

STRICTER LAWS URGED TO STOP AUTO THEFTS.

Grand Jury Criticizes Police Activity in Tracing Stolen Cars.
Stringent legislation to halt the epidemic of "insolent and defiant automobile thefts" is demanded in a presentment handed up to Judge Nott by the August Grand Jury when it was discharged to-day. Judge Nott told the jurors he would pass their recommendations on to the proper authorities with his endorsement.
The Grand Jury also criticized police activity in tracing stolen cars and arresting the thieves by saying: "We feel that the police power could reach its arm in this direction in a greater degree than it has apparently done."
It was suggested that the Legislature pass an act licensing all garages, warehouses and repair shops where automobiles are stored, and compelling the owners of these places to list all the automobiles on their premises, and immediately to notify the police of all incoming cars other than those of regular patrons.

"JUST LIKE OLD TIMES," SAYS JUDGE, OF DRUNKS.

Yorkville Woman Gets Thirty Days for Fourteenth Offense.
"Well, well—quite like old times," said Magistrate Doyle in Yorkville Court this morning when he found four women and two men before him charged with intoxication. Doyle is from Queens, and Yorkville conditions were new to him. All the defendants escaped with fines except Mrs. Theresa O'Brien, 413 East 74th Street, who was sent to the workhouse for thirty days. The police make this her fourteenth arrest for intoxication.
