky is the limit.'"

The witness said Thomas P. Phillips, a defendant, asked him for suggestions as to some big Republican to interview in support of Newberry, and Sweinhart suggested Theodore Roosevelt.

Martin W. Littleton, for the defense, drew from the witness that arrangements were made through Cody for a visit to Col. Roosevelt at the Century Club. The court halted attempts to get into the evidence at this stage, what was said by Col. Roosevelt relative to the Newberry candidacy.

Mr. Littleton detailed the witness's memory on facts of visits to Philadelphia. He recalled that he turned to the conversation in April, 1918, with Cody and learned that the witness could not recall his own remarks on the occasion that the "bid" was discussed by Cody.

A conference over the candidacy of Chase Osburn, which Sweinhart said Cody claimed to have broken up, was the next topic. The witness said he understood from Cody that Osburn, Newberry and Henry Ford were expected at the conference. Jugged by William Alden Smith was also mentioned as a possible participant.

"Did not Mr. Cody tell you that the conference broke up because Mr. Smith would not attend?" Littleton asked.

"No, sir."

Oscar B. Marx, former Mayor of Detroit, testified he visited New York in January, 1918, in company with Robert Oakman. He said he knew Newberry and Cody and they visited him at the Hotel Marlborough. He said if Newberry became a candidate it would take a load off his mind if his organization were with him.

DETECTIVE'S RUSE STARTLES WOMAN

"Talk," He Commands, Then Dashes Across Street to Arrest Alleged Silk Thieves.

Detective Casassa of the West 30th Street Station stopped a woman acquaintance at 28th Street and Fourth Avenue late yesterday afternoon and started her with the command: "Talk. Don't worry what it's about, but talk and keep smiling."

The woman did her best. Casassa laughed and talked back—regular street conversation. Suddenly he dived across the street and pounced on two men with a package just as his partner, Detective Quinn, appeared from nowhere.

The package contained 225 yards of silk, valued at $1,000. The prisoners gave their names as James Downing, No. 219 East 34th Street, and Patrick Keating, No. 25 East 35th Street. They stole the silk, the detectives say, from a truck belonging to the Onward Silk Company, No. 331-341 Fourth Avenue.

The detectives allege they saw "faded out" to watch developments. The package contained 225 yards of silk, valued at $1,000. The prisoners gave their names as James Downing, No. 219 East 34th Street, and Patrick Keating, No. 25 East 35th Street.

Martens promised that any understanding arrived at would be scrupulously observed by his government. "The economic interests of Soviet Russia are a sufficiently binding guarantee that such understanding will be observed," Martens stated.

Twenty-four Japanese were lined up in front of Magistrate Levine in the West Side Court this morning. A pair of Inspectors Henry's detectives had captured them in a house at No. 145 West 65th Street.

"Well," demanded the Magistrate, "what were you boys up to?" "Playing boguchi-boguchi," confessed a prisoner.

"And what is that?" "It's galloping dominoes," interpreted Detective Malone.

"Yes? And that means?" "African golf, Your Honor," said Detective Malone.

"And in plain English?" "Craps, Judge, craps—shooting craps," said a Japanese school boy.

The Magistrate thereupon declared that the Japanese have as good a right as anybody else to play the national game in the sanctity of a private house, and he discharged the lot.
