

was not a peace, and that it would be folly to rejoice prematurely. The newspaper admitted, however, that the Irish were to be the pride of peace, and declared that ultimate responsibility rested upon British statesmen. It asked if these statesmen would show "the courage and generosity the situation demands."

The Morning Post, a Conservative organ, complained of the "humiliation rebbe" has inflicted upon England, and said the British Government was "negotiating terms at the point of a loaded pistol."

Military patrols were withdrawn from the streets of Dublin last evening, says a Central News despatch from that city. Many of the police auxiliaries were walking the streets leisurely, fraternizing with civilians and discussing the prospects of peace in Ireland.

The truce between the Sinn Fein and the Crown forces may, therefore, be said to be already begun, although the time for commencing it officially has been set for Monday noon.

It is understood the armistice will be signed by Sir Nevill Maccready and Michael Collins, commander of the Irish Republican army.

ULSTER PAPERS COLD TO THE NEW PEACE PROSPECTS

"Dare Not Call It a Truce of God," Says the Northern Whig—News Letter Is Bitter.

BELFAST, July 9. (Associated Press)—The new development in Irish politics was coldly received in Belfast. "Trucking to the murder gang," the Belfast News letter captions its editorial on the truce, saying there are complications in the Downing Street truce announcement which are disquieting "to all loyal subjects of the King and repulsive to all honorable men."

The Northern Whig, in its comment on the new developments, says: "Whatever the Government may promise or protest, we doubt if they will be able entirely to remove the fear that their first descent into the valley of humiliation will not only fail to bring peace to Ireland but may ultimately be the means of causing many faithful British subjects to pass through the Valley of the Shadow of Death. Until the outlook is much clearer than now we dare not call this a truce of God."

The Irish news expresses confidence that the conferences will be held. The time if opportune, it says, and "if peace with honor can be secured no man or body of men in Ireland or Great Britain can throw the opportunity aside without incurring a burden of responsibility too heavy to be borne."

HOSTILITIES DIE DOWN FOR FIRST TIME SINCE 1916

Freeman's Journal Believes Cessation of Warfare Will Lead to a Permanent Peace.

DUBLIN, July 9.—Peace was settling over Ireland to-day. For the first time since the Easter Rebellion of 1916 hostilities were actually dying down, under the truce signed between the Sinn Feiners and representatives of the British Government.

The Freeman's Journal to-day said: "To-day's news raises hopes in the hearts of the people which have not been felt for many months, thanks to the efforts of the peacemakers, who are doing their work well. We are in sight of a cessation of bloodshed during which, with God's blessing, a permanent, honorable peace may be engendered."

De Valera and other Sinn Fein leaders were making preparations to-day for their conferences with Premier Lloyd George, which will be held in London and at which it is hoped a permanent peace for Ireland will be decided upon and subscribed to.

Both sides will go into this conference, it is expected, in a spirit of conciliation. The Sinn Feiners are prepared to forego their demands for absolute independence, and the British, it is believed here, will be ready to treat with De Valera and his lieutenants on terms of equality and grant a greater measure of self-government to Ireland than has heretofore been offered.

ORANGEMEN IN PARADE IN NEW YORK TO-DAY.

5,000 Strong They Will Dance at Manhattan Casino To-Night.

The Orangemen's parade will be held this afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock. It is expected that 5,000 sons and daughters of the North of Ireland will be in line. The parade, with George Weir as Grand Marshal and John Kennedy as aide, will start from 111th Street and Seventh Avenue. The line of march will be up the avenue to 134th Street, to Manhattan Casino, at 135th Street and Eighth Avenue, where a dance will be held.

Following the mounted police who will act as escort will come the speakers in carriages, who will be followed by six divisions, each led by a band.

Luttrell Guilty of Manslaughter. John J. Luttrell, thirty-six, former President of the Downtown Newspaper Handlers' Association and living at No. 414 Third Avenue, Brooklyn, was found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree before Judge Talley in General Sessions to-day. He was remanded to the Tombs for sentence July 15. Luttrell killed Thomas McCrobin of No. 27 Cherry Street on the night of Oct. 3 last at a waiter's club, No. 14 Duane Street.

