

at any time and got that paper from him? Undermyer asked Hanlein, in seeking news of the missing agreement of the contractors as to the court house.

Major Hyland's investigator of the court house contracts, who was sitting at the corner table. Hirschfeld shook his head and said something inaudible. Undermyer laughed.

The Commissioner of Accounts doesn't know, said Undermyer, jerking. "We will ask the janitor." "Don't try to put anything over on me," snapped Hirschfeld.

There was a goatlike bleat from Hirschfeld's corner and the examination of Hanlein went on with an inquiry into the workings of the "Hetrick group," the inner circle of the Greater New York City Stone Contractors' Association.

Following out the New York police theory that it is a tactical error to allow a thief to know the police are looking for him, the George J. Bascom Co., a theatre ticket brokerage corporation, kept secret until today under the instruction of detectives the fact that Walter Stark, a clerk for the concern, was held up in a hallway on the sixth floor of the office building at No. 319 Madison Avenue at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and robbed of $10,000 in currency.

For the first time in six years the Imperial German flag, with its black, white and red bars, came into this port today. It hung at the aft of the steamship Sophie Beckmann, from Bremen, which docked at Pier 4, the Army Basin, at South Brooklyn, and all her officers and her forty-eight crew were immediately placed under guard and not permitted to go ashore.

question, it is well to bear in mind first, that the President-elect has an idea Europe is less interested in the present League than in America's cooperation in some kind of world organization, and that just as Woodrow Wilson may have influenced the formation of the kind of League he believed America wanted, so another American President has the moral power to put through his particular kind of programme.
