First of Polo Team Will Sail Abroad in April

Members of the American polo team which will meet the English four at Hurlingham on June 18 in the first series of games for the International Polo Trophy are rapidly completing their arrangements for the trip.

The squad of six players, consisting of John E. Stoddard, Devereux Miller, Thomas Hitchcock Jr., J. W. Webb, Charles E. Ramsey and A. W. Topping, will not sail from this country in a body. The players are to leave for England at the earliest possible date consistent with their various business engagements.

For this reason separate sailing dates have been made necessary. It is expected that at least two of the squad will arrive in England about April 1 and the others as soon as they can conveniently arranged.

The leaders of the invading American polo players will begin immediately preliminary practice with the fifty-odd ponies which were shipped abroad on Dec. 2 and have been wintered in England. While all the ponies are well trained means, it is deemed advisable to begin the laying-up process as early as possible in order to have the ponies in perfect condition for the practices of the team, which will begin early in May.

In this connection elaborate arrangements are being made by the Hurlingham Club to provide practice for both the American team and the British, including the international trophy matches.

The combination of the leading players of England, aside from those selected to defend, has been named to play practice contests with both teams during the period between May 7 and June 1.

One team will be captained by W. P. Buckmaster and the other by Major F. W. Barrett. The Buckmaster combination will be made up of the Duke of Penryn, F. M. Prokes, W. S. Buckmaster and the Earl of Rochdale.

The team headed by Major Barrett will consist of soldier players who are not quite so strong as the other. The total handicap being 25 points.

The personnel of this team will be: Col. H. C. M. Floyden-Railton, Lieut. Col. H. C. S. Ashton, Major F. W. Barrett and Major J. P. Harrison.

Against these combinations the American team will play fourteen games and the English defenders twelve.

Friar Rock Awarded to Madden by the Courts

Judge Ford Rules in Favor of Master of Hamburg Place.

John E. Madden, master of Hamburg Place, who for a number of years has been the biggest breeder of thoroughbred horses in the country, will get immediate possession of Friar Rock, the stallion valued at $200,000 and now at the breeding farm of John H. Rossiter at Santa Rosa, Cal.

Such was the decision handed down yesterday by Justice Ford in the Supreme Court, following arguments a few days ago on an order secured by Madden to show cause why a peremptory mandamus should not be issued to compel the production of the horse at his farm, and for the appointment of a receiver to go to Santa Rosa, take possession of the horse and secure an accounting for the moneys earned as stud fees last season.

Justice Ford in handing down his decision said, among other things: "The defendant has utterly no right to insist upon any conditions of any kind for returning the horse to plaintiff, except those expressed in the agreement of sale, and those require his shipment forthwith to the plaintiff's stock farm in Kentucky."

Indeed, he has already been kept by the defendant so far beyond the reasonable time of shipment as to substantially prejudice the plaintiff's rights. The horse should have been sent in August or September of 1920, in order to get the stallion acclimated and fit for the season of 1921, during which the plaintiff is entitled to his possession.

"Plaintiff's application for relief is quite novel, but so is the situation in which he finds himself."

Against these combinations the American team will play fourteen games and the English defenders twelve.

The relief prayed for seems to be the most practicable and appropriate which is available to him. The courts aid in serving the ends of justice where ever our own process falls short of effectiveness.

The motion is granted and the amount of the receiver's bond will be fixed upon the agreement of the parties. Madden purchased Friar Rock from Major August Belmont in 1916 for $45,000, shortly after the good horse had won the Brooklyn and Suburban Handicaps, and so earned the distinction of being the only thoroughbred to win both turf classes as a three-year-old.

Madden alleged in his complaint that he sold a half interest in the horse to J. H. Rossiter in 1918 for $20,000, with the understanding that Friar Rock stand in California for the season of 1919-1920, and then be shipped to Madden's Hamburg place, near Lexington, for the season of 1921-1922.

When Rossiter failed to ship the horse, Madden turned to the courts for satisfaction, and the decision by Justice Ford yesterday was in his favor.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN BASKETBALL

The Union High Five, claimants of the 145-pound championship of the city, added two more victories by defeating the St. Vincent Ferraris on the latter's court, 18 to 9, and the Harlow Hebrew Institute at the home court, 50 to 13. This Thursday evening the Unions will have as their opponents St. Bartholomew. The Unions have open dates. Address Frank Lawless, 107 East 102d Street, City.

St. James' Triangles added the St. Vincent Seniors to its long list of victims by a 34-14 score.

Rosina Storchio, First Butterfly, Makes Debut Here

By Sylvester Rawling.

Rosina Storchio, the original interpreter of Chiu-Chiu-San in Puccini's "Madama Butterfly," made her New York debut in the character at the Manhattan Opera House last night under the auspices of the Chicago Opera Association. She was a distinguished appointment. The little Italian lady appeared fifteen years too late. For us, the tradition is set. We have seen and heard many exemplars of the part, among them singers of distinction; and yet only one remains who, despite her limitations and her palpably wilful idiosyncrasies, has made the type useless to name her. Time is cruel to voices and Mme. Storchio, apparently, has not escaped his darts.

Her singing was a negligible quantity. There remains for her credit a dramatic fervor and animated acting somewhat startling to our conception of the guileless little Japanese maiden. Here in an art, it would seem, that might find favor in the typifying of some other characters.

For the rest, Joseph Hishop, the Scotch tenor, sang the ungrateful part of Lieut. Pinkerton with grace; Georges Baklanoff was a rather severe Sharples, the American Consul; Dorothy Francis was an interesting Suzuki, Trovian was Yamadori, Denise was the Bonze and Oliviero was Goro. Mr. Marzullini conducted admirably.