HOLD-UP OF 3 COPS OUT FOR RIDE NETS MURDER SUSPECT

Seven Alleged Bandits Seized by Intended Victims on Jersey Highway.

PRISONER "THE COOT."

He Is William Whalen, Accused of Helping Shoot Woman Storekeeper to Death.

William Whalen, known in his own world as "The Coot," and sought by the police of three States for a year and a half as one of the perpetrators of the atrociously brutal murder of Mrs. Goldstein in her little store in Passaic, Christmas Eve, 1919, is a prisoner at Hoboken Police Headquarters. His capture was a grimly comic melodrama.

Going off duty last night John Carney, Romeo Scott and Rudolph Magnus, Hoboken policemen, told each other it was too hot for sleeping. Scott borrowed an automobile and drove it with the other two as passengers for two hours "looking for a breeze."

On Cliffside Hill, at 2 o'clock in the morning, a seven-passenger car, filled with men, slipped out of a side road and crowded them to the left and swung in front of them. Scott was just able to stop his car in time to avoid a collision.

All seven men in the other car jumped out, and came toward them on the run. The policemen all had their revolvers and pulled them out at once, calling on the strangers to halt and hold up their hands. The seven lined up across the road and a spokesman began pleading nervously that they didn't mean any harm, though they didn't blame the officers for suspecting them. They had lost their way, they said, and had decided to stop the first car they met to be set right.

Scott, looking along the line, recognized Whalen, accused as a fugitive murderer. The profuse explanations of the spokesman became worthless. But the three Hoboken policemen were in a puzzling situation. They had seven prisoners—one with the reputation of being a desperate criminal—and two cars on their hands, and they were far from home and help.

As they stared at each other in their quandary what one of them afterward called "a real miracle" came to pass. Two Cliffside policemen came marching down the road on patrol. Perhaps the heat had kept them from sleeping too.

The Hoboken policeman pushed Whalen to the rear. They did not mean to share the glory of his capture with any suburban cops. Then, with the show of doing the local police a favor, they turned the other six prisoners and the big car over to the Cliffside men, receiving profuse thanks for having cornered a crew of night marauders. Whalen was taken back to Hoboken in the car borrowed by the policeman.

Mrs. Goldstein was attacked in her store by three men who, when she showed resistance to them, stood back and shot her until there were no bullets left in their revolvers. Two of the men were caught the next day. They are said to have confessed. Their stories named Whalen as their accomplice.

FEDERAL DRY FORCES HERE TO BE OVERHAULED.

Director Hart Makes First Public Announcement of Plans.

In the first public statement issued since his appointment, Federal Prohibition Director H. L. Hart outlined the policy of his office. He said that while he did not believe the incumbents of his office were involved in the irregularities which have been exposed in the past, he intended to name "a practically new force of inspectors and reorganize the office force." He solicited information regarding any improper conduct of persons now employed in his office.

"As soon as the reorganization is completed," he said, "a reinspection is proposed of every permit holder in this (New York) department. And any definite information as to irregularities on the part of such permit holders will result in immediate revocation proceedings. In this work the department has been promised the hearty co-operation of the legitimate retail and wholesale drug associations and also of the manufacturers."

The declared policy of the Administration the holders of import permits and wholesale liquor dealer permits, as soon as their present stock is disposed of, will be required to surrender their permits and discontinue business. This will leave only three classes of permits, the wholesale druggists, the retail druggists and the manufacturers.

NEW YORK CONCERN BUYS BIG PULP TIMBER TRACT.

Acquires 100,000,000 Cubic Feet of Wood in Alaska.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 9.—The largest sale of pulp timber made on northwestern national forests was announced to-day by the Forest Service. It involves about one hundred million cubic feet of spruce, cedar and hemlock, about sixty miles north of Ketchikan, Alaska.

The buyer is the Alaskan-American Paper Corporation of New York, which has applied for power rights on Onondaga Lake and plans to erect pulp and paper mills there, the announcement said.

STOLEN BABIES AND KIDNAPPERS VANISH ON YACHT

Woodland Children Abducted at Cape May, After Long Watch By Strange Couple.

