

LABOR GRAFTERS INDICTED FOR BUILDING HOLD-UP

To-Night's Weather—FAIR.

To-Morrow's Weather—FAIR.

To Be Sure of Getting The Evening World, Order in Advance from Your Newsdealer

The World.

FINAL EDITION ITS IN THE EVENING WORLD

"Circulation Books Open to All."

"Circulation Books Open to All."

VOL. LXI. NO. 21,580—DAILY.

Copyright, 1920, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York World).

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1920.

Entered as Second-Class Matter Post Office, New York, N. Y.

PRICE THREE CENTS

COMPLETE N. Y. CITY RETURNS FOR CONGRESS AND ASSEMBLY MANY SURPRISES SHOWN

Some Contests so Close Official Count Is Needed to Settle Them.

DOOLING 3,543 BEHIND.

McKiniry Also Defeated—Cuvillier Snowed Under by Republican Opponent.

Practically complete returns to all city Congressional, Senate and Assembly districts to-day show many surprises and several changes from even the "day after" election figures.

There are several contests so close that the official count will likely be needed to settle them.

In the Congressional battle the latest figures show the defeat of both Congressmen Dooling in the 18th and McKiniry in the 5d. With only eight election districts missing Dooling is 3,543 behind and with twenty-four districts unreported McKiniry's Republican opponent has a lead of 2,225. The victory of Martin Annonce, Republican, over Congressman Donovan in the 21st, at first doubted, proves overwhelming in the later figures.

The Socialists have apparently elected one State Senator, Seidel in the 23d District (The Bronx). With only 20 districts missing the vote stood: Cohn, Democrat, 13,767; Abeles, Republican and incumbent, 15,498; Seidel, Socialist, 15,513.

In the 24th District (Staten Island) the vote is close. With 4 election districts missing, the vote stands: Lynch, Democrat, 12,011; Smith, Republican, 12,044.

The Socialists in addition to Solomon, returned from the 22d Kings district, and Jager, elected from the 6th Kings, have apparently re-elected Claessens, one of the ousted five, in the 17th Manhattan District. With 17 election districts missing the count stands: Claessens, 4,344; Lieberman (Fusion), 3,657.

Another Socialist may be elected in the 6th Manhattan, where Ullman, Fus, leads Rosenberg, Soc., by only 25 votes, with four districts not reported.

In the 19th Manhattan, Miss Smith, Rep., present Member of Assembly, having a close race for re-election, and leads Martin Healy, Dem., by only 117 votes, with eighteen districts missing. Assemblyman Cuvillier, Dem., was snowed under in the 10th by Dipirro, Rep., who on complete returns had 1,282 plurality.

In the 18th Manhattan, Kierman, Dem., won by only 98 votes over Naughtin, Rep., with returns complete. In the 6th Bronx district,

(Continued on Thirty-first Page.)

Classified Advertisers Important!

Classified advertising does for the Evening World what no other medium can do. It is the only place where you can get the most for your money. To-day, Friday

HARDING DROVE TEAM IN 1882 FOR LONG ISLAND MAN

President-Elect's Help in Grading Erie Road Revealed by George E. Payne.

PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING, who played a cornet and set type in his youth at Marion, also drove a team in the grading of what is now the Western Division of the Erie in 1882. His employer was George E. Payne, a real estate operator of Long Island City.

"I was twenty-one then," said Mr. Payne to-day, "and was working as a time-keeper for Pass & Littlejohn, railroad contractors, who were building a part of the extension between Marion and Kenton, O. We depended on the farmers of the community for teams, and one day, as I remember it, a young fellow who said he was W. G. Harding asked for work, saying he had a team. I sent him down to the foreman, a Mr. Hart, who put him on the job immediately."

Mr. Payne said he read several months ago that Mr. Harding had worked on railroad construction in his youth. "Having been in that section," he continued, "I looked up my old records. I wrote to him and got the following letter from his secretary, Mr. Christian: 'This is to confirm your inquiry and to advise you that W. G. Harding who was employed by you to work on the grading of the railroad in 1882 is now the Republican candidate for President.'"

STOPS RUNAWAY. SAVING CHILDREN

Chauffeur Injured in Throwing Horse to Pavement Near School Crowd.

William Keise, thirty-four years old, a chauffeur of No. 1159 Fourth Avenue, Astoria, to-day grabbed the bridle of a runaway horse and threw the horse to the pavement just as the animal was about to plunge into a large crowd of children at play in front of Public School No. 63 in Third Street, between First Avenue and Avenue A.

WASSERVOGEL WINS IN JUDICIAL RACE

Other Justices Elected to Supreme Bench Are O'Malley, Burr and Martin.

With five districts missing the vote for Supreme Court Judges in the First Department (New York and Bronx counties) shows the election of Francis Martin, William P. Burr, James O'Malley and Andrew Wasservogel. The figures are: Martin, 288,335; Burr, 269,228; O'Malley, 258,558; Wasservogel, 261,391; Davis, 252,818; Marsh, 235,693.

