OLYMPIC STAKES CAPTURED BY GLADIATOR; SEA COVE SECOND AND WHISK THIRD

Redstone Stable Entry, Odds On Choice, Wins Jamaica Feature by 4 Lengths.

By Vincent Treanor.

RACE TRACK, JAMAICA, May 26.—A crowd of holiday proportions was at Jamaica this afternoon for the final day of the Metropolitan Jockey Club's spring session. The track's surface had almost dried with the exception of a few dark patches along the inner rail. A well rounded programme was served for the evening. Thirteen juveniles faced the starter in the opening, a five-furlong dash. After Runnyol had delayed the start for several minutes by running away three furlongs, Evelyn White and Margaret White showed the way from the ragged start. Hunt Pin, the favorite, and Runnyol were away slowly. Lady Delbi, always close up, went into the lead entering the stretch and held command for the remaining distance under a hard drive to withstand Little Pataty's rush. They finished in that order, with Velled Colleen, who had taken a momentary lead, rounding the turn in third position. Runnyol showed a sparkling effort to finish fourth after breaking last.

Only four faced the starter in the second, the Ocean Handicap, at six furlongs, but two of them provided one of the tightest struggles of the meeting. Billy McLoughlin was hustled from the barrier by Sande, but Quercok joined him after a sixteenth and the pair ran like a team for the greater part of the way.

The third, at a mile and a sixteenth, went to Mr. X.

Gladiator, ridden by Clarence Kummer and carrying the top weight of 120 pounds, proved the easiest sort of a winner in the Olympic Selling Stakes, at six furlongs. The last minute withdrawal of the Raneocaa pair, Valor and Krewer, caused Gladiator to be regarded one of the choices and he quickly marked into prohibitive favoritism. He justified by dropping in behind Knight, of the Heather and Vibrato when the pair led the way.

Rounding the turn, Kummer called on Gladiator, who responded by galloping into an easy lead within a sixteenth mile, after which he drew away to win under fair odds by four lengths from the game Little Hog Cove, who was in close quarters through the early running, but finished with a rush, in the Whisk. Gladiator was entered for $4,000. He was bid up to $12,000 and went to Paul Connolly, the Philadelphia turfman. It was the record run-up of the year.

HARDING CALLS BANKERS TO WHITE HOUSE TO BUILD UP AMERICA'S EXPORT TRADE

They Suggest as the Best Aid U. S. Help to Restore European Finances.

THEN EUROPE CAN BUY More Conferences to Follow—C. M. Schwab Also Sees President.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The Administration's policy of promoting exportation as a means toward the restoration of normal business conditions was discussed at a White House dinner last night, attended by Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, J. P. Morgan, Paul Warburg and a number of other prominent financiers. President Harding was said to have talked over the whole subject with his guests.

The dinner was quietly arranged and no word of it was made public until to-day.

It was understood that while no hard and fast programme was decided upon, the discussion served to cement the belief of Administration officials that one of the best remedial measures available would be active co-operation between the government and business men for revival of export trade.

It was also indicated that the Administration policy would turn toward some sort of aid to the financial situation in Europe as a part of the effort for general world stability.

The problem of promoting American investment abroad, particularly in reinvestment form, is said also to have been brought forcibly to the front and detailed ways and means discussed at great length.

Mr. Harding had an engagement to-dinner with Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate, and although no announcement was made, the assumption was that he was consulted on the same general subject.

The dinner is expected to have an echo in numerous conferences in the near future between the President and other financial leaders.

Others attending the dinner were James A. Alexander of the National Bank of Commerce, and Charles A. Sabin of the Guaranty Trust Company, New York; Governor Benjamin Strong, New York Federal Reserve Bank; C. E. Mitchell, National City Bank, New York; William Kent, of the Bankers' Trust Company, New York, and H. C. McElDowney, Union Trust Company, Pittsburgh.

It is understood that one of the President's chief purposes in calling the financiers into conference was to discuss the contemplated loan of American private capital to foreign governments and the effect of such a loan on the resumption of normal industrial conditions at home and on the American export trade. Mr. Harding is said to have laid before his guests an offer to do everything practically to co-operate for the relief of economic conditions, while the bankers are said to have replied with expressions of willingness to work in close conjunction with the Administration.

Most of those present are understood to have argued emphatically that the surest way to promote export trade would be by helping actively in the rehabilitation of European finances. It is said to have been suggested that American products could be sold in many parts of the old world only if American capital were invested abroad to enable the purchasers to pay.

Mr. Schwab is understood to have disagreed with the President the problem of rehabilitating the American merchant marine, holding that radical steps must be taken quickly if the large tonnage constructed during the war is to be kept.

AMMUNITION FROM U. S. USED IN DUBLIN RIOTS, IS CHARGE BY SIR HAMAR GREENWOOD

Strong Representations to United States Asked For in Parliament—Twelve Dead in Custom House Raid—Loss Is Put at $5,000,000.

LONDON, May 26 (Associated Press).—American ammunition totaling 16,388 rounds has been captured in the Dublin district since March 26 last, Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, stated in the House of Commons to-day.