The New Jersey police are searching for two other kidnapped children whose absence became public to-day, the third abduction within a week of children whose parents were separated.

The towns and hills of New Jersey were being searched for Baby Margaret Eloyse Torrens, kidnapped from Pompton Lakes, when word came from Cape May, in the other end of the State, of the double kidnapping by a man and a woman of Jack Woodland, three and a half years old, and his sister, Margaret, two.

They were rushed to a sleep at the wharf near Cape May by their captors and headed for Lewes, Del., evidently to get out of the State as soon as possible. Telegrams were sent to many cities, but their mother, Mrs. Robert Emmet Woodland, has received no news of them.

Mrs. Woodland hurried from her Cape May home to-day to Atlanta, Ga., to seek her little ones in the home city of their father, from whom she has been separated for more than a year. He is an employee of the Terminal Railroad there.

A ransom to be extorted from John Wilbraham, elderly relative of the youngsters and wealthy, is the opinion of their mother.

Jack and Margaret were kidnapped at the end of weeks of coldly calculated scheming, of studied and successful effort by a man and woman to worm themselves into the confidence of the children's mother.

MADE FRIENDS WITH MOTHER AND BABES.

Mrs. Woodland, in her complaint to Jefferson Ginson, Chief of Police, and Eugene Cole, Public Prosecutor, accuses Mr. and Mrs. Henry James, registered from Richmond, Va., at the Sunnyside Villa here, of stealing the little boy and girl.

Her home, No. 611 Huguenot Street, is about a block from the stopping place of the James couple. The latter arrived about a month ago and immediately began to take special notice of the Woodland children when they met them on the boardwalk. Jack and his sister are large for their age, bright, and attract much attention, so it was easy for Mrs. James to become acquainted with Mrs. Woodland.

This intimacy grew, Mrs. Woodland told the police, and the James couple made evident efforts to ingratiate themselves in the confidence of the children and their mother.

Presently Mrs. Woodland was going to motion picture shows at night with Mrs. James while Mr. James stayed in the Woodland home and cared for the children.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thursday, as often before, went to the Woodland home and took the children, saying they were going to the beach. When luncheon time was past Mrs. Woodland went to the Sunnyside Villa. She learned that the James couple had returned to their hotel immediately after their call at her home and in a few minutes had left with the children and with all their baggage. Their room was empty.

Mrs. Woodland, who later told the police of previous attempts to steal the children, immediately notified the authorities, who learned soon that the Jameses and the children, accompanied by a third man, had engaged Capt. Howard Smith's yacht at Lehigh Point, N. J., and departed for Cape May, when Robert Emmet Woodland married her. She is a widow of John Wilbraham, a retired manufacturer of Philadelphia, who has a fine Cape May home and a fortune estimated at half a million dollars. He was very fond of the Woodland children and recently was reported to have settled $20,000 on each.

The mystery in the kidnapping of nineteen-month-old Margaret Torrens from Pompton Lakes was still unsolved to-day. The child, daughter of Alfred J. Torrens and Margaret Simpson Torrens of Paterson, N. J., was stolen Thursday from the home of her grandfather, James Simpson, a wealthy silk manufacturer, at Pompton Lakes. The employer there says he will not pay a cent for ransom, but will spend his entire fortune if necessary to bring the kidnapers to justice.

A warrant has been issued, naming three men and charging atrocious assault and battery. The complaint is signed by the baby's mother. She accuses the three of having choked her.

Because of the heat and as the little one is a nursing baby, the mother entertains great fear for the latter's health. Aside from this worry, Mrs. Torrens is rapidly recovering from the shock of the rough treatment she receives.

Through his counsel, Anton Siegel, No. 1540 Broadway, Alfred A. Mayo, broker, whose two-year-old daughter, the little girl kidnapped by her mother from the Mayo home, No. 924 West End Avenue, on Tuesday afternoon, positively denied to-day that she overtures have come from the other side. An intermediary of Mrs. Mayo called Mr. Mayo on the telephone no less than six times yesterday.

THREE DIE OF HEAT, BUT SHOWERS MAY GIVE RELIEF SOON

Mercury Reached 84 at Noon But at 3 P. M. Was Two Degrees Cooler.