"Eugene Onegin" was repeated at the Metropolitan Opera House last night, with Claudia Muzio, Florence Ingram, Martinielli, De Luca and Dittus, in the cast, to the enjoyment of a large audience.

Marius de Jong, a Belgian pianist, made a first appearance here at Aeolian Hall last night. In a programme that began with Cesar Franck's prelude, choral and fugue, and that included Beethoven's "Appassionata" sonata, he disclosed qualities of appreciation and poetic understanding that commanded respect. He was worth hearing. Dorothy Fox gave a song recital at the Times Square Theatre yesterday afternoon, presenting an interesting programme that included a group by Dwight Fiske, with the composer at the piano; a group of old Provençal Noels and a French group by Chaminade, Poulrain, Duparc and Faure, accompanied by Victor Prahl, that she expressed with taste and distinction. In the afternoon, at Aeolian Hall, Diete Horwald, soprano, sang arias by Handel, Bach, Hayden and Mozart; a group by Brahms, Schubert and Schumann, and modern songs by Cyril Scott, Edward Horner and Alexander Russell, to the accompaniment of the piano of Richard Hageman.

CHAPLIN BACK IN "FUNNIEST EVER" AT THE STRAND

Charlie Chaplin's newest and best picture, "The Kid," will be shown at the Strand Theatre all this week. It is one of the funniest six-reel features Mr. Chaplin has ever made—just one laugh after another. If you intend to go, go early to avoid the rush. The first performance starts at 11 A. M., while the last begins at 11 P. M.

The funniest thing in the picture is when Charlie dreams of heaven. His wife partner is Jack Coogan, the five-year-old boy, who is a miniature Chaplin. Mr. Chaplin has been away from the screen for nearly one year. He comes back and takes the city by storm.

Bill Ryan Is a Big Leaguer After Two Years of Waiting

Husky Western Pitcher Is Expected to Prove a Big Help to Giants.

Bill Ryan, that husky Holy Cross youth who opened everyone's eyes at Coltonville, Pa., in 1919 with a great bunch of untamed and uncultivated curves, sent in his signed contract to the Giants yesterday and is now a sure enough big leaguer ready to face the best hitters in the National circuit.

Bill has spent two years in the minors—one with Buffalo, one with Toronto—and the speed is with him yet, but the curves are cultivated. He is "seasoned," as the big league managers say.

Ryan wrote to Joe O'Brien that he had just spent two weeks "boiling out" at Hot Springs and would go to Stockton, Cal., for a fortnight before reporting at San Antonio.

In the same mail with Ryan's contract came that of John A. Monroe, a second baseman of the Beaumont team in the Texas League. This youngster comes highly recommended and he will give "Goddie" Hupp and Roy Outman a battle for Larry Doyle's old place. Monroe hit .250 in the Texas League last season and fielded .532. He stole twenty-eight bases, and hits left handed.

"Talk about Babe Ruth," said Arthur Lewis, manager of the Hartford Club, and the original David Harum among managers who like to trade players. "Two got one bigger than him. Just signed a Hartford contract. His name is James Durgin, he comes from Maine, he's six feet four inches tall, weighs 210 pounds and strikes out eighteen or twenty men a game. I'll develop him and the big league clubs will be camping on my doorstep next fall."

Probably true. Arthur can get 'em cheap and sell 'em dear. Judging by the past, he ought to get $25,000 cash and a few players for Durgin in a year or so.

"Babe" Pinelli, former Detroit third baseman, has signed with Hal Eving's Oakland team in the Pacific Coast League. Pinelli was almost a Yankee but was turned over to Detroit when Higgins had a raft of infield material in 1918. Pinelli never did anything starting in the big show except to stand on the coaching line at the Polo Grounds and try to talk his way out of an angry crowd. That effort was a dismal failure.

Close Finishes in Ice Skating Races.

Two close finishes marked the Class A and Class B handicap races, at one mile each, at the 131st Street Ice Palace last night. E. Ahrens of the Morningstar A. C., with an allowance of 20 yards, won the Class A, and George Hinky of the Hunts Point B. C. the other.

Earlier Pleasant, competing unattached, won the novice half mile race, the other event of the night. Horace Smith of the Scarsdale Skating Club, who was second, fell at one point, and Pleasant stopped to pick him up—and then hit out full mill to beat him.

study to Steve O'Neill," says an exchange. "It is the only department in which the Indians are weak."

Developing? If the leaden-legged Nunnemaker and the glass-armed Clint Thomas were fully developed five years ago, they started in the game before O'Neill did. Thomas' first baseball year was 1905, Nunnemaker's 1905 and Steve's 1910. Speaker will have to get younger material if he wishes to do any developing.

This broke his silence the other night at Hubbard, Tex., and said he expected the Indians would win again. He said: "Last year I figured we'd win out if the pitchers held up. This year I feel more confident than ever in my pitchers, for I know I can depend on Cyrenaic, Haggy and Caldwell to deliver with Maids. And I figure that Unt, Clark and Morton will also win a bunch of games for me."

The youngster Joey Sewell will keep getting better, at least, for he has the grit to go through with it and he keeps learning every day.

"The Yankees look like our chief rivals, but the White Sox will be a lot better than a lot of folks have them depicted out. And the Browns and Tigers must be overlooked in figuring the 1921 dope."

Cybb gave out an interview in Detroit last Friday praising to the skies Babe Hattings, one of his young pitchers. The same day Hattings was arrested in San Francisco on a charge of burglary. His first spring workout may be on the old San Quentin diamond.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for coloring faded, gray hair dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Advt.