PUTS DUTY ABOVE JURY PAY.

Judge Asks Question of Money Should Not Be Considered.

Judge McInerney, in the County Court, Brooklyn, to-day said that the question of money compensation for jury duty should not be considered by a jury called in jury duty. "Compensation is to be fixed by the court," he said, "and it is not the duty of a juror to consider the question of money compensation. It is the duty of a juror to do his duty and to put duty above jury pay."

CUT OFF BY FIRE AS EFFORT TO SEND IN ALARM FAILS

Cries for Help Heard Just in Time to Save Lives of Couple and Girl.

FIREMAN IS OVERCOME.

Say Gramercy 'Central' Didn't Answer—Eighth Blaze in House This Year.

Ten-year-old Katrinka Suydam awoke at 2:45 A. M. to-day on the second floor of the three-story duplex apartment house at No. 123 East 19th Street and found the room filled with smoke. Her cries aroused her father, Hendrick Suydam, a broker, and his wife, Grace, who slept in the next room.

Suydam opened the hall door and saw that escape by way of the stairs was cut off. He left the door open in his haste to reach the telephone, and in a short time it was almost impossible to breathe because of the smoke that poured in. He says he tried for fifteen minutes to get the Gramercy exchange and call the firemen.

In the meantime, Mrs. Suydam took two bath towels, soaked them with water and placed one around the head and face of Katrinka and one about her own. They then got as far as possible out on the window sill, about twenty feet from the ground, with the smoke increasing behind them and a huge cloud of steam coming from a coal chute under them. Suydam had abandoned his efforts to send an alarm by telephone and stood behind them in the window, holding an arm around each and shouting for help. Every time he opened his mouth the smoke almost strangled him.

J. H. Pearman of No. 115 East 19th Street, a member of the New York Athletic Club, and a well known walker who won a second in the Olympic Games at Antwerp, heard Suydam. He obtained a stepladder, carried it to the house, and with the assistance of the broker got Mrs. Suydam and the little girl to the street.

The blowing of police whistles in the neighborhood had brought Policeman Kelly of the East 23d Street Station and he sent in an alarm. The adjoining building, four stories of studio apartments, which has an entrance at No. 81 Irving Place, discharged a picturesque array of artists, actors, and singers.

The fire was in the Suydam cellar, and its origin was a mystery to Station Chief Quinn, who said it had not started from the furnace. The firemen were severely punished by the smoke, and Edward Demarest, Engine Company No. 14, collapsed on returning to the street and was taken to New York Hospital.

The fire was confined to the cellar and did about $2,000 damage.

Miller spent nothing in campaign ALBANY, Nov. 5.—Governor-elect Nathan K. Miller spent nothing and received nothing to further his election last Tuesday, according to his personal expense statement, which was filed to-day with the Election Bureau of the Secretary of State's office.

Gov. Cox to Take a Rest in Albany. GOV. COX TO TAKE A REST IN ALBANY. Gov. James M. Cox will take a rest in Albany to-day at his home in the city. He will be in Albany to-day at his home in the city. He will be in Albany to-day at his home in the city.

KATRINKA SUYDAM, HEROINE OF TEN IN FIRE IN HER HOME

KATRINKA SUYDAM

REPORTS 17 POLICE KILLED IN IRELAND BY MACHINE GUNS

"Black and Tans" Ambushed in County Westmeath, It Is Said.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Evening Standard's correspondent at Mullingar, County Westmeath, Ireland, says it is reported, although not confirmed, that seventeen "Black and Tans" (police) have been killed from ambush by machine guns.

Late Mayor MacSwiney's Successor Elected in Cork.

CORK, Nov. 5.—Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callahan has been elected Lord Mayor in succession to the late Terence MacSwiney.

HARDING CALLS HAYS "BILL."

Uses Familiar Name for First Time To-Day.

MARION O. Nov. 5.—"Hello, Mr. Bill," said Mr. Harding, "but a President-elect can get away with a lot of things."

WILSON IS NOT A QUITTER, SAYS TUMULTY TO COX

Message Over Phone Regarded as Evidence That President Won't Resign.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—WOODROW WILSON is not a quitter, a sentence spoken by secretary Tumulty to Gov. James M. Cox over the long distance telephone, was taken here today as evidence that the President had no intention of resigning as suggested by William Jennings Bryan. The defector Democratic Presidential candidates called Mr. Tumulty late yesterday for the first time since the election.

POLICE CAT HERO KILLS GIANT RAT AS CROWDS CHEER

Girls Flee As Battle Is Waged in Police Headquarters Areaway.

ONE FELINE WORSTED.

"Sherlock" Leaps to Rescue, Slays 10-Pound Opponent and Gets Big Reward.