MANY CAMP IN PARKS.

City Piers and Beach Sands Furnish Beds for Many Sleepers.

WASHINGTON, July 9. (United Press)—A week's respite from the heat wave was forecast by the Weather Bureau to-day. Starting July 11, the temperature in all parts of the country will hover around normal, many degrees below the blazing hot weather of the past few days, the report stated.

Three deaths from heat were reported this morning by the Medical Examiner's Office in Manhattan. They are: John Howard, twenty-eight, No. 618 West 138th Street, elevator operator; died at No. 126 West 123d Street.

Frank Liguori, thirty-five, of No. 550 Eighth Avenue; died in Bellevue Hospital, where he had been taken suffering from heat stroke.

John J. Ford, sixty-one, of No. 204 West 98th Street; died in Knickerbocker Hospital from exhaustion due to heat.

The thermometer at 3 o'clock registered 82 degrees, having dropped 2 degrees since noon.

Some temporary relief is promised this afternoon through thunder showers, with cooler weather to-night. The prediction is for a fair day to-morrow.

The thundershower area is moving eastward, after having helped to break the terrific heat of the Northern Central States last night, and it is expected to have the same effect locally. In the East there has been some record breaking heat. At Quebec yesterday the thermometer registered 96, that being the highest of which the French Canadian city has any record. In Virginia the heat has been terrific for more than a week with little let up. At Richmond yesterday the mercury stood at 100.

At dawn to-day Central and Riverside Parks looked like refuge camps. Similar conditions, though perhaps in less degree, were in other parks and along the banks of the rivers. Many took advantage of the opening of city piers to sleepers, and it was impossible to estimate the number who slept last night on the sands of the beaches. The rush toward the ocean almost reached holiday proportions last night.

John P. Casey, fifty-nine, of No. 174 South Ninth Street, Brooklyn, was overcome by heat at 5:30 A. M. in front of No. 53 Norfolk Street. Attended and sent home.

Nora Golob, thirty-six, of No. 415 Third Avenue, was overcome at No. 1317 Third Avenue and removed to Bellevue Hospital.

TERRIFIC STORMS SWEEP OVER MASSACHUSETTS.

Month's Rainfall in Boston Comes Down in Showers.

BOSTON, July 9.—The most violent thunderstorm in years accompanied by a veritable cloudburst swept over Massachusetts to-day, causing heavy damage by fires and floods. The first storm began about 3 o'clock this morning, lightning flashed almost continuously for two hours and rain fell in torrents. Telephone and electric light wires were put out of commission and street railway traffic was paralyzed.

The Weather Bureau here reported a rainfall of 3.37 inches in less than eight hours. This is the normal rainfall for a month. Officials also stated that the electrical storm was remarkable for its duration and violence.

The second storm, fully as severe as the first, swept over Boston shortly after 10 o'clock. The rain reached cloudburst proportions. Roads were washed out and streets and cellars flooded. Many houses were struck by lightning.

War veterans at Parker Hill Hospital here for treatment for shell-shock were terrified and the nurses and attendants had difficulty in averting a panic.

11ST IN HONORS IN ITS 15 DAYS AT PEEKSKILL CAMP

Marvellous Shooting Gives It Lead, and Machine Gun Work Draws Praise.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., July 9.—The 71st Infantry, having completed its fifteen-day period of intensive training here, is busy this afternoon rolling packs, loading its wagon train and making ready to leave camp to-morrow morning. The regiment will arrive in New York City about noon.

From and Central the regiment will march to its armory on Park Avenue via Fifth Avenue and 34th Street.

When the regiment arrived here between 51 officers and 1,054 enlisted men, it broke all camp precedent, being the largest peace time regiment that has visited the camp since its inauguration forty years ago.

In the field the regiment has been highly commended by military men of high rank who reviewed it.

On the range it qualified more men as experts, sharpshooters and marksmen than any other regiment that has been here. Of the fifty-five pistol experts of the State, the regiment has qualified fifteen. Company E, commanded by Capt. Eugene Orsenigo, has more qualified riflemen and marksmen than any other company that has yet visited the camp. Lieut. Charles Martens of Company E, whose leg was broken on the Fourth of July in a baseball game between the officers and men, qualified with a score of 324 out of a possible 350 on the target range, with his left leg in a plaster cast, and shot his standing start from 400 yards and met.

