

JULY'S AUTO TOLL, 8 KILLED, 25 HURT IN FIRST 2 DAYS

Six of Victims Are Children, and Five Deaths in City Were in Last 24 Hours.

Police records to-day showed eight dead, six of them children, and twenty-five injured by automobiles in New York City the first two days of July. Five of the deaths occurred yesterday.

George Callahan, seven, of No. 46 Morton Street, Manhattan, was instantly killed last night when he was run down at Bedford and Commerce streets by an automobile delivery wagon, driven by Alfred Hansen of No. 104 Washington Street. Hansen was arrested. According to the police, Hansen was speeding.

Joseph Hurlbert, chauffeur, of No. 1311 Second Avenue, was arrested last night on a charge of homicide and driving a motor truck while intoxicated, following the death of an unidentified man about sixty years old who had been run down by Hurlbert at 10th Avenue and 24th Street.

When he attempted to dart across the street in front of a motor truck at Huron and Oakland Streets, Brooklyn, last night, Walter Patterson, seven, of No. 197 India Street, was struck and instantly killed. The driver, Julius Borlner of No. 1043 Manhattan Avenue, Brooklyn, was arrested.

Mrs. Mary Grimm, thirty-eight, of No. 395 1/2 Freeman Avenue, Long Island City, stepped from behind a trolley car at Jackson and Jackson Avenues and was knocked down and killed by an automobile driven by George A. Hahn of No. 46 Nassau Avenue, Long Island City.

Thomas Irving, nine, of No. 212 Prince Street, Brooklyn, ran out into the roadway to recover a ball near his home and was struck by a heavy motor truck operated by Arthur Deke of No. 108 Bay 28th Street, Brooklyn. He was instantly killed.

Army Officers to Fix Blame for Girl's Death by Auto. A board of army officers will be appointed to fix responsibility for the death of eight-year-old Mary Mulligan, who was run down and killed by an army automobile Thursday in front of her home at No. 2192 Eighth Avenue. In the mean time Romie L. Archer, the chauffeur who was driving the car at the time of the accident, is a prisoner in the guard house at Mitchell Field on a technical charge of manslaughter.

"DIAMOND" RINGS AT $5. But Their Real Value Is 15 Cents, Police Say.

Detectives Muzge and Raffia to-day haled Henry Zollinger of No. 21 West 96th Street into Jefferson Market Court charged with petit larceny. Yesterday they charge, Zollinger approached Francis J. Quino, a chauffeur, at 29th Street and Broadway, saying: "Here's a fine cheap. A real diamond. Worth $150. Just grabbed it on the fly in the hotel there. Gimme what you can."

Quino, the detective says, gave Zollinger $5. Zollinger was arrested. At the station the detectives declared they found twenty-five cents in Zollinger's pocket and also learned he had been arrested in different cities on a similar charge.

TO FIGHT DECISIONS UPHOLDING 8-CENT FARES IN RICHMOND

But Staten Islanders Demand Resumption of Service Even at Higher Cost.

Corporation Counsel O'Brien said to-day he would appeal two decisions handed down yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Tierney, which in effect voided the city's fight to prevent the charge of an 8-cent fare on the two Staten Island street railway companies.

Justice Tierney first denied the city's application that the Public Service Commission be restrained from further considering the proposed increase in fares over the Midland Railway Company's lines. He next refused to enjoin Richmond Light and Railway Company from exercising its eight-cent fare right as recently granted by the Public Service Commission. In making the latter decision, the court said the Public Service Commission had exercised its powers too broadly in that it had permitted an increased fare in certain zones where a maximum of five cents had been provided in the charters granted the company.

Two thousand Staten Islanders met last night at Midland Beach to draft an appeal to Mayor Hylan, the two Staten Island railway companies and the Board of Estimate, in which the residents demand that trolley service be resumed, even at an increased fare. President Van Name of Richmond Borough said summer resorts had lost 50 per cent. in patronage from inadequate trolley service and added he was the only member of the Board of Estimate favoring an increased fare.

SALOON MAN FINED MUST PAY $500 MORE

New Assessments in Brooklyn for Selling Liquor Where Prohibition Is in Force.

Internal Revenue Collector Bertram Gardner has entered the liquor situation in Brooklyn, and there are sad hearts in consequence. Saloonkeepers who kept on selling after Prohibition were fined from $5 to $500 and chucked at the thought of getting off to easily. But Collector Gardner and Deputy Collector William Berker have kept tabs on the saloon men fined and have sent notice to every one that the law says they must pay an additional fine for selling liquor in territory where Prohibition is in force.