"Sherlock," a ten-pound tomcat of many colors, with front legs curved outward like those of a bulldog, was the hero of a terrific public battle with a gigantic rat of about his own weight, at the bottom of a deep, narrow areaway under the windows of the office of Commissioner Enright in Police Headquarters to-day. Not only did "Sherlock" kill the rat, but he saved from certain death a smaller, but no less courageous female cat which had waged a losing fight with her enemy for fifteen minutes prior to his participation in the affray.

Nothing that has happened around Police Headquarters carried the interest and excitement of this singularly contest since a desperate young thief in custody leaped from a window of the building into Centre Market Place seven years ago and Detective Johnny Goggin jumped after him with pistol barking like a machine gun and brought him down and captured him in Baxter Street. The struggle of the rat and the two cats turned the whole neighborhood upside down for three-quarters of an hour.

It was a few minutes after noon and hundreds of chattering girls from factories in Broome Street were swarming through Centre Market Place on their way to lunch when a cat shot through the open door of a stable opposite Headquarters and started across the narrow thoroughfare. Right behind, with her tail swollen to the size of a plume on an old-fashioned hearse, streaked a gray cat. The rat was bigger than the cat.

To male onlookers it appeared as though all the girls saw the rat at the time there arose from Centre Market Place a shriek of such volume and carrying such a guarantee of earnest terror that the blood of

(Continued on Second Page.)

GOVERNOR ELECT WON'T INTERFERE WITH SPORT LAWS

Has Only Kind of Feelings for All Branches of Athletics Say Close Friends.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Boxing is apparently safe under Gov.-Elect Nathan L. Miller. While the State's next Chief Executive declined to make any statement for publication on his attitude toward the Walker law which legalizes the sport in the State, those close to Judge Miller declare that he has only the kindest feelings toward all sports.

Judge Miller left late yesterday for Atlantic City for a much needed rest. He will return to Syracuse in ten days.

Although there are all sorts of rumors as to possible appointments by the new Governor, he insists that he will not give any attention to selections until after Dec. 1.

BENCH WARRANTS ISSUED FOR BUILDING GRAFTERS; FOUR OF THEM INDICTED

Stone Contractor Charged City Twice the Price for Court House Job That Would Be Charged for Business Structure—Hettrick Said to Be Out of the State.

Indictments of persons involved criminally in the conspiracy of building contractors to fix prices and submit collusive bids, as disclosed by testimony taken before the Lockwood Legislative Committee were handed up to Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions to-day by the Additional Grand Jury.

It was reported at the Lockwood Committee hearing this afternoon that John P. Hettrick, manager of the contractors' pool, had left the State. It was said that Senator Calder, Chairman of the United States Committee on the Cost of Living, had been asked to issue a Federal subpoena for Hettrick. Senator Calder was called to the Lockwood Committee hearing for a consultation.

Albert A. Volk, contractor, told the Lockwood Committee to-day of the graft tariff of Robert P. Brindell on building contractors; he said Brindell asserted builders were required to pay him at the rate of about $1,000 a floor for immunity from labor troubles. He told of paying many bribes to Brindell himself.

Henry Hanlein, contractor for the cut stone on the new Court House, whose contract has been cancelled for fraud, admitted to the committee he had tried to make the city pay 80 per cent. more for lime stone than he had charged the Cunard Steamship Line.

The successful bid for furnishing and setting the limestone for the new Court House set a price of $9.40 a cubic foot for stone as against a contract made by the same bidder, Henry Hanlein, with the Cunard Line for $5 a cubic foot on their new building.

Henry Hanlein appeared on the witness stand and gave this testimony unwillingly before the Lockwood Committee at the City Hall to-day on the questioning of Samuel Untermyer. Hanlein fenced angrily with Untermyer, protesting that the increase of price was due to changes in the price of labor in the interval of less than a year between the two bids. He again and again asserted he could not furnish a copy of his agreement with eight other stone contractors by which he was to share profits with them under an arrangement devised by John P. Hettrick by which they eliminated themselves from competing with Hanlein.

Robert P. Brindell, President of the Building Trades Council, accused building contractors at the rate of about $1,000 a floor for buildings under construction. In talking of these demands he spoke of the unit of $1,000 as a "berry."

Brindell fixed twenty-five "berries" as the price of allowing the Gotham National Bank to erect a thirty-two story building at Broadway and 89th Street. The bank was its own contractor. The money was not paid. Brindell through his agent, Pike, started one of a series of threatened strikes. Complaints by the bricklayers (not under Brindell's jurisdiction) who were thrown out of work caused Mayor Hylan and the District Attorney's office to intervene and then the activities of the Lockwood Committee apparently slackened Brindell's campaign.

This was part of the testimony of Albert A. Volk, wrecking and excavation contractor.

Volk's story was as amazing as his ship.