The machine gun company, commanded by Capt. H. L. Towle, in a recent exhibition of barrage and problem firing was highly commended by a British officer, who remarked that the barrage was the finest he had ever seen even in the World War.

BROOKLYN'S 13TH ARTILLERY OFF TO FISHER'S ISLAND.

The 13th Coast Artillery command of Brooklyn left its armory at Summer and Jefferson Avenues this morning for two weeks of training at Fisher's Island, New York. Col. Sydney Grant led the regiment, which is being transferred to the new post through Jefferson Avenue to Louis Avenue from the Fulton Street elevated structure, and took them to Fisher's Island.

LOCKWOOD AND WILSEY WON'T RUN WITH BENNETT.

Withdraw as Candidates on Enrolled G. O. P. Ticket.

Senator Charles C. Lockwood of Brooklyn, designated by the Citizens' Committee of the Enrolled Republican Voters for comptroller, and Mr. Wilsey, designated for comptroller, and Frank D. Wilsey, similarly designated for President of the Board of Aldermen, to-day announced their withdrawal from the ticket.

Senator Lockwood declared that he knew nothing about his name being placed on the ticket beyond what he had read in the newspapers and said he was not a candidate for comptroller. Mr. Wilsey said that he had not been consulted as to the use of his name and guessed that it was all "due to the hot weather."

BOY OF NINE CONFESSES THEFT OF $500 JEWELS.

"Kid" and Companion Also Broke 96 Phonograph Records.

Edward J. Gardner, known in the vicinity of his home, No. 955 St. Marks Avenue, Brooklyn, as "Red," confessed to a burglary at Police Headquarters to-day after undergoing an hour and a half of "third degree" administered by experienced detectives. He implicated Earl Jeffs, ten, of No. 953 St. Marks Avenue, who was arrested and both boys were later arraigned in the Children's Court.

They broke into the home of John Elias at No. 955 St. Marks Avenue yesterday afternoon for a skylight and stole $500 worth of jewelry. Detectives gathered in Young Gardner. He said that two little boys, one with violently red hair, had been seen on the roof and had broken into the skylight. "We got your fingerprints on the baby's bank."

"I never touched the baby's bank," declared the boy.

Seeing that he was trapped, he made a dash for freedom. The jewelry was found hidden in the collar of his home. While in the Elias apartment the boys broke fifty-five phonograph records, some sort of a game they played, utilizing the records as a means of escape figures of a race horse and jockey.

TWO MEN KILLED AND THREE HURT IN AUTO SMASH

Car With Party of Eight Crashes Into Two-Ton Truck in Astoria.

DRIVER UNDER ARREST.

Donovan Charged With Homicide and Two Others Held as Witnesses.

Two men were killed, three injured, one fatally and three detained by the police, as a result of an automobile collision at Jackson Avenue and Eighth Street, Astoria, at 1 A. M. to-day. The dead are: Henry Kintz, thirty-three, of No. 251 Van Venter Avenue, Astoria. Nicholas Sharpe, thirty-six, of No. 507 16th Avenue, Astoria.

George Doly, thirty, of Painter Avenue, Astoria, is dying of a fractured skull. Charles Hines, twenty-seven, of No. 145 15th Avenue, Astoria, has a broken arm, and Henry Breckel, thirty-two, of No. 517 Jamaica Avenue, is suffering from lacerations. All are in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City.

Richard Donovan, No. 1 Old Bowery Road, Astoria, driver of the eight-passenger touring car in which seven of his friends were riding, Harry Wolf, No. 243 Ninth Avenue, Astoria, and Harry Klugo, No. 511 Graham Avenue, Brooklyn, escaped injury by jumping. Donovan is held on a charge of homicide, and the two others as witnesses.

The touring car crashed into a two-ton truck owned and driven by I. Siegel of Glen Cove, L. I. Siegel told the police his truck was at the side of the road while he looked for engine trouble when the touring car, at great speed, hit it from behind.

VISITS SON'S GRAVE, THEN DISAPPEARS

Young Mother's Sorrow Is Believed to Have Unbalanced Her.