Animalantics. Long-legged Plover is tall and is slim. As can be, So we can't show a picture of him. Drawn by me. 'Cause his legs ten feet tall. Would use up the space all. We think ten feet a great length of limb.

And the reason that Sir Unicorn, Known of old, With his one very sharp-pointed horn, Strong and bold, Has not had his portrait In the Korner of late, Is, we're sure, that he never was born.

OUR FLAG AND COUNTRY. When I see our flag on high, Waving proudly toward the sky, It reminds me of the glorious land For which this beautiful banner stands.

THE FOURTH OF JULY. The sky rockets whizz and the fireworks bang. While we celebrate the Fourth, I and my gang:

MY VERY DEAR COUSINS: I know by the eager little letters that you have sent me that you are all on edge to know who the contest winners are. Well, I am not going to keep you waiting. They are: Marian Raub, aged six, No. 829 East 216th Street, Bronx, New York City.

Of the flag; for which they fought and died. It seems to say: "If I do not wave, No nation, on earth, liberty can save." Our banner's the most glorious one on earth, And a free land is the home of its birth. So "Old Glory" we'll heartily cheer, For while you wave we have no fear. MARIE'S WISH. ONCE upon a time there lived a girl who was poor and ill. She never ran about with other children, but had to stay in bed. One day as Marie was looking out of the window awaiting the return of her mother from work a little girl walked up to the window and said to her: "Won't you come out into the street and play with me?"

Marie answered: "I would be very glad to play with you but I am very sick. I wish I lived out in the country where I could play in the fields, have lots of fresh milk to drink and pick beautiful flowers." The kind hearted little girl felt very sorry for Marie, and she went home and told her mother about the poor girl. Now this kind little girl's mother was very rich and owned many houses in the country. She was interested right away, and decided to go into the country for her vacation and to take Marie, too. When this joyous news reached Marie, she was no longer sad, but was happy and gay.

Keep Milk Cold If you can't we'll do it for you. It is highly important that your milk be kept cold until used. If there is a baby in your home be doubly sure of this. The sultry summer days make this care indispensable.

If you happen to be without facilities for keeping milk cold at home, go to any one of the 185 Sheffield Stores and buy, in your own container, just as much as you will use promptly. Go as many times a day as you may, you will always find the milk cold and clean and fresh. And during July at 11 cents per quart.

The milk sold in these stores is in every way the same quality as the Grade B Milk we deliver in bottles. If you cannot keep milk cold at home, our stores will keep it cold for you. Sheffield Farms Co., Inc. New York

Shall Poland Perish?

YOU Polish-Americans must decide. The fate of the new-born Republic is in your hands.

Poland has thrown off the yoke of the oppressor and is entering upon a new life full of promise— But, Poland must have money,—at once. She is borrowing $50,000,000 giving in exchange 6 per cent. twenty-year gold bonds backed by all the great resources of the country and by the undying patriotism of 35,000,000 liberty-loving people.

Poland is not a beggar. She wants a loan, money that she has not and you have. Shall it be said of the 2,500,000 Poles in the United States who subscribed for $365,000,000 worth of American Liberty bonds that they are deaf to this appeal?

Poland needs this money to rehabilitate herself—build railroads to transport her products to waiting markets; to develop her mines and exploit her forests and to buy raw materials so that her waiting millions may return to work.

Your kindred in Poland have not the money to loan their Government.—You have. By buying Polish Government bonds and sending them to Poland you are able to send money to your relatives and friends in Poland which is the same as ready cash. You will thus help both the Government and your friends.

Jan Ignace Paderewski, former Premier of Poland, says: "The Polish Government does not ask for charity, does not want any gifts, does not appeal for sacrifices. The Polish Government asks you to trust to it your savings and to help your Mother country as well as yourself. Your money is safe. I join my voice with that of the Polish Government and appeal to you all, my fellow countrymen."

Gen. Pilsudski, Chief of State of Poland, said: "I regret that I can only subscribe $10,000 to the loan. Money is to a nation what arms and ammunition are to an army. Without money a nation can no more exist than can an army without munitions of war."

"I am confident that the help of our sons in the United States will be forthcoming. They will not fail us. Our countrymen in America realize that support must be given in order that what has been won and created shall not perish."

Your conscience surely will not permit you to refuse to respond to this appeal. Shall Poland Perish? She relies for her life on her sons and the sons of her sons, who have always responded loyally