The Chief Secretary made this statement in reply to Colonel Martin Archer-Shee, Unionist member for Finsbury, who asked him whether ammunition of American manufacture had recently been captured in raids on Sinn Fein premises in Dublin, and if so, what was the amount and the nature of the captures.

Col. Archer-Shee, in a supplementary question, asked whether, in view of the fact that large sums of money had been raised in the United States for support of the campaign of assassination and anarchy in Ireland, strong representations would be made to the United States Government with reference to this fact and the finding of this ammunition.

Another member wanted to know how it was that this large amount could come to Ireland and whether Sir Hamar would ask the United States to assist in preventing its doing so. The Chief Secretary said he noted the importance of these supplementary questions and would confer with the Foreign Secretary regarding them.

DUBLIN, May 26 (Associated Press).—Smoking ruins marked to-day the site of the historic Custom House of Dublin, which was burned by a raiding party of civilians yesterday. During the night silent bursts of flame in the twisted chaos of stone and steel lighted up the scene, about which British armed forces kept vigilant guard. The loss is estimated at $5,000,000.

Fifty men, arrested by Crown forces after a pitched battle in and about the old building, spent the night in various prisons in the city, and the bodies of upward of a dozen persons killed during the struggle reposed in morgues. It was believed that some of the raiders perished in the fire they kindled. The exact number of the wounded had not been learned early to-day.

At noon to-day the Custom House was still burning. All the interior had been destroyed at that hour, but the main walls were standing, as was the dome, the chief architectural feature of the building, and the clock was keeping time.

A high official stated that the most important documents of the local Government board, which were the principal object of the attack, had been saved. Major Lawson, a customs official, was among those killed in the fight in and about the building.

It is not merely a blow to Irish pride and commerce," said the Irish Times this morning in commenting on the fire, "but it is a blow to all our prospects of peace. Its political effect in Great Britain will be to still further discredit the Republican demands, but the effect in Ireland will be to increase the difficulties of any form of national settlement."

The Freeman's Journal said: "It may be a noble thing to rise to higher things on the stepping stones of our dead selves, but when the stepping stones are the corpses of our dead countrymen, the achievement is not noble."

The Custom House was completed in 1781 and was one of the chief architectural ornaments of the city, although a railroad bridge built across the River Liffey detracted to some extent from its beauty. The building, which housed the local Government board, the Board of Trade and Public

GRAHAM, HUNTER IN GOLF FINALS; WRIGHT DEFEATED

Takes 19 Holes to Decide Between British Player and Only U. S. Survivor.

HOYLAKE, May 26 (Associated Press).—Allan Graham, Royal Liverpool, and W. L. Hunter of Walmer and Kingsdown will compete in the finals to-morrow for the British amateur golf championship at thirty-six holes.

Herbert Darwin of Woking, who eliminated Frederick J. Wright of Boston, the only remaining American survivor, in a sensational finish on the nineteenth green in the sixth round, went down to defeat at the hands of Hunter by 3 up and 2 to play in the semi-finals, Hunter thus advancing to the final round. Darwin had led Hunter in the early part of the match, being 1 up on his opponent at the turn.

Graham also advanced to the final by beating H. S. B. Tubbs of Sunningdale by one hole in the other semi-final match.

In the sixth round Tubbs defeated J. B. Hoddard of Penn, 3 up and 2 to play. Hunter disposed of E. W. E. Holderness, 4 up and 3 to play and Graham was victor over F. C. Harrison of Formby, 2 up and 1 to play.

The Wright-Darwin match was played under unfavorable weather conditions, a light rain falling and a northeast wind blowing over the course.

Wright's play was brilliant in the first half of the match and toward its close, when he won the eighteenth hole, after Darwin had become dormant on the seventeenth. At the nineteenth, however, the American badly topped his tee shot and failed a later chance to redeem himself by underplaying a short putt.

Commenting on the match, Wright said that he did not blame the wind or cold for his defeat, but that he had gone down playing the best golf of which he was capable.

Darwin and Wright halved the first two holes. On the former Wright pulled his approach into the rough, but with a good run-up secured a half in five. Two good tee shots and a masher at the second led Wright six yards and Darwin five yards from the hole, and two putts each gave them half in four.

At the third Darwin topped his drive, the ball touching the top of

"TOO MUCH CREDIT GIVEN TO U. S. NAVY"

Admiral Sims, in London, Says Part II Took in War Is Over-Praised.

LONDON, May 26 (Associated Press).—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, who commanded the American naval forces in the war since the last two years of the world war, told Admiral Beatty, commander of the British Grand Fleet, and a distinguished assemblage of British and American naval men and other prominent persons to-day that the British had been disposed to give the American Navy too much credit for the part it played in the Allied victory.

At a luncheon given by the Admiralty in his honor, Admiral Sims said: "The British Grand Fleet was the keystone in the Allied arch, without which you in this country would to-day be speaking German with a very strong English accent."

CARPENTIER GETS FIREARM PERMIT

Says He Wants Target Practice—Will Not Carry Weapon With Him.

George Carpentier wanted the Nassau County Court House to-day to obtain a permit to use firearms at his training quarters at Manhasset. The permit was issued by County Judge Lewis J. Smith. The fighter said he wanted to have some target practice and did not ask for a permit to carry a weapon.