Mrs. Lawrence E. Oakley, whose husband is superintendent of motor equipment of a bread making company in Brooklyn, disappeared from Atlantic City, N. J., on June 19. She left the Dudley Hotel on that morning, saying that she was going for a swim. Next day the missing woman was seen at the Greenwood Union Cemetery, at Rye, N. Y., where her nine-year-old boy is buried, since when all trace of her has been lost.

Mrs. Oakley is thirty years old, blond and pretty. She is 5 feet 10 inches in height and weighs 140 pounds. She wore a black skirt, a black blouse with fringe, black stockings and low shoes and no hat when she said goodbye to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles T. Oakley, of Mamaroneck, N. Y. She carried a small bag, in which was her bathing suit and $50.

Only two months ago the Oakleys' only son died of diphtheria. Mrs. Oakley contracting the disease through nursing her boy. They were then living in Brooklyn but moved to Mamaroneck, N. Y., after the death of the boy. Mrs. Oakley is believed to have unbalanced the mother's mind.

8 HURT WHEN TROLLEY JUMPS TRACK IN BRONX.

Willis Avenue Car Hits Elevated Railroad Pillar.

A south bound trolley car jumped the track in Willis Avenue, north of 145th Street, in the Bronx, at 9 o'clock to-day and hit a pillar of the elevated railroad. Thomas O'Connor, the motorman, and Joseph Ferranti, of No. 3745 Third Avenue and his four-year-old daughter, Theresa; Alice Rodriguez, No. 220 Willis Avenue; Mary Maher, No. 1841 Bryant Avenue; Catherine Hunt, No. 318 East 151st Street, and her four-year-old daughter, Josephine, and Patrolman Albert Molter, No. 284 East 161st Street, passengers, were struck by a trolley car which jumped the track for slight injuries and went to their homes.

SHOWERS PEACHES ON GIRL IN RESTAURANT FIGHT

Walter Jailed for "Giving Her All the Fruit She Wanted."

A policeman found peaches all over the Peerless Restaurant, No. 59 West 33d Street, to-day when he entered to see what was causing a sudden exit of excited patrons.

Miss Ruth Gough, twenty-three, a waitress testified in Jefferson Market Court that several patrons bought dishes of peaches for her, and Emory Wuechner, a waiter, took some of them. A quarrel ensued in which she admitted, she threw a dishful over him and he retaliated by striking out a threat to "Give her all the peaches she wanted." Wuechner was sentenced to one day in jail in default of a $3 fine.

MRS BELMONT WILL NOT MAKE HER HOME ABROAD.

Says She Will Continue to Live in America, Only Visiting France.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 9.—Mrs. Olive Belmont denied to-day the report that she would go to France to live permanently. "I am an American and I will live in America," she said. "I have a cottage in France, where I will spend a few weeks each spring and fall, and that is all."

RAIN OF METEORS ON SUN IS WHAT MAKES IT SO HOT

Government Astronomer Says This Is Reason for High Temperatures All Over the World.

Vallejo, Cal., July 9. The extraordinarily warm weather of the present summer is caused by an unusual downpour of meteors on the sun, increasing its radiation and effective surface temperature. It is the belief of Prof. T. J. See, Government astronomer at the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Citing the fact that unusually warm summers occur every ten or eleven years, he said: "Since a mass of meteoric matter greater than our moon is falling into the sun every century, it is very improbable that the downpour proceeds at a uniform rate. If it comes down in gusts under the action of the chief planets, Jupiter and Saturn, which are now near conjunction and are seen together in our evening sky, then we should have sudden increases of the sun's radiation, just such as we now witness all over the world."

"This is a sufficient explanation of the unprecedentedly hot summer."

IN TOMBS, FINDS HER LONG LOST MOTHER

Accused Nurse and Mother Each Had Been Led to Believe the Other Dead.

Edna R. Wilsey, the eighteen-year-old student nurse who has been in the Tombs since Thursday charged with stealing wearing apparel from another nurse on Ward's Island, to-day found liberty and a mother she believed dead.

Mrs. Edna Wilsey of 515 West 42d Street, appeared at the Tombs late yesterday and asked to see the girl. She recognized the prisoner as her daughter at once and they spent the time until visitors' hours ended in each other's arms.

Miss Wilsey in her statements since her arrest said her irresponsibility was largely due to the fact that her mother died when she was little. Mrs. Wilsey explained that she became estranged from her husband about ten years ago, and he left her, taking Edna. Later he informed her that the daughter was dead. Apparently he allowed the child to think that her mother was dead.

Mrs. Wilsey arranged for her daughter's bail of $1,000, made necessary by the insistence of the hospital authorities that somebody must be furnished to curb a series of small thefts at the institution, though Miss Wilsey, whose things were "borrowed" by Miss Wilsey, forgave her when they were recovered.

HER FURNITURE THROWN IN STREET

Woman Dispossessed From Columbia Heights Premises After Paying Rent Increase.

Pineapple Street at the corner of Henry, in the exclusive Columbia Heights District of Brooklyn, is piled up with furniture and the police are puzzled as to what disposition to make of it. Miss Laughlin for twenty-seven years conducted furnished room houses at Nos. 87 and 89 Henry Street, the latter being at the corner of Pineapple. A year ago, she says, her landlord, Frank L. Ferguson, wanted her to move, but compromised on an increased rent of $100 a month until May 1.

Mrs. C. H. Platt notified Miss Laughlin that he had bought the two houses in April and Miss Laughlin says she promised to get her furniture out as soon as possible. Yesterday a man who said that he was a City Marshal began dumping the furniture into the street. Miss Laughlin took especial delight in throwing furniture down the stairs.

"The furniture may stay there," said Miss Laughlin at No. 120 Remond Street. "I didn't put it there, but somebody is going to be held responsible for it."

The ragamuffins of the neighborhood, it is said, are doing their best to remove the furniture, piece by piece, when the police are not looking.

MAGISTRATE CHARGES SWINDLE BY OFFICE MATE.

Sweetner Has Frank A. Dearborn Held for Check Transaction.

The unusual spectacle of a City Magistrate appearing in a Magistrate's Court in the role of complainant was witnessed to-day in Centre Street Police Court when Magistrate William A. Sweetner made a charge of grand larceny against Frank A. Dearborn, who described himself as a writer for newspapers.

In January, 1917, Dearborn and Magistrate Sweetner shared an office at No. 120 Broadway. The Magistrate charges that Dearborn persuaded him to endorse a check for $300 on a Boston bank. The check came back marked "no funds" and the Magistrate had to pay it.

Dearborn disappeared. Recently the Magistrate learned that he was in the city and was getting mail at the general delivery window of the Grand Central Post Office. A warrant was issued and court officer John Devlin watched the window until Dearborn appeared and asked for his mail. Magistrate Sweetner fixed Dearborn's bail at $5,000.

CALA CONFESION IN KABER CASE IS NOT YET ADMITTED

Woman's Counsel Fights Against It and Judge Will Decide on Monday.

CLEVELAND, July 9.—Details concerning the actual assassination of Daniel F. Kaber in his Lakewood home two years ago were expected to be presented in evidence to-day by the State in the trial of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, his widow, for first degree murder.

This evidence was in the form of an alleged confession by Srivator Cala, whom the State claims was hired by Mrs. Kaber and participated in the stabbing of Kaber. Cala's alleged confession, made in the presence of Mrs. Kaber, was offered through Detective Phil Mooney and Chief F. W. Smith of the Cleveland police.

Mrs. Kaber's counsel fought the introduction of this evidence on the ground that Cala should be called in person to testify. Cala also is under indictment for first degree murder for his alleged part in the murder. The Judge will decide on the admissibility of the confession on Monday.

County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton says he expects to rest the State's case Monday evening, which will bring the first defense witness to the stand on Tuesday morning. Final arguments may come Friday, with the case going to the jury Friday evening or Saturday morning.

That Mrs. Kaber had offered him $3,000 if he would buy an automobile and run her husband down, or to "hire a gang and kill him any way," was testimony given late yesterday by Urbano di Carpo. He said she offered $2,000 to $5,000 for the "gang" to kill Mr. Kaber, and proffer